

Oneida Tribe of Indians of Wisconsin

Oneidas bringing several hundred bags of corn to Washington's starving army at Valley Forge, after the colonists had consistently refused to aid them.

UGWA DEMOLUM YATEHE
Because of the help of this Oneida Chief in cementing a friendship between the six nations and the colony of Pennsylvania, a new nation, the United States was made possible.

BC Resolution 02-24-10-H

Amendments to the Child Custody, Placement, and Visitation Law

WHEREAS, the Oneida Tribe of Indians of Wisconsin is a federally recognized Indian government and a treaty tribe recognized by the laws of the United States of America; and

WHEREAS, the Oneida General Tribal Council is the governing body of the Oneida Tribe of Indians of Wisconsin; and

WHEREAS, the Oneida Business Committee has been delegated the authority of Article IV of the Oneida Tribal Constitution by the Oneida General Tribal Council; and

WHEREAS, the Wisconsin Supreme Court adopted a case transfer process which allows cases to transfer from the circuit court to the Tribe through a negative notice process, which means that a case can be transferred if neither party objects and the Tribe has jurisdiction over the parties; and

WHEREAS, the jurisdiction section of the Tribe's Child Custody, Placement, and Visitation law needs to clarify when the Tribe has jurisdiction over non-Indian parents of Oneida children; and

WHEREAS, under the Tribe's Child Custody, Placement, and Visitation law, consent is necessary in some instances before personal jurisdiction can be established over an individual, but it is unclear what "consent" means; and

WHEREAS, in order to clarify the transfer process and the jurisdiction section of the Child Custody, Placement, and Visitation law, the Child Custody, Placement, and Visitation law was amended on an emergency basis on October 28, 2009, in order to meet the deadline of November 1, 2009, when the circuit court was scheduled to begin transferring cases to the Oneida Appeals Commission; and

WHEREAS, these amendments need to be permanently adopted in order to continue the orderly transfer of cases from courts of competent jurisdiction to the Oneida Appeals Commission; and

WHEREAS, a public hearing on these amendments was held on January 21, 2010, in accordance with the Administrative Procedures Act.

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED, that the attached amendments to the Child Custody, Placement, and Visitation law are hereby adopted
