In as much as the present Judicare program does not encompass the counties of Brown and Outagamie in which the majority of Oneida Tribal members reside (3000) and further that Legal Services are extremely limited, this proposal is submitted to the Wisconsin Council on Criminal Justice to provide Oneida Tribal members and the Tribal Council with adequate legal assistance.

The need relating to individual members, is based on the often unnecessary incarceration of offenders who are not properly represented because of lack of funds and lack of knowledge of the law and order system.

The need of the Tribal Council refers to dealings in contracts and applications with and to various private, local, state, regional and federal agencies, in land discussions and disputes and Tribal treaty rights, especially relating to hunting and fishing.

At the present, no legal representation is either available to or provided for the Oneida Tribal Reservation Business Committee or it's individual members.
