Job Training Partnership Act

The Business Committee met with Raymundo Chavera, the Migrant and Native American Coordinator. The topic of discussion centered around his agency and his position as Coordinator. This is a newly developed position created to establish better communication between our office and the Native American programs and other agencies providing services to Native Americans and Migrants in the state of Wisconsin.

JTPA is replacing CETA effective October 1, 1983. It is the responsibility of the state to provide training on the laws and regulations during the transition period. Ray Chavera's office hopes to accomplish the following goals:

- (1) Establishing a needs/assessment process as a instrument for identifying agency needs and success.
- (2) Identify and develop a Management Assistance program for agency staff, (coordinated with our training program - training director and Native American Agency heads)
- (3) Prepare recommendation on how state agencies can be better utilized by Native American Programs.

Raymundo Chavera's agency is setting up a meeting in Green Bay on January 29, 1983 to discuss the following:

- (1) Brief Summary of JTPA regulations
- (2) Role of the State and Governor
- (3) Available services from GETO
- (4) Needs/Assessments forms and discussions
