Beat the Heat:

Extremely High Temperatures in the Forecast

State health and emergency preparedness agencies offer tips to stay healthy and safe

State emergency management and health officials are urging everyone to "beat the heat" if you have to be outside or in non-air conditioned homes this week, and to check on older or isolated neighbors who may need assistance. Temperatures are expected to rise to the mid-90s, with heat indexes reaching a potentially dangerous 95-108 degree range.

Heat is one of the leading causes of weather-related deaths in Wisconsin and in the United States. Those who are most at risk are older adults and young children, and people living with chronic or mental health conditions. General heat exhaustion symptoms include fainting, rash, fatigue, and nausea. Skin can become clammy and moist, or hot and dry. Heat stroke can come on rapidly and may progress to life-threatening illness within minutes. If heat-related symptoms appear, action should be taken immediately to reduce body temperature. This includes taking a cool shower, bath, or sponge bath. Wearing wet clothing also has a cooling effect.

People who do not have access to air conditioning in their homes are encouraged to seek out air conditioned facilities such as public buildings, malls, libraries, or senior centers, or stay with family or neighbors who have air conditioning. Some cooling centers may have extended hours and services to alleviate the stress of high temperatures. Call 211 for more information on cooling centers in your area.

Here are some tips to keep safe in hot weather:

- Never leave anyone, especially children or pets, in a parked car – even briefly. Temperatures in a car can become life threatening within minutes. On an 80-degree day, the temperature inside a car, even with the windows cracked slightly, can reach 100 degrees in less than 10 minutes.
- Keep your living space cool. Cover windows to keep the sun from shining in. If you don't have an air conditioner, open windows to let air circulate. When it's hotter than 95 degrees, use fans. Basements or ground floors are usually cooler than upper floors.
- Slow down and limit physical activity. Plan outings or exertion for the early morning or after dark when temperatures are cooler.

- Drink plenty of water and eat lightly. Do not wait for thirst, but instead drink plenty of water throughout the day. Avoid alcohol or caffeine and stay away from hot, heavy meals.
- Wear lightweight, loose-fitting, light-colored clothing. Add a hat or umbrella to keep your head cool, and don't forget sunscreen.
- Don't stop taking medication unless your doctor says you should. Take extra care to stay cool and ask your doctor or pharmacist for any special heat advice as some medications can react adversely with increasing temperatures.
- Taking a cool shower or bath will cool you down. A shower or bath will actually work faster than an air conditioner. Applying cold wet towels to the neck, head, and limbs also cools down the body quickly.
- Check on neighbors throughout the day who may need assistance to protect themselves against dangerous temperatures.
- Empty any small containers, rain gutters, or any tires on property that may contain water. Standing water during extreme heat can lead to an increase in the mosquito population. Increased exposure to mosquitoes can increase the risk of mosquito borne diseases.

- Pets and livestock can also suffer from the heat. Make sure all pets and livestock have access to cool, clean water, and shade. If you can, bring pets inside where there is air conditioning. Try to provide shade for all animals pastured outside. Limit exercising your pet to early morning or late evening hours when it is cooler. Some of the signs of heatstroke in pets include heavy panting, glazed eyes, and excessive thirst. Seek veterinary assistance immediately.
- The heat can cause roads to buckle. For up-to-date closures and detour information visit www.511wi.gov (link is external), download the free mobile app or follow @511WI on Twitter.

Get the Most out of your Money:

Tips to Save Money at Home this Summer

By Dianne Zubella
Bay Bank

When the temperature goes up, so do energy bills, water bills and a host of other home-related costs. Here are a few tips on how to stretch your household budget this summer and still stay cool.

Use ceiling fans.

Overhead fans get air circulating, which means you might be able to delay turning on the air conditioning—especially if you can also leave windows open on cool summer evenings. Make sure you have the blades spinning in the right direction, though! In the summer, the preferred direction for a ceiling fan to spin in is counterclockwise as you look up at the fan blades. You will feel a cool downward airflow as you stand directly under the fan. In the winter, the preferred direction for a ceiling fan to spin in is a clockwise direction. Check your owner's manual for how to switch the direction on your fans.

Invest in a programmable thermostat.

Programming your thermostat is one of the easiest, lowest cost ways you can cut your energy bills. Installing a programmable thermostat prevents your home from going through large temperature swings and can save you up to 10 percent on your cooling bills. A homeowner can save as much as $150 - or even more - on air conditioning bills by setting a thermostat.

Upgrade your old air conditioner.

Another air conditioning adjustment that can save you money is upgrading your old window unit air conditioners. If you have old air conditioners with an EER energy efficiency of 5, you can cut costs in half by replacing it with a new one with an EER of 10. So do a simple calculation: If your average annual bill is $260, your bill would become $130. Depending on the size of the unit and room (window units range from $100 to $500), your annual savings will pay for the unit in just a few years. Air conditioners also function more efficiently and cheaply (and last longer) when you replace or clean their filters on a regular basis. Read your owners' manual to find out how often you should replace or clean filters.

Finally, unplug electronics when they're not in use. Even when electronics such as television sets, DVD players, computers and phone chargers are turned off, they can suck power out of outlets. Either unplug them when you're done using them or use a Smart Strip (which cuts power when it's not needed). One exception to this tip: overhead fans, especially at night, will cool air more cheaply than turning down the thermostat.

Household Sweep cut short

The annual Household Sweep was cut short after three-and-a-half-hours due to extreme heat. Two of the employees were overcome by the 90 degree weather on Wednesday, July 13. Despite that, staff from the Environmental Health and Safety Division (EHSD) along with volunteers were able to process 156 car loads of tires, old appliances, and other waste.

EHSD hopes to have a make up sweep in the fall. See page 41 for more information.

Omro farm helps Monarch butterfly populations flourish

By Noell Dickmann

Oshkosh Northwestern
OMRO, Wis. (AP) ~ Monarch butterfly populations may be in decline, but an Omro dairy farm is one of a number of farms around the state working to help the butterflies flourish.

Omro Dairy, which is owned by Kaukauna-based Milk Source, has established more than three acres of protective zones for Monarch butterflies around its farm on East Scott Street in Omro, the Oshkosh Northwestern reported. Staff said they hope it will improve populations by giving butterflies places to land and lay eggs along their migration route through Canada, the U.S. and Mexico.

Monarchs typically only live about five weeks and travel 3,000 miles every spring and summer. They lay eggs in areas with milkweed, and their offspring continue the journey, Harke said. As many as five generations of Monarchs may be born in one summer.

Lack of habitat is one of the main reasons why Monarch populations have declined more than 90 percent since the 1980s, said Bill Harke, director of public affairs for Milk Source. However butterflies are important to farmers' work as they help pollinate everything.

When the idea to plant milkweed came to light through a partnering family of Milk Source, a number of farms started planting milkweed along stretches of fields. Next June, Monarchs should be floating about, laying eggs on the plants and increasing the number of butterflies. Milkweed mother plants will also create new seeds that will grow around it, further increasing places for Monarchs to land and lay eggs.

Harke said it's nice to be able to contribute locally to efforts that groups around the country are leading to save the butterflies. The protection zones in Omro are just a handful of 50 zones throughout Wisconsin and Michigan that Milk Source is preserving for butterflies.

"We have the fields," he said. "So we can do something like this."

Students enjoy STEM Camp

Last week fourteen Oneida middle school children explored careers in science, technology, engineering, and math. The students participated in Tech Titans – a STEM Tech Camp sponsored by Oneida Total Integration Enterprise at Northeast Wisconsin Technical College.

Students learned about architecture, math, prototype and design, fire protection engineering, robotics and civil engineering. Some of the camp's hands-on activities included using 3D software to design bedrooms, building tall structures, using circuit boards, operating robots, prototyping a music speaker, mixing concrete, and surveying outside NWTC's Green Bay campus.

Each participant received a solar-powered model car as a gift from NWTC's electrical engineering instructor Molly Delsart. Molly wanted to encourage students to continue exploring careers in STEM. According to the NWTC Graduate Follow-Up Report, there are over 4,000 jobs every year in Northeast Wisconsin requiring technical skills in automation, electro-mechanical, electrical, civil, environmental engineering, and architectural technology.

Dulcinea DeLeon, Bailey Denney, and Avery Ackley-Speights enjoy STEM class.

CMN Offers Bachelors in Business and Public Administration

Registration for the fall semester is now open at the College of Menominee Nation (CMN). In keeping with its mission, the college is committed to promoting, perpetuating, and nurturing American Indian culture.

CMN Business Administration graduates will be able to examine opportunities and challenges of tribes, tribal enterprises, and minority entrepreneurs. Graduates will be qualified to be self-employed or to seek tribal, government, or private employment in banking, finance, accounting, marketing, and management fields. In addition, graduates may find employment with tribes, tribal entities, city planning, nonprofit organizations, human services, criminal justice, health services, and other public sector agencies.

“Students who complete their bachelor of science degree in Business Administration will have access to globally diverse curriculum created to guided them into becoming conscientious citizens who can critically think, articulate, and convey professional and ethical values to enhance entrepreneurship in Indian Country and beyond,” said Ann Walenski, CMN’s Business and Public Administration Department chair.

The Bachelor of Arts degree in Public Administration will guide students into becoming conscientious citizens who can think critically while developing skills to articulate and convey professional ethical virtues and standards.

“Our students should enroll in these programs, as they can teach and learn valuable lessons from each other. Successful students share and educate the community about entrepreneurial opportunities,” Walenski explained. “Hearing stories of fellow Native Americans who have found success through starting their own businesses can help inspire others within the community to consider entrepreneurship as a career path.”

For more information on these and other CMN programs see www.menominee.edu or contact the Green Bay/Oneida campus at 920-965-0070 or CMN’s Keshena campus at 715-799-5600).

2016 Meal Site Presentation

August 11, 2016, 12:00-1:00 pm

Fall-related statistics among the elderly are staggering and have led to several proactive prevention programs in

Brown County:

- 87% of fall-related deaths and 70% of inpatient hospitalizations are people age 65 or older.

- One-third of people over the age of 65 living in the community fall each year. This increases to 50% by age 80.

- The Green Bay Fire Department responded to 1,088 calls in 2008 due to a fall, 67% leading to injury.
- In Wisconsin, falls cost $800 million annually in emergency department visits and hospital charges.

Falls Prevention Tips :

- Remove unstable tables
 - Remove tripping hazards from floor
 - Make sure beds and chairs are easily accessible
 - Place colored non-slip strips where floor levels change
 - Pad sharp edges with plastic bumpers
 - Remove furniture in high traffic areas
- For information contact Carol Bogda NAFCG, CBOGDA@oneidanation.org, Oneida Elder Services, (920)869-2448

How will the Per Capita affect your Benefits?

The Oneida Nation Elder Per Capita is right around the corner and all elders need to be prepared because the Per Capita payments will affect your SSI and Medicaid health care benefits. SSI and Medicaid eligibility are based on an individual or family's monthly income and assets. The maximum asset limit is $2,000 for an individual and $3,000 for a couple.

- The Oneida Elder Per Capita is considered income the month that it is received and will likely put most people over income for SSI and Medicaid. This means that you will not be eligible for:
 - Social Security Supplemental Income (SSI)
 - QMB, SLMB, SLMB+ (Medicare Buy-In Programs)
 - Needs-based Veterans Benefits
 - Food Share or Commodities
 - W-2 or TANF
 - Medical Assistance
 - Section 8 Housing Voucher Assistance
 - Title V

- To become eligible again you will need to spend the Per Capita money down until you are within the eligibility guidelines.

- You can always spend your Per Capita on home or vehicle repairs, furniture, pay rent ahead of schedule, etc. to help meet the necessary asset limit. Remember loaning money to family or friends is not eligible.
- Keep all receipts to prove spend downs
- After one month, any remaining Per Capita money that has not been spent will be considered as an asset, not income. Once you have spent down your Per Capita money and are within the SSI and Medicaid assets limits, you will be eligible for SSI and Medicaid again. If you have any questions or need assistance determining if the Oneida Per Capita will affect you, or reapplying for SSI or Medicaid, contact:

The Tribal Aging and Disability Resource Specialist

The Tribal Aging and Disability Resource Specialist shall provide objective, unbiased Information and Assistance (I&A) to members of the target populations and their families, friends, caregivers, advocates and others who ask for assistance on their behalf.

Information and Assistance may be provided in person, in the office of the ADRS or in the member's home, over the telephone, via e-mail, or through written correspondence.

Information and Assistance is a professional service, which involves: listening to the inquirer, assessing his or her needs, helping the inquirer to connect with service providers or gain information to meet the identified needs, and following up with the inquirer or service provider to determine whether the needs were met. It is important that the ADRS take the time to establish a personal rapport, understand the individual's concerns, and be able to offer potential resources and solutions.

The ADRS shall provide Information and Assistance on a wide variety of topics relating to the needs of elders and people with disabilities, including but not limited to: Wisconsin Department of Health Services 3 • Living arrangements related to long-term care (e.g. Information and Assistance to people considering a move due to health, disability or frailty);

• Disability and long-term care related services (e.g. in-home support, care management, respite, equipment, training, transition planning, independent living skills, death and dying issues); • Paying for long-term care related services (e.g. public programs, long-term care insurance, other private resources); • Health, health promotion, prevention and early intervention (e.g. rehabilitative care, healthy lifestyles, management of chronic conditions, home safety, disease conditions, dementia, medically related care, medical decision making, advance directives); • Mental health services and supports; • Alcohol and other drug abuse services and supports; • Adult protective services, abuse, neglect, domestic violence, and financial exploitation; • Employment, training and vocational rehabilitation; • Financial and other basic needs (e.g. food, money, shelter, paying for medical care and medications, etc.); • Transportation; • Nutrition (e.g. congregate meals, home delivered meals, counseling); • Home maintenance (e.g. chores, yard work, home safety); • Legal issues (e.g. tax laws, power of attorney, guardianship, consumer rights, advocacy, discrimination, complaints and grievances); and • Education, recreation, life enhancement, and volunteerism.

Alzheimer's Association Walk to End Alzheimer's

GREEN BAY, Wis. ~ The Alzheimer's Association is inviting Green Bay residents to unite in a movement to reclaim the future for millions by participating in the Alzheimer's Association Walk to End Alzheimer's. Walk to End Alzheimer's will take place on Saturday, September 17 at Lambeau Field in the Tundra Tailgate Zone in Green Bay.

Walk to End Alzheimer's is more than a walk. It is an experience for over 1,000 participants in Green Bay and surrounding communities who will learn about Alzheimer's disease and how to get involved with this critical cause, from advocacy opportunities and clinical studies enrollment to support programs and services. Walk participants also honor those affected by Alzheimer's disease with the poignant Promise Garden ceremony.

We are excited to bring the Brown County communities together to unite as ONE Walk in an effort to END Alzheimer's! The fundraising dollars fuel our mission and the community's participation in this event helps to change the level of Alzheimer's awareness in Green Bay!

In addition to our 3 Mile and 1 Mile Walk, participants will enjoy a photo booth, honor wall, music, food, beverage and a special tribute to those who have experienced or are experiencing Alzheimer's.

Alzheimer's disease is a growing epidemic and the nation's sixth-leading cause of death. As baby boomers age, the number of individuals living with Alzheimer's disease will rapidly escalate, increasing well beyond today's more than 5 million Americans to as many as 16 million by 2050.

To start or join a team today, visit the Alzheimer's Association www.tinyurl.com/walkwi. To learn more about disease and available resources, call the toll-free Alzheimer's Association 24/7 Helpline at 800-272-3900.

The Alzheimer's Association Walk to End Alzheimer's is the world's largest event to raise awareness and funds for Alzheimer's care, support and research. Since 1989, the Alzheimer's Association mobilized millions of Americans in the Alzheimer's Association Memory Walk; now the Alzheimer's Association is continuing to lead the way with Walk to End Alzheimer's. Together, we can end Alzheimer's – the nation's sixth-leading cause of death.

The Alzheimer's Association is the leading voluntary health organization in Alzheimer care, support and research. Our mission is to eliminate Alzheimer's disease through the advancement of research; to provide and enhance care and support for all affected; and to reduce the risk of dementia through the promotion of brain health. Our vision is a world without Alzheimer's. Visit alz.org or call 800.272.3900.

"It was nice there, but it's become more family-oriented now, so this is ideal and they are very nice homes. The roads, sewers, water and electricity are already in place so the cost factor is going to go down a great deal."

Nestled in a sprouting subdivision directly behind the Elder Services complex on Henry Road, Maria Hinton Way, and Minoka Hill Drive the Elder Village neighborhood features two styles of 2-bedroom homes which contain single-stall garages, radiant heat flooring, central air, along with washing machines and dryers. Perhaps one of the most aesthetically pleasing aspects of these homes is the fact that they are located near walking paths that wind their way through the subdivision, and residents frequently see abundant wildlife such as deer and turkey directly behind their houses.

"This all started back in 2011 when we received a competitive grant from Housing and Urban Development (HUD) for infrastructure," Dale Wheelock, Executive Director for OHA, said. "So this was phase one and we're beginning phase two with new construction over there right now to provide even more housing, and we plan on having about 40 units here when this is all completed."

There are expected to be a total of three phases to the Elder Village subdivision construction before the project is completed. "We are adding another 12-14 new units by next year," Kevin House, Project Manager for the Oneida Engineering Department, said. "We're going to keep on our work through the winter and get everything tweaked and drawn up nicely so we can send everything out for bid in the spring and start construction in the summer of 2017."

The third and final phase of the joint project is expected to take place in about two to three years and that will consist of attaching all of the back roads in Elder Village together and completing construction of approximately another 20 housing units.

Each year the Oneida Nation receives allocations from HUD and for 2017 that amount is expected to be just beyond $4M. "We usually allocate about $1.9M - $2.2M for new construction, and it's not just here at Elder Village," Wheelock said. "That's throughout the entire reservation where we have 374 units we must maintain and take care of. Just here alone we have Elder Village, and nearby we have family-oriented construction on the other end, and we also have five duplexes which are fully compliant with HUD's disabilities requirements. We're looking out for our elder's comfort and provide them a location where they can age in place."

The OHA has been around since 1966 when Site I was built, Wheelock said, and since then they've learned that building a housing site in straight grid-like patterns isn't always the most prudent or safest of measures. "We've learned from the past," Wheelock said. "So when we designed these new homes we placed them on curves and sways so it slows drivers down. Plus it's nice and meandering because in nature you don't see everything in straight lines. We're proud of what we've done here and there's more to come."

OHA also takes care of all grass cutting, snow removal, and other pertinent repairs that must be conducted on the properties. "Our elders and their health issues are our number one concern," Wheelock said. "So when we get hit by a snow storm our crews take care of the elders first and clear that out for emergency vehicles."

Currently there are 44 elders on a waiting list to obtain one of these homes, however if the need arises for an elder who is wheelchair-bound to find a home every effort is made to move them into one of these homes as soon as possible.

Numerous Oneida Nation and other Native American subcontractors have been utilized throughout this project including OTIE General Contracting, Joe Johnson Concrete, Menominee Tribal Enterprises, Titletown Flooring, Ma-vid, Go Green Painting, Oneida Plumbing, TGHS and Current Electrical. "We are very grateful that we were able to keep much of the subcontracting for this project within our tribal communities," Kunstman said. "That was always very important to us."

Savings vs Minors Trust Portfolio

By Oneida Trust Committee

This chart represents a group of minors with an account in the Minors Trust Portfolio. They were enrolled before their first birthday in 1999 and became eligible for the 1999 per capita of $1,500. All subsequent per capita payments were placed in their account with the Minors Trust Fund including 2015 for a total of $21,100.

Using account returns on savings accounts held at Bay Bank, these minors would have an estimated account balance of $25,048, a gain of $3,948 (center column). However, the Trust Enrollment Committee invested their per capita payments in a prudent manner and as of March 31, 2016, they have an account value of $33,688 (right column), a gain of $12,588.

So even though a savings account may feel safer, the current investment plan for the Minors Trust Fund increases its value approximately three times more than a savings account could in the same amount of time.

Tolomeo named new head of FBI's Milwaukee office

MILWAUKEE (AP) ~ The FBI is getting a new head of its Milwaukee office.

FBI Director James Comey on Monday named R. Justin Tolomeo special agent in charge of the bureau's Milwaukee Division.

Tolomeo most recently served as an inspector in the Inspection Division at FBI Headquarters in Washington, D.C. He joined the FBI in 1998 and was first assigned to the Chicago Division, where he worked on criminal cases.

In 2001, Tolomeo transferred to the New York Division and investigated drug violations. Following the Sept. 11 terror attacks, he was assigned to international terrorism and intelligence matters. In 2007, he was appointed as assistant legal attache in London, overseeing counterterrorism efforts.

Tolomeo replaces Robert J. Shields Jr., who retires from the FBI on July 31. He starts his new job in September.

Court affirms decision blocking sand mine

MADISON, Wis. (AP) ~ A state appeals court has affirmed a decision blocking a frack sand mine in western Wisconsin.

The Mississippi Land Connection and Timber Company LLC and Wisconsin Bluff Sands LLC filed an application for a permit for a mine in the town of Waumandee in 2013. The Buffalo County Board of Adjustment denied the application after hearing from experts that little vegetation would grow in the area after the mine closed and from members of the public concerned about potential traffic, declining air quality and declining property values.

The 1st District Court of Appeals upheld the board's decision on Tuesday, finding that the board properly considered the mine's environmental impact.

The companies' attorney, Richard White, said he hadn't seen the decision and had no comment.

CMN's Theatre Production Focuses on a Community Health Scare

The College of Menominee Nation (CMN) invites the public to an original one-act play staged in the Norbert Hill Center Auditorium in Oneida by students in the College's Summer Theatre Production course. The play, "Crisis at the Clinic", employs humor and dramatic elements as it speculates what would happen if a community health scare and protection of the public bumped up against cost-cutting priorities. Students Gary Adams, Tyrone Barber, Jennifer Barnes, Courtney Behrendt, Kerry Cornelius, Lee Cornelius, Jamie Komanekin, Brady Moreno, Brian Moreno, Zachary Skenandore, Madona Wilber, and Kyle Witt wrote the play in a playwriting course at CMN in the Spring 2016 semester. This production marks the eleventh time CMN has collaborated with the Oneida Arts Program to produce live theater in the Oneida community.

"Crisis at the Clinic", is set in an Indian Health Services office in the midst of a community health scare. The staff members first struggle to find the cause of their patients' symptoms, and then strive to prevent the crisis from escalating. There's plenty of blame to go around, but no one is willing to accept it.

CMN students and community members involved in the play include the following: Jennifer Barnes, Dylan Benton, Courtney Behrendt, Kerry Cornelius, Lee Cornelius, Priscilla Graham, Sabrina Hemken, Kaluyatatsyes Rice John, Doris Menore, Carissa Metoxen, Tyler Pamanet, Jay Reiter Jr., Elizabeth Rice, Sara Skenandore, and Isabella Thomas.

The play, edited and directed by CMN faculty member Ryan Winn, has showings on Wednesday, July 27 and Thursday, July 28. Both shows begin at 7:30 p.m. Admission is free. The production runs an hour in length. A reception following both shows enables the audience to meet and greet the production's cast and crew. The play is perfect for all ages.

CMN to Stage a Traditional Menominee Theater Pageant

By Ryan Winn

College of Menominee Nation

In 1937 the Woodland Bowl in Keshena, Wis., was constructed to host theatrical productions. The shows were called the Menominee Pageants, and they were produced by a loose but inclusive group of community members who formed a theater troop known as the "Pageant Players Guild". The shows ran for decades, with the last performance being in the 1960s. On Wednesday, August 3, the College of Menominee Nation will stage one of the original pageants as part of the week celebrating the 50th Anniversary of the Menominee Nation Contest Powwow.

The production is the culmination of a project CMN faculty member Ryan Winn undertook at the request of Menominee elders. This spring Winn was able to complete the research for the production with the help a Wisconsin Arts Board grant that both funded student interns and contributed to the production's budget. With the assistance of CMN students Melinda Cook and Lloyd Frieson, Winn led community discussions in the CMN library. These gatherings produced much laughter, reminiscing, and led to Grace "Bea" Wilber donating her father, James G. Frechette's, files to the CMN achieves located in the S. Verna Fowler Academic Library/ Menominee Public Library. Frechette was the first technical director for the original shows, and when the founding writer/director Joseph Anthony Keshena passed, Frechette honored Joseph's mother, Nell's, wishes for the shows to continue production and took over writing and directing the pageants himself.

The pageant CMN is producing was originally staged in 1954 and is titled "The Gems of Yesterday." In playwright Frechette's words, the show is a collection of "beautiful scenes" from the guild's first seventeen years. This summer's showing will transport its audience back to 1954, the hundredth anniversary of the Menominee Reservation. Frechette's original narration also discusses the changes that were forthcoming to the community due to both the tribe's federal termination and the formation of Menominee County.

Menominee Pageants are a mixture of pantomiming, live music, and dancing. This means that the show's oration will be recorded, enhanced with sound effects, and then performed with the actors speaking their lines along with the recorded track. The pageants also served as an exhibition of dances, and this show will showcase the Dance of Welcome, The Friendship Dance, The Green Corn Dance, The Swan Dance, The Snake Dance, and an Intertribal Dance. As was the case in the past, all dancers are welcome to join the production on the night of the show, but should check-in with the lead dancers, Thomas Pecore and Jamie Awonohopay, prior to the show.

The pageant will begin at dusk on the evening of August 3rd. From 6:30 PM until sunset the production's attendees will be treated to recordings made by members of the original Pageant Players Guild. The show runs around two hours, with an intermission where food and beverages will be sold by local vendors. The pageant is perfect for all ages.

TO BE HELD

Thursday, August 4th at 12:15 p.m.

IN THE

OBC CONFERENCE ROOM

(2nd FLOOR—NORBERT HILL CENTER)

In accordance with the Legislative Procedures Act, the Legislative Operating Committee is hosting this Public Meeting to gather feedback from the community regarding a legislative proposal.

TOPIC: EVICTION AND TERMINATION

This is a proposal to create a new Eviction and Termination law which would:

- Contain the minimum framework for the Nation's termination and eviction processes.
- Delegate rulemaking authority to the Comprehensive Housing Division to develop rules to further govern the processes contained in this law [see 709.4].
- Detail early contract termination, including causes and notice requirements, and name domestic abuse as defense to eviction [see 709.6].
- Detail the process regarding failure to vacate following the notice of eviction or contract expiration [see 709.6].
- Detail the withholding from and return of security deposits [see 709.7].
- Provide an appeal process to the Oneida Judiciary [see 709.8].

To obtain copies of the Public Meeting documents for this proposal, or to learn about the LOC public meeting process, please visit www.oneida-nsn.gov/Register/PublicMeetings or contact the Legislative Reference Office.

PUBLIC COMMENT PERIOD OPEN UNTIL August 11, 2016

During the Public Comment Period, all interested persons may submit written comments and/or a transcript of any testimony/spoken comments made during the Public Meeting. These may be submitted to the Tribal Secretary's Office or to the Legislative Reference Office in person (Second floor, Norbert Hill Center) or by U.S. mail, interoffice mail, e-mail or fax.

Foster parents lose appeals fight for American Indian girl

LOS ANGELES (AP) ~ A California appeals court affirmed on Friday a lower court's decision to remove a 6-year-old girl with Native American ancestry from her foster family of four years and reunite her with relatives in Utah.

Lexi, who is part Choctaw, was taken from her foster home north of Los Angeles in a tearful parting in March and placed with extended family in Utah under a decades-old federal law designed to keep Native American families together.

Her former foster parents, Rusty and Summer Page, asked the appeals court to reverse a lower court ruling that ordered them to surrender Lexi. Their attorney argued the lower court made an error by failing to take into account Lexi's bond with her foster parents and siblings.

However, a three-judge panel in Los Angeles found the lower court made the right decision and correctly considered the bond Lexi developed with the Pages as well as other factors related to her best interests.

Those factors included Lexi's relationship with her extended family and half-siblings, their capacity to help her reconnect with her tribal roots, and the Pages' "relative reluctance or resistance" to foster Lexi's relationship with her extended family or encourage exploration of her Choctaw cultural identity, the judges wrote in their ruling.

They also agreed that the Pages did not prove with clear and convincing evidence that Lexi would suffer emotional harm by the transfer.

The Pages said they plan to take the case to the California Supreme Court.

"The Pages are obviously extremely disappointed with the court's decision, but they believe in our judicial system and remain hopeful that they will ultimately prevail," their attorney, Lori Alvino McGill, said in a statement.

Lexi was 17 months old when she was removed from the custody of her mother, who had drug-abuse problems. Her father has a criminal history, according to court records.

Although foster care is supposed to be temporary, the Pages want to adopt Lexi and for years have fought efforts under the federal act to place the girl with relatives of her father, who is part Choctaw.

Lexi is now living in Utah with relatives of her father who are not Native Americans.

Her relatives said in a statement they hope the ruling brings closure and "Lexi is at last allowed to live a peaceful childhood in our home with her sister."

The case is one of dozens brought by foster families since the Indian Child Welfare Act was passed in the late 1970s. Lawmakers found that Native American families were broken up at disproportionately high rates, and that cultural ignorance and biases within the child welfare system were largely to blame.

Danforth, Clifford S.

July 12, 1952 – July 6, 2016

Clifford S. Danforth, 63, Oneida, joined his Creator on Wednesday, July 6, 2016. The son of Pete and Sabie (King) Danforth was born July 12, 1952 in Green Bay.

Cliff was a 1970 graduate of Seymour High School. He spent many years working for the Oneida Nation in the gaming division.

He enjoyed golfing, bowling, shooting pool and gambling with his friends. He was also an avid Packer fan and loved coaching baseball.

Cliff will be remembered for his laughter, jokes and fun loving personality.

Clifford is survived by his children, Raymond "Ranger" (Christl) Christjohn, Carla (Brian) Vigue, Collette Stevens; siblings, Betty Skenandore, Mary Ann (Alton) Kruckeberg, Patricia Lynn (Harvey) Skenandore and Eugene "Geno" (Patricia) Danforth; siblings-in-law Dorothy Danforth, Marilyn Danforth, Erma Danforth and Frank Skenandore; special friends Donna Thorstenson, Danny Skenandore and Phil "Mickey Mouse" Frederick; many grandchildren, great-grandchildren, favorite nieces and nephews and many other relatives and friends.

He was preceded in death by his parents, Pete and Sabie, siblings, Bill, Tony, Reggie, Frederick, Joann and Peter Danforth, and Yvonne Skenandore; siblings-in-law Tony Skenandore and Reggie Denny, as well as other extended family.

Friends and family may call at RYAN FUNERAL HOME, 305 N Tenth Street, De Pere, on Monday, July 11, 2016 from 4:00 to 7:00 PM. The Oneida Singers will perform at 6:30 with a Big Drum performance at 7:00 to close the evening.

Visitation will continue on Tuesday, July 12 (Cliff's Birthday) at 9:00 AM at Holy Apostles Episcopal Church, 2937 Freedom Road, until service begins at 11:00 AM. Burial will follow at Holy Apostles Cemetery.

Please go to www.ryanfh.com to send online condolences to the family.

The family would like to extend a special thank you to the Oneida Casino Security personnel for their care and compassion during such a difficult time.

Powless, Summer

June 1, 1982 – July 13, 2016

Summer Powless, 33, of Oneida, died unexpectedly Wednesday July 13, 2016 as a result of an auto accident. The daughter of Rochelle A. Powless was born June 1, 1982 in Green Bay. She graduated from Oneida Tribal High School and attended UWGB. Summer was a vibrant, friendly and warm hearted woman and will be greatly missed by her family and friends.

Summer was a wonderful, caring mother to her children, Seneth Powless, Senaida "Chicki" Castaneda, Lilyanna "Lily" Powless, and Cesar "Papi" Castaneda, Jr., also survived by her husband and best friend, Cesar Castaneda, Sr., her mother, Rochelle Powless, siblings, Janette Lee Slove and Chaske Joseph Primeau, aunts and uncles, Marianne Boyes, Christine Powless, Leah Powless, Helen Wilson, Diane Wilson, Bernard Wilson, and Donald Wilson. She was preceded in death by her siblings, Cherisse Ann Slove and Robert Lee Slove, her grandmother Vera Dorothy Wilson and her aunt Roberta Jean Kinzhuma.

Family and friends gathered at Ryan Funeral Home 305 North Tenth Street, De Pere from 4:00 to 8:00PM on Sunday July 17, 2016. Oneida Hymn Singers sang at 6:30PM. Visitation continued after 10:00AM on Monday, July 18, with the funeral service being held at 11:00AM.

Please visit www.ryanfh.com to send online condolences to the Powless family.

Special thank you to Theresa Thorstenson, Lois Strong and Debra and Kermit Valentino for their love and support.

Denny, Barbara Ann

February 14, 1932 – July 15, 2016

On Friday July 15, 2016 the owls called Barbara A. Denny home. She was born February 14, 1932 to the late James and Hattie (Moore) Schuyler. On April 16, 1949 she married Don Denny in Oneida. Barbara loved to play the piano, and sing with her sisters. In 1989 she took up oil painting and has greatly enjoyed doing this ever since. Barbara liked tending to her gardens and decorating her home, yet it was spending time with family that she cherished most. From its inception, Barbara has been instrumental in the development of the library in Oneida.

She is survived by her husband Don, their children, Don (Lyn), Donna, daughter in law Debbie, 16 grandchildren, and 30 great grandchildren. Siblings, Pearl McLester, Eva Danforth, Rita (Ron) Doxtator, Mary (Nick) Metoxen, Evelyn Elm, Harriet Reiter, Cleo (Wayne) Cornelius, as well as her brother in laws, Gordy (Dar) Denny, and Wayne Lemerond.

She was preceded in death by her son Robert, as well as her brothers Lester and Joseph, and numerous brothers in laws and sister in laws.

Friends gathered on Wednesday July 20, 2016 at Ryan Funeral Home until time of service at 6:00pm. The Oneida Hymn Singers sang at 5:30pm. Please go to www.ryanfh.com to send online condolences to the family. Special thanks to Hospice Compassus and Parkview Manor.

In the wake of the di-

In Saratoga Springs, reviving the wells that made it famous

By Chris Carola
Associated Press

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N.Y. (AP) ~ More than a century after scores of Saratoga Springs' famous mineral wells were capped in an early example of environmental conservation, a few of them could soon be flowing with naturally carbonated water once again.

A volunteer group has undertaken a project, with the cooperation of state officials, to find and restore a few of them. The effort succeeded on a recent summer day, with water shooting out of the top of one wellhead that had been weed-choked and forgotten for decades.

"That's probably the first time in 90 years that much water is coming out of there," said Richard Aichele, a member of Friends of Saratoga Spa State Park.

State officials point out the effort is limited to just a few wells total in the Saratoga park. Alli Schweizer, the park's educator, said the restoration group's efforts won't threaten the park's aquifer and are purely for historical purposes "so future generations can enjoy them."

Saratoga Springs has been known for its natural mineral springs since Colonial times, when Mohawk Indians introduced Europeans to the carbonated waters bubbling up from the ground in the Adirondack foothills. As Saratoga grew in the early 1800s, hotels sprouted to cater to visitors who traveled here to drink the water and bathe in the belief it would relieve various ailments, making "the Spa" one of America's first resort towns.

Saratoga was already a thriving summertime destination when the first organized thoroughbred races were held here in 1863, launching a tradition that attracts hundreds of thousands of fans each year.

By the early 1900s, gas companies had started drilling mineral water wells in an area on Saratoga's southern outskirts, a short distance from the two dozen or so mineral springs sprinkled around the town's main business and residential section. Within a few years, more than 150 wells were bringing naturally occurring carbonic gas to the surface, where it was bottled in pressurized metal cylinders and used for carbonated beverages such as soda.

"Our springs were basically going dry," Schweizer said.

Wealthy Saratoga residents, concerned that the area's aquifer was being depleted, began pushing the state to halt the gas-extraction operations conducted on privately owned land.

"They realized what they had here, they were influential, they applied pressure and got the job done," said Charlie Kuenzel, a retired earth science teacher-turned-tour guide whose local history tours include the springs.

In 1909, the Legislature and the governor approved legislation that eventually resulted in the state acquiring the land where the gas was being extracted, capping all but a handful of the springs. The mineral springs replenished themselves over time, and the area where most of the gas extraction occurred is now a 2,400-acre state park that's home to a performing arts center, a resort hotel, golf courses and mineral baths.

Last year, Aichele and fellow volunteer Phil Henzel began searching for some of the capped mineral springs, using old maps and by talking with park employees, one of whom led the men to the weed-covered well cap near the banks of the creek.

The park's friends group plans to build a fountain on the newly reopened spring and landscape the surrounding grounds, similar to what has been done for other nearby springs. They also hope to revive a couple of other defunct springs that dot the park.

"We're rediscovering history again," Aichele said.

Trump's 'Make America Great Again' target of minority satire

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP) ~ A Navajo artist in New Mexico has created a hat that touts "Make America Native Again." A Mexican-American activist in Brooklyn, New York, is selling a cap with the words "Make America Mexico Again."

As presumptive GOP presidential nominee Donald Trump prepares to formally accept the nod later this month, minority artists and activists are satirizing his "Make America Great Again" slogan seen at rallies and on Trump hats and T-shirts.

They are turning the slogan on its head and questioning Trump's vision of the U.S. from yesterday, which they say excluded blacks, Latinos, Native Americans and gays. But his supporters said such mocking will only help the billionaire businessman.

Navajo artist Vanessa Bowen said she developed the hat because she believes Trump's slogan speaks of a period when whites could legally keep minorities from jobs and restaurants.

"If he were referring to the 1960s and 1950s, it was an era that mostly catered to non-minorities," Bowen said. "It's a double meaning because it is a satire of Trump's slogan and a call to revert to American Indian values of respecting the environment and other cultures," Bowen said.

In New York, Jeronimo Saldana said he started selling "Make American Mexico Again" after seeing a post online and thought it was a good response to Trump's immigration ideas.

The 36-year-old initially went to a hat and apparel store in New York to make the hat but was turned down. He then started a GoFundMe campaign to raise money.

So far, he has sold around 1,000 hats, with proceeds going to the Latino advocacy group Mi Jente.

Trump has drawn criticism for his previous statements about Mexican immigrants and his plan to build a wall at the U.S.-Mexico border.

Last month, American Apparel and the Human Rights Campaign teamed up for "Make America Gay Again" clothing line during Pride Month. Around 30 percent of the proceeds went to causes that fight discrimination against gays and lesbians.

Makeup artist Christopher "Tru" Trujillo, who supports Trump, said the candidate has strong ideas on how to reform the country and people need to look at his record as a businessman.

"Trump employs more gay men than Hillary ever will," said Trujillo, who is gay and lives in Santa Fe. "You want to make America gay again? Vote for Trump."

2015 - 2016 Oneida Royalty reflect on their tenures

I can't believe the time has already come, the time where I must get ready for the bitter sweet moment of handing my title on to the next Miss Oneida. It saddens me to think that this chapter of my life is now coming to an end, yet its so exciting to pass this opportunity onto another. Although my year of being Miss Oneida went really fast in my own eyes, I still experienced some unforgettable memories, and also had the opportunity to meet many amazing people in the process. One of my favorite things about while being Miss Oneida was being able to be more involved in the community, I learned so much more about our community, and all that it offers. Through this opportunity I have been able to improve my public speaking skills, which I struggled with for most of my life. Holding the title of Miss Oneida has really helped me come out of my shell, being less shy and developing the confidence I needed.

Miss Oneida

I was just shaking in my mocs during my first introduction at the Oneida Pow-Wow as Miss Oneida, but now a year later it has become tremendously easy.

I also cherish the relationships I created with my Junior Miss and little Miss, they both are such wonderful young ladies and definitely a ball to be around. Marissa has such a good spirit and wonderful heart; she's always on top of things especially when it comes to balancing her crazy schedule with cheer and school. Throughout the year I joked that Marissa was my "waver", because for some odd reason my waved looked less like a princess wave and more like a dinosaur wave. Marissa on the other hand had the princess wave down, so whenever I was slacking Marissa always had my back. My little Miss, Margaret Cornelius, is honestly someone that I look up to, even though she is much smaller than me, because right from the beginning of our reign, she was so outgoing and always so confident. She never hesitated when it came to anything; she always was willing to speak in front of a crowd and did it with ease, never missing a beat. She definitely helped me gain confidence throughout the year just by watching how easily she did everything; I definitely can say that Margaret was my role model. These young ladies really helped me keep myself together at times and I couldn't thank them enough for that, without them I know I would have struggled. I am very thankful for having the opportunity to get close with these beautiful young ladies and their families.

Being Miss Oneida definitely means more than just winning a pageant and then becoming "royalty", it's being able to role model and be involved within or outside your community. You don't have to be perfect to be a role model, of course there are high expectations for you but by no means does it mean you have to be someone who knows the most culture or who has the best grades, and certainly not about looks but what matters is having the heart to love your community and be willing to learn and represent your community at the best of your abilities. This opportunity can really help you grow as an individual and community member. Having the opportunity to learn about and within your own community is one of the most beautiful things about this organization. That is why I want to encourage more young ladies to run for this title, it is an outstanding opportunity to experience. I encourage those who do not feel like they qualify for this title, because it is not just for those who are perfect and know everything about the culture/community, because in reality there is no such thing, there is always room to grow and learn. I was always very intimidated to run because I didn't see myself as someone who is very social nor was I a strong public speaker, but with encouragement from others I finally gained the confidence to run and was just able to grow from this experience. What I think is even more delightful is that the Miss Oneida Committee is very helpful, encouraging and patient, making it very easy to feel comfortable and welcoming. The Miss Oneida Committee was much like a second family to me through out the year.

I am very thankful to have been given the opportunity to be Miss Oneida 15/16. I also am very thankful for the lessons I've learned, the people who supported me, encouraged me, and cared for me throughout the year. It certainly was a remarkable experience being able to travel and represent Oneida. It was even more humbling to be able to participate in my own community events, like fishing with the elders, I haven't been to that event in many years and it was very nice to see our young ones and elders enjoying themselves. Events like these have reminded me of my purpose within the community, as well as, the importance of each individual. Although I am sad that my reign is coming to an end I will do my best to carry out my duties as a community member and I will continue to carry all the lessons and knowledge I have learned throughout this year. Another huge Yawáko to all for this wonderful year and Kwanoluhkwa (I love you all).

Jr. Miss Oneida Marissa Danforth

Shekoli, My name is Marissa Danforth and I am Jr. Miss Oneida 2015-2016. I have had the honor of representing the Oneida Nation these last few months by participating in events in our community.

In February Li'l Miss Margaret Cornelius and I traveled to Madison to participate in the State of Tribes Address. It was an opportunity for us to tour the state Capitol and meet other dignitaries from other Wisconsin Tribal Nations. I really enjoyed this trip because it showed me the importance of Tribal leadership and also how important it is for Wisconsin Tribes to voice their concerns. I also enjoyed the fact that they invited youth

Treasurer's Forum

Patricia King
Treasurer

Sakoli Swakweku:
(Greetings from me to all of you my best friends)

Yaw'ko
A big Yawáko to the Pow-Wow committee, our Oneida Royalty, the volunteers, and all tribal departments, contestants and vendors who assisted with providing a weekend of social, dancing, eating, and good music for our community and our guests. I greatly appreciated your hard work. Yawáko.

FY2016 Budget Update:

As you read the Treasurer's semi-annual report, please note the timeframe covered is from October 1, 2015, through March 30, 2016. The report provides you a synopsis of our financial status for the first six months of Fiscal Year 2016. I am pleased that this report shows revenues modestly higher than projected and expenditures less than projected for that period. If we stay on this course throughout the remainder of Fiscal Year 2016, and the world economy does not run us into a tailspin, we will experience a modest positive variance at the end of the FY2016 (Sept. 30, 2016). The Fiscal Year 2016 positive variance will be "carried-over" to Fiscal Year 2018.

FY2017 Budget Planning Update

The Oneida Business Committee has completed their review of the Fiscal Year 2017 tribal budget. I am pleased to announce that we have a proposed balanced budget for General Tribal Council consideration on September 19, 2016.

Another change in process began in February 2016. Programs/Enterprises and the OBC hosted five (5) community meetings in an effort to improve outreach to the membership. Our goal was to provide an opportunity for members to learn about and provide input on the Four (4) Focus Initiatives adopted by the OBC, which are Community Development, Reducing Debt, New Revenues, and Improving Employment Programs.

In addition to the community meetings, we facilitated monthly meetings with Senior Managers, Chairpersons of Boards, Committees, and Commissions, and the Oneida Business Committee. The goal was to educate and garner greater understanding of the goals within the (four) 4 initiatives. Once this process was complete, we started work on matching our financial picture with the Four (4) Focus Initiatives. As stated by our Finance Dept., we have a $25-$30 million gap at the beginning of each budget year. Therefore it is imperative to determine actual need, and focus our work toward given priorities. The first roll-up of the FY2017 budget identified a $29.7m gap. We spent considerable time talking, identifying, and understanding all the intricacies within this organization and by working together and focusing on the direction, we were eventually able to close the gap.

The "End-In-Mind" is to relate our work product throughout each fiscal year to show membership the impacts of focusing on specific initiatives.

In this 3-year Administration we chose the following focuses: (1) improvement on housing services and affordable housing opportunities to tribal members, as well as improvements to our buildings and structures, and beautification of the heart of Oneida; (2) designing, planning, and strategizing for future economic growth and establishing strategies for improving our agriculture and healthy foods systems. (3) Enhancing employment systems to continue to provide meaningful jobs; and (4) reducing debt. I want to reassure membership that as we target the Four (4) Focus Initiatives, tribal operations were directed to continuously review, update, and streamline processes to create logical efficiencies, improve customer service, and set goals to address our needs vs. wants.

I want to take this time to acknowledge and thank Senior Managers, Chairpersons of Boards, Committees, and Commissions, and members of the O.B.C., who have worked diligently to address the $29.7M gap and who have shown new vigor toward improving operations to meet the needs of the people.

Most importantly, Yawáko to the General

Tribal Council for showing support of one of the Four (4) Focus Initiatives, Reducing Debt. After important dialogue, the General Tribal Council adopted the Oneida Business Committee's Per Capita plan recommendation on June 13, 2016. With G.T.C.'s action, the OBC will be reducing outstanding debt to $23.7M. The debt payoff will result in being able to increase the annual per capita payment for five years beginning October 1, 2017. In addition, the plan rebuilds the Permanent Executive Contingency fund, and does not negatively affect current programs and services. On behalf of the Oneida Business Committee, we extend our appreciation for your support of the plan and for working together to help us reach another milestone toward sustainability.

I am pleased with the diligence, patience, and dedication of everyone involved to developing a budget. Each year, we improve the financial systems in order to better serve the people and support our Tribal governance. We continue listening to our stakeholders to create a better Nation for all of us. Sustainability is not an easy achievement, but by working together sustainability is attainable.

FOUR STRATEGIC DIRECTIONS

Annual job fair aims to help meet families' needs

Submitted photo

About 140 people attended the first annual Career and Community Resource Fair at the Radisson Hotel and Conference Center on June 7. The event helped match up employers to job seekers.

In what may become an annual career fair, several Oneida agencies joined to help match up area employers with job seekers.

Oneida Nation Social Services, Oneida Nation Workforce Development, Brown County Job Center, and local employers teamed up recently to host the 1st Annual Career and Community Resource Fair held at the Radisson Hotel and Conference Center.

"Although we all have different missions, our goals essentially are the same: to provide a platform to those who seek these opportunities no matter if a family is residing on or near our reservation," said Teresa Schuman of Oneida Nation Workforce Development.

Organizers of this event are passionate about providing opportunities to families in need, no matter the agency or department they represent.

This event drew more than 140 people and 31 employers and community resources. Employers not only hired some participants on the spot that day, but also scheduled additional interviews.

The event was hosted by Oneida Nation Child Support Agency, Oneida Vocational Rehabilitation, Oneida Workforce Development and Oneida TANF/FSET, in partnership with the Brown County Job Center. The planning team included Delia Smith, Oneida Nation Child Support, Teresa Schuman, Oneida Nation Workforce Development, and Melissa Skenandore of Oneida Nation Vocational Rehabilitation, also special thanks to Rosa Laster with the Oneida Workforce Development team and all the additional team members from the various departments that assisted to ensure a successful event.

Employers in attendance included Oneida Human Resources, Ovation Food Service, Wisconsin Building and Supply, EGS, Valley Packaging Supply, Fed Ex, Thario Cleaning, Building Supply Commercial Cleaning, Goodwill Industries, Curative Connections, DWD Apprenticeship, Nurse Next Door, Schneider National, Salm Partners, R.R. Donnelly, Cabela's and more.

A huge thank you to all parties involved in the roll out of our first annual event, and we hope to see more next year.

Second elk herd from Kentucky released in Wisconsin

BLACK RIVER FALLS, Wis. (AP) ~ Wildlife officials say a second herd of elk from Kentucky has been released in west-central Wisconsin.

The Department of Natural Resources said Friday that 50 elk were released from a holding pen into the surrounding Jackson County forests.

The second herd from Kentucky arrived in March as part of a five-year reintroduction program conducted by the DNR.

Officials say 39 elk arrived at the Jackson County holding pen, but their numbers grew as pregnant cows gave birth this summer. The DNR released an inaugural herd in Jackson County last year.

Wisconsin has had only one elk herd near Clam Lake in northern Wisconsin for two decades.

Kevin Wallenfang of the DNR says the agency will now focus the next two to three years on adding animals to the northern herd.

The Cost of Your Health

by Daril Peters, Summer Intern (UW Oshkosh)

What is the cost of being healthy, or maybe a better question is what the price of being unhealthy is? National health care expenditures related to obesity averages $109 billion annually and it will continue to increase. (Figures from Institute of Medicine)

The Center for Disease Control and Prevention estimates that 33% of all American children, and 50% of minority children, born in the year 2000 will develop diabetes as a result of poor diet and lack of exercise.

- Nearly 24 million Americans have diabetes; many of them are 20 and 30 year olds.
- Adults with diabetes die of heart disease 2 to 4 times more than people without diabetes.
- Type 2 diabetes is a growing epidemic among Native Americans, African Americans, and Hispanics, Asian Americans and Native Hawaiians or other Pacific Islanders.
- In 2014, 600 million adults (13%) 42 million children under the age of five were obese.
- For the first time in American history this generation will have a shorter life expectancy than their parents.

It is with these daunting statistics in mind that the Oneida Nation has developed the following strategy: "To build a healthy community through an integrated system, anchored on the Three Sisters Philosophy of tradition & collaboration, and engaging our community to build sustainable practices for future generations."

In order for our Oneida Community to live longer and become stronger, there has to be healthy alternatives available at our convenience and information regarding these places around Oneida. The Oneida Nation has come up with five inter-related strategies that should help boost the quality of life within Oneida. With most of these strategies near or around Oneida and with these strategies in effect, our community will have access to a healthier lifestyle. With the help of these five strategies:

1. Building a community mindset for healthy foods,
2. increase local agriculture food production,
3. generate local food economies,
4. integrate local foods into community outlets, and
5. ensuring sustainable practices, we hope to see an optimistic change in this epidemic. These five strategies are all inter-related, making it easier and available for everyone.

drummers to sing a ceremonial song before the meeting; it was nice to see Native youth carrying on traditions.

In late March I took a trip to Milwaukee to participate in a "Bernie Sanders for President" voting rally. I was fortunate enough to be chosen to participate in the rally and to sit alongside other supporters. My interest in Bernie Sanders stems from my pageant platform which is bully prevention. I really like how Bernie Sanders takes a stand for Native people and spreads the ideas of equality as well as protecting our planet. I was really happy to see other youth participating and showing their support for something they believe in.

I had the opportunity to participate in Generation Indigenous conference in April at the Radisson Inn in Green Bay. I enjoyed this event because it gave the teens and young adults who attended a platform to express their concerns about growing up Native and some issues that we deal with that maybe other teens do not. Some issues we discussed were racism in sports, use of mascots, bully prevention, diabetes on the reservation and helping to keep our planet clean. We had the opportunity to meet new people and give suggestions on issue we felt were important to us.

One of the highlights of this year was participating in the Gathering of Nations Pow-Wow in Albuquerque, New Mexico. Miss Oneida, Jessica House and I both attended and took part in the world's largest Tribal Ambassador Photo. We stood alongside over 100 Tribal Princesses, Braves, Ambassador's and Miss Indian World. It was so much fun meeting people from all over the United States who were representing their Tribes and Nations. Jessica and I must have taken over a hundred pictures with everyone and we were happy to answer questions about the Oneida Nation.

Another event we participated in was the Oneida Youth and Elder fishing day in May. Miss Oneida Jessica, Lil Miss Oneida Margaret and I all participated in the event. We worked alongside members of the Conservation Department in the dunking booth and collected surveys pertaining Oneida's Parks and Trails. A special thank you to council member Tehassi Hill for letting the community members take their aim at him in the dunking tank. It was great seeing all the elders take their turn fishing and all the youth participating as well.

I cannot believe how fast the year went by and am excited to see what is in store for the new royalty who will be representing our Nation. I am and will always be honored to have held the title of Jr. Miss Oneida for 2015-2016. I would also like to take this opportunity to give a special Yaw^ko to Amelia Cornelius and family, Amelia passed on to heaven in March. When I started my path to running for Jr. Miss Oneida I reached out to Amelia as a mentor to help me learn the traditional art of corn husk doll making. Amelia taught me many things and stressed the importance of passing on Oneida traditions. I was very fortunate to be able to learn from her and was able to enjoy her warmth and sense of humor. I cherish the time that I spent with her; she will be missed by many.

Lastly, I cannot believe how fast the year went by and am excited to see what is in store for the new royalty who will be representing our Nation. I learned so many things and was able to participate in events that helped showcase Oneida people and traditions. Although my Jr. Miss Oneida reign is coming to an end, I will continue to work with my bully prevention platform and participate in community events. I would also like to encourage any young ladies in the Oneida community who are eligible to run to participate in the Jr. Miss / Miss Oneida pageant, it was a wonderful experience. Thank you to everyone for all the support and encouragement.

Sekoli Everyone,
I'm Lil Miss Oneida for 2015-2016. Today I'm writing this to tell how of an honor it was to represent the Oneida Nation.

I'm grateful for all the new experiences I got to be involved with, in helping out our community. I'm also much obliged to Rich Figueroa on helping me and bossing me around, LOL, Just Kidding. For being the bestest Coordinator ever and telling me to smile.

I want to thank my sister Camlynn Batiste for dealing with me, helping me get ready for all my events. Also, thank you to my auntie Tina Christjohn-Young for encouraging me to dance and prepare for the Pageant.

I'm also very appreciative for my wonderful parents Ojay Cornelius and Wauntia Batiste for helping me to be responsible on taking in the responsibility of Oneida Nation Royalty.

I'm also thankful for the encouragement from my grandparents Orville and Janice Cornelius and Marvin and Rosalie Christjohn-Lucas.

I am very grateful for Marissa and Jessica for when I had no idea on what to do and on being the best Jr Miss and Miss Oneida they can be. I'd like to thank my cousin Kaylee Schyler for pushing me out of my comfort zone and to compete in my first smoke dance competition. She was also the one who told me about the Oneida Royalty Pageant. So, if it wasn't for her I wouldn't of had the honor to be a part of the Oneida Nation Royalty and experience all the adventures that came with it.

I just want to say Yawáko, I was honor and enjoyed representing my Onáyuhte aka people.

Adhering to the rules respectfully for what is being offered to the community at Onyota'a:ka Lake makes for a more enjoyable experience during the summer months..

Submitted by Environmental Health & Safety Division

The Oneida community has been enjoying many of the recreational properties of the Oneida Reservation this summer, including the new Onyota'a:ka Lake.

As part of the efforts to keep the property safe and enjoyable for all users, the Onyota'a:ka Lake team would like to remind all that the use of alcohol and fireworks/open fires is prohibited.

The lake, as well as all Oneida recreational areas, belongs to the community to be shared, and the opportunities for activities are to be enjoyed in a respectful manner. Additionally, camping and use of any motor vehicles on grounds is prohibited.

The Onyota'a:ka Lake team is pursuing further expansion of the property and amenities, which will include park equipment and complete camping opportunities as the lake site continues to develop in the future. Violations of any of these prohibitions, or others including leaving rubbish, bringing domestic animals or damage to property may carry forfeitures of $300

- $900.

We thank everyone for responsibly sharing the recreational areas, and invite youth and elders, families and friends to enjoy the scenic landscapes.

The Oneida Nation has many resources and strives to create a beautiful and healthy environment for our community. Yaw^ko and enjoy your summertime activities.

When you mow...

By Janelle Miller Intern, Environmental Health & Safety Division

... never blow yard waste into the streets, sidewalks, and driveways. If grass clippings and tree leaves are washed or dumped down a storm drain, the storm drain may become clogged. The next time that it rains, or yard irrigation runs off into the street, the water that would normally flow down the storm drain will be blocked by the yard waste. This can cause flooding.

Many homeowners and landscape maintenance companies are guilty of sweeping or blowing yard waste, like grass clippings and fallen tree leaves, in the street or down the storm drain. When it rains, yard waste left in streets, on sidewalks, or in driveways will wash into nearby storm drains. Once in the storm drain system, the yard waste can enter local bodies of water without being treated or cleaned.

While grass clippings, tree leaves, and other yard waste are natural, they still pollute our local waterways. As yard waste breaks down or decomposes in a local creek, stream, river, or lake, it depletes the oxygen in the water. Aquatic life needs oxygen to survive. If oxygen levels become too low, fish and other aquatic life cannot survive.

So, as a reminder, please try to mow your lawn in a manner that will prevent grass clippings and yard waste from entering the streets.

Second Household Clean Sweep planned for the Fall

The first 3.5 hours of the Household Clean Sweep were a success with 156 customers served. We were also able to conduct at home pick-up for 136 elders the week prior to the clean sweep.

Unfortunately, we did have to shut down early due to the extreme heat for the safety and health of our employees. Our best wishes go out to the two Oneida youth who were overcome by the heat and had to leave the facility by ambulance.

We have been fortunate in the past for favorable weather, but this year we could not compete with the heat. The planning team opted to hold the event in July this year so we would have additional help from the summer youth workers and our interns.

This event is grueling on staff, handling tons of material in a short time span takes a lot of energy and perseverance. We also recognize that our community members put hard work into loading their vehicles to take advantage of this disposal event and the early closure was a hardship. Because of this we are planning to have a second Household Clean Sweep event in the fall. This would be a drop-off only event, we are unable to offer the Elder pick-up for this second Household Clean Sweep.

At this time we are in discussions with the planning committee, and looking at budgets to see what we will have the funds for. As soon as we have specific information available and a date set, we will begin advertising and send mailers.

We thank you for the continued support of the Household Clean Sweep and for your patience and understanding.

Loretta Says: Hunting Skunks - By Stadler King

Loretta Metoxen
Tribal Historian

Stadler King interviewed many older Oneidas when he was writing their stories as part of the W.P.A. Project (1939-1942).

Most of the hunting that I ever did was while I lived toward Seymour. I was still a young man and was able to travel a lot and not mind it at all. I had a neighbor who was a white man but his ways and work were just like Indians. He was a little younger than I was and he was among Indians more than he was among his own people.

All he did was trap fur bearing animals in the fall. It was no wonder that he married an Indian girl. His name was Antonie.

One morning Tony came to my place. It was in the fall. He said I dame to invite you to come along and look for skunks. He said I think I know where we can find a few dens. I said I would not go just for the fun of it. Besides, I wouldn't want my clothes to have that awful smell and I don't know anything about getting out skunks.

He said I know how to get them out so they would not discharge or emit their odoriferous substance. Of course, he did not say this, but that is what he meant, because he did not have much schooling and he hardly could talk English. He said all you do is to take your shovel and I do the rest and I'll give you half of what I make. He said skunks are worth two dollars and a half so you can figure how much we'll make if we get ten skunks. Well, I thought that would be twenty five dollars and half of that would be twelve and a half. So, I said alright, I'll go with you. So I put on real old clothes and took my shovel along. All he had along was a small hatchet and a bag. I told my wife that I was going with him to hunt skunks. She said I was wondering why you put on those old clothes.

We went down the road about a mile and a half and then went into a pasture where there were a few hard wood stumps here and there.

We went over a little knoll and just over this he stood and looked at a hole in the ground. He looked all around and he seemed to be looking at the grass around this hole. Finally, he said there must be skunks in his hole. See how they pulled this grass in. That's the way they do when they make a nest. They pull a lot of grass into the hole.

Well, he said, you can start digging with your shovel and we'll see. So I was half scared, but I started to dig and this hole was not straight down but it went one way and it kept getting deeper and there was a bend but it was then on the level. I followed this for some time. Then I came to a place where the hole seemed to be bigger and there was some dry grass. Then Tony must have seen that I was scared so he said let me take that shovel. So he dug but he blocked up the hole and he just dug the top. After a while he said there are skunks here alright. So he took his hatchet and cut a short piece of stick. Then he dug again.

All of a sudden, he laid the shovel down and he went down on his knees and he started to feel around with his hand in the bottom of the hole. I was standing a little way from him. I watched him take one skunk and he hit it over the head with his short stick. Then, he laid him down on the round nearby and started to feel around at the nest. He pulled one after another out and killed them and here I was standing a ways from there and ready to run. He didn't have any trouble at all. I noticed that he always held them by the tail when he pulled them out. He pulled out six skunks when he could not find any more. He put them all in the bag that he had. Then he said we will go into the next pasture so we went right through the pasture and got into the other.

Once in a while, he would stop and look around. Then he said lets go and see what this is over here. We went one way and, to my surprise, we came to another hole. It seemed funny how he could locate those holes. He looked at the grass around this hole and then he said dig in here again. So, I was not so scared now. I dug and dug, but this hole was not so deep as the first one and I dug for quite a while. Then he said let me dig now and I gave him the shovel. He did not dig very long when I noticed that he was coming to the nest so he just dug the top. Then he laid his shovel down and he started to feel for them and he got a hold of one and pulled him out. He pulled one after another until he had seven skunks lying on the ground near him. He said this is a good day for us. He said we will never get them home because they are so heavy. I will have to skin them right here. So, he began to skin them. Of course, I did not know how to do this, but he just made a cut on the legs and opened up the hind end of them. Then he pulled off the hide a little. The he said, here, take ahold right here and pull and he held the hind legs and I pulled. Sure enough, it was no trick at all. I pulled the hide right off. We did this to all of the thirteen skunks. Then he put all the hides in the bag. Well, he said, we can call this a good day's work. We went home and when we got to my place, he said can you come to Seymour tomorrow morning, say, about ten o'clock? I will take these furs to Seymour and sell them and I will give you your share. Then, he went home. The next day I went to Seymour and I found him there. So, he said lets go in the Bank and cash my check. We went into the Bank and he cashed a check for thirty two dollars and fifty cents and he turned around and came to me.

• See 43/
Hunting skunks

Then, he counted sixteen dollars and twenty five cents and gave it to me. He says, here is your money. I hope we can do as good as this next week every day. Then he asked me if I would be able to help him for a few days but he said we could hunt for one week before we sell the furs and after that it will be out of season. I did not have a license, but he did so I told him that I would help him. Well, I could easily do it for one week so I did some trading. Then I came home. I told my wife how much I made that one day. She was so surprised and she said are you going to hunt anymore? I said yes we are going to hunt one week before we sell the furs and by that time the hunting and trapping season will be up. We started the next day to hunt more skunks but he had no idea where we might find them so we went all over. We went mostly in cleared off pastures. The first day we found and killed four. Then the next day we got five and the next day, we got three and after that, we went toward the south and got six out of two nests. Then, we went to another place, but we could not locate any skunks and the last day we got four skunks.

This made us twenty two skunks and we had them already to sell so that day I went again to Seymour but I got a horse and buggy from my wife's folks and I invited my wife to go along because I knew I would get more money this time. So, we found Tony in town and he had already sold all the furs and he had cashed the check. He said well, we did pretty well this week. We made fifty five dollars and here is your money. He had it all counted out and gave me twenty two dollars and fifty cents. I had four dollars left from the other sale so that made me twenty six dollars and fifty cents.

My wife and I went into a store and bought a lot of groceries. Our buggy was pretty well full when we loaded up all our groceries and I still had a little money left. My wife said that must be good money hunting skunks. She said you ought to do that by yourself next fall. I said, yes, I will if I have nothing else to do, but sometimes the fur is not such a good price as it is this year. I would have to buy a license and maybe I would not be able to find any if I was alone. I was just lucky that he came along looking for a partner. But I never had a chance to hunt any more skunks because I moved to Oneida that next spring and I always had a job in the fall after that until Depression started.

Thousands of years ago, the Lotinuhshu·ni· (lo-dee-new-shoo-NEE) people lived together in one group. The Lotinuhshu·ni· (sometimes called the Haudenosaunee, or Iroquois) are known as the "People of the Longhouse." As time passed several groups formed and spread out to form separate settlements. The new communities spanned across what is present day New York State. After many generations these groups became five separate nations who were constantly fighting. The Peace Maker and Hiawatha traveled to each nation and asked them to join a confederacy of peace.

After the Mohawk people accepted the message of peace, the Peace Maker left and traveled west. He came across a man who was mending his moccasins while he was sitting atop of a large rock. The Peace Maker asked who this man was and what the land around there was referred to. The man answered that he was of the Lotinuhshu·ni· (La-dee-lun-dah-GO), which means "People of the Great Trees." This was on account of the huge trees that grew in the Oneida homelands. However, he also explained that his people were also called On·ayote'a·ká· on account of the large chunks of rock that had been pushed up out of the ground.

So it was the Peace Maker that stuck with the idea of referring to them as "The People of the Standing Stone." From the time of the foundation of the Confederacy the name On·ayote'a·ká·, or Oneida, has been used.

Taken from oral interview Of Bob Brown conducted by David Metoxen, 2009

People of the Standing Stone

This book begins with the Oneida Creation Story and quickly moves forward through time. Other topics include the Oneida Thanksgiving Address, Clan System, Iroquois Confederacy and Great Law, European Colonization, the American Revolution and the Oneida migration to Wisconsin and more. Wrapping up with reservation life in Wisconsin and a snap shot into the present, this book offers a great introduction to anyone who wishes to read and learn about the Oneida Nation of Wisconsin. (8.5 x 11 inches, 32 pages black and white, © 2013, Oneida Nation of Wisconsin).

This short book is a reproduction of a booklet that was originally printed 110 years ago. Tribal Historian Loretta Metoxen researched and wrote summaries to accompany the 38 black and white photographs depicting the Oneida Reservation and its inhabitants at the beginning of the 20th century. Topics include Churches on the Reservation, Oneida Families, Boarding Schools, Industries on the Reservation and more. (5.5 x 8.5 inches, 32 pages, black and white print, © 2001, Oneida Nation of Wisconsin).

Wise Men's Support Group

When: Thursdays

Time: 5:30 pm to 7:30 pm

Where: Wise Women Gathering Place, 2483 Babcock Rd.

Wise Men is a support group for men of all ages, Native and non-Native. The Wise Men group is comprised of mostly elders who want to share their life-long learning experiences. Our experiences are a tool for guidance for other men. Wise Men is dedicated to helping men manage or change addictive habits or thoughts. Destructive behavior comes in many forms and does no one good. Life is too short to deceive oneself and face struggling through it. The past is gone, the future yet written.

Experience has proven that a Talking Circle is one of the best ways to help achieve a healthier outlook on life. The Talking Circle, which is in a confidential setting, gives encouragement, provides for personal insight and growth, and helps you begin to trust your ability to make better decisions for yourself. FMI, contact: Rick Laes at 920 4610340 or Gary Keshena at 920 3620206 Open to all men. Come join us.

Women's Support Group
