New leadership has taken the reigns of the Oneida Tribe after the recently elected Oneida Business Committee (OBC) took their oaths of office on Thursday, August 14.

The newly elected government was selected during the 2014 General Election last month. Then Treasurer Tina Danforth narrowly defeated then Vice-Chairman Greg Matson after Chairman Ed Delgado didn't advance past the primaries. The remaining OBC has

Councilmember Melinda Danforth as Vice-Chairwoman, Trish King as Treasurer, Lisa Summers as Secretary, and Brandon Stevens, Tehassi Hill, Jennifer Webster, Fawn Billie, and Ben Vieau as Councilmembers. Chairwoman Danforth acknowledged the ongoing obstacles the tribe faces during her inaugural address. "We are very cognizant that there is a lot of work that needs to be done to strengthen our sovereignty, our economy, and to build cultural bridges that are inclusive and to foster peace, power and the righteousness of the Great Law," Danforth said.

Danforth looks forward to what can be accomplished during her term. "Accountability will not just be talked about, it will be measured and required. We will end each day with the pride knowing that we served our tribe to the best of our ability," she said. "It is my hope at the end of my term we will leave the abearance of the Oneida Tribe better than it is today with the mindfulness of future generations to come." The newly elected OBC will hold office until August of 2017.

National Night Out Community Picnic

By Isabel Parker

Recreation Specialist

By Isabel Parker
Recreation Specialist
I am giving a beg thank you and recognizing those who gave their full support for the National Night Out Picnic. The picnic was a great success with the support of the people who show their respect, and care about the community. Elders and youth can feel safe in an environment of no crime, and also know that the Neighborhood Watch is active and ongoing in Three Sisters.

It's the people themselves that gather as one to protect these issues in the neighborhood, just by stopping to make an appearance meant a lot at the picnic.

Thank to our Green Bay Mayor Jim Schmitt, Green Bay Police Department and SWAT Team, Green Bay Neighborhood Watch Captain, Oneida Police Department, Oneida Housing Authority staff who volunteered their time serving, setting up, manning the register table, ticket stand, Klingo game, putting up and taking down the tents, tables and chairs, Isabella's Party shop for donating a bouncy house for the children, and the clown making animal balloons, the blue grass music by Timber Moon, jiggling context, Three Sisters Headstart and Trails, Conservation, Edward Skenandore and Marshall Groleau from Wisconsin Indian Veterans Association Oneida Chapter for making the chicken booyah, and Brenda and Fred Lynk for their hard work making fry bread.

I surely appreciate everyone's full support knowing everyone had a good time till the end

Kaukauna nature area wants hunters to cull deer

KAUKAUNA, Wis. (AP) ~ A Kaukauna environmental center is allowing bow hunters to kill deer this fall in the ultimate effort to promote new tree growth.

The 1000 Islands Environmental Center will allow licensed bow hunters to cull deer from its upper woods from Sept. 13 to Oct. 3, according to Post-Crescent Media.

"Our canopy is getting a little bit too crowded," said Debra Nowak, naturalist for 1000 Islands. "We don't get a lot of sunlight down to the forest floor. We don't get a lot of regeneration."

Thinning the canopy won't yield a new growth of maples and oaks without also culling the deer population, Nowak said.

"If we want some natural regeneration, we have to start controlling the deer herd," she said. "Otherwise, anything that tries growing is going to get nipped down pretty quick."

The hunt would be a first for Kaukauna. The center modeled its rules and regulations after Little Chute, which has held successful deer hunts in recent years, Nowak said.

It is open only to licensed hunters who reside or pay taxes in the city of Kaukauna. Thirty qualified hunters will be selected by lottery.

Depending on the success of the culling, a second hunt will be considered after the nine-day gun season in November.

The environmental center also has contracted with a logging company to thin the woods between October and April.

Sagoli's Family Restaurant now open at Hwy. 29 Travel Center

By Dawn Walschinski
Kalihwisaks

@dwalschi_kali

Tina and Greg Roskom have combined their love of food and family by opening Sagoli's Family Restaurant in the Oneida Casino Travel Center off of Highway 29.

"Ever since I was nine-years-old I've always been around food. It started with my mother with Sister's Bread, and WT Creations, and we also did the powwows for 22 years," said Tina.

Greg remembered his first powwow helping with the family food stand.

"The first year we were together, she said 'you're coming down to the powwow.' Oh, good, I get to see one," he said and then laughed. "Yeah right, I didn't see nothing."

"And I went home sick. I didn't know I was pregnant. I had no clue," said Tina.

While the husband/wife duo has been working with food for a while, this is their first restaurant venture.

"So far, so good, it's steady," said Tina.

Sagoli's – the Oneida word for hello – serves breakfast all day, lunch and dinner.

"Breakfast is the most popular item, because they can get that anytime. The truckers love coming in for breakfast," she said.

Along with diner mainstays, the restaurant also serves regional favorites such as corn soup and Indian tacos.

"I want to put more of the Native American food into it, but that will be further down the road because that's a little expensive," said Tina.

Greg bakes Sister's Bread on site, and Tina bakes desserts like pies and cakes and breakfast sweets like cinnamon rolls and turnovers.

"I've always loved to cook, I love cooking," said Tina.

winning chili – a recipe discovered by accident and with the help of family.

"On transport it fell, my chili went all over the back of my mom's car," said Tina. "I was like 'oh my God, am I going to have enough to serve?' So I hurried up and made some more, and I combined some of my mom's and my sister's and I took second place."

The couple opened the restaurant July 1, which made for some long days in the beginning.

"When we first started we were here 24 (hours) because we were trying to get everything ready, trying to get everything cleaned up, everything situated where it had to be. It's been ongoing," said Tina.

Greg works the morning shift and Tina manages the restaurant in the afternoon.

"He goes for 12 hours and then I take over," said Tina.

"We high five each other," said Greg.

The two have plans to add an all-you-can-eat buffet, a kid's and senior's menu, and donuts.

"(Oneida) Retail would like us to sell donuts. We would like to do that for them, but we don't have the equipment," said

Tina.

Sagoli's is open 5:00am to 8:00pm, but they hope to expand their hours down the road.

"Somewhere along the line we would like to stay open 24 hours," said Tina.

Sagoli's Family Restaurant is located at 5939 Old 29 Drive in the Oneida Casino Travel Center. The number is 920-865-1150.

Hyperbaric Oxygen returns to Oneida

The Mobile Hyperbaric Unit provided by American Hyperbarics will return to Oneida on the 27th of August 2013. Located at the rear of the Oneida Health Center, treatments will be conducted daily from 7 AM through 6PM. The Hyperbaric Chamber will be in the area through the middle of October.

This versatile therapeutic treatment allows oxygen to be delivered to tissues in critical need. Oxygen is the essence of life, its availability helps tissues to heal, helps the body's immune system to fight infection and in certain situations provides the body's cell the ability to produce energy allowing them to function efficiently.

Hyperbaric oxygen therapy center are not new, in fact their emergence began in the early 19th century being seen first in Europe. More and more you are seeing its acceptance in hospitals throughout the US.

Recent research with Veterans returning from Iraq and Afghanistan have shown its effectiveness in addressing lasting effects of mild traumatic brain injury or symptoms of post-traumatic stress disorder.

In a recent study published out of Israel, Hyperbaric oxygen was instrumental in providing impressive improvements in neurological injuries even after decades. Patients with conditions such as stroke, cerebral palsy, traumatic brain injury have long reported the benefits of hyperbaric oxygen in providing significant positive changes in their qualities of life.

Among the conditions treated are the adverse effects of radiation following its use in treating cancer, selected problematic wounds. The Mobile Hyperbaric gives the opportunity to evaluate the effectiveness of this treatment for themselves. For more information call Tom Fox at 619-3074 or 301-788-0966.

Patient Portal enables patients to view records from comfort of home

New additions to your electronic health record

Submitted by the Oneida Comprehensive Health Division
Oneida Community Health Center

When the Electronic Health Record was first implemented two years ago, we explained that the record system would be implemented into various stages throughout the Division as it was developed.

We are now about to enter a new stage of the record called the Patient Portal which will happen within the next couple of months.

What is a Patient Portal?

The Patient Portal is essentially a part of your electronic health record which will allow you to access your record from where ever you are either from your smart phone, your I-pad, or Tablet or from your home computer.

As the patient, you will be able to access your record while sitting in your pajamas watching television from your living room. You will have the opportunity to take control of your health information.

The system will allow you access that is:

- Secure
- Efficient
- Convenient

You will be able to:

- View your medical chart
- Communicate with your health care team
- Review lab tests
- Order medication refills
- Check on your immunizations
- Verify your health care provider or doctor's instructions
- Ask your health care team a question

You will be provided with information on how to register to gain access to your Patient Portal as well as simple instructions on how and when to use the portal.

Eventually, you will also be able to verify appointments and even request to schedule your appointments with your provider.

This process will become much more efficient, convenient and secure for you as a patient in working with your health care team! Dental, Optical, Physical Therapy, and other areas of the health division will be added at a later date which we will inform you of as it develops.

As your Oneida Comprehensive Health Division, we will keep you informed as this system gets closer to full implementation.

Despite college's efforts, sexual assault persists

LAWRENCE, Kan. (AP) — A confidential University of Kansas survey shows that one in 10 students say they have been victims of sexual harassment, including sexual assault, but many never report it. About 30 reported incidents over a two-year span involved men raping or sexually assaulting woman who were drunk, said Jane McQueeny, executive director of the Office of Institutional Opportunity and Access. The university established the office, which investigates reported sexual assaults, about two-and-a-half years ago, the Lawrence Journal-World

r e p o r t e d (http://bit.ly/1kvTMP3). McQueeny said the university looks into all sexual assault complaints, conducts confidential surveys and provides many ways to report sexual assault claims, including online, by fax, by mail or by phone. The school's procedures appear to exceed federal requirements. The office's 60-day investigations are separate from criminal investigations, McQueeny said, and they rely on sources that include victim and witness interviews, social media activity and medical records. The office can move a victim to a different residence hall and change the person's class schedule. It can also place any student accused of sexual assault on disciplinary probation when a complaint is filed. If the person is found guilty, the university can ban him or her from campus. The legal process takes longer and can often be more intimidating for victims. "That, I think, is why we probably have a lot of people who come talk to us," McQueeny said. According to a 2012 Centers for Disease Control report, nearly 20 percent of undergraduate female students have been victims of sexual assault or attempted sexual assault. In the KU survey, 11 percent of students said in a survey by McQueeny's office that they had been victims and 2 percent said they reported what happened to them to the office. About 900 graduate and undergraduate men and women responded to the survey. Before students begin classes this fall, the university is requiring them to watch an online video that explains what sexual assault is and where to receive help if attacked. Students are also required to take a quiz at the end of the video.

Piggy Pie's Pickle Problem

Appleton author creates children's book

Author Gwen Tatera, aka Queen Guenevere, of Appleton, has written a humorous children's book. The story is about a pig who develops an addiction to dill pickles. He finds himself failing in school, losing friends, and becoming too focused on one thing. If you're a kid, or a kid at heart, you'll love this book right from the start. Very funny book for kids from 4 to 99, completely written in Seuss-like rhyme. Piggy, like many, wants too much of one thing. He couldn't imagine the problems it'd bring. Balance in life is a very good choice. If we follow that rule, it's cause to rejoice. This 38 page, beautifully illustrated book, will serve as a very helpful tool for parents and teachers. It can be a springboard for discussion about anything children overdo, such as too much time with video games, computers, television, cell phones, or even food. The book demonstrates how important wellness and mindfulness are for a fulfilled life. Gwen is a retired elementary teacher who taught at Southern Door and Oneida Nation Elementary School for several years. She also published Tales From the Teacher Patrol and the 2012 Diabetic Calendar. Illustrator, Samantha Neary, brought the story to life and added humor to the book. Dr. Charles Thomas assisted in every aspect of the book which was edited and greatly enhanced by Jamie Tatera-Sankpal and Darcy Thomas. You can learn more about the book at www.pickleproblem.com or watch the u-tube clip, Piggy's Pickle Problem, created by Darcy Thomas. To purchase, please send a check for $10.00 plus $3.00 for taxes, shipping and handling to: Gwen Tatera Piggy@new.rr.com 30 S. Meadows Dr. Appleton, WI 54915

Simms, Dungy likely not to use ‘Redskins’ on TV

By Barry Wilner
AP Pro Football Writer

NEW YORK (AP) ~ Two influential NFL voices - including CBS lead analyst Phil Simms, who will handle Washington’s Week 4 game - said Monday they likely won’t use the term “Redskins” when discussing the franchise.

“My very first thought is it will be Washington the whole game,” Simms told The Associated Press on Monday.

Simms will work the Thursday night package the network acquired this season and will have Giants-Redskins on Sept. 25. He isn’t taking sides in the debate over whether Washington’s nickname is offensive or racist. But he says he is sensitive to the complaints about the name, and his instincts now are to not use Redskins in his announcing.

“I never really thought about it, and then it came up and it made me think about it,” Simms added. “There are a lot of things that can come up in a broadcast, and I am sensitive to this.”

His broadcast partner, Jim Nantz, says it is “not my job to take a stance.”

NBC’s Tony Dungy, one of the most prominent voices in the league as a Super Bowl-winning coach and now as a studio commentator, plans to take the same route as Simms.

“I will personally try not to use Redskins and refer to them as Washington,” Dungy said in an email. “Personal opinion for me, not the network.”

CBS is allowing its announcers to decide on their own whether to call the team the Redskins. So is Fox, which handles the NFC and will televise most of Washington’s games.

NBC does not have any Redskins games scheduled - the late-season flex scheduling could change that - but the team certainly will be mentioned on its NFL telecasts this season. The network said “For all of our sports properties, our on-air commentators have full discretion to reference participating teams by their city/region/state name, team nickname or both.”

ESPN said in a statement: “We use the marks and nicknames as utilized by the teams, leagues and conferences we cover.”

The Redskins’ nickname was the subject of a halftime essay by NBC’s Bob Costas last October when Washington played Dallas on Sunday night. In part, Costas said, “Think for a moment about the term ‘Redskins,’ and how it truly differs from all the others. Ask yourself what the equivalent would be, if directed toward African-Americans, Hispanics, Asians, or members of any other ethnic group. When considered that way, ‘Redskins’ can’t possibly honor a heritage, or noble character trait, nor can it possibly be considered a neutral term. It’s an insult, a slur, no matter how benign the present-day intent.”

Several CBS announcers, appearing at a network news conference about its NFL coverage, said they will use the nickname.

“That’s the name of their team and that’s what I am going to use,” said Boomer Esiason, a member of the CBS studio crew and also an analyst for Westwood One on Monday night games.

Spero Dedes and Solomon Wilcotts will call the second game of the season when the Redskins host Jacksonville. Dedes said he will seek direction from the entire broadcast crew on using the nickname.

“I sympathize with people who may be offended by the name,” Dedes said.

Wilcotts said he will use “Washington Redskins as long as that is what they

Hello everyone! I am the 2014-2015 Junior Miss Oneida. My Oneida name is Yakokalakate, which means she has lots of stories. My English name is Lexandria Skye Metoxen. I am from the turtle clan, and I am of the People of the Standing Stone. I am the proud daughter of Tracy L. Metoxen and Clinton V. Skenandore. My grandparents are the late Lois Metoxen and the late Warren House, and Jude and Gordon Skenandore. My three older siblings are Keshia, William, and Jashelle. I also like to continue to learn the Oneida language and culture. After high school, my goal is to enlist in the Air Force or Marines. Afterwards I plan to go on to college, all while continuing to learn the Oneida language and culture for myself, my family, and my community. I am excited to be Junior Miss Oneida this year, along with Josslyn (Lil Miss) and Olivia (Miss)!

From peyote to sex: Religious liberty fight recast

By Rachel Zoll
Associated Press Religion Writer

Not long ago, when religious liberty cases reached the courts, the people seeking protection for their beliefs were mostly from small faith groups and their lawyers were liberals.

The contested issues were narrow: a demand that plain, black Amish buggies carry bright safety triangles, for instance, or bans on hallucinogenic tea in a Native American ritual. The resolutions of these cases were as narrowly drawn as the complaints themselves. A judge might carve out an exemption for the practice in question, and life would go on as usual for everyone else.

But after years of culture wars, and amid recent gains for gay rights, the politics of religious liberty has been transformed. Now exemptions are being sought by the largest faith groups in the country, the burning issues are marriage and sex, and the term religious freedom has taken on a new, politicized meaning.

“Things have changed dramatically in the last 20 years,” said Michael Moreland, vice dean and professor at Villanova University Law School. “Back then, the Catholic Church wasn't very often in the position of needing exemptions.”

The new terms of the debate were on display in the recent Hobby Lobby case over birth control coverage for workers.

The plaintiff was a multibillion-dollar arts and crafts chain owned by conservative Christians. At stake was broader access to contraception for many women. And the religious leaders championing the Hobby Lobby case were from the Roman Catholic Church and the Southern Baptist Convention – the largest and second-largest denominations in the country.

The justices ruled June 30 that Hobby Lobby and other closely held private businesses with religious objections could opt out of providing the free contraceptive coverage required by the Affordable Care Act. Many opponents, outraged by the decision, vowed they would fight to repeal the law at the center of the case: the Religious Freedom Restoration Act.

“We've gone from a moment a quarter century ago where it's small religious minorities who want to do their thing in private to very large religious minorities – Catholics and evangelicals and Mormons – who feel they're being oppressed by a hostile society,” said Mark Silk, director of the Leonard Greenberg Center for the Study of Religion in Public Life at Trinity College in Hartford, Connecticut. “Now we're talking about potentially significant numbers of women who do not get contraceptive coverage, or significant numbers of men and women who are gay and lesbian.”

Smaller-scale religious liberty cases continue to arise, over issues such as wearing a Muslim veil in a driver's license photo or a Sikh turban to work.

But the loudest cries over religious freedom are coming from the conservative leaders of major religious groups, especially when equal rights for gays and lesbians are at stake. In many state legislatures, bills on recognizing same-sex marriage have been held up – or killed – over disagreements about the breadth of the religious opt-out.

President Barack Obama recently was pressured by groups seeking or opposing a broad new religious accommodation in an executive order on job protection for gay and transgender employees of the federal government or federal contractors. The president did not add an exemption, but left in place a provision that allows faith groups to hire and fire based on religious identity. The U.S. Conference of Catholic Bishops condemned the executive order as “extreme.”

Cathleen Kaveny, a Boston College professor of law and theology, said many Americans perceive reactions like these, and demands for exemptions, as an attempt by “losers in the culture war to hold onto a position” that broader society has generally rejected.

“If you lose a political battle, do you get a second bite at the apple – that my religious freedom has been violated?” Kaveny said. “The context has shifted.”

So has the rhetoric. Compromises that resolved many religious liberty disputes in the past seem impossible to reach in the current climate. On gay rights especially, groups see the other side as advocating something deeply immoral and both sides see a moral imperative for an all-out win. It is common now for conservative pastors to vow they would go to jail rather than comply with a law they consider contrary to their beliefs. Gay rights' supporters, meanwhile, have come to see religious liberty complaints as cover for bigotry.

“We know that conservatives will continue to market their prejudices under the guise of religious freedom,” said the Rev. Nancy Wilson, head of the Metropolitan Community Churches, a denomination formed as a refuge for gay Christians. “Everyone loves religious liberty, but we dare not confuse sincere prejudice with sincere religion.”

Religious exemptions have always had their critics and controversies, but until recently, Americans generally leaned toward accommodating faith groups, even at times when the beliefs in question were considered unpopular, such as religious objections to wartime military service. Exemptions can be found in thousands of laws and regulations nationwide.

In 1990, when this tradition of support appeared in jeopardy, the outrage spanned the political and theological spectrum. That year, the U.S. Supreme Court ruling in Employment Division v. Smith made it tougher to obtain some religious liberty protections. In response, a wide-ranging coalition, from People for the American Way to the Southern Baptist Convention, won passage of the 1993 Religious Freedom Restoration Act. Under the law, the government would have a much more difficult time defending and keeping any laws that infringe on religious freedom.

Yet, four years later, when Congress tried to revise the statute so it would also apply to state laws, the effort failed. The coalition that won passage of the original law was fracturing in part over the coming conflict between civil rights for gays and lesbians and religious freedom for groups who consider same-sex relationships a sin.

After the Hobby Lobby ruling, the more liberal members of the coalition behind the Religious Freedom Restoration Act found themselves in an awkward position. When Congress passed the measure nearly unanimously, and President Bill Clinton signed it into law, the statute was expected to mostly help minority faiths carve out space for themselves amid the nation's Christian majority.

Two decades later, the quest for religious liberty has been turned on its head. The toughest upcoming fights will revolve around how nondiscrimination laws apply to the hundreds of thousands of faith-affiliated social service agencies, colleges and charities that take government money while also trying to maintain their religious identity. Many of the largest nonprofits are run by the Catholic Church and evangelical groups. Government funding worth hundreds of millions of dollars is potentially at stake.

“The heart of this issue is the question of discrimination and the way in which anti-discrimination legislation bumps up against certain kinds of religious liberty,” Silk said. “It set up a deep tension between two strong values in a society: the nondiscrimination and the religious liberty value. Anybody who pretends that that's a simple thing to resolve – they're kidding themselves.”

NOTICE OF AVAILABILITY

Introduction: The Oneida Environmental, Health and Safety Division, in conjunction with the Oneida Division of Land Management and Oneida Development Division, is proposing to utilize federal assistance and Tribal contribution and in-kind services for the removal of an underground storage tank (UST) system, canopy removal and building demolition project. Brief Description of Proposed Tribal Action/Undertaking: The Oneida Environmental, Health and Safety Division, in conjunction with the Oneida Division of Land Management and Oneida Development Division is proposing the project at N7284 Cty Rd J, Oneida, Outagamie County, WI (Outagamie Parcel Identification number 170222900). It is identified as the Hilltop BP (Appleton's) Tank Removal and Demolition Project. It will consist of the removal of four underground storage tanks (UST), associated piping and other equipment, removal of the pump island canopy and building demolition. Soil sampling to monitor and evaluate the soils exposed during this work will be performed according to accepted federal practices.

Environmental Review: In compliance with provisions of the NEPA, an environmental assessment (EA) and FONSI have been prepared. Based on the EA, provided information, and overall NEPA review, no effects to historic properties, Federally-listed threatened and endangered species, water resources including wetlands, or any other federally regulated resources are anticipated. If any adverse impacts to, or inadvertent discoveries of, historic/cultural resources, Federally-listed species, and/or any other regulated resources are made, the project shall be suspended and tribal environmental staff promptly notified. Project operations are expected to comply with all applicable laws, rules, regulations, codes, ordinances, permits, permissions, authorizations, stipulations and best management practices. If these conditions are met, the proposed project as described in the EA as the preferred alternative, would not significantly affect the quality of the human environment; therefore, an environmental impact statement will not be required.

Document Availability and Comments: Interested parties can obtain copies the FONSI and related NEPA documents from the above address in care of the Environmental, Health and Safety Division Director. Detroit's garden also focuses on cultural relevancy like the Chicago center's garden, which was planted in hopes to bring back some remnants of life as it was on the reservation, where medicinal plants were more likely used and a trip to the pharmacy wasn't necessary. Plants like blue flag, an iris, can be used for fevers and Echinacea can be used as a vitamin source.

Indian Summer guests are invited to watch all dance competitions and the popular "Grand Entries"—a formal procession of veterans, active service members, Native "royalty" and dancers as they bring in Eagle Staffs along with Tribal, Veteran and American flags. During the Grand Entry presentations, a "Flag Song" is sung — likened to the National Anthem of the United States, followed by a special Veterans dance. Festival goers are encouraged to participate in "intertribals" where everyone is invited to join in the circle and dance.

The Circle of Fine Art Exhibit brings works by major American Indian artists from across the country. This juried art show also features artist demonstrations and works of art that are for sale.

Lacrosse Currently one of the fastest growing sports in America, the game of lacrosse actually has its roots in the history, culture and customs of the First Nations tribes. Indian Summer Festival

Lacrosse will feature the more traditional version of lacrosse through a schedule of exhibition matches, competitions, skills camps and educational programs, along with an Honor Game for Dylan's Run (autism).

Education Day provides elementary school children and teachers with a hands-on Native American learning experience. Students and teachers will experience new activities this year including: the Lakota Story of Horse Nation; a Horse Ledger Art activity by the Milwaukee Public Museum; the Painted Pony Roadshow; Indigenous Plants by Boerner Botanical Gardens; and a new Native village area called "Living Cultures of the Great Lakes." Students will also enjoy Lacrosse clinics, boxing demonstrations, a children's pow wow among other cultural attractions. <http://indiansummer.lanexdev.com/education/ed-day--sept-10.aspx>

Saturday night specials! The wildly popular Fiddle and Jig Contest brings crowds to their feet (literally) as contestants jig for prizes to an Irish sounding beat. (Fiddling has been associated with Native people of America and Canada, going back to classic American heroes such as George Washington and Thomas Jefferson. Davy Crockett was a "ferocious" fiddler and the tune "Crockett's Reel" is still played today). Indian Summer Music Awards (ISMA) celebrates its 11th year with a glittery program featuring live performances Saturday night.

Great shopping! Vendors at the Indian Summer Marketplace will offer everything from turquoise jewelry to pottery, to things for your home and life. In the Natural Path "Herbal Area" you will find an array of traditional herbs, herbal related products, oils, coffee and tea to purchase and get a massage too!

A Native Children's Fashion Show will feature native-inspired works by Navajo designer LeAnn Hascon Ward. Ward's shows combine traditional and contemporary clothing, and some of her collection will be on sale. Her models, children from the Ho-Chunk and Potawatomi tribes, will tell the story of Native American design through the centuries.

Court sets arguments in Wisconsin voter ID case

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — A federal appeals court in Chicago has set oral arguments in the fight over Wisconsin's voter identification law for next month.

Republicans passed a law in 2011 requiring voters to show photo identification. U.S. District Judge Lynn Adelman blocked the law earlier this year after the American Civil Liberties Union challenged it, calling it unconstitutional. Republican Attorney General J.B. Van Hollen has asked the 7th Circuit Court of Appeals to reverse Adelman.

The court on Tuesday set oral arguments in the case for the morning of Sept. 12. Each side will have 30 minutes to speak.

The annual event is held by the Oneida Tribe to show appreciation to their employees from all business units within the tribe. Travel mugs were handed out and a DJ was on site to provide the music. And if you felt like belting out a tune, karaoke was offered for those brave enough to sing. The event was held from 7 AM to 6 PM.

Native Voices Share Earth Ethics, Philosophy, History

Relive the toils and triumphs of caring for the earth from Wisconsin's Native American Communities—and the philosophy that drives them—in a new Wisconsin Historical Society Press book, "Seventh Generation Earth Ethics: Native Voices of Wisconsin." Author Dr. Patty Loew profiles a dozen influential members from Wisconsin's Indian Nations each of whom employ the "Seventh Generation Philosophy" to make environmental decisions based upon how those decisions will impact the land for seven generations to come, some 240 years into the future.

Loew, who adds a personal anecdote in each chapter describing her relationship with the subject, is donating all royalties from this book to the Wisconsin Indian Education Association (WIEA). Also author of the best-selling Indian Nations of Wisconsin, Loew says "Seventh Generation Earth Ethics" is the "result of thirty years of working as a journalist and historian in Wisconsin's Native American communities." Leaders featured include tribal genealogists, land stewards, preservers of language and culture, treaty rights advocates like James Schlender (Lac Courte Oreilles Ojibwe), artists like Truman Lowe (Ho-Chunk), educators like Dorothy "Dot" Davids (Stockbridge-Munsee Community Band of Mohican Indians), anti-mining advocates like

Walter Bresette (Red Cliff Ojibwe) and Hilary Waukau (Menominee). Winona LaDuke, an established activist in American Indian and environmental communities, and member of the Ojibwe, Mississippi Band Anishinaabeg, introduces the work in a poignant foreword, in which she writes in part: "We live because our ancient beings, the gete Anishinaabeg our ancestral beings, shine in lights in the forest or torches on the lake. This is the place of Anishinaabeg, and we are those who are indigenous in the present. This is the plane of the stories of heroic beings in this book, stories well-told." "Seventh Generation Earth Ethics" includes new material covering economic, social and environmental advancements of Native communities. An e-book edition is also available. The Wisconsin Historical Society Press, publishing since 1855, is the state's oldest publisher. About the Author: Patty Loew, Ph.D., is an enrolled member of the Bad River Band of Lake Superior Ojibwe and a recipient of the Outstanding Service Award of the Great Lakes Intertribal Council. She is a professor in the department of life sciences communication at the University of Wisconsin-Madison and affiliated faculty with the American Indian studies program. She has written dozens of scholarly and general-interest articles on Native topics and produced several award-winning documentaries that have appeared on commercial and public television stations throughout the country. UW-Madison researcher studying Ebola strain

MADISON, WI ~ (AP) ~ A University of Wisconsin-Madison scientist is studying a non-infectious strain of the Ebola virus. The university's biosafety manager Rebecca Moritz says Yoshihiro Kawaoka is testing potential drug therapies for the virus.

Moritz says not a lot is known about the virus. The State Journal reports Kawaoka is doing the research if labs that are classified with biosafety levels of two and three, which require some precautions. The National Institutes of Health in 2006 told Kawaoka his Ebola research needed to be done in a level four lab, the highest level. Since the university didn't have such a lab, Kawaoka stopped his research. In 2010, the NIH reversed its decision and said the work could be done in a level two lab.

Vice-Chairwoman

I want to extend my heartfelt appreciation to the Oneida people for your support during the recent elections. I am honored to serve you as the newly elected Vice Chairwoman, and I look forward to a positive and productive upcoming 3 years.

Business Committee Transition

This is an exciting and opportunistic time for the new Business Committee, as we will be joining one another in a transition schedule that will range from gaining an overview of current operations and reviewing the Comprehensive Plan & Vision Oneida, to developing teamwork and working through a facilitation process to strategically plan for what the new Business Committee will work together on for the next three years. I look forward to a productive term in office, and will keep the Oneida membership informed on the progress of our initiatives once the Business Committee completes its plan.

Judicial Elections: Be a Part of History

On Saturday, August 23, Oneida Tribal members have the opportunity to select the individuals who will occupy the first seats of the new Judicial system.

This election is the end product of a long process that was the vision of Oneidas to have a judicial system that would advance our tribal sovereignty, uphold the Nation’s constitution, ensure law and order, bolster economic development, promote peace, resolves conflicts within the community, preserves tribal customs and upholds the laws of the Tribe. The end vision was to develop a culturally relevant system that was fair and objective to administer justice for our Nation’s members and those doing business with the Tribe.

A caucus was held in early July and candidates were nominated or petitioned to be on the ballot. Each one of these candidates did go through a screening process and were placed on ballot in each of four different categories of judges.

There are two Chief Judge positions available in this election, one for the Court of Appeals and one for the Trial Court. These are full-time positions and these individuals will be responsible for the judges in each of their respective courts .

You will be able to select four (4) Court of Appeals judges to serve and these positions are all part-time positions.

Also up for election are two (2) Trial Court judges, these positions will be full-time.

Please take the time out of your busy schedule and cast your votes in this historic election to elect members to the new Judicial system.

Secretary’s Report...

Lisa Summers
Secretary

She-kú kyáta,

This past month we have been busy getting ready for the new Business Committee to take office. I am usually on the planning end of the work. This time, the transition process has been from a new viewpoint as I take on my new role as Tribal Secretary. This opportunity would not have been possible without the encouragement and support I received from all of you. I am having a hard time finding the words to express the emotion, so I simply say “thank you”. Congratulations to the Business Committee members and members of our Boards, Committees and Commissions. While there is much to do, it has been a great experience so far. I am hopeful we will continue to work together with a good mind over the next three years.

There are many areas to work on which focus on Good Governance Principles. I would like to touch on the idea of “Rule of Law.” “Rule of Law” requires the enforcement of laws and rules in a way that is fair to all, impartially enforced, and applied within a proper system. As indigenous people we strive to maintain, enhance, and promote our cultural values. Our challenge continues to be combining cultural principles into our work and the active use of Good Governance Principles.

One way we can do this is to lead by example. We have the chance to set the tone for the organization by setting and keeping clear expectations. We need to have them of ourselves, of each other and of our direct reports. In the first 90 days of office, I will be asking for changes to three main issues: 1) the justification and timing of BC Travel, 2) a system to account for our time and attendance at meetings and 3) a quarterly report.

The quarterly report will be submitted to the membership, from the BC. The goal will be to provide information and create a way to receive constructive feedback on our “day to day” work. By doing this, I hope have a discussion with the community. This discussion should be about setting clear standards and expectations of government officials and other leaders.

None of these plans will be possible without a strong team. The Business Committee’s Administration Office includes staff that assists our entire team. Paula “Pogi” King-Dessart, Debbie Melchert, April Skenandore and Kathy Metoxen are members of the Administration Office. Recently one of our team members, Danelle Wilson accepted another position within the Business Committee and we wish her well in her new role. Steve Webster, Record Director, and his team in the Records Department also provides valuable support.

One of the newest team members is Lisa Liggins.

She has accepted the political appointee position in the Tribal Secretary’s office. Lisa comes to us from the Enrollment Department. She will be able to provide valuable skill sets and insight. Please take the time to encourage and each team member when you see them. Carrying our daily responsibilities would be more difficult without these dedicated tribal member employees.

Finally, the new school year will be starting in just a couple of short weeks. I wish everyone a safe and productive school year.

New Legislative Operating Committee Officers Selected

On Friday, August 15, 2014, the Legislative Operating Committee (LOC) held the first meeting of the 2014-2017 term; selecting the members who will serve as officers for the next three years. Councilman Brandon Stevens was selected to serve as LOC Chair, and Councilman Ron (Tehassi) Hill was selected to serve as vice-chair.

This is Councilman Stevens’ third consecutive term on the LOC, and Councilman Hill’s second term.

Stevens and Hill are joined on the LOC by three new members— Councilman Ben Vieau, Councilwoman Jennifer Webster, and Councilwoman Fawn Billie.

Business Committee; responsible for processing proposals to create, amend and repeal Tribal legislation. The LOC also processes bylaws for Tribal boards, committees and commissions; conducts legislative reviews and analyses for General Tribal Council petitions and referendum questions; and is responsible for maintaining the Oneida Register—an online resource with notices of upcoming public hearings, links to Tribal laws, and more.

When in session, the LOC generally meets on the first and third Wednesdays of each month, in the OBC Conference Room, located on the second floor of the Norbert Hill Center. These meetings are open to the public. Meeting agendas and materials will be posted on the Tribal Website in advance, or can be obtained by contacting the Legislative Reference Office at (920)869-4376, or by e-mailing LOC@oneidanation.org.

Minnesota wild rice yields hurt by spring rainfall

REMER, Minn. (AP) ~ Experts say spring storms negatively affected wild rice beds in Minnesota and will lead to significantly lower yields.

Rod Ustipak, a wild rice expert for the state Department of Natural Resources and Ducks Unlimited, manages the state's wild rice program. He told Minnesota Public Radio News (<http://bit.ly/1AaJz5a>) that lakes in northern Minnesota will yield 75 percent less wild rice than they did last year. Heavy rainfall this spring drowned rice in lakes from Bemidji to the Canadian border. Places like Rainy Lake, Nature's Lake and Winnibigoshish are among the most affected.

Ustipak said lakes in other parts of the state expect harvests that are 60 percent of what they were last year.

Ustipak said wild rice management isn't an exact science because there aren't any exact yield statistics, like there are for corn and wheat. He said it's difficult to calculate total pounds harvested because harvesters only get a small percentage of the crop.

Ustipak uses his six-year-old black lab, Mia, to help him determine harvest estimates.

"She's actually a pretty good gauge," Ustipak said, "If she's walking, the water's a good depth for rice. If she swims it's too deep."

Ustipak and around 30 locals help care for 103 of the most productive wild rice lakes in the state.

The department lists 700 lakes with substantial rice beds in Minnesota.

Levi Brown, the environmental management director for the Leech Lake Band of Ojibwe, said the band has learned how to keep a more watchful eye on their wild rice throughout many lifetimes.

Groups of elders watch rice beds to determine the perfect moment of ripeness before they are harvested. Brown said the band's knowledge and history keeps wild rice plentiful on the reservation, even when the larger rice beds have been flooded with rain-water.

Editor’s Corner

Be a part of Oneida history

By Dawn Walschinski
Kalihwisaks Managing Editor
dwalschi@oneidanation.org ??

Ok, Oneida, when’s the last time you had a chance to be first? First one to buy Google stock? Don’t you wish. First one to complain to our new Chairwoman Tina Danforth? Sorry, this is her second go-around as chair. First to complain about the Kalihwisaks? Don’t I wish. Citizens, Saturday, August 23 is your chance to take part in the first election of Oneida judges. You can be part of history as Oneida selects two Chief Judges, two Trial Court Judges, and four Court of Appeals Judges. If you pitch your tent in front of the Oneida Community Health Center now, you could potentially be the first person in line to cast your vote. Or the first person arrested for vagrancy on that spot. On second thought, just show up between 7:00am and 7:00pm.

What’s that I hear you say? I’m too busy to vote. I don’t know who to vote for? I don’t wanna. Allow me to paraphrase the wise words of my mother when I would try to get out of doing the dishes – ahem – GET IN THERE AND VOTE! I WORK MY FINGERS TO THE BONE AND THIS IS THE THANKS I GET! DO IT RIGHT NOW OR SO HELP - ME DO YOU KNOW I HAD TO WALK THREE MILES TO SCHOOL UPHILL BOTH WAYS AND WE WOULDN’T WEAR

OUR SHOES BECAUSE THEY’D BE RUINED! DO YOU KNOW HOW MUCH SHOES COST AND YOU’RE WHINING BECAUSE YOU HAVE TO VOTE ON A SATURDAY?

To recap, voting is not fun. It’s not supposed to be fun. And most importantly, you’re not supposed to get paid to do it. It’s a serious duty, a responsibility, and something citizens of many other nations, either internationally or domestically, would love to have the ability to do.

So, Oneida, even though there’s no Oneida Business Committee on the ballot, and you just did the dishes – er –voted on a Saturday, take this chance to be part of something new. Cast your ballot, participate in the future of Oneida, and make your mothers proud.

Letters

Thank you for your support

I appreciate all the votes I received in the election, and send a “Thank You” to everyone that voted for me.

Sincerely,
Shirley Barber

VOTE FOR LASTER

Dear Oneida Nation Tribal Members,
Please Vote of August 23, 2014 for the Judicial Candidates this is a very privileged opportunity for our community to have a more efficient Judicial system.

My name is Anna Marie Laster I am on the judicial ballot for the upcoming election for Judge of Appeals.

I decide to run for this office because I feel that we need to start thinking about the direction we are heading for in the future and its growth. And with the growth we are in a need of the Oneida Judicial system.

As an Oneida member I have been given every opportunity for education and leadership. I would like to give back what I have gained in knowledge here and abroad. I would like the opportunity to help Oneida find the positive in a Judicial System that can be committed to having good minds when upholding fairness.

I can honestly say, I am not perfect but, I have a good heart that can be trusted to have compassion with good judgment for Oneida’s people.

Yes, this will be a challenge; I am committed to the challenges for the Oneidas and the Oneida Judicial System to work efficiently as possible. I am a willing worker for an excellent cause.

Thank you for your Votes.

2nd annual Elder Expo held

By Oneida Nation Commission On Aging and Elder Services Director and Staff

Our second Elder Expo hosted by Oneida Nation Commission on Aging and Elder Services is over and our vendor and attendee surveys show that the expo was a great success with requests to repeat next year at the Radisson. All the comments from the surveys were carefully read and evaluated to improve the Elder Expo for next year. 435 elders enjoyed 26 tribal vendors that offered valuable resources and information to them. The elders were also given this opportunity to socialize with each other.

One of the highlights of the event was a wall called “Guess who I am?” pictures of elders in their younger years were on display and each picture was identified on a list. The elders really enjoyed and you could hear the chuckles.

A very special “Thank You,” to all the individuals and departments that donated to the bag raffle. Congratulations to all our bag raffle winners. Our bag raffle earned almost $1,000 for the Roberta Kinzhuma Scholarship Fund. This Scholarship fund gives scholarships to single mothers pursuing a higher education. We have two (2) bag raffle prizes and three (3) sur-

Lawn Care Tips for Dry Weather Locations

By Justine Hill, Maintenance Supervisor
(920) 869-2448

Drought can happen in both winter and summer and can be devastating to your lawn. The harmful effects of drought in any season can be reduced, if not eliminated with a proper lawn maintenance program. Healthy turf will withstand times of stress better than grass that is not well established.

The Best Grass
Understanding the best type of grass to plant is essential to maintaining a healthy, vigorous lawn. If you live in a temperate climate it is best to choose a warm season grass such as Bermuda, St. Augustine or zoysia.

Water

For dry weather lawn care, regularly water your lawn and give it a generous amount. If you are concerned about the costs involved with watering your lawn, try using rain-water or waste water from your home such as bath water. In order for lawns to stay green and healthy they need about 1 inch of water per week.

Never water during the hottest parts of the day. Sunlight is magnified through water and can scorch and burn your lawn. The best time to water is in the early morning.

TIP: Be careful not to overwater your lawn as it will have a difficult time setting roots and will encourage the growth of weeds.

Weed Control
A healthy lawn will push weeds out of the way. Apply a pre-emergent weed killer in early spring before the lawn takes off for the season. Organic weed control measures such as gluten cornmeal are safe for pets and children and offer an alternative to toxic products.

Mowing
Most grasses have a recommended mowing height range. Be sure that you know the range for your grass. During times of drought or other stressful conditions, keep on the upper end of the range.

TIP: Always leave your grass clippings on your lawn. They provide valuable nutrients needed for lawn health.

Our Ways

CULTURAL HERITAGE

Loretta Metoxen,
Oneida Tribal Historian

It is the height of the gardening season. Garden vegetables are growing like crazy and so are the weeds. That means the gardens need constant attention right now.

Oneida people historically grew much of their food. The Three Sisters (corn, beans and squash) are famous among the Iroquois people, but there were many other fruits and vegetables that they planted and tended.

There are fruits of the forest that we can pick when they are ready. I'm thinking especially about blackberries in this part of the country. I picked about a quart of blackcaps (wild raspberries) in my yard this past weekend. About two quarts will be enough to make a batch of jam or two pies.

Arthur C. Parker, a Seneca, wrote extensively about Iroquois foods. He read the accounts of General Sullivan's soldiers, who were ordered by General George Washington to destroy all the crops and stores of food in Iroquois villages during the Revolutionary War. The soldiers said that they pillaged and burned hundreds of acres of corn. They destroyed thousands of bushels of dry corn and beans. In one account, they told of chopping down 1500 apple and peach trees. The purpose was to starve out those of the Six Nations who supported the British.

Nevertheless, People of the Six Nations, after the War, managed to recover, garner their Heritage seeds together and continue to plant and harvest for the next two hundred years. Some of the white corn seed we plant today are the direct descendants of the very corn that was thought to be totally destroyed so long ago.

Today, I think we, as On'yote? a.ka', need to reflect on our heritage and history and be perpetually grateful that we are still here (survivors) and that we still have access to those cultural foods that continue to sustain us.

This morning, I stopped at the One Stop in Oneida and peered into the refrigerated display case. There, I saw plastic bag containers of white corn flour, corn mush with berries, and hulled white corn ready to use to make corn soup. All the intensive labor to prepare the corn is already done. Can you imagine that one hundred years ago, mothers and grandmothers rose at five in the morning to pound corn in wooden mortars for breakfast meals?

Seven hundred acres of corn were tended by the women and children of one Oneida village in New York about two hundred fifty years ago. Today, we have tractors and rototillers. I suggest that if every family grew a small garden, the need for food programs in this community would be greatly lessened and we would be better nourished in the process.

Summer is Coming to an End at the Oneida Libraries

By Kimberley Pelky
Oneida Community Library Librarian

What a summer it's been! The reading program had a total of 157 participants (a new record!) 72 children for Oneida Community Library and 85 (there's the record!!) for the Green Earth Branch Library, plus close to 20 adult participants. No new records for numbers of books read this summer because of unexpected occurrences like family surgeries and carpet installation, but it was all fun! The end-of-season picnic was at the main library this year, held August 22, 2014, with participants from both libraries attending, along with the general public. Yum and fun!

The theme for our summer reading program this year was Fizz, Boom, Read and was very science oriented. STEM (Science, Technology, Engineering, and Math) is important to our children and their education, and we've had a fun summer incorporating all of that into our programs. Spark a Reaction was the teen theme, and that was also very science oriented with a bit of steam-punk.

We ended the summer abruptly when we had the opportunity to carpet

the adult section of the library—and paint the walls, too! We're hoping you can come in and see the updates soon! For anyone inconvenienced by our closing, we're asking forgiveness by granting forgiveness for any fines/overdue fees, whether or not they were caused by the closing, we just want you to come back and start using us again. We're good like that! Talk to anyone at the front desk about bringing late items back or getting old fines taken off your record.

So now we're looking at fall. With the new hours at both libraries (Green Earth is open two more hours every week, now 11 am – 5 pm on Friday! 9-5 on Monday - Thursday) we'll be adjusting the youth programming for fall. There are two new programs that are going to be offered at the Oneida Community Library, while still continuing with the programs already on the schedule. Our new hours at the Oneida Community Library are 10 – 6 Monday – Thursday, 11-5 on Friday, and 10 -2 on Saturday.

The Oneida Community Library offers programs for youth Mon—Thurs. during the school year & Monday - Friday in the summer! We also have incentive –based reading programs throughout the year: people of all ages can read and earn currencies of different types to earn prizes! Here are our offerings for the upcoming afterschool season!

Afterward, we'll follow with CRAFT: “Culturally Relevant Activities for Teens” & focus on Native cultural activities.

Wednesdays: 3:30 pm:—Wed-nes-day turns into WedNETnight! (NetEvent Night/Wireless Wednesday!!) Get on the computers for free (no reading first) or come in and share great apps with everyone!

Initial Review

Rule 9(D) – Criteria for Acceptance:

The Initial Review Body shall accept an appeal for appellate review if one or more of the following elements are sufficiently alleged to exist in the original hearing body decision by the Appellant in the Notice of Appeal:

- (1) A violation of constitutional provisions;
- (2) The decision is outside the scope of the authority or otherwise unlawful;
- (3) The decision is clearly erroneous and is against the weight of the evidence presented at the hearing level;
- (4) The decision is arbitrary and/or capricious;
- (5) There is exhibited a procedural irregularity which would be considered a harmful error that may have contributed to the final decision, which if the error had not occurred, would have altered the final decision;
- (6) There is a presentation or introduction of new evidence that was not available at the hearing level which, if available, may have altered the final decision.

To conserve time and space provided, the Oneida Tribal Judicial System will only put into print the Initial Review Decisions which have been denied. The cases that have been accepted at Initial Review will be published when the final adjudication has been entered.

Denied Initial Review Decisions

Frank L. Cornelius vs Edward Delgado.

Docket No. 14-AC-007, May 28, 2014. Judicial Officers Janice L. McLester, Stanley R. Webster and Winnifred L. Thomas presiding. Denied in accordance with Rules of Appellate Procedure, Rule 5(A) Appeal – How Granted: *A final judgment or final order of any original hearing body or the trial court of the OTJS may be appealed to the OTJS appellate court...*In this case the merits of this complaint have not been heard and decided before an original hearing body, which would then allow for Appellate review.

Appellate Court Cases

Paul Spaulding vs Oneida Bingo & Casino, Cage/Vault, Susan Danforth.

Docket No. 13-AC-012, April 2, 2014. Judicial Officers Winnifred L. Thomas, Lois Powless, Jennifer Webster, Stanley R. Webster and James Van Stippen (Pro Tem). This case was an appeal of Oneida Personnel Commission decision upholding Appellant's Written Warning and Suspension. This was an employment case involving a Cage/Vault

Oneida Tribal Judicial System

Quarterly Summaries for April - June, 2014

Supervisor in the Accounting Department at the Oneida Bingo & Casino. Mr. Spaulding was issued a written warning, and a suspension for negligence in the performance of assigned duties; Oneida Personnel Policies and Procedures V.D.2.I.g. for having a $100.00 overage on February 3, 2013. He called his immediate Supervisor on February 4, 2013, to alert her of the priority audit overage from February 3, 2013 which was the end of his shift. The Supervisor filled out the discipline form however the investigation took 36 days. There had been no active action in this investigation from the time of the infraction to conclusion of the investigation for 36 days and is unacceptable. While waiting for the Supervisor to conclude the investigation of the first infraction that took place on February 3, 2013, Mr. Spaulding finally met with the Supervisor on March 22, 2013. At this meeting the Supervisor asked Mr. Spaulding three questions about the incident concerning the Priory Audit of February 3, 2013, within ten minutes the meeting was completed. On this same day Mr. Spaulding created another Priority this time it was a shortage of $160.98 when he had a cashier overpay a guest. Mr. Spaulding notified Ms. Danforth, his Supervisor, via an email of the error providing a specific time of the incident which was 6:19 pm. The first violation occurred on February 3, 2013 of an overage of $100.00; the second violation occurred on March 22, 2013 was a shortage of $160.98. Mr. Spaulding was disciplined on April 1, 2013, for the first infraction with a Written Warning; and disciplined on April 12, 2013 with a Suspension of 3 days. Mr. Spaulding filed an appeal to the OPC. The OPC rendered their decision on August 29, 2013 upholding the Written Warning and Suspension. This court finds; if the disciplinary action is not timely, it does not serve the purpose for which the rule was written. Instead the delay can cause the opposite reaction by the added stress and worry of the employee concerning their status. The Appellate Court concurred with the OPC's recommendation that the Gaming Division should review and develop policies that address this very issue of length of an investigation. The Appellate Court in its decision stated "We find that 36 days are too excessive and overturned the OPC's decision to uphold the disciplines that had been issued." Decision of the OPC overturned.

Oneida Bingo & Casino/Sheri Saunders vs Victoria LaFond. Docket No. 13-AC-014, April 15, 2014. Judicial Officers Winnifred L. Thomas, Carole A. Liggins (Pro Tem), Lois Powless, Jennifer Webster and Stanley R. Webster presiding. This case was an appeal of Oneida Personnel Commission decision overturning Respondent's suspension. Ms. LaFond an Oneida Bingo Casino employee was issued a suspension for an infraction of the Oneida Personnel Policies and Procedures, Section V.D.2.I. Work Performance, Subsection G. Negligence in the performance of assigned duties. A customer at Oneida Bingo allegedly yelled bingo and Ms. LaFond did not stop the game claiming she did not hear the customer. After a review of the footage and listening to the audio by her Supervisor and reviewed by another Supervisor it was determined that the customer did raise his hand and yell bingo. Ms. LaFond was issued a suspension and she appealed to the Area Manager. The Area Manager upheld the Supervisor's decision. Ms. LaFond appealed to the OPC. The OPC overturned the suspension. The Oneida Bingo & Casino appealed to the Appellate Court. The Appellate Court found the OPC failed to provide the reasoning for their conclusion. The OPC listed two to three reasons in their decision then making the statement "with the exception of one" that they rendered their decision as they did. The Appellate Court found the OPC failed to provide specific reasoning when they concluded the decision of the Area Manager was against the weight of the evidence, when earlier in their decision they found no error in the Area Manager's decision. This was very contradictory within the OPC's decision. The Appellate Court overturned the September 17, 2013, decision of the Oneida Personnel Commission, Docket#13-SUS-010.

Leah S. Dodge, Michael T. Debraska and Cathy L. Metoxen vs Oneida Business Committee. Docket No. 13-AC-019, May 19, 2014. Judicial Officers Janice L. McLester, Carole Liggins (Pro Tem), Jennifer Webster, Stanley R. Webster and James Van Stippen (Pro Tem) presiding. This case was an appeal of Oneida Tribal Judicial System, Trial Court's dismissal of Appellant's challenge of the employment of Attorney Layatalati Hill. At the hearing Appellant requested recusal of Judicial Officers Jean Webster and Sandra Skenadore. Judicial Officers disclosed the asserted conflict and refused to recuse. Appellant refused to proceed with the merits after being noticed the recusal could be reserved at appeal. Appellant's failed to cite law or rule to support their challenge. Trial Court dismissed. On appeal the review body found Appellant were provided due process, but failed to present their case. Trial Court decision upheld.

Ron Kelly vs Harvey Kosowski. Docket No. 13-AC-016, May 29,

2014. Judicial Officers Winnifred L. Thomas, Carole Liggins (Pro Tem), Lois Powless, Jennifer Webster and Stanley R. Webster presiding. This case is an appeal of Oneida Tribal Judicial System, Trial Court decision to dismiss the Conservation Department on sovereign immunity grounds and eventually ruled in favor of Warden Kosowski, denying Mr. Kelly's request for damages. The material facts surrounding the incident between Mr. Kelly and Warden Kosowski are not in dispute. Mr. Kelly went on his first hunt within the boundaries of the Oneida Reservation since his retirement. He received a hunting license as an enrolled member of the Oneida Tribe and as an elder. He received a map of designated hunting areas, labeled as a draft, and entered an area with both prohibited and permitted zones within it. Mr. Kelly passed signs that stated that hunting was prohibited except for those with a license and members of the Oneida Tribe. On or about November 18, 2012 Mr. Kelly was hunting within tribal lands. On the same day or shortly thereafter Warden Kosowski issued Mr. Kelly a citation for a violation of Chapter 45.16 (violation #127) and Mr. Kelly's weapon was seized. The violation is described as trespassing in a wildlife area, park or bow hunting area during the nine day gun deer season. A hearing on the citation was scheduled for February 21, 2013 before the Environmental Resource Board. However, Warden Kosowski did not appear and the citation was dismissed. Mr. Kelly then sued Warden Kosowski and the Conversation Department in a new action. The Conservation Department was dismissed, but the case against Warden Kosowski went forward and the Trial Court eventually entered judgment denying claims for damages. The Trial Court addressed four areas of damages requested by Mr. Kelly. One; being unlawful seizure of his weapon, two, compensation for future hunting expenses, three compensation for damage to Mr. Kelly's reputation and four Attorney's fees. The Court addressed each in turn and denied all request. The decision of the Trial Court is affirmed.

Connie Cornelius vs Lambert Metoxen, Oneida Bingo and Casino. Docket No. 13-AC-017, June 6, 2014. Judicial Officers Stanley R. Webster, Carole Liggins (Pro Tem), Robert Miller (Pro Tem), Lois Powless, James Van Stippen (Pro Tem) presiding. This case was an appeal of Oneida Personnel Commission decision which upheld the termination of Appellant for three accumulated disciplinary actions within a 12-month period. Appellant received a written warning on February 14, 2013, a suspension on August 21, 2013 and a written warning on September 18, 2013. On October 22, 2013 Ms. Cornelius was terminated from employment pursuant to Sec. V.D.3.c of the Personnel Policies and Procedures, accumulation of three upheld disciplinary actions within a 12-month period. The review body found the facts were established at the Personnel Commission level and did not include anything which established a clear error. Termination upheld.

Susan Brozile vs Oneida HRD/Benefits and Crawford & Company Insurance. TC-130, April 2, 2014. Judicial Officers: Jean M. Webster, Mary Adams and Chris J. Cornelius presiding. This case arises out of Ms. Bozile's worker's compensation claim after she suffered a knee injury while at work on September 29, 2013. Ms. Bozile works as a security guard at the Oneida Casino. Respondents denied the claim and Ms. Bozile appealed. Although the injury did occur while Ms. Bozil was at work, there was not sufficient evidence to find that the injury was unusual or peculiar to her work or otherwise caused by the fact that Ms. Bozile happened to be at work. The Court affirmed the denial of benefits.

Oneida Housing Authority vs Marlo J. Webster. Docket No. 13-TC-012, April 15, 2014. Judicial Officers Mary Adams, Janice L. McLester and Jean M. Webster presiding. This case involves a request for a money judgment against Respondent for a default on a rental agreement in the original amount of $1,043.02. This case came before the Trial Court on February 26, 2013. On or about February 26, 2013 the parties entered into a stipulation prior to hearing. Petitioner requested a Motion to Dismiss without prejudice. Petitioner contended if Respondent violates the stipulation Petitioner reserves the right to reopen case. The Court granted Petitioner's motion to dismiss without prejudice (the right to reopen the case). On February 28, 2014 Petitioner filed a Motion to Reopen Contested Case. Petitioner claims Respondent has failed to fulfill her part of the Repayment Agreement. A hearing was held on April 14, 2014. Respondent was noticed of hearing. Respondent failed to appear. Petitioner motioned for a default judgment based on Respondent's non-appearance. The Court granted Petitioner's motion for a default judgment against Marlo J. Webster for the outstanding balance of $743.02.

Timothy W. Danforth vs Oneida Housing Authority. Docket No. 14-TC-074, May 27, 2014. Judicial Officers: Jean M. Webster, Mary Adams and Janice L. McLester presiding. This case arises out of an eviction notice Mr. Danforth received. On April 9, 2014, Mr. Danforth received a Five Day Termination from the Oneida Housing Authority (OHA) for violating the OHA Rental Agreement. Mr. Danforth appealed the notice and had a hearing with the OHA on April 17, 2014. On April 24, 2014,

Mr. Danforth received notice from OHA upholding the eviction. Mr. Danforth appealed the decision to the Court. On May 13, 2014 a hearing was held. Based upon evidence and testimony by both parties, the Court found the Petitioner, Timothy W. Danforth had violated the OHA Rental Agreement he signed on October 24, 2013. The Court upheld the Oneida Housing Authority notice of eviction.

ProCare Medical Supplies LCC, Ronald H. Lambert, Jr. vs Indian Preference Department. Docket No. 14-TC-047, June 4, 2014. Judicial Officers: Mary Adams, Jean M. Webster and Leland Wigg-Ninham presiding. This case involves the Indian Preference Department's (IPD) denying certification to Petitioner as an Indian-owned business. Petitioner filed an appeal against Respondent claiming that Respondent mis-categorized his business and even if they used the category for his business that they cited to deny, that under the same law his business is still within the rules of Chapter 57. Petitioner asserts he is filing under the rules for Appellate Procedures, Criteria for Accepting Appeals, Rule 9(D)3. On May 7, 2014 Respondent filed a Motion to Dismiss for Lack of Subject-Matter Jurisdiction pursuant to Rule 14(B)5; of the Rules of Civil Procedure including Petitioner failed to file his appeal timely. Petitioner claims he met IPL §57.10-8(a) as he has proven with documentation that he mailed his appeal on April 15, 2014 within the ten (10) days for his appeal. Respondent argues Petitioner has not met the requirements for IPL §57.10-8(a) filing his appeal. Respondent argues Petitioner's appeal should have been received by April 2, 2014 to meet the law for a timely filing. The Court agreed with Respondent's arguments. Respondent's March 19, 2014 memo identified Petitioner's timelines to file an appeal in accordance to the IPL, Chapter 57.10-8(a). The Court ruled in favor of Respondent's Motion to Dismiss due to untimely filing. Petitioner's request for appeal was denied.

Mohegan Sun buys pro lacrosse team in Philly

By Stephen Singer

Associated Press

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP) ~ Connecticut's Mohegan tribe, reaching back into its history and a game of stickball North American Indians began centuries ago, announced Wednesday it will be part owner of a professional lacrosse team.

Mohegan Sun and Mohegan Tribal Gaming Authority, which also operates a casino in Wilkes-Barre, Pennsylvania, said they bought half the Philadelphia Wings of the National Lacrosse League. The team will move to Uncasville, Connecticut, and play its first game in December at Mohegan Sun Arena. The new franchise name will be announced at a later date.

Terms of the deal weren't disclosed.

"The Mohegan Tribe is thrilled to be associated with a game with centuries-old roots with the Eastern Woodland Indians," said tribal chairman Kevin Brown.

The Mohegans are the second Indian affiliation to own a team in the National Lacrosse League; Curt Styres, a Mohawk of Canada's Six Nations, is owner of the Rochester Knighthawks in upstate New York. The league said it's committed to honoring the culture and history of lacrosse, which was started by Indians more than 700 years ago.

The Philadelphia Wings, which is owned and operated by Philadelphia Wings LP, announced on July 11 the team would move for the 2015 season.

"The financial model in a market with so many sport and entertainment alternatives has proven to be unsustainable,"

Michael French, Wings owner and team president, said at the time. "Finding a new venue with new strategic partners was the only way to ensure financial stability."

He said Wednesday that the New England market for men's and women's lacrosse has been expanding at a "phenomenal pace."

It's the second professional sports team acquired by the Mohegans, who have owned the Connecticut Sun of the WNBA since 2003.
