Manual will help protect prisoners' religious rights

By Dawn Walschinski

Kalihiwisa

Native American inmates of Wisconsin prisons will have a new resource that will help protect their religious freedoms while incarcerated. Oneida Business Committee (OBC) Councilwoman Melinda Danforth and staff helped create a religious practices manual that outlines the spiritual practices of Wisconsin's 11 tribes.

"It's a confidential, internal document that the chaplains will use at all the institutions within the state of Wisconsin," said Councilwoman Danforth.

Detailed Native American ceremonies in writing is a thorny issue, however, Councilwoman Danforth stated it needed to be done to protect Native Americans in custody.

"You want to be really sensitive about it, but at the same time we recognize that if this document wasn't written ... the Native people that are inside of institutions are going to lose out on their rights to practice religion," she said.

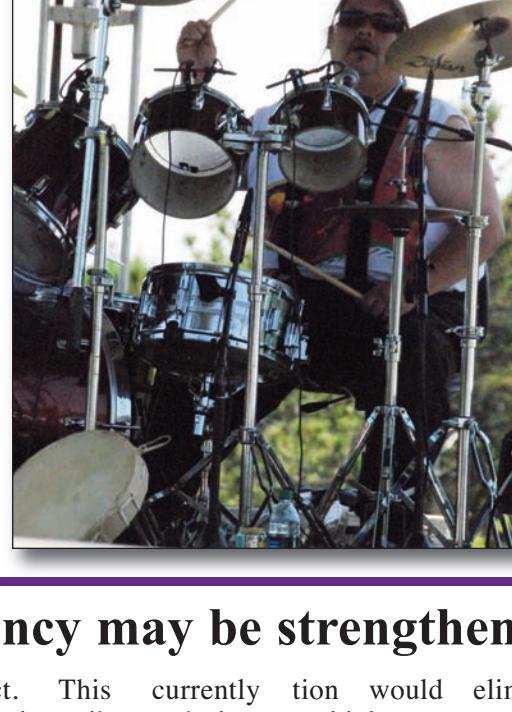

The document explains certain practices such as sweat lodges and smudging, and the meaning of certain sacred objects such as eagle feathers.

"We've been trying to make those kinds of changes for them so that they're not struggling to bring in spiritual leaders, or they have the ... necessary food that they need in terms of spiritual foods," said Councilwoman Danforth.

The document was presented to the Great Lakes Inter-Tribal Council for approval from all of Wisconsin's tribal leaders.

Sovereignty in time of emergency may be strengthened

By Nate Wisneski
Kalihiwisa

Antone

Bipartisan legislation introduced by U.S. Representative Nick J. Rahall (D-WV) will solidify tribal sovereignty during major disasters and emergency situations.

Rahall, the top democrat on the House Transportation and Infrastructure Committee, met with tribal leaders from across the country whom raised concerns that the current process threatens and undermines the principals of tribal sovereignty.

"This has been a priority for Indian Country for over a decade and upon enactment will treat Indian tribes as the sovereign governments that they are," said Rahall.

"As sovereign nations, Indian tribes should have a direct line to the federal government to expedite aid and assistance during an emergency or major disaster."

The current protocol requires tribes to seek emergency declarations through states before federal assistance is granted.

"Currently, tribes in the United States are listed as local governments in the Robert T. Stafford Disaster Relief and Emergency Assistance Act. This currently requires tribes to declare emergencies and disasters through the states then onto the federal government for emergency relief and support on declarations," said Marty Antone, Oneida's Emergency Management Director. "The bottom line changes are for tribes to declare disasters directly to the White House, government-to-government, without the state and would not require the Tribes to have a 25 percent matching funds for emergency relief support."

With Oneida's reservation sitting within two counties' boundaries, multiple reports and requests must be made which may lead to improper funding assistance. The new legislation would eliminate multiple reports.

"It's very difficult to record or document a response on how much was spent in one county then the other. If a disaster hits Oneida and includes damage in each county then it requires (sending) separate data to the counties to roll up into their declaration then onto the state for review," said Antone.

"It's possible that currently half of Oneida might only be funded if the two amounts can not be included in one sum of the damages. When recovery data is sent off to another separate county, it's very possible to be less than what is required to support the needs or damage to the Oneida

Oneida Vets take part in ceremony for Unknown Soldier

By Brent Truttmann

Kalihiwisa

On May 30, 2011, Don Loudner, National Commander of National American Indian Veterans (NAIV), presented a wreath to the guards of the Tomb of the Unknown Soldiers. This is the 143rd annual event held every Memorial Day. Loudner selected the Oneida Chapter of NAIV to accompany him to represent all tribal veterans nationwide. Seven handpicked Oneida veterans attended the event, four of which brought in the colors. James Buckley, retired Colonel of the U.S. Air Force, carried the Oneida Eagle Staff; John Breuninger, retired Captain of the U.S. Air Force, carried the American Flag; Chris J. Cornelius, Staff Sergeant of the U.S. Army presented the Oneida Nation Flag, and Liz Somers, retired Commander of the U.S. Navy, brought in the National American Indian Veteran Flag.

Aside from the flag bearers, Ray Johnson, a photographer who also is a Sergeant in the Marines, James King Overman, a Major in the Air Force, and Clifford Doxtator who served in the Army from 1950 to 1952, all sat in a VIP box for the Wreath Laying Ceremony as well as the President's speech. Clifford Doxtator is also the Oneida Chapter Commander of NAIV and one of two Charter Members of the

Smithsonian National Museum of American Indians

Even though the annual event has been going for 143 years, this is only the fourth year the event had Native veteran representation. Loudner attested that Native representation is a must because any one of the unknown soldiers buried could in fact be tribal. "American Indians took part in every conflict that the United States has been through," said Loudner, "They all volunteered. Even when they weren't considered a U.S. citizen and had their country taken from them, they volunteered."

Loudner said to present the wreath was an incredible honor. "All should be proud for what we did there," he said, for he and the Oneida Nation represented all American Indian veterans in the country. Doxtator adamantly expresses his pride to be there by saying "To be handpicked was one of the highlighted moments of my life."

Clifford Doxtator also would like to give thanks to the VFW holsters for carrying the flag, Larry Barton and Oneida Tribal Funding, Stan Webster for letting them use the Oneida Eagle Staff, Royal Cleaners for cleaning all the flags, Oneida Nation Veterans Affairs Committee for letting them use the flags and the poles, Oneida Veteran Service Officer for letting them use the carrying cases for the flag and poles, and to the Oneida Nation for the support of the veterans that went to Washington D.C.

Truttmann joins Kalihwisaks

My name is Brent Truttmann, and I am the new summer intern for the Kalihwisaks. I am entering my Junior year at St. Norbert College. I'm majoring in English with a creative writing emphasis and a minor in Philosophy as well.

I wanted to intern for the Kali for quite some time now. My major and minor studies do not necessarily give me many career options after school, and interning at the Kali will give me the experience and possible opportunity to help me find a career path. I am happy to intern for the Kalihwisaks specifically because not only is this a paid internship, but more importantly I want to be more involved in the Oneida community.

I hope to learn from this internship, the inner workings of a newspaper environment, a voice when writing with a journalistic view, certain computer skills that I am desperately lacking. This is my first internship, and I am very excited to for this experience.

Echo Hawk delivers keynote at NCAI

By Travis Cottrell
Kalihwisaks

Assistant Secretary for Indian Affairs Larry Echo Hawk delivered a keynote address at the National Congress of American Indians (NCAI) Mid-Year Conference in Milwaukee, Wisconsin on June 14, 2011. Echo Hawk described the progress being made to restore integrity in U.S. government relations with American Indian and Alaska Native leaders, fulfill trust responsibilities to tribal members, and to work cooperatively to build stronger economies and safer tribal communities.

During his two years as Assistant Secretary, Echo Hawk has witnessed first hand the impacts of federal policy on the American Indian community, both the successes and the challenges.

"This first hand perspective has shown me the need for federal policy to continue to work toward achievements of

Public meeting scheduled for WIS 29 improvementsProjects scheduled for 2013 and 2014

(Green Bay) - The Wisconsin Department of Transportation's (WisDOT) NE Region office in Green Bay is announcing a public information meeting to discuss the WIS 29 improvement project from County U to County FF in Brown County. The meeting is scheduled for Tuesday, June 28 from 5 p.m. to 7 p.m. at the Hillcrest Elementary School, 4193 Hillcrest Drive, in the village Hobart. A brief presentation has been scheduled for 5:15 p.m.

The public is encouraged to attend this meeting. It will be held in an open-house format. Individuals can stop by at their convenience during the meeting, talk with project staff, learn more about the project, review the project displays, and ask questions and share comments.

WisDOT began studying this stretch of highway several years ago, completing a corridor preservation study in 2008. The corridor preservation study identified interchange locations at County VV and County FF. It also recommended building overpasses at County U and at the extension of North Pine Tree Road along with closing the Sunlite Drive and Woodland Road intersection.

Construction funds have not yet been allocated for the County VV interchange or the County U and North Pine Tree Road overpasses and completing preliminary designs for these interchanges and overpasses. The improvements are being refined to reduce impacts to residential properties, wetlands, and other features along WIS 29. Alternatives have been developed for the County U overpass, for the early 2013 and be completed by mid-summer.

Construction funding has been allocated to build the County FF interchange and to close the Sunlite Drive and Woodland Road at-grade intersection. Construction at this interchange is planned to begin in late 2013 and be completed by August 2014.

Additionally, WisDOT is evaluating the conceptual plans prepared during the corridor preservation study for the County VV interchange or the County U and North Pine Tree Road overpasses and completing preliminary designs for these interchanges and overpasses. The improvements are being refined to reduce impacts to residential properties, wetlands, and other features along WIS 29. Alternatives have been developed for the County U overpass, for the Milltown Road realignment, and for the North Pine Tree Road extension.

The hall is wheelchair accessible. Those who are hearing impaired and require an interpreter should contact WisDOT project manager Dan Segerstrom prior to Wednesday, June 22. Citizens who are unable to attend the meeting or would like more information can contact Dan Segerstrom at 1 (920) 492 7718 or by E-mail at daniel.segerstrom@dot.wi.gov

In Loving Memory of...
Rory Owen Hill

It's been two decades since the good Lord called your name
Now I'm sitting in jail feeling mostly ashamed
We gather at your grave site each & every year
And, yes Dad, I still dream that one day you'll reappear
Your body is gone, that I'll always know but like the Good Book says, we all have our souls
If you were here right now Dad, I'd ask, "What would you do?"
Every year around this time I feel so sad & blue.
I know I can't see you, but I can feel you all around
Every time I see a picture of you, I try so hard not to frown
It's been a tough year Dad for your one & only son.
I have a baby boy too now & he's my number one.
I wish you could hold him for you are his Grandpa who he doesn't know

To be able to be here with us, to see & watch him grow
We know you're looking down on us and have seen our new additions too
Raylon, Rylee, Cashius, Lil Gavi & Baby Oni just to name the last few
When they all learn to talk, they're going to say, "Grandpa & Great Uncle we love you."
But there's so many more family & friends who will always be missing you too.

And the one & only son you had
Who is here writing this poem for his Dad.
You are forever embedded into our hearts and that's the way it's going to stay.

I'm sure you & Wayne are sparring, to see that I would surely pay.

It may be years, maybe decades...only God knows when All of us here loving & missing you will one day see you again.

Love you Dad ♥
Your son Dwight

A star is born, one that shines the brightest Brought up to be the best he could be
Loving everyone in his path
And in return we loved him back
But now he's gone and all we have are memories
Let's hold on to these memories
And keep them fresh in our mind so he will

Oneida Business Committee Wrap: June 8, 2011

By Nate Wisneski

Kalihwisisaks

The Oneida Business Committee (OBC) met for their first meeting of June on the eighth at the Norbert Hill Center.

Present: Kathy Hughes – Vice-Chairwoman, Tina Danforth – Treasurer, Patty Hoeft – Secretary, Ed Delgado – Councilmember, Trish King – Councilmember, Melinda Danforth – C o u n c i l m e m b e r , Brandon Stevens – Councilmember, Tehassi Hill – Councilmember

Absent: Rick Hill – Chairman

After approving the meeting's agenda the OBC started the meeting by approving meeting minutes from the May 25.

A resolution needed for a United States Department of Housing and Urban Development grant was approved. The grant money totaling $204,000 will be directed to install Henry Road Elder Village infrastructure.

Board, Committee, and Commission Quarterly Reports

Quarterly reports were accepted from the Oneida Commission on Aging and the Anna John Nursing Home. The scheduled report from the Oneida Library Board was deferred to the June 22 OBC meeting.

Standing Committees

Legislative Operating Committee meeting minutes were approved from May 18. An update to the current Art Board bylaws was approved. The updates provide clearer language outlining the board's role and responsibilities.

A resolution to accept the Social Media Policy was accepted. The policy will enable the tribe to regulate all social media accounts that are administered by tribal entities.

A resolution adopting amendments to the current Per Capita Ordinance was adopted on an emergency basis. The amendments address fraudulent high school diplomas being submitted.

ted with fines equally one-third of the balance of the account. It also forbids dually enrolled tribal members from receiving per capita payments. It also addresses payment options along with the establishment of more payment dates.

Finance Committee

Meeting minutes from June 3 were approved.

General Tribal Council

A status report was given on the development of a recommendation on the use of hand-held voting devices at General Tribal Council (GTC) meetings. The report consisted of a broad price range for the hand-held units along with testing results from prior GTC meetings. The OBC moved to direct the General Manager, Chief of Staff, Chief Financial Officer (CFO) and Law Office to formulate a team to develop the implementation process of the units.

Follow Ups/OBC Directives

Discussion on the necessity of a proposed Commerce/Enterprise General Manager took a spirited turn. A few OBC members did not support the position using the current economic condition as the backbone of their stance. Other OBC members identified the positions ability to address the need for economic diversity within the tribe. The committee sent the motion to the Treasurer and CFO to determine if the position is funded within the 2011 fiscal year. It will again appear before the OBC on June 22.

A quarterly report from the Grants Department on the American Recovery and Reinvestment Act was quickly approved.

Discussion around the Oneida Resident Centered Care facility's (ORCCC) operation plan centered on the down-sized dining area. The dining area was down-sized in cost-cutting measures with opposition coming from community elders. The OBC directed the ORCCC project team to bring recommendations to consider expanding the seating area or keeping it the same. The recommendations are to be brought forward to the June 22 meeting.

The Ridgeview Plaza renovation packet totaling $1.3 million was approved and activated for the 2011 fiscal year.

Tabled Business

The establishment and charter for the Quality of Life Committee was approved.

New Business/Reports

The 2011 Primary Election final report was approved. A total of 1,215 tribal members voted with 136 voters coming at the Milwaukee polling site. The total cost to hold the primary election was $24,214.85. The general elections will take place July 16.

The fiscal year 2011 Oneida Housing Authority Indian Housing Plan was approved. Approval was needed to receive the budgeted grant amount from HUD.

Executive Session

Bi-monthly reports from the Chief of Staff and Chief of Counsel were approved. A report on the New York land claims settlement update was approved.

The next OBC meeting is scheduled for June 22 at the Norbert Hill Center.

BACKGROUND ON BUSINESS

Oneida Chamber of Commerce formed

Area business owners creating a one stop center for information, training and networking

By Dawn Walschinski

Kalihwiaks

The Oneida Chamber of Commerce, Inc. is up and running and taking aim at keeping money in Oneida by strengthening Oneida owned businesses. The chamber received its Wisconsin charter on June 1.

The board members – President Tana Aguirre, Vice President Shannon Stone, Treasurer Jason Aguirre, and Secretary Tina Klakowicz – began talking about creating a chamber of commerce over a year ago.

"It all basically started over lunch as a conversation about businesses, Oneida businesses and some of the struggles that we have endured" said Tana Aguirre who owns Card Concepts with her husband Jason Aguirre. "We're all business owners here, and it just kind of conceptualized there."

The group contacted Oneida Business Committee (OBC) Councilman Brandon Stevens to see how the chamber and the Oneida government could work together.

"Rather than providing everything for the small business owners, we can just provide the technical support that they all need," said Stevens. The chamber and the OBC plan to create a memorandum of agreement (MOA) that will list the services available such as training or technical support.

The Oneida Chamber of Commerce, Inc. will be located at 2615 Packerland Drive, and plans to have a grand opening in late July. Stone hopes the chamber will create networking opportunities for Oneida area businesses, as well as a location to do business.

"We're looking at offering some virtual space opportunities so people will be able to come in and have access, internet access to computers, conference rooms," said Stone.

Other plans may include office space for rent and a mail drop.

The chamber started with some seed money from Oneida, according to Tana Aguirre, and will be a center for information and training.

"I think a lot of us have seen a lot of Oneida businesses come and go, and I think we would like to see a little bit more success in the startup businesses, and what we're willing to do is help them through the process of developing the relationships with outside entities," she said.

Stone sees the chamber as a place for business owners to network, learn the intricacies of working with tribal governments, and get referrals.

"It's a crazy question, but we ask each other all the time; 'is there an Oneida business that does that?'" said Stone. "What we would like to establish is that one spot where you can go and if you need an accountant, or if you need a web designer, of somebody to design your logos, we'll have that available."

Stevens hopes the training will also help Oneida owned businesses see beyond the reservation border.

"Too many times now-a-days somebody Oneida (wants) a business, and they say 'Ok, how do I market to Oneida? Oneida people are going to buy my stuff, and that's it.'

We need to spread their vision to greater Green Bay, Wisconsin, national, international," he said.

According to Stone, who owns a marketing business The Spectrum Process, Inc., Oneida has a lot of talented individuals that could build small businesses that could work with larger entities.

"You build a reputation, and you show that you have the competence to do the job, then those larger businesses want to bring you in," said Stone.

Stevens sees an opportunity to tap into a resource that currently heads straight to surrounding communities.

"Two million dollars a week pay roll from our employees goes into Green Bay, and that helps Green Bay a lot," he said.

Stevens sees building businesses in Oneida as a way to build the Oneida community as well.

"It brings the community back and keeps people in Oneida, and hopefully brings Green Bay into Oneida and creates more of a tourism business corridor," said Stevens.

The Oneida Chamber of Commerce, Inc. will be open to anyone, and holds public meetings on Thursday afternoons.

"It gives the businesses a place to come together as a voice for the local government and the local community," said Tana Aguirre.

Chairman's Corner...

Rick Hill
Chairman

The following is a paraphrased version of the commencement speech I gave to our graduating Oneida High School students on June 3, 2011. These are words of encouragement intended to inspire our Oneida youth who will be making their way into this world, but they are also words intended for our Oneida members who wish to make a difference in this community we call home:

Today the Oneida Nation continues our nation-building with strong principles of good governance to guide our decision-making and protect our Oneida community. We look at maintaining our profitable revenue streams and diversifying our investment portfolio to create jobs and provide services and programming while creating a vibrant community.

It is quite the challenge to create a vibrant community, and over the past 30 years we have seen some remarkable changes in Oneida, some of which we might take for granted. Not so long ago we had very few jobs. Today we have nearly 3000 employees making us the third largest employer in the Green Bay area.

We created jobs for our members and employees to take care of their families, and we have some of the most talented, skilled and educated employees. We have more than a $100 billion economic impact on the local economy from our Radisson Hotel, Oneida Casino, Thornberry Creek at Oneida golf course, Oneida One Stops and other tribal enterprises, while still providing a variety of services and building an infrastructure to support our activities.

But there is always room for improvement. We have grown accustomed to what we have in our Oneida community, but we must continue to come up with new ideas and different ways of doing things to remain competitive in the marketplace and maintain the Oneida community we have created over the years. We must build this nation together for the continued exercise of our inherent sovereignty as Oneida people.

The key to this is education, and taking advantage of those opportunities through education so that we keep growing strong for the next seven generations. So I ask the following questions.

What are you going to do? What are you going to do to contribute to the success of the Oneida Nation? What are you curious about? What are you passionate about? Our community challenges require solving real issues and this takes creativity, curiosity and passion.

Who are our healers? We have a sick community with very high rates of diabetes, high blood pressure, heart disease, cancer, and obesity. These illnesses keep our clinic busy with thousands of prescriptions a day. Who are our educators? We need the math, science and English teachers to help teach job skills and provide training for the next generation of jobs in engineering and technology in the job market.

Who knows and will continue to teach our language, traditions and history? Who will continue to take care of the land that takes care of us? We have one of the largest farms in a 36-county area to help produce healthy food for us. Who will protect the Oneida Reservation and our community? Law enforcement and homeland security are essential to ensuring the safety of our members, community residents and the homes and buildings we live and work in.

Opportunities play an important role in the future of our Oneida Nation. Education is one of those few opportunities that allow us both to better ourselves, our community and our people. Take advantage of the opportunities that come before you, and seek your education to help make a difference.

My last message to all of you is the following: 1) Love yourself. 2) Be true to yourself. 3) Be open-minded. 4) Find your passion. 5) Make wise choices. 6) Surround yourself with good friends who support your vision. 7) Do kind deeds. 8) Challenge yourself to work hard. 9) Go outside and play. 10) Set your goals. 11) Meditate -- close your eyes and see yourself being what you want to be in the future. Now work backwards and see that you are already there. 12) Pray for all of these things, be thankful and express your gratitude. Thank you is the best prayer we can do for ourselves and others.

My hope is that you students, and everyone, can take on a few of these ideas, to better yourselves, your families and your Nation.

Treasurer's Report

By Cristina Danforth
Tribal Treasurer

Sheku, Greetings
The summer season is upon us and the July 4th holiday is right around the corner.

I hope everyone is enjoying the warm weather and is in good health.

My office and staff have been busy with the development of the FY 2012 budget and implementing many directives of the General Tribal Council (GTC) and Business Committee (OBC). A few recent items include; budget oversight both internal and external, approval of the Annual Tribal Allocation Plan for per capita disbursement, activation of the Capital Improvement Project for the renovation of the Ridgeview Plaza, and fiscal oversight of the Oneida Residential Community Care Center (ORCCC).

The Ridgeview and ORCCC projects are part of the $30 million Municipal Bond allocation.

Other items of interest include a recent directive to determine if there was a set aside for the draft Commerce and Enterprise Manager position. This new position is not funded in FY 2011 and if the OBC desires to act on this item it needs to be included in the upcoming FY2011 budget process. The position description still needs some work and will be addressed at the 6/22 OBC meeting. The OBC recently took action to provide a letter of support for the development of a Tribal Procurement Technical Assistance Center (PTAC). This letter will allow a PTAC to be developed on the Oneida reservation.

An application is being submitted with the assistance of the Wisconsin Indian Chamber of Commerce and Gwen Carr. If funded our consideration for in kind and a monetary match of $200,000 will provide an additional $600,000 from the Defense Logistics Agency, Office of Small Business Programs. This opportunity will give Oneida and other tribes in this region an opportunity to be more competitive in the federal procurement process.

Last month, the Oneida Tribe held its' first ever Primary Election. I am very pleased with the turn out for this election. There were 1,215 voters that participated. Of these votes, 136 were from the Milwaukee area. The total cost of the Primary election was $24,215 which includes the stipends paid to election board members for their service.

The past three years have been challenging yet rewarding and I would like to thank the many people who helped make my tenure successful and possible. I have been asked several times if I am running for re-election and the answer is, YES. I am definitely seeking re-election and will be out on the campaign trail seeking your continued support.

There will be many difficult decisions to be made on behalf of the Oneida tribe. I hope that each candidate is informed, energetic, committed to the betterment of Oneida as a whole and diligent in their decision making skills. Best wishes to everyone and be sure to get to the polls on July 16, 2011.

OBC Forum...

Shekoli,

On May 18, I attended a public hearing in Madison to deliver testimony on Assembly Bill 95 to repeal a law that allows the Oneida Nation to obtain a liquor license directly from the State instead of from the local governments. Representative Steinke introduced the bill to the Assembly Committee on Economic Development and Rural Affairs.

On behalf of the Oneida Nation, I testified in opposition of AB 95 before the (12) member committee and provided a history on the Tribe's acquisition of Thornberry Creek out of bankruptcy and the Oneida Nation's contentious relationship with the Village of Hobart. Hobart fought our purchase of the property every step of the way, and continued to sabotage our operations by refusing to grant a liquor license because of unrelated storm water charges levied against trust land owned by the United States, even though the Village's own ordinance makes the property owner, i.e., the United States, responsible for payment.

If AB 95 becomes law, Hobart will almost certainly deny any license application by the Oneida Nation or Thornberry Creek because of the ongoing dispute between the Village and the Oneida Nation. Even if we are able to resolve the storm water charges issue, Hobart will likely find a new reason to deny any liquor license application. The Village should not be allowed to use its discretion to issue liquor licenses as a bludgeon to force the Tribe to pay unrelated assessments

Ron Tehassi Hill

for property owned by the United States, or to extort other payments or impose burdensome conditions on the Oneida Nation. The Village has not treated our liquor license application as it would any other, and the conditions it has placed on the granting of that license are unreasonable and unlawful. Enactment of AB 95 and the Village of Hobart's subsequent denial of liquor license applications could result in the closure of the golf course and the loss of 100 local jobs. In these tough economic times, it's more important than ever to secure employment for our community, and ensure that tribal businesses remain open.

I feel it is important to stand up and fight for our Nation, whether it be at the local, state, or federal levels. Providing testimony at hearings at all levels of government is one of the most productive ways to get our views across to government officials that make the decisions that affect our people and our businesses.

Whether it be to give testimony at a public hearing or to participate in intergovernmental discussions, appearing in person as an elected official of Oneida also puts a face to our Nation. I believe face-to-face contact helps our elected leaders connect and build relationships with local, state, and federal governments.

Developing stronger relationships with our neighboring governments is improving the future of the Oneida Nation, our members, and the community as a whole.

sance exists.

Purpose:Zoning and Shoreland Protection Law Amendments: Nuisance Provisions.

The intent of the proposed amendments is to expand and clarify the nuisance provisions of the Law. The Amendments add an intent statement to the public nuisance section of the Law and additional categories to the public nuisance section. The intent of the Amendments is that even though certain conditions may exist, they will not necessarily be a public nuisance. The definition of "public nuisance," along with the intent of the public nuisance section and the discretion of the Zoning Administrator will be used to determine whether a public nuisance exists.

Public Hearing ProcessTestimony:

Oral: There will be a 5 minute limit for all oral presentations. Each participant is encouraged to provide a written transcript of his/her oral testimony, to be submitted while present at the public hearing or within ten (10) business days from the date of public hearing to the below named individuals.

Written: For those who cannot attend the scheduled public hearing or do not plan to speak at the hearing, the Oneida Tribe encourages those to submit written testimony. A maximum of ten (10) pages, doubled spaced, can be submitted within ten (10) business days from the date of public hearing to the Tribal Business Committee, Standing Committees, Public Hearings.

Secretary (Patricia Hoeft) or Tonya Boucher, Legislative Reference Office at the Norbert Hill Center, 2nd floor or mail to PO Box 365, Oneida WI 54155.

By Chief Judicial Officer Winnifred L. Thomas

Oneida Tribal Judicial System

As everyone is aware the impending Judiciary Act that has been brought before you many times over the past 12 years. While trying to decide what to add and what the court should look like or if we have a court, the Wisconsin 3rd District Court of Appeals has recognized the Oneida Tribal Judicial System as a court.

The fact that Oneida has a court was again proven this past week. On Thursday, June 2, 2011 in the Green Bay Press Gazette on page A-3 there is an article concerning the former CEO of the Oneida Seven Generations Corporation, contesting his firing. Kroner, who is not of the Oneida Tribe must have his case held before the Oneida Tribal Judicial System. Yes, members, your court.

Contrary to what people may say or think about Oneida not having a court the Wisconsin 3rd District Court of Appeals ruled Tuesday that John Kroner who is not a member of the Oneida Tribe must have his case held before the Oneida

Kroner case confirms need for Oneida court system

Tribal Judicial System.

Kroner was Oneida Seven Generations' chief executive officer from 2001 to 2008, when the corporation fired him. Kroner filed a suit in Brown County court in September of 2008. He alleged breach of contract because Seven Generations failed to follow policy as spelled out in the tribe's employee manual.

Brown County's Circuit Judge Donald Zuidmulder suggested the case would be better handled in the Oneida Tribal Judicial System. Oneida Seven Generations accordingly requested to transfer the case, and Judge Zuidmulder granted the request. The Wisconsin 3rd District Court of Appeals upheld Judge Zuidmulder's decision on those and several other grounds. Kroner Protested.

The Wausau-based appeals court rejected his arguments. The appeals court determined Kroner's employment with Oneida Seven Generations Corp. was a contractual agreement, and therefore it's proper that the tribal justice system should interpret whether Oneida Seven Generations followed the tribe's rules and regulations.

The Oneida Tribal Judicial System can only interpret Oneida Law.

No matter which court the General Council decides on either, present or proposed the facts remain laws need to be written. Your court can only be as strong as the Laws that have been written to protect our membership and our homeland Oneida. Simply, lack of laws will limit jurisdiction for any court you decide to choose.

Overall teen birth rate declines in WI

Carrie Antlfinger

Associated Press

The teen birth rate in Wisconsin reached its lowest level in more than three decades in 2009, with the largest drop over the last 10 years among black teens, according to a new state report.

The birth rate for Wisconsin girls ages 15 to 19 declined from 35.4 in 1999 to 29.3 in 2009, according to a state Department of Health Services report released this week. The decline has been steady, with the teen birth rate at 31.3 in 2008.

The national rate was 41.5 in 2008, the most recent statistics available. Birth rates are the number of births per 1,000 females.

The largest decline occurred among black teens: from 117.9 per 1,000 teens in 1999, to about 86.8 in 2009. The rate also decreased for white, American Indian and Hispanic teens.

The report also shows that the number of teens having babies in Wisconsin reached its lowest number in 34 years in 2009. In 1975, the number of births to girls under age 20 was more than 9,600, compared to 2009 when there were around 5,800 births to teen mothers.

Teen births represented 8 percent of births overall in the state in 2009.

The state report also noted that babies born to teens are generally more likely to die in infancy. In 2009, the infant mortality rate was 11.3 per 1,000 births to mothers under age 20, compared with 5.5 per 1,000 births to mothers aged 20 and older. In 2008, the rates were 10.8 per 1,000 births to teens and 6.6 per 1,000 births to mothers 20 and older.

jobs, good health care, good housing, and overall improvement in the quality of life for Native people," Echo Hawk stated during his address.

Perhaps the most notable moment during the Assistant Secretary's opening address was the announcement that, after extensive tribal consultations, he rescinded a 2008 memorandum that provided guidance on acquiring land in trust for gaming. This announcement was greeted with raucous applause from those in attendance. Echo Hawk also confirmed that the Department of the Interior will move forward to process pending off-reservation gaming applications, consistent to current federal law and the Department's existing regulations, which set forth a number of criteria that must be met before off-reservation gaming can be approved.

"The 2008 guidance memorandum was unnecessary and was issued without the benefit of tribal consultation. We will proceed to process off-reservation gaming applications in a transparent manner, consistent with existing law," Echo Hawk elaborated.

Echo Hawk also briefly discussed conflicted relationships between state and tribal governments. The Assistant Secretary is committed to creating a meeting that would bring tribes and state officials together to discuss how tribes and states interpret laws differently and the real human cost these disagreements have on the welfare of citizens. Echo Hawk said, "I know that state and tribal collaboration can bear positive fruits. It is however decumbent on all governments, even the federal government at times, to come to the table and promote the benefit of working together and honoring our obligations under the law."

In closing, Echo Hawk expressed the importance of partnership between governmental entities in order to carve out a positive future. "Partnership is what is necessary to take advantage of the many opportunities for strengthening nation to nation relationships. I simply pledge to continue our close working partnership with NCAI and its membership."

Oneida Seven Generations Corp. update

Oneida Seven Generations Corp. would like to provide a brief update on its activities to tribal members. Our renewable energy facility continues to move forward; with work focused on gathering information to submit to permitting agencies. It's important to note that the facility cannot be built or operated without approval from, and monitoring by, a number of government agencies that are entrusted to protect public health and safety.

DOE & WDNR: The Department of Energy (DOE) held a public hearing about the facility and its technology in April and is expected to issue its preliminary report sometime in June; after which there will be an additional public comment period. OSGC is also working on permitting information for the Wisconsin Department of Natural Resources (WDNR); a process that will also include a public comment period.

As you may have read or heard, the WDNR recently informed us it would like additional information about the project. When submitting background and permitting information to any government agency or organization, it is not unusual to be informed, initially, that the information is not complete and that more data is requested. This is an anticipated part of the approval and permitting process and indicates the thorough review the WDNR gives to such applications. We will provide them the information requested so the process can continue to move forward.

Environmental Benefits. What is often lost in the discussions about the facility is its many environmental benefits. OSGC's facility will serve as a recycling center first, and then it will generate electricity by gasifying the waste that is not recyclable. Here's how it works: First, a ballistic separator will be used to sort glass, aluminum, plastics and metals from the waste stream that will be going through the Pyrolysis / Gasification process.

After the ballistic separator, the Municipal Solid Waste (MSW) will be sorted manually to ensure all recyclables are properly removed. Magnetic valves will remove all metals throughout the recycling process to ensure a maximum achievable recycling rate.

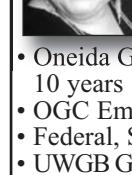

This facility will increase Brown County's recycling rates, decrease the amount of waste going into landfills and significantly benefit the environment. Here are a few interesting statistics:

- Recycling aluminum reduces energy use by 90% and air pollution by 95%
- Recycling 1 ton of paper saves 17 to 24 trees and 7,000 gallons of water. It reduces air pollution by 74% and water pollution by 35%.
- Recycling 1 glass bottle saves enough energy to operate a 100 watt bulb for 4 hours and saves 24-30% of the energy required vs. virgin glass.
- Plastic is 8% of our trash by weight but 24% of the volume.

Community Support: OSGC continues to receive strong support for this facility from the Oneida Nation, the City of Green Bay and its council members, Sustainable Green Bay, the Green Bay Area Chamber of Commerce and others. We thank and appreciate those who have taken the time to learn about our project.

To learn more about the information contained in this update, including additional detailed information, go to: www.osgc.net or call OSGC at 347-0500.

Oneida Business Committee

cathyb4obc@gmail.com

Facebook: "Cathy Bachhuber" – Politician category

I chose this time to run for the Oneida Business Committee because I feel I can be a valuable asset to the Oneida Tribe due to my legislative experience and legal training. I have always had a passion for the legal field and truly enjoy reviewing and analyzing the Tribe's legislation, which includes incorporating laws and policies, with our history and culture. The ability to make good and fair policy decisions will be a vital component of being an OBC member and I feel I have the right skills and desire to be actively involved through a whole term.

Improving community outreach is essential to a productive term. Much progress has already been made however I'd like to promote utilizing the time before GTC meetings for informational purposes and obtaining feedback in order to maximize input on important topics.

An important part of making well-rounded sound decisions includes obtaining sound facts from those knowledgeable and trained but balancing that information with the best interest of the Nation as a whole along with the interests of those who will be ultimately affected.

I do believe in and fully support change-but not at the expense of improving what already works. Change cannot be made for the sake of change but should rather be done in order to improve, correct or address a specific issue. I believe in getting to the root of a problem not just making a temporary fix to address again later on.

There are many issues the new Oneida Business Committee will need to tackle following the elections and I look forward to the challenge!

Election Spotlight

Oneida Nation Leadership Skills in the Tribal Election 2011

What do we say these qualities should be for this next critical phase of strategic decision making and leadership for our membership, community and employees?

"They say a partial list of leadership skills are:

1. integrity - refers to strong internal guiding principles that one does not compromise. It means treating others as you would wish to be treated.

2. vision/strategy - must have a clear idea where the organization is going beyond the years budget.

3. communication - refers to the overall flow of needed information throughout the organization. An invaluable voice of both the individual and the organization.

4. relationships - relationship building develops from good interpersonal and group communications.

5. persuasion - the ability to influence others and cause them to move to a particular direction.

6. adaptability - seen as an opportunity when change and flexibility are necessary.

7. teamwork - the organization comprised of different skill sets requires leadership to build and nurture its function.

8. coaching and development - encouraging others to expand their capabilities and take on additional assignments are essential skills.

9. decision-making - decisive decision making expands leadership effectiveness.

10. planning - strategic planning involves certain assumptions about the future and taking action in the present to positively influence the future."

As an Indian Nation we also seem to hold culture as a wild card at times rather than a regular part of our deck. Perhaps the additional dimension of cultural leadership in our organization and or community makes us unique from other government agendas. The exercising of our sovereignty/uniqueness may be a/the critical factor in positioning us for further success in what ever path we take. We should hear and see beyond the words of the politicians. We should see Oneida leadership necessary for these times of dynamic change for those 7 generations and beyond we speak of. We are rebuilding the Oneida Nation. Chose wisely.

Another Big Ripoff

Once again the BC is trying to rip off the GTC by establishing a new position paying over $100,000.00 per year to do nothing. We just approved a No-Hiring Policy for the workers—now they want to set up a position over the Bingo Operation and Retail Operations to rip us off again.

It wasn't the General Manager who stopped Natures Way; it was the GTC. It wasn't the Chief of Staff who stopped the Plexis million dollar spending. It was the GTC. It wasn't the BC who stopped 7 Generations from giving themselves a $4,000.00 Christmas Bonus for each member; it was up to the GTC. We don't need another mid-level manager making almost as much as the Wisconsin Governor and not paying a fair wage to the workers making all the money for the Tribe, only to rip us off by paying Management all the big bucks. Stop hiring at the top and hire more workers.

If the GTC lets them get away wih this outrageous attempt to once again rip off the tribe, SHAME ON YOU

Checks & Balances Needed

Dear Oneida General Tribal Council,

I regret to inform that I am yet to sit on one single case. I took my "Oath of Office" at a regular Business Committee Meeting on Wednesday, October 14, 2009, (yes, 2009). I immediately began taking and completing the "In-House" Training. I set it up so that I would be finished two weeks before the formal training at the National Judicial College in Reno, Nevada began in March 2010. I worked very hard and diligently and I finished my "In-house" training the end of February 2010. Everyone except Leland Wigg-Ninham presented me with obstacles. For each obstacle presented, I found a solution. One obstacle was financing my training, which was actually ridiculous as my training was mandatory and should have been paid for automatically because I was a brand new Commissioner. None the less I applied for and was awarded just under $6,000 in scholarship money (all my airfare and hotel accommodations paid in full) from the National Judicial College to take my required courses.

Winnifred Thomas, as the Chief Judicial Officer denied my "Individual Judicial Officer Education & Training Plan" and my scholarship money. Winnifred has repeatedly blocked and has successfully prevented me from obtaining my formal education. Without my formal education from the National Judicial College, I cannot sit on any cases as a Judicial Officer. I have repeatedly brought the matter to the Oneida Appeals Commission. I have reported inappropriate and unethical activities of the Judicial Officers, the employees and the legal counsel for the Oneida Appeals Commission. I have claimed a hostile and unsafe work environment. I have requested intervention. I have filed ethics complaints. NO ONE will intervene and no one will stop the abuse. No one will eliminate the hostile work environment. The Oneida Appeals Commission consists of two sister-in-laws (Winnifred "McLester" Thomas and Janice "Skenandore" McLester), their niece Jennifer "McLester" Webster and four cousins that include Lois "Moore" Powless and Jean Webster. It is common for a motion to be made to deny my requests for intervention/assistance by one family member, seconded by another family member and then all of the family members and their cohorts vote, the motion to deny my request for intervention is passed and the inappropriate behaviors continue on. There are no checks and balances. The employees are not any better than the Judicial Officers with regard to being rude, disrespectful and abusive. Judicial officers are allowed to act alone, act outside their scope of authority, violate my rights, and strip me of my due process. They have also caused harm to the people who voted for me to be a Judicial Officer. I followed the internal process and it was bad, bad news! So now I feel I have no other choice but to bring these matters and more to the Oneida General Tribal Council via petition and request an investigation. I respectfully request your help to address and correct these matters. Please watch your mail and the newspaper for more information.

Stop the Bullying in Oneida

I'm writing this letter in the hopes that it may stop the bullying that has been going on in Oneida. I'm hoping that the conduct will change for the better.

All that Merlin Cornelius sr. had to do was pay $2,500 restitution and a $60 fine. Not much of a deterrent!

On May 10, 2010 I took a copy of the court records and a resolution that I requested that the Oneida Land Commission adopt. I suggested a large fine of $1,000 for taking someone's property on Oneida leased land. The Land Commission stated they could not approve the resolution.

Around July 20, 2010, Merlin's wife Pat Cornelius confronted me at the Health Center and told me to leave her family alone.

On July 20, 2010, the Oneida Police left a recorded message at my home asking me to call back. I returned the call. Officer House said that Pat Cornelius had stopped in and told him to call me about taking the Merlin case to the Land Commission. I told Officer House that I was trying to stop the bullying. I told him that I would like to have a copy of the police report regarding Pat's request. He said there would be no record of it.

In another case, one of Merlin's sisters was going to build a house on her Mother's leased land as her mother had wanted her to. Someone kept removing the surveying stakes and worked up the land. She planted a blue spruce tree on the site, and someone chopped it down. She decided not to build.

Although Isaac Jordan still has hay growing on the site he had leased, the Land Commission informed him that he cannot renew his lease. Is there no justice!

Recently, I requested information from the Oneida Land Department. As a result I received information that the Land Commission has approved a lease to a immediate family member of a member of the Land Commission at the rate of $20 per acre. The Oneida Nation Farm has to pay $100.00 per acre. What's with that! Is there any hope for change?

On June 7, 2011 Yvonne Metivier and I received a report at the Land Department that Merlin and Pat Cornelius are the only Tribal members leasing Oneida agricultural land for $20 per acre. Other Oneidas are paying $125 per acre and more.

Aboard George Thompson's Ice Cream and Other Delicious Treats truck, Candidate Ed Delgado converses with Tribal Elder Theresa Reed while giving out ice pops. Candidate Delgado often confers with Theresa Reed and other elders on issues that affect the elderly and housing.

Theresa recalls in 2008 when the then Housing Director, the General Manager, and the Legal Counsel made a mistake and doubled the rent for the Oneida Housing Authority renters (some 400 households) that it was Councilman Delgado who enforced the HUD regulations, had the rent returned to the right amount, and saw that the renters received timely repayments. "Yes, we depended on Ed to help us and we still depend on ED," says Theresa.

Councilman Delgado says that if you want to know what the people want and need you have to ask them what they are thinking and listen, listen, listen.

Highway 172 update

The Wisconsin Department of Transportation (WisDOT) is currently constructing dual-lane roundabouts on WIS 172 at the entrance to Oneida Casino/Radisson Hotel/Austin Straubel Airport and at the intersection of WIS 172 and WIS 54. Work started in April and will be completed by mid-September.

Studies have shown roundabouts significantly improve safety and operational efficiency. WisDOT believes this work, estimated at $2.2 million, will provide important upgrades to both intersections.

Work will be done in two stages. Stage one will involve building the WIS 172 casino/airport roundabout expected to be completed by mid-July.

WIS 172 is currently closed from 0.5 miles west of South Point Road to 1 mile east of County GE. Eastbound WIS 172 traffic is being detoured from the WIS 54/172 intersection eastbound on WIS 54 and southbound on County EB (Packerland Drive) to the WIS 172/County EB intersection. Westbound WIS 172 traffic is detoured on the opposite route.

The Oneida Casino and Radisson Hotel can be accessed off of South

Point Road. Access for the airport begins at the South Point Road/WIS 172 intersection and detoured by way of internal airport roads.

During stage 2, beginning in mid-July, the work constructing WIS 54/172 is being done in two phases. WIS 172 is being closed initially from 1.5 miles west of County GE to WIS 54. County E will be closed from 0.1 miles south of WIS 172 to WIS 172. During this phase, west-bound WIS 172 traffic will be routed from the WIS 172/County GE intersection northbound on County GE and west-bound on WIS 54 to the intersection of WIS 54/172. Eastbound traffic will again follow the opposite route. This work is expected to last approximately six weeks.

During the second phase or the last approximately two weeks of the project, WIS 54 will be closed from 0.25 miles west of Dexter Road to 0.25 miles east of County U. Eastbound WIS 54 traffic will be detoured from the WIS 54/County U intersection eastbound on County U, northbound on County E, eastbound on WIS 172, and northbound on County GE to the intersection of WIS 54/County GE. The westbound detour also follows the opposite route.

The Oneida Casino and Radisson Hotel can be accessed off of South

Nature map highlights reservation's natural areas

By Sylvia Cornelius
Environmental Project Manager

The Environmental Health & Safety Division is excited to introduce an Oneida Reservation Parks, Trails, & Natural Areas Map. All tribal member households in Brown and Outagamie County should have received the map over the last week.

We are also working with various recreation and health programs to distribute them.

We hope you take advantage of the twenty eight different Natural Areas and fourteen different Parks available for Tribal Members recreational, hunting and fishing use.

Unfortunately, we do have a disclaimer and would like to apologize for some printing errors! First, there are two #36. The correct one is on Seminary Rd and the #36 on Freedom Rd is not an actual location. A phone number was wrong so we put a sticker on that. We also had a problem with the Oneida font, so the Oneida language is off a little. Finally the long house should be west one block. Again we apologize that things got mixed up somehow when we sent the copy to print.

This project is part of the Teyukwahw'tsyawayanhá stu (day yungwa hunja wyan hast) the translation of the word means "we are all connected or deeply rooted to the earth." This initiative is to foster environmental stewardship of the Oneida Reservation by Tribal Members. The map also fits in our "Inviting People Back to the Land" Balance Scorecard Initiative. This information is critical to encouraging a sustainable relationship with our land and natural resources and promoting identity and pride in Oneida.

This project has been a year in the making, and we hope you get out this summer to experience the many different habitats and parks that our Oneida Reservation has to offer! Any questions feel free to contact us at (920) 869-1600

Overall teen birth rate declines in Wisconsin

Carrie Antlfinger

Associated Press

MILWAUKEE (AP) ~ The teen birth rate in Wisconsin reached its lowest level in more than three decades in 2009, with the largest drop over the last 10 years among black teens, according to a new state report.

The birth rate for Wisconsin girls ages 15 to 19 declined from 35.4 in 1999 to 29.3 in 2009, according to a state Department of Health Services report released this week. The decline has been steady, with the teen birth rate at 31.3 in 2008.

The national rate was 41.5 in 2008, the most recent statistics available. Birth rates are the number of births per 1,000 females.

The largest decline occurred among black teens: from 117.9 per 1,000 teens in 1999, to about 86.8 in 2009. The rate also decreased for white, American Indian and Hispanic teens.

The report also shows that the number of teens having babies in Wisconsin reached its lowest number in 34 years in 2009. In 1975, the number of births to girls under age 20 was more than 9,600, compared to 2009 when there were around 5,800 births to teen mothers.

Teen births represented 8 percent of births overall in the state in 2009. "The decline is very much inspiring, and we have and do believe we have contributed to that," said Danae Davis, chief executive officer of the nonprofit Pearls for Teen Girls Inc. in Milwaukee. The organization works with girls ages 10 to 19 to avoid pregnancy, help them graduate from high school and go to college. Davis said none of the 791 girls the organization mentored last year got pregnant, and for the five years before that, their percentage never went below 97 percent. She said her group and others are working toward a goal set by the United Way of Greater Milwaukee to reduce pregnancy among girls ages 15 to 17 by 46 percent by 2015. The state report also noted that babies born to teens are generally more likely to die in infancy. In 2009, the infant mortality rate was 11.3 per 1,000 births to mothers under age 20, compared with 5.5 per 1,000 births to mothers aged 20 and older. In 2008, the rates were 10.8 per 1,000 births to teens and 6.6 per 1,000 births to mothers 20 and older.

Women at Work exhibit featured at NWTC

(Green Bay, Wis.)

"Women at Work" by the Green Bay Art Colony (GBAC) is the latest exhibit at the Northeast Wisconsin Technical College Art Gallery. Running now through July 14, the display includes paintings, sculpture, photographs, ceramics, quilts, encaustic collage, and mixed media pieces. Also featured is a retrospective of the artworks of June Kashnig, a long-time artist member of the GBAC.

An opening reception with the artists will be held Thursday, June 9, from 4:30 to 6 p.m. in the Executive Dining Room (SC128) in the Student Center. Visitors will be able to meet the artists at the reception and view their work in the Art Gallery. This event is free and open to the public.

Located in the Library on the second floor of the Student Center on the Green Bay campus, the gallery is open to the public during Library summer hours: Monday through Thursday, 7:00 a.m. to 6:00 p.m.; Friday, 7 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.; and Saturday, 8:00 a.m. to 11:00 a.m. For more info, go to www.nwtc.edu/library. Admission is free.

About the artists: The Green Bay Art Colony was started by a group of women in 1929 and is the oldest women's art club in Green Bay. As an organization of artists, GBAC's objectives are to promote art interest in the community, to publicly exhibit artwork created by its members and to promote the study and participation in art activities by both members and the public. In addition, GBAC contributes to the community via various art related service projects. GBAC currently has 28 members and 10 associate members. From 1A/Prison ceremonies

Councilwoman Danforth was initially asked to serve on the Wisconsin Department of Corrections (DOC) Religious Practices Advisory Committee by then OBC Chairman Gerald Danforth.

"This was one issue that kind of fell in my lap that I never really ... thought I'd be doing, but once you get into it, it's ... a big cause," she said.

Councilwoman Danforth stated one of the big issues that hinder Native American religious practices behind bars is a lack of DOC resources.

"The biggest conflict I think is just time and staff. According to the DOC, our sweat lodges take four hours, plus they require wood, rocks and the DOC has to pay for all of that," she said.

Councilwoman

Danforth noted there was a need for spiritual leaders to reach out to the prison population, especially in the Milwaukee area.

"I really didn't think that this was going to be a problem, but it is, is getting spiritual leaders to go and talk in the institutions. There's a lack of people willing to go into the institutions," she said.

Councilwoman Danforth also serves on the Governor's Council on Reentry, and sees reaching out to prisoners while they're serving their sentences as a way to help change their behaviors and ease their transition when they're released.

"When they're in prison they seem to lean towards the spiritual part of it, and that's our time when we should be capturing them and really educating them on what it is to be Oneida or what it is to be Stockbridge," she said.

Councilwoman Danforth said she believes the current parole system is set up for failure, and may compel ex-inmates to commit new crimes because there's no safety net.

"That means there's going to be a victim, so if we're not going to pay attention to that, if we're not going to catch them early, if we're not going to help them find employment, if we're not going to help them find housing, and we're not going to help them find the help that they need here in these communities, then we're not doing our jobs in keeping our community safe," she said.

NY judge lifts ban on cigarette tax collections

By Carolyn Thompson
Associated Press

BUFFALO, N.Y.~ Gov. Andrew Cuomo's administration said Wednesday it will move swiftly to begin taxing cigarettes sold on American Indian reservations to non-Indian customers after getting the go-ahead from a state judge.

Supreme Court Justice Donna Siwek rejected the Seneca Indian Nation's claims that state taxing officials had improperly adopted regulations that will govern collections. She lifted a temporary court order that had been blocking enforcement.

Seneca President Robert Odawi Porter said the western New York tribe would appeal.

State officials, facing a $9.2 billion budget deficit, voted a year ago to begin collecting the $4.35-per-pack sales and excise taxes on the millions of cartons sold by reservation smoke shops to non-Indian customers. It was a break from the policy known as forbearance adopted by a string of governors who declined to enforce state laws requiring the taxation of sales to the general public.

"This administration will move swiftly to enforce the law," Cuomo spokesman Josh Vlasto said following Wednesday's decision.

The state plans to impose the tax on Native American sales without going onto reservations by requiring cigarette wholesalers to pay the sales taxes before they supply reservation stores. Wholesalers would pass along the levy to tribal retailers, who would have to raise their prices.

The state sees the tax as a potential $500,000-a-day revenue source. Tribal leaders view it as an encroachment on tribal sovereignty and a threat to reservation businesses that employ thousands.

Siwek, in her decision, acknowledged the debate that dates to 1988.

"The taxing policy of the state is required to strike the difficult balance between the state's objectives with regard to the sovereignty of Indian nations and the general welfare of the people of the state of New York," she wrote. "The state has encountered significant difficulty in implementing a taxing policy which meets these dual objectives."

The decision was praised by non-Indian retailers who have watched the Native American cigarette business flourish as New York has increased its cigarette tax to the highest in the country.

"Today's decision allows the state to move forward swiftly to close a loophole that has deprived the state of badly needed revenues, decimated tax-collecting retailers and wholesalers and fostered a thriving black market," said Jim Calvin, president of the New York Association of Convenience Stores.

Cigarette makers sold 24 million cartons of non-native-brand cigarettes to tribes in New York in 2009, according to the state Department of Taxation and Finance.

But leaders of some New York Indian nations have said they would reduce or eliminate those name-brand cigarettes from their stores rather than go along with the state's taxation plans. They would stock mostly Native American brands manufactured on their territories.

"If the nation's businesses need to shift their product mix to render such onerous tax laws moot, they will," Porter said.

Schumer: Rule that foiled Catskill casinos out

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) ~ New York Sen. Charles Schumer says the Department of Interior has rescinded a rule that has barred faraway Indian tribes from building casinos in the Catskills.

Schumer says Tuesday the department informed him it was overturning the so-called commutability rule, which dates from the Bush administration.

The department in January 2008 rejected plans for two Indian casinos in the Catskills, citing the long distances from tribal lands to the proposed gambling sites. In rejecting applications from the St. Regis Mohawks of northern New York and The Stockbridge Munsee of Wisconsin, federal officials said the "remote" locations of the casinos could harm the reservation communities by encouraging residents to leave for jobs elsewhere.

Schumer and other New York officials argued that the Catskill casinos have local support and would create jobs.

Oneida members partake in Bellin Run

There was a record 18,701 participants in the 35th annual Bellin Run. Once again, included in this years event were Team Oneida participants. Above, Oneida tribal member Sid White and his wife Emma were also amongst the thousands who laced up their running shoes to partake in the 6.2 mile event that was held Saturday morning, June 11th. Conditions, weather wise were ideal as well.

Team Oneida organizers were appreciative of the sponsorship this year. They included: the Oneida Nation, Comprehensive Health Division, Health Promotion/Disease prevention cooperative agreement, special diabetes program for Indians, and Oneida Family Fitness. Training for the run began in early march for Team Oneida participants.

More info and stats on the Bellin Run will be published in O.F.F.'s Summer Newsletter and Website.

Menominee tribe deserves praise for initiative

Green Bay Press Gazette,
May 30, 2011

When the Menominee Tribe of Indians recently joined the national effort to end childhood obesity within a generation, we noticed.

We took note not only because the Menominees became the first Native American tribe to become part of first lady Michelle Obama's "Let's Move! in Indian Country" initiative - an outgrowth of her Let's Move! program launched last year - but also because it's a bold and positive step for a reservation that has some of the most challenging health issues to overcome.

According to a study by the University of Wisconsin School of Medicine and Public Health, Menominee County in 2010 ranked last in overall quality of health in Wisconsin.

Among the startling statistics are that it had the highest mortality rate, the highest rate of smoking during pregnancy, the highest teen birth rate and highest number of children living in poverty of counties in the state. What likely caught the eye of the Let's Move! organization was Menominee County's obesity rate - the highest in the state - at 38 percent.

Randal Chevalier, chairman of the Menominee tribe - whose reservation shares nearly the same geopolitical boundaries with Menominee County - said childhood obesity is a widespread problem among tribes and that 1 in 3 Native American youths are overweight by the age of 5. He said the first lady's program will help the Menominees take steps to reverse that trend on their reservation and enable them to build on the tribe's existing health-related efforts.

"We're already doing a lot," Chevalier recently told a member of the Green Bay Press-Gazette editorial board. "This initiative hopefully will bring all of these efforts together and provide us with additional resources to further advance our health initiatives. We're hoping to accomplish the same goals as the (Let's Move!) program, and that is to raise within one generation healthy youth."

Chevalier said the tribe for years has had programs to help tribal members who suffer from diabetes and heart-related problems, and has provided education on nutrition through its food distribution program. Now it plans to create a department to promote healthy alternatives and activities for youth and will plant a community garden. In a related initiative, he said, the tribe will build a grocery store on the reservation and offer classes on cooking and nutrition.

"It's going to take kind of a long time to turn the health around in the community, but we're going to try and figure out what the benchmarks are going to be" to measure success," Chevalier said. "Hopefully, we won't be the 72nd - ranked county in the state."

We're pleased that the tribe has an effort similar to that of Greater Green Bay: Where Kids Count, a communitywide, childhood health and fitness initiative designed to raise a healthier next generation in Brown County. In less than 18 months, the local Kids Count initiative has gone from an idea to a campaign known as 54218.

Designed to be the healthiest "ZIP code" in America, 54218 provides easy-to-remember recommendations for youth to stay healthy. The digits correspond to suggestions for daily: amounts of fruits and vegetables, number of bottles of water to drink, number of hours to limit screen time, amount of time for exercise and hours of sleep.

Childhood obesity is a national health crisis in America. We applaud the Menominee tribe for joining the effort to confront it by promoting healthy lifestyles.

The 19-month occupation came to an end on June 11, 1971 when federal officers evicted the remaining 15 protesters.

Activists had seized the island in San Francisco Bay in November 1969

Known as "The Rock" Alcatraz is home to a prison that was abandoned in 1963. The prison and the island is now part of a national park that draws 1.4 million visitors a year.

After the occupation ended, the university or center was never built, but plans to sell the island to private developers were dropped.

With as many as 800 activists on the island at the height of the occupation, the protest received massive attention.

The 40th anniversary of the occupation is being celebrated with the hopes of turning it into an Indian university or cultural center.

The

Muddy roads keep flood-stranded community cut off

By Matthew Brown

Associated Press

BILLINGS, Mont. (AP) ~ Muddy conditions frustrated attempts Monday to complete road repairs in central Montana that would give about 300 stranded residents a way out of their rural neighborhood.

As more roads deteriorated following yet another round of rain in the area Sunday night, an emergency official warned that hundreds more Musselshell County residents could soon find themselves with no way to get out.

The main route into a cutoff area south of Roundup has been impassable since the Musselshell River last week washed out a section of Number 4 Road. Crews have been working to re-establish an alternate route along Fattig Creek Road, but officials said progress has been slow.

"As the roads get driven on, they are deteriorating faster," Disaster and Emergency Services Coordinator Jeff Gates said Monday. "We're getting issues coming up all over the county and we may have to start shuttling food and supplies to another three or four areas."

In Wyoming, Albany County reported the state's first drowning to occur during this spring's flooding. Authorities say a child drowned in the swollen Little Laramie River, and they are investigating another possible drowning in a separate incident. No further details were available.

Central Montana's Musselshell River is forecast to stay above flood stage until possibly Thursday following more than two weeks of flooding in Roundup and surrounding communities.

Supplies were being ferried to residents of the cutoff area by boat. It was uncertain when the main route would be restored and Gates declined to offer any timetable. He said similar problems were emerging in several other rural subdivisions where roads have become thoroughly saturated after weeks of heavy rain.

"Not only do we have the river flooding but I've got stuff going on 10 miles from the river," Gates said. "We're having to build roads to fix roads, to get into spots that are in trouble, so it's not a fast process."

Most of the water that inundated parts of downtown Roundup has been pumped out, but some water still is getting into town through gaps in a makeshift dike that lines the river, said Volunteer firefighter Cassie Degner.

In northeast Montana, flooding continued along the Milk River near Glasgow and the Missouri River below Fort Peck.

Water releases from Fort Peck Dam into the Missouri were increased over the weekend by the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers to 65,000 cubic feet per second.

Downstream communities have been bracing for flooding from the unprecedented releases, but so far no major problems have resulted.

The corps planned a slight decrease in its releases from Fort Peck early next week, to 60,000 cubic feet per second. But significant releases are projected to continue through most of the summer, said Fort Peck Dam project manager John Daggett.

A National Weather Service forecast showed the Missouri dropping slowly over the next several days.

The Red Cross said it had delivered 150 cots to the Fort Peck Indian Reservation and identified potential shelter locations in preparation for potential flooding.

Less water in the Milk River ~ which feeds into the Missouri ~ appeared to be easing the risk that houses would flood, said Darla Shumway, a spokeswoman for Roosevelt County. Shumway added the situation could quickly deteriorate if more rain hits the area or the corps decides to further increase its releases from Fort Peck.

"We are not letting our guard down until we are sure the corps is not going to jump it up to 70,000 or 75,000 (cubic feet per second) or Glasgow's not going to get another flash flood," Shumway said.

In Western Montana, a flood warning was extended until further notice for the Cark Fork River at Drummond, which was expected to remain above flood stage until midday Tuesday, the National Weather Service said.

Flood warnings also were in effect for urban areas and small streams in Jefferson, Lewis and Clark, Hill and Broadwater counties.

Haskell University names new president

Will serve term beginning July 3

LAWRENCE, Kan. (AP) ~ A man who served two terms as acting president of Haskell Indian Nations University has been named president.

The university in Lawrence announced on Friday that Chris Redman is its new president, beginning July 3.

The university has been searching for a president since November, after former president Linda Warner resigned. She had been sent to handle other bureau duties off campus in September 2009.

The Lawrence Journal-World reports that Redman's two terms as acting president were from September to December 2009, and May 2010 until March 2011.

Redman's salary was not announced Friday, but when the position was posted in November the advertised salary range was $113,375 to $147,857.

Haskell has more than 1,000 students from about 150 tribes. The school's annual budget is around $14 million.

Promega Summer Art Showcase Presents Wisconsin Native American Artists

The showcase is pleased to have this group of artists exhibit their work reflecting their heritage from Assiniboine, Ho-Chunk, Iroquois, Lakota and Oneida tribes.

The Summer Showcase was sparked with a yard sale purchase of a small ceramic pot in Arizona by curator, Daniel Swadner. The ceramic pot was made by Rose Kerstetter of the Oneida Nation in Wisconsin. It was after Daniel met Rose and other Oneida Nation artists that the idea to showcase Wisconsin Native American artists came to fruition.

The showcase opened Tuesday, June 14, 2011 and continues through September 1, 2011 at the Promega BioPharmaceutical Technology Center in Madison. A public art opening reception was held on Tuesday, June 14. The exhibit is open Monday through Friday 8:00am to 4:00pm.

Promega Corporation has sponsored the artist's showcase since 1996 as part of the company's commitment to creativity and innovation in the arts, cultures and sciences.

The Biopharmaceutical Technology Center, located on 5445 East Cheryl Parkway, was developed, in part, to provide Promega employees and community members a place to pursue these goals. Visit www.promega.com for more information.

The Oneida Pet Safety Program: Canine Obedience Class

ONEIDA PET SAFETY
program

The goal of the Oneida Pet Safety Program is to prevent animal bites and the spread of rabies in humans

In September of 2010, the Environmental, Health, and Safety Division began the Oneida Pet Safety Program. The goal of the program is to prevent dog bites and the spread of rabies in humans. There are three components to the Program; 1) Vaccines, spaying, and neutering pets, 2) animal care- food, water, and shelter, and 3) Canine behavior.

1. Vaccines, Spaying, and Neutering

The new program provides Oneida Retail Gift Cards in exchange for vet services. Pet owners will be responsible for taking their pet to any licensed veterinarian in Brown or Outagamie County. Pet owners must pay 100% of the bill at the time of service. After the pet receives service, pet owners who provide the following information will receive Oneida Retail Gift Cards;

1. Proof of vaccinations: An itemized receipt and/or rabies vaccination certificate
2. Copy of your Oneida Tribal Identification Card
3. A copy of a current Oneida Pet

License if you live on the reservation. You can bring your paperwork to either N7332 Water Circle Place, Little Bear Development Center, or at the Conservation Office, located at N8047 County Rd. U.

Pet licenses will be available for purchase at both sites. Licenses for intact pets are $10.00 each. Licenses for spayed or neutered pets are $5.00 and you must provide documentation from a Vet that your pet is spayed or neutered.

Low Cost Vaccines, Spays, and Neuters Offered by Green Bay Animal Hospital for tribal members and tribal employees

Although you can choose any licensed Vet in Brown or Outagamie County, Green Bay Animal Hospital (GBAH) is offering Oneida tribal members and/or employees special discounts. Oneida tribal members and/or employees can bring their pets to the Green Bay Animal Hospital located at 1518 W. Mason St. on the first Wednesday of every month from 1:00 pm-5:00 pm. There is no need to make an appointment for vaccines at GBAH. You must however make an appointment for spay and neuter services.

GBAH Contact Information:
Phone: 920-494-2221
Web site: greenbayanimalhospital.com

NOTE: Tribal employees are NOT eligible for the Oneida Retail Card portion of the program, unless they are also tribal members.

2. Animal Care: Low Cost Pet Care Equipment Package

Remember these summer pet safety tips; 1) make sure your pet has water and shade, and 2) never leave a pet in your car. The Pet Safety Program is selling pet care equipment packages;

Dog Houses

If your pet spends anytime outdoors, they need to have a safe and dry shelter. The Pet Safety Program offers medium, and large maintenance free dog houses. Each dog house comes with plywood and insulation which is pre-cut to fit each house. This provides additional protection for your pet.

Straw Bales

Straw provides essential insulation.

Water Bucket Systems

Outdoor water buckets tip over leaving a pet without drinking water.

Dog houses, straw, and pail systems are available to tribal members only. You must provide your Tribal ID Card to participate. All proceeds go back into the Pet Safety Program.

Cost= $12.00

3. Canine Behavior

In May and June the Oneida Pet Safety Program held its first Canine Obedience Class. This has been an idea at the Environmental, Health and Safety Division for many years and we are very happy to be able to provide the community with this opportunity.

The class was held at the Sanger B. Powers Training Center in Oneida. The class cost $25.00 and tribal members who attended every class received a $25.00 Oneida retail gift card upon class completion.

Another Canine

Obedience Class will be held sometime next fall or winter. For more information about the Pet Safety Program please call the Environmental, Health, and Safety Division at 920-869-4575.

If you see a neglected,

Wis. researchers use wasps to fight beetle

Town of Saukville, WI - Wisconsin researchers have released tiny parasitic wasps as part of an effort to slow the population growth of a destructive beetle species that has destroyed millions of trees.

University of Wisconsin-Madison entomologists released 800 stingless Asian wasps from four plastic cups at the Riveredge Nature Center in Newburg Wednesday, so they can feast on the larvae of the emerald ash borer.

"They know what they have to do," research assistant Todd Johnson said as he cajoled the one-tenth-inch wasps from cups Wednesday.

It's the first time the wasps have been used in Wisconsin to battle the emerald ash borer, which has been found in Milwaukee, Kenosha, Brown and Vernon counties.

The Milwaukee Journal Sentinel reports (<http://bit.ly/ima6An>) two species were released already and a third that feeds on the egg stage of the bug will be introduced later this summer.

UW-Madison entomologist Ken Raffa hopes the wasps will be a "self-sustaining drag" on the beetle's population.

"But we are not going to eradicate EAB - we're stuck with it. This darn pest is going to damage our forests," he said.

Wisconsin becomes the 10th state to experiment with wasps since 2007, when they were released in Michigan - the state hardest hit by emerald ash borer.

Nationally, about 165,000 wasps are being released this year, according to federal authorities in Michigan.

Some chemical treatments have been effective, including emamectin benzoate, according to a joint study by several Midwestern universities, including UW-Madison. But chemical treatments are not feasible to protect entire forests.

The state's most effective tools have been quarantine regulations limiting the movement of ash products and a public relations campaign asking people not to move firewood around the state.

It's too early to say whether the wasps will be effective, Raffa said.

"You have to think of this as a possible long-term solution," he said.

Oneida Arts Program Dollars for Arts

Application Deadline: July 22, 2011

The Dollars for Arts Program (DAP) is a re-granting program funded by the Wisconsin Arts Board and the Oneida Tribe of Indians of Wisconsin. DAP provides funds to support excellence, innovations and the development of the arts in Oneida. The arts include both traditional and contemporary styles in dance, literature, music, theatre, and visual arts. There are three funding areas in DAP:

Community Awards - are available to community groups or tribal programs for arts projects that are new and innovative or significantly enhance an existing program in the Oneida community.

Oneida Fellowship Awards - are a $500 cash award to individual artists for artistic excellence in the Oneida community. There is a maximum of two Fellowships available per fiscal year.

Artist Development Awards - are available to artists in the community who have identified a special project that will enhance their professional development and benefit the Oneida community.

The deadline for submitting grant applications is Friday, July 22, 2011, for activities occurring October 1, 2011, through September 30, 2012. The applications are available through the Oneida Nation Arts Program's website oneidanationarts.org. If you have any questions or wish to receive a hard copy of the application, contact Christine Klimmek at 920-490-3831.

Oneida Nation Arts Program

ONEIDA WIA JOB TRAINING

*Summer Youth Work Experience Program 2011
July 11 – August 26, 2011*

The Oneida Job Training Program is taking applications for the 2011 Summer Youth Work Experience Program. The program provides career exploration and work experience opportunities for youth ages 14 – 18 who are attending school or returning to school full-time in the fall. The program is seven weeks and runs July 11 – August 26, 2011. The youth will be paid $7.25 hr, and are eligible to work a maximum of 24 hours a week. The program includes 30 positions - 10 WIA federally-funded positions, and 20 TANF-funded positions.

Requirements for the 10 WIA federally-funded positions are:

- Enrolled with a federally recognized Tribe, member of an Alaskan village or Hawaiian Native, and
- 30 -day resident of our service area, and
- Meet federal household poverty income guidelines, or
- Medically-diagnosed disability (cognitive, emotional or physical which includes ADD, ADHD, LD, and ED). Youth will be considered a household of one for income purposes), or
- Youth living out-of-home through a court-ordered placement. Youth will be considered a household of one for income purposes.

Requirements for the 20 TANF-funded positions are:

- Someone in the household is an enrolled Oneida living on the Oneida Reservation, or living in Brown or Outagamie County, or
- Enrolled Native American with dependent children living on the Oneida Reservation, and
- TANF recipients or TANF eligible households. Income guidelines for TANF are 185% of the HHS Poverty-Income Guidelines. Badger Care and Food Share recipients meet these income guidelines.

To obtain an application contact Sandi Skenadore at 490-3789, sskenado@oneidanation.org, or Melissa Skenadore at 490-3796, mskenan7@oneidanation.org. The priority deadline to apply is Wednesday, June 22, 2011. All names will be entered into a drawing to be held on June 23, 2011. The staff will begin contacting 30 youth to set up intakes. Youth whose applications are received after the priority deadline will be placed on a waiting list.

Notice of Availability

Purpose:

The Oneida Tribe of Indians (Tribe) is proposing to construct an approximately 10,500 square foot addition to the existing casino located at 2514 W. Mason St. The expansion will include a restaurant and an additional 200 slot machines. The project will be funded by the Tribe. The intent is to improve the economy of the Tribe and increase short and long term employment opportunities.

No federal involvement or action has been identified for this project.

This Environmental Assessment (EA) was prepared for the proposed expansion of the existing casino and is in compliance with the Oneida Environmental Policy Act (2-13-93B) and National Environmental Policy Act (NEPA). The EA contains project information, affected environment, project alternatives, consequences, and consultation.

Location:

The proposed expansion is planned to connect on the east end of the existing casino located at 2514 W. Mason Street, on the Oneida Reservation, located in Township 24 North, Range 20 East, Section 29, Brown County, WI.

Alternatives:

Preferred Alternative: The preferred alternative is for the Tribe to construct an addition of approximately 10,500 square feet on the northwest side of the existing. It will include a sports bar, food court, poker room, smoke shop, and other renovations. The addition will be located on what is currently a flat paved parking area; approximately 22 parking spaces will be removed. No additional parking areas will be added with this proposal. Construction will occur on previously disturbed areas. The area of impervious surface is not expected to increase. Construction is planned for Spring 2013.

The applicant expects 20-25 short term jobs during the construction activities and 25-30 full time jobs resulting from the expanded services.

No Action Alternative: To not construct the proposed expansion to the existing Oneida West Mason Street Casino location. This will not assist in the goal of expanding gaming operations and improving the economy of the Oneida Nation.

Comments were requested from the United States Fish and Wildlife Service regarding possible impacts to threatened and endangered species, Oneida Cultural Heritage Department for possible impacts to culturally significant areas, and the Environmental Protection Agency for possible permitting needs regarding in-stream development.

Comments and Availability:

Interested parties may obtain copies of these documents from the address below. Comments regarding the proposed action may be submitted within 30 days of the date of this NOA. Contact Lisa Miotke at (920) 869-4582 or write Oneida Environmental, Health & Safety Division, PO Box 365, Oneida, WI 54155 for additional information.

School's Out for Summer!

By Shanna Jourdan

THT Times

As soon as June hits every year, students get very excited for school to be over and summer to begin.

Time to turn off the alarm clocks and stay up and out late. Go by whoever's house on week days. Go swimming and sit out in the sun all day. Go to your summer jobs and earn that money you work so hard for.

For the seniors, it's graduation. It was tough, but you made it. You made it through high school and that means you can do as you please. You can actually go somewhere in life and do something great.

Every single one of us only has one life to live, not two, so live it up and make your life great and make sure that whatever you do, have fun with it. Life is not always just work and about money, it's about you and how you make it! Good luck all seniors!

So far this recent weather has been just beautiful and great. It's going to be the perfect weather for this summer. Perfect weather to just sit outside in the front yard and enjoy the sun. It's time to enjoy the time off we students get.

Summers are just the best time, because we get off of school, and get to have fun. It's time to enjoy!

Hilo, Hawaii Powwow Trip

By JoJo Santiago

THT Times

The Hilo Inter-Tribal Powwow was a community event held during Memorial Day week in the town of Hilo, Hawaii.

Three days of exhibition dances sharing, classes, craft fair showing the work of traditional artists, and other educational, cultural, and fun events ended in a veterans honoring.

The result was a warm holiday enjoyed by young and old of all cultures.

It was a good experience for all of us which included Kal^na Brooks, Forest Brooks, Eddie and Jojo Santiago, Bradley Granquist, and Kendrik Powless.

We were given many compliments on our performance and some even said, "You were the best show out of 'em all!"

We were also each given a parting gift which was a lei.

Jade Doxtater's Valedictorian Speech

Delivered at the O N H S Commencement Ceremony on Friday, June 3, 2011

Principal Ganka, Members of the School Board, Faculty Members, Family, Friend, and Fellow Graduates, Good Evening.

Today is a day to be thankful and be inspired. The last eighteen years of our lives, everything we've accomplished, everything we've been through, has led us to today. Take a moment to look back and to see and appreciate just how far we've all come.

We have so much to be thankful for. Our main thanks should be extended to our parents. The past four years have presented us with a lot of ups and downs. It is good to know you have remained committed to our education, but more importantly you have remained committed to us. You've stood by our sides, even when things may have seemed a bit unsteady. You were the stability we needed in the time of confusion. We would not be here today without you.

We can also be thankful for each other. The friendships that we have made here will last a lifetime. I am personally thankful for my boyfriend Brandon. I am truly inspired by him. He has overcome so much hardship to be here graduating today. Brandon, you have been determined and have had such a great attitude in the face of so many setbacks. I remember some of the talks we've had and it gives me the perspective I need to carry on when I'm down. And for that I thank you.

Oneida. It may be a small school, it may be old, but that's what makes Oneida diverse. That's what makes the Class of 2011 extraordinary. We can walk down the halls of our school and know everybody's name. Most of us have grown up together; we know something about each other that when we look at one another a lifetime of memories flash before our eyes.

I can't tell you how blessed I feel, how much I appreciate, growing up with you guys. And I can eagerly say I am proud to be a part of the Class of 2011. I am proud to call every one of you a member of my class. We have been a part of each other's lives for the past four, eight, and, for some, eighteen years. And today, in a single day, we finally move on.

I'm not going to say my high school experience was perfect. I'm not going to say that I didn't have some regrets, or missed opportunities. Every one of us went through the good times and the rough patches. But I wouldn't trade my high school experience for anything else in the world. Everything that has happened to us, everything we have been through, has made us into who we are today. And it's these experiences, these life lessons that will take us into the next step of our lives.

Often on graduation day, we look outside for heroes, but I thought that would have been too cliché to have a quote that's only been used a million times before. So if you're one that was waiting for me to quote someone great, sorry because that's not going to happen. I thought to myself, "Why don't I just mention these people right here in front of us?" I have seen in my four years at this high school, that we don't have to look far for inspiration, and that we each have the potential to make an inspiring impact on others by being true to our beliefs and being committed to our goals.

So, when we leave here today, celebrate what you have accomplished, but look toward how you, too, can be the inspiration for those around you.

Thank you!

Lacrosse tourney in Six Nations, Canada

By Eddie Powless

THT Times

Sonny Hill and Apache Danforth took eight lacrosse players—Mason Powless, Jason Skenadore, Jordan Bain, Eddie Powless, Devonte Pointer, Johnny Danforth, Diego Metoxen, and Kyle White—to Six Nations, Canada to play in an exhibition at the Powless Arena.

In the first game we lost 10-12 against the Six Nations Warriors. The second team didn't show up so that got cancelled.

and we scrimmaged against each other. The third game we won 7-3 also from Six Nations. I was the leading scorer, with three goals and six assists.

My main assistant, (the one who gave me the goals), was Lucas Hill from Canada who joined our team for the time we were there. He also gave me his box lacrosse jersey for the goals he got (in lacrosse assists also count as goals).

Second was ONHS alumnus Kyle White with three goals and four assists, which also helped out a lot in the games in Canada.

Now the bus trip was supposed to take 12 hours but it took 14 and a half because we got a flat tire we sat for two hours.

About 54 people went from the Oneida area, including little kids who played too. They lost two games and tied the other.

I would like to say great job to the Oneida, Wisconsin teams. They also gave us medals for participating.

NWTC receives national recognition for community service

Northeast Wisconsin Technical College has received national recognition as a leader among institutions of higher education for its support of volunteering, service-learning, and civic engagement. Last month NWTC was admitted to the 2010 President's Higher Education Community Service Honor Roll for engaging its students, faculty and staff in meaningful service that achieves measurable results in the community.

"National recognition is vital to our college, students, and, most importantly, to our community partners who help us make authentic service-learning possible," said Suzanne Morrin Ritter, NWTC Service-Learning coordinator. "This acknowledgement helps raise local awareness of how our college gives back."

For years, NWTC has been reaching out to district residents with service-learning, an initiative that enables students to gain career-related experiences and academic credit while serving the community.

During the 2009-2010 academic year alone, over 2500 NWTC students participated in service-learning projects that met the needs of 162 non-profit agencies in Northeast Wisconsin. Projects ranged from Auto Collision students refinishing two trains at Bay Beach Amusement Park to Dental Hygienist students conducting fluoride varnish clinics for children in need. Service-learning projects were conducted throughout the district – from Shawano to Sturgeon Bay to Wausauke.

In a spring 2010 project, Early Childhood Education students mentored and motivated 16 teenage mothers at the Marion House in Green Bay. The NWTC students worked with the young moms in a class that covered multiple areas of successful parenting and child care.

"This project has provided one of the most valuable assets to the Marion House program," said Monica Zindler, Marion House founder and director. "Prior to the college's involvement, our residents did not realize that post secondary education was even an option for them. Having completed a college class empowers our residents and gives them hope for their future."

The President's Higher Education Community Service Honor Roll has been administered by the Corporation for National and Community Service (CNCS) since 2006. A total of 641 colleges and universities were admitted to the 2010 Honor Roll for their impact on issues from literacy and neighborhood revitalization to supporting at-risk youth. Of that total, 511 – including NWTC – were named to the Honor Roll, 114 received the recognition of Honor Roll with distinction, 11 were identified as finalists, and 6 received the Presidential Award.

A total of 851 institutions applied for the 2010 Honor Roll, a nine percent increase over last year, a sign of the growing interest by colleges and universities in highlighting their efforts to engage students in making a difference in the community. CNCS oversees the Honor Roll in collaboration with the U.S. Departments of Education and Housing and Urban Development, Campus Compact, and the American Council on Education. Honorees are chosen based on a series of selection factors, including the scope and innovation of service projects, the extent to which service-learning is embedded in the curriculum, the school's commitment to long-term campus-community partnerships, and measurable community outcomes as a result of the service. For a full list of recipients and descriptions of their service, visit www.NationalService.gov/HonorRoll.

ONEIDA Diabetes Team Special Diabetes Program for Indian Grant Personal Diabetes Care Record Incentive Program

The Personal Diabetes Care Record (PDCR) Incentive Program allows patients to earn five dollar gift cards for getting their diabetes checked. Any Native American who receives diabetes care at the Oneida Community Health Center is able to participate.

How can incentives be earned? First, request a wallet size PCDR from the Diabetes Team at the Oneida Community Health Center. Second, bring the card with you whenever you see your health care provider. Third, every time one or more of the items listed on the card has been completed, ask your staff member to record the date, results, and initials. Lastly, submit the card to the Diabetes Team, at any time, even multiple times, to receive your five dollar gift cards.

As of April 1, 2011, the following changes will go into effect for the PCRD Incentive Program:

- Lost care records will not be replaced
- Patient will receive only one care record per fiscal year, which is April 1, 2011 to March 31, 2012
- Care records will only be kept by the patient

If you have any questions, please contact Mary Krueger, LPN of the Diabetes Team at (920) 869-4864.

New rules to cut confusion on sunscreen claims

By Matthew Perrone

AP Health Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Help is on the way if you're confused by the maze of sun protection numbers and other claims on sunscreens.

Starting next summer, you can start looking for SPF 15 bottles and tubes with the label "broad spectrum" and feel confident they're lowering your risk of skin cancer.

Under new rules published Tuesday, sunscreens will have to filter out the most dangerous type of radiation to claim they protect against skin cancer and premature aging. "Broad spectrum" is the new buzzword from the Food and Drug Administration to describe a product that does an acceptable job blocking both ultraviolet B rays and ultraviolet A rays.

If a sunscreen doesn't protect against both, or the sun protection factor is below 15, then it has to carry a warning: "This product has been shown only to help prevent sunburn, not skin cancer or early skin aging."

The guidelines, which spent more than 30 years in bureaucratic limbo, are designed to help consumers like Paul Woodburn, who says he's not sure of the difference between UVA and UVB rays and that he judges sunscreen by one factor alone.

"The SPF number is what counts for me," the 55-year-old Indianapolis resident said as he sat next to a public pool. "Beyond the SPF, I don't think anybody really watches."

The new regulations require that sunscreens be tested for the ability to block the more dangerous ultraviolet A rays, which can penetrate glass and pose the greatest risk of skin cancer and wrinkles. FDA currently requires testing only for protection against ultraviolet B rays, which primarily cause sunburn but can also cause cancer and other damage. That's what the familiar SPF measure is based on.

"For the first time, the FDA has clearly defined the testing required to make a broad-spectrum protection claim in a sunscreen," said Dr. Ronald L. Moy, president of The American Academy of Dermatology.

Under the new rules FDA will:

- Prohibit sunscreen marketing claims like "waterproof" and "sweatproof," which the agency said "are exaggerations of performance." Water-resistance claims will be allowed, but companies must explain how much time consumers can expect to get the same benefit while swimming or sweating.

- Cap the highest SPF value at 50, unless companies can provide results of further testing that support a higher number.
- Require that manufacturers phase out a four-star system currently used by some companies to rate UVA protection.

In reviewing more than 3,000 comments submitted to the agency, the FDA decided the star system was too confusing. Instead, protection against UVA should be proportional to protection against UVB, which is already measured using SPF.

SPF measures the amount of sun exposure needed to cause sunburn on UV-protected skin versus unprotected skin. The level of exposure varies by geography, time of day and skin complexion.

There is a popular misconception that SPF relates to time of solar exposure. Many consumers believe that if they normally get sunburn in one hour, then an SPF 15 sunscreen allows them to stay in the sun for 15 hours without burning. This isn't true because SPF is not directly related to length of sun exposure.

The new rules were decades in the making.

FDA announced its intent to draft sunscreen rules in 1978 and published them in 1999. The

Oneida Community Food Assessment Wrap-up Survey Results

We hope that the articles we have been providing for the past year have been beneficial & educational to our community. We wanted to share with you the information gathered from the survey. This is our wrap to those articles, and will be providing an overall review of what we are all learning and the next steps we can take to make our Food choices, Wise & Educated Choices!

How much is our health worth? How much is our children's future worth? These days most of us are more concerned about our vehicles then we are about our own bodies. We get the oil changed regularly and use high test gasoline in our vehicles, but we still fill our body's fuel tank with fast food and sodas filled with sugar. The worst part is that we are encouraging this behavior in our youth, and it shows. Over the last two decades, rates of obesity have tripled in children and adolescents aged 6 to 19 years.

Why buy local – Why buy Oneida?

Local markets are good for our health, good for our natural resources, good for our economy and good for our community. People enjoy the benefits of local, seasonal and sustainable grown and produced foods. Local markets help small farmers keep their family farms in agriculture rather than selling their land for urban sprawl. Local farmers farming with "Best Use" agricultural practices help keep our soil, water and air clean.

As keepers of our children's future, we must act in the best interest for them. This will most likely not be what they would choose, but that is why we are their guardians. This is not a punishment we are suggesting, but a blessing. A punishment is to allow our youth to become obese and then making them live with that for the rest of their lives. A punishment is encouraging bad eating habits which contribute significantly to diabetes and then making them give themselves shots in the arm everyday for it. A punishment is to stand by and do nothing when we could have taken the responsibility onto our own shoulders.

What's the big deal – food is food right?

No, that isn't right. Food security is quickly becoming a priority as we read about food contamination, pesticides, chemicals, hormones, antibiotics, animal diseases, genetically modified seeds, and inhumane industrial farm practices. As food costs increase due to higher fuel costs, there is more hunger and disparity in access to food. Local communities can take the initiative to protect their food sources and the environment around them to ensure a healthy and abundant food supply.

What can the Oneida Nation and we do as Oneida families?

We as proud Oneida Tribal entities, as parents and grandparents, as brothers and sisters, and as friends need to use the information we gathered in the Oneida Community Food Assessment and establish a network of local food producers and consumers.

We need to use the data to establish Food Security Policies.

A key part of these policies would require the purchasing of 10% of our food from local providers

Creating and expanding food processing infrastructure

Establishment of community gardens

Establishment of Community Supportive Agriculture (CSA's)

Certification, inspection; and labeling of our local food.

All of these areas will help us in attaining our Food Security & Sovereignty.

In the Oneida Community assessment we found that the biggest barrier people thought limited them from eating healthy was cost (53%). However, no culture in the world pays less for food, per capita, and more on medicine then the United States. You can pay the doctor or you can pay the farmer. If we were to eat healthier, we should see a reduction in doctor bills, pharmaceutical bills and insurance costs.

The OCIFS entities work cooperatively to try and bring about monumental changes in Oneida's food systems. There are many ways you can all help to accomplish this task. One of them is to support its members. So buy your natural Black Angus meat from the Oneida Farm, your produce from the Oneida Apple Orchard, and get your certified organic produce and food processing needs from the Tsyunhehkwa program. It not only provides you with the best quality and value, but it helps all people on the road to self-sufficiency.

The Hobart Episcopal church in Oneida

By Thelma Cornelius
McLester

For brief periods of time when the call went out to replace priests who were leaving Holy Apostles or who had already left, there were a number of interim priests who served the Church.

In 1924, the Reverend Harry Kerstetter served; followed by Reverend F. W. Sherman in 1925. Reverend Phillip I. Livingston served in the years 1957 and again in 1967. There were a number of assistants who served, as follows. Reverend C. B. Russell was an Assistant in 1960 until Reverend H. L. Goetz became the Vicar. His Assistant, Reverend Nelson Skinner was hired in 1963. In 1964, Reverend Harry C. Vedder was hired as the Vicar while his Assistant was Robert Goode in 1967.

In the 1960's, continual changes were occurring. Of importance, Stained Glass Windows were installed on all of the windows of the church over a five-year period from 1960 to 1965. Each window was specifically designed and executed by two gentlemen from studios in Milwaukee, Roger Jacobs and Conrad Schmitt. Some of windows were given in memory of past deceased members, while others were given in memory of those who served the Church. Most were inscribed with the actual wording of the dedication. In order to see what the original windows looked like, they resembled the window above the main alter still in use today.

By the 1960's many of the past activities and organizations no longer existed. There was a decline in membership of the church as well as in the funding levels.

In 1966, the Oneida Tribe requested 15 acres of land in order to build 44 housing units for Tribal use, and the lands were released from the Diocesan offices in Fond Du Lac and returned to the Oneida Tribe for that purpose. Earlier, 10 acres of church land were returned to the Oneida Tribe for recreational purposes. Today, there are three ball diamonds, parking and enough land for observers to watch the games.

Holy Apostles continued to operate its Mission School with classes held in the Parish Hall. Funding for its upkeep came from the church and the Diocese of Fond du lac. However with declining enrollment and costs increasing, the school closed in 1967. The last to serve at the school were The Sisters of the Teachers of God who served from 1963 to 1967.

In 1968, Reverend Larry A. Westlund became the Vicar and in 1970 his Assistant was Reverend Jon E. Henshew.

Again, the 1970's brought interim Priests to Holy Apostles. In 1974, Assistant Reverend John E. Walker arrived to serve for one year as well as Reverend Michael W. Minter who served as an Assistant for one year. Reverend Paul A Cheek served as an Assistant in 1976 prior to his serving as Vicar beginning in 1978. The Reverend Charles P. Wallis served for one year in 1977 followed by Reverend Thomas K. Sewall in 1978. In 1979, Reverend Russell S. Northway became the Assistant, until the Reverend James H. Dolan arrived to take his place. In 1983, Reverend Dolan became the Vicar. His Assistant, Reverend William J. M. Smith arrived in 1984.

With the high turn-over of priests over time, there was a loss of members to other churches, however, it was also the time period when all churches were in decline in church membership.

The Grafton Parish Hall had served its people well, but it could no longer be maintained as it was in the past. Originally the cornerstone was placed by the Right Reverend Charles Grafton on October 11, 1905 and was used for so many functions. It was used as the church for two years when the Stone church burned in 1920.

It became the elementary school, as well as Sunday School. It also housed the first Oneida Library, the first Headstart Program and many meetings were held there. Also for a brief period of time the second floor was used as an apartment for the janitor. After the Hall's closing in 1980, functions moved to the basement of the church and to the St. Anne Convent Building.

In 1984, a grant was received from the United Thank Offering to upgrade the St. Anne Convent and even though the grant was insufficient to meet all of the needs, nevertheless it furnished space for the offices of the Priest, his Assistant, Secretary/Clerk, Sunday School, space for small meeting rooms and a Chapel. The Chapel remained in use until 2006, however, the Convent itself is still in use today.

In 1990, Reverend Edmund Powless was ordained a Deacon of the church. An Oneida, this was a great blessing as he was the first Oneida Deacon to serve the church since Reverend Cornelius Hill. From 1990 forward, Reverend Powless served faithfully in his capacity as Deacon, as well serving in his own community until his passing in 2009. He is buried in the church yard alongside Reverend Cornelius Hill and his Wife Cecilia.

It is our mission to provide lifelong learning to the lives of the people who choose to participate in our programs. The Oneida Adventure Experience combine adventure-based educational programs that utilize activities that are challenging and fun, to help stimulate individual growth and team building skills. Our staff understands that people learn best through experience.

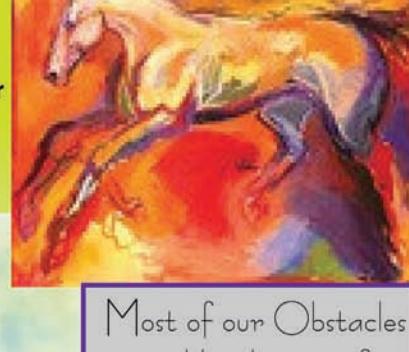

ONEIDA ADVENTURE AND LOMBARDI GROUP EXPERIENCES

School is almost out for the summer!

For most students, school can bring up many personal challenges to overcome. This year, a few students from Lombardi Middle School YES program found Oneida Adventure as a place to explore personal qualities and assets to help themselves overcome these challenges. Through various adventurous activities, the students learned from one another, and themselves.

In middle school it is common to worry about our image. These students partnered together on the ropes course and through the experience of equine therapy.

Some students reported being able to transcend the burden of what others think, and instead focus on what it was they thought about themselves. Through out our group experience the power of listening to the inner voice was evident. A key asset to personal and team growth!!

Most of our Obstacles would melt away if instead of cowering before them, we should make up our minds to walk boldly through them...

- Requests must be received within 365 days from date of death.
- If no Beneficiary Designation form is on file, the appropriate naming sequence will be used.

Oneida Tribal Cemetery

TSI? TYEYA? TATALIH (Where They Bury a Body)Plot Cost: Currently $100 per plot

- Plot marking, opening/closing fees determined at time of burial.

Children's Burial Fund

HISTORY...

Originally, any child not enrolled but determined eligible for enrollment was entitled to use the previous Burial Fund of $5,000.

When the Oneida Life Insurance Plan Plus (OLIPP) was implemented it was discovered that the life insurance would not cover children who were not enrolled but determined eligible for enrollment. So the Oneida Trust/Enrollment Committee established the Children's Burial Fund.

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS...

What is the Children's Burial Fund? The Children's Burial Fund was established to assist families with burial expenses of children age zero (0) to five (5) or children age six (6) who have been recommended by the Oneida Trust/Enrollment Committee for enrollment, but who have not yet been approved for enrollment by the Oneida Business Committee.

Why was the benefit amount lowered to $3,500? First and foremost the Oneida Trust/Enrollment Committee based the benefit amount on the average costs for burial services of children age six (6) years and younger.

Why an age limit? Like any benefit, criteria is critical to help the program be more equitable and cost effective. It also promotes and encourages enrollment of our Oneida children.

REQUIREMENTS OF THE CHILDRENS BURIAL FUND

1) Requests for assistance and original invoices must be provided to the Oneida Enrollment Department for payment within 365 days from the date of death.

2) Documentation must be on file with the Oneida Enrollment Department prior to processing of invoices for funeral expenses.

If child dies after birth, documentation needing to be submitted is:

- a) Birth Certificate
- b) Death Certificate

If child was stillborn, documentation needing to be submitted and/or completed is:

- a) Maternity/Paternity Statement (provided by Oneida Enrollment Department)
- b) Fetal death report (you will need to request this from a medical professional or funeral home representative)
- c) Enrollment document used to determine eligibility (provided by Oneida Enrollment Department)

WHAT'S COVERED

1) Food expenses, not to exceed $200. This may be done:

- a. Through a food voucher to Festival Foods. The Oneida Enrollment Department provides this service. You will be asked to provide the date, time and name of a person who will meet the Oneida Enrollment Representative at Festival Foods. The Enrollment Representative is available to assist the responsible person/family to shop for needed products. (Alcohol or tobacco purchases are not allowed)
- b. By adding food costs to the funeral home invoice. Usually reflected on the funeral home invoice as a cash advance.
- c. Through a caterer, food vendor, or restaurant. Pre-approval is required to be made with the Oneida Enrollment Department so vendor information can be obtained for payment.

2) Monument/Headstone costs, not to exceed $1,000.

- a. The original invoice with the Vendor's Tax ID # must be provided to the Oneida Enrollment Department for payment within 365 days from date of death.
- b. This expense could also be added to the funeral home invoice. Usually reflected on the funeral home invoice as a cash advance.

3) Cemetery costs

- a. The original invoice with the Vendor's Tax ID # must be provided to the Oneida Enrollment Department for payment within 365 days from date of death.
- b. If the Oneida Tribal Cemetery is not chosen as the place of burial, this expense can be added to the funeral home invoice. Usually reflected on the funeral home invoice as a cash advance.

- c. If the Oneida Tribal Cemetery is chosen as the place of burial, the total costs will be taken directly out of the $3,500 Children's Burial Fund. Because the Oneida Enrollment Department manages the Oneida Tribal Cemetery an invoice is not needed for submission. A cemetery plot cost is $100. The marking, opening and closing costs can vary (often due to weather conditions and equipment availability). Currently, the average costs for Department of Public Works (DPW) to mark, open and close a grave is $250. The marking, opening and closing costs are subject to change.

To purchase a cemetery plot:

- Contact the Oneida Enrollment Department
- Meet with the Burial Benefits Specialist/designee to choose a plot and fill out necessary paperwork
- The Burial Benefits Specialist/designee will complete the necessary paperwork to process payment and make arrangements with DPW to mark, open and close the plot on the day of burial

4) Church costs

- a. The original invoice with the Vendor's Tax ID # must be provided to the Oneida Enrollment Department for payment within 365 days from date of death.
- b. This expense could also be added to the funeral home invoice. Usually reflected on the funeral home invoice as a cash advance.

5) Funeral home costs can only be paid directly to the funeral home

- a. Original invoices with the Vendor's Tax ID # must be provided to the Oneida Enrollment Department for payment within 365 days from date of death

WHAT'S NOT COVERED.....

1) Travel expenses (i.e. gas receipts, tickets for a plane, bus or train, etc.)

2) Reimbursements for out of pocket expenses (example: if someone decides to pay for food or flowers out of their own personal monies, they will not be reimbursed)

3) Any funeral expenses exceeding the $3,500 limit (example: a funeral invoice for $3,500 is received and paid. Then later an invoice for a headstone is received in the amount of $1,000. The headstone invoice will not be covered. The headstone cost will be the responsibility of the purchaser who signed for the headstone)

OTHER INFORMATION.....

1) Oneida Parish Hall:

- The Parish Hall is available at any time for activities related to funerals. If another event is scheduled on the same date of the funeral activity, the funeral activity will take precedence.
- The Parish Hall can be requested by contacting the Oneida Enrollment Department 920-869-6200 or Oneida Department of Public Works (DPW) at 920-869-1059.

REMINDER: Our goal is to get every adult Tribal Member to complete a Beneficiary Designation Form. Please look for me and/or other representatives from the Enrollment Department at various community events to help achieve this goal.

From 10B/Sunscreen Claims agency then delayed finalizing the regulations until it could address concerns from both industry and consumers.

Some consumer advocates complained the agency's final guidelines did not go far enough.

"FDA's rule will allow most products on the U.S. market to use the label 'broad spectrum sunscreen,' even though some will not offer enough protection to assure Americans they can stay in the sun without suffering skin damage from invisible UVA radiation," said David Andrews, senior scientist with the Environmental Working Group.

The FDA is still working on updated guidelines for spray-on products, which use different formulations from other sun-protection solutions.

Many companies have already adopted some of the language. For example, all Coppertone products from Merck & Co.'s Schering-Plough unit and Neutrogena Sunblock from Johnson & Johnson boast "broad spectrum UVA and UVB protection."

Most dermatologists recommend a broad spectrum, water-resistant sunscreen of SPF 30 or higher every two hours while outside.

Last year an estimated 68,130 people in the U.S. were diagnosed with melanoma — the most dangerous form of skin cancer — and an estimated 8,700 died, according to the National Cancer Institute. Nearly $2 billion is spent treating the disease each year.

Increased construction activity at Pamperin Park in Brown County

Reminder to park patrons to remain alert and expect possible delays

The Wisconsin Department of Transportation (WisDOT) Northeast Region in Green Bay is reminding visitors to Pamperin Park that significant construction is currently taking place on the entrance road to the park as part of the US 41 Project.

While the road remains open to traffic, beginning the week of June 13, considerable activity gets underway which may cause short delays for motorists over the next two weeks. Construction crews are building a bypass road and constructing temporary shoring for the new County RK.

Because of the construction, pedestrians and bicyclists are encouraged to access the park using the recreational trail located west of the park entrance along Duck Creek.

More Grant News from the Oneida Libraries

The Oneida Community Library and the Green Earth Branch Library continue to express gratitude to the Institute of Museum and Library Services for the 2010 Native American Library Services Enhancement Grant. The shelves are in! We still working out some furniture ideas for the children's areas at both libraries, but both children's areas have had new shelves installed thanks to the cool guys at DPW (Yaw^ko, guys!!) The new shelves have made it possible for many new books to be purchased, and as we took all the books off the old shelves, there were many that did not go back on the shelves—this was a great way to upgrade our collection, although for the days we were closed we did not always feel that way—it was a lot of work! Come into the libraries, sign up for the adult summer programs at either library, and sign your children and teens up for our Summer Reading Programs and Teen Summer Programs.

Also, at the Green Earth Branch Library we are having a special 1,000 Cranes program, a wish of peace and harmony for the community. If you fold and hang 1,000 cranes, tradition holds that you can get a wish from a crane. It has to be something like peace and tranquility, or

Museum Springing Forth with Traditional Outfit Making

In the spring, the Oneida Nation Museum and the Flying Leaf Subdivision resource building collaborated to offer traditional clothing workshops to both boys and girls. A parent or guardian had to sign the child up and commit to attending the program with the child to learn traditional outfit making and how to smoke dance.

The classes are well attended. The girls' class is on Mondays, and the boys' class is on Thursdays, with lab time often offered on Tuesday and Wednesday nights, all held at the Flying Leaf Subdivision's building.

Adrianna and Kymberley Pelky attend the girls' classes. Kymberley said, "I've done repairs to clothing, but this class is actually teaching me how to sew and bead. And what better project could there be to learn with than a traditional outfit for my daughter. It is great quality time as she beads on her project, and works on her matching bag and helps me with pinning and fastening things."
