GTC shows little support for $10,000 payment

By Nate Wisneski

Kalihwisaks

The perception of the per capita topic drawing larger crowds held true during the July 11 General Tribal Council (GTC) meeting. The three-item agenda was reduced to the per capita resolution while the amended Election Law proposal and Oneida Recreation Center petition were moved to the newly scheduled August 1 GTC meeting.

In a voice vote, 2,030 GTC members overwhelmingly rejected a resolution seeking a $10,000 per capita payment to tribal members 21 and over paid no later than December 1, 2009. This payment would have been in addition to the already scheduled per capita payment in September of this

The initial resolution stated that no services provided to members and jobs would be lost with the payment of the requested per capita. According to tribal leadership, the resolution, totaling near $121,570,000, would be impossible to comply with when that criteria is followed. Jobs and services would be cut and decreased, while land and assets would have had to be sold below market value due to the present state of the economy.

Roughly 30 GTC members spoke during the discussion period in which the standard Robert's Rules of Order were waived to promote a conversation style of meeting. A small number of members spoke in favor of the payment while the majority couldn't justify the loss of jobs, services and land in order to receive the payment.

Supporters of the petition cited mismanaged investments and alleged of back door deals with upper management of the tribe and businesses. The phrase "the rich get richer and poorer get poorer" seemed to be the group's motto.

The petitioner, John E. Powless, Jr., cited the negative turn of the minor's trust account, allegations of denied assistance for his son's business and economic hardships of tribal members as rational for his request. Powless also was the petitioner for last years $5,000 and $10,000 special one-time per capita payments.

The legality of the resolution was also questioned in the legal opinion from the Oneida Law Office's Chief Counsel, Jo Anne House. "Over the years, the General Tribal Council has taken many actions which place limitations on its own authority," said the opinion. The letter cites the Ten Day Notice Policy, the Administrative Procedures Act and the Per Capita Ordinance as laws the tribe enforces to identify the processes and standards for scheduling GTC meetings, adopting laws, and making per capita payments. "The proposed resolution violates these laws and as a result cannot be acted upon by the General Tribal Council as presented," said House.

The next GTC meeting will be Saturday, August 1.

GTC convenes for Semi-Annual Meeting

Nate Wisneski

Kalihwisaks

The General Tribal Council started a busy week with the tribe's Semi-Annual Meeting on Monday, July 6 at the Radisson Hotel and Convention Center.

After a shuffling of the agenda the GTC approved minutes from the January 5, 2009 and January 17, 2009 GTC meetings.

Financial Reports

This section was brought to the beginning of the meeting to allow the tribe's Chief Financial Officer and an auditor from McGladrey & Pullen to be present. Both are not tribal members and needed GTC approval to take part.

The GTC heard an update on the current budget status and heard variances by departments throughout the tribe. The Oneida Business Committee's (OBC) support staff drew fire for the size and overspending of their budget.

The Treasure's Report was accepted.

Auditor Cory Todd from the audit firm McGladrey & Pullen presented an overview and summary of the tribe's financial statements. The auditors report was accepted.

The GTC was asked to hear an update status on the progress of the Oneida Life Insurance Plan Plus (OLIPP) and also repeal the current Burial Fund Endowment policy. OLIPP was approved by the GTC during a January 17, 2009 meeting and repeal of the burial fund is to ensure OLIPP is implemented during the 2010 budget year.

OLIPP will provide a payment of $15,000 to a tribal members designated beneficiary while the tribe will pay for premiums for the insurance plan. The burial fund currently pays $5,000.

The report and repeal were accepted while the burial fund will still be active until the 2010 budget is passed.

The GTC heard an amendment to the current removal law in which elected tribal officials can be removed from office for not carrying out GTC directives. GTC members expressed concern over the current administration being held responsible for GTC directives from over decades ago. The amendment overwhelmingly failed by a hand count vote.

The OBC reported on adjusting the current Oneida Higher Education Scholarship per a November 15, 2008 GTC meeting. The OBC recommended, starting fiscal year 2010, to tier the funding according to degrees. The baccalaure

Wacky World of Sports...

The Wacky World of Sports was this year's theme for the annual 4th of July celebration. As in year's past, community participation was plentiful and the event was well attended. The parade, which kicked off at 10:30 a.m. on the 4th, was met by spectators along the parade route on Service Road, sitting patiently in their chairs with their morning coffee and plastic bags for the candy. The parade results are listed on this below. Above left, "Wrestling Ring took 1st place in the Float category. Above right, the Oneida Veterans Color Guard lead the way. Center, the Oneida Nations' Royalty greet community members. At right, a young girl gets candy handed to her. There was a lot of 'clowning' around during the parade as well...

The Quality of Life Survey: Part 5

Submitted by the Statistics Office

This is the fifth article reporting on the Quality of Life Survey, a survey that gathers data on various social, cultural, health, economic, educational, governmental and other issues. This month's key finding is: The majority of all respondents are both satisfied with their personal health and health insurance coverage. Additionally, high marks are given to health care services provided, mental and physical health, primary health care services, nutritional value and the Oneida Community Health Center-OCHC. Because this key finding encompasses a large aspect of health care, it has been broken down into three different articles. This first article will cover personal health. The next two articles will cover health care providers and health care coverage.

Once again, keep in mind that Tribal members from all over the U.S. participated in this survey, although, an emphasis was placed on members living on the reservation.

78% of respondents are very or somewhat satisfied with their personal health. The youngest age group (18-24) is the most satisfied at 88%. The next most satisfied group is 25-34 years old at 84%. Satisfaction decreases between the ages of 34 and 64 compared to the younger cohorts, and then rises again with 81% of the oldest group, 65 and over, being satisfied with their personal health. The group with the lowest satisfaction is between 55 and 64 years old, with 69% of respondents reporting that they are satisfied with their personal health.

Employment appears to be a factor in satisfaction with personal health. Those respondents who are out of the workforce (retired, etc) and unemployed are least satisfied with their personal health. 83% of respondents employed outside or within the home are satisfied with their personal health compared to 74% of those out of the workforce and 60% of the unemployed. 82% of students were satisfied with their personal health.

Overall there is relatively no difference between respondents' satisfaction levels when comparing health systems. 79% of respondents who use the OCHC are satisfied compared to 80% of respondents who choose health care outside of the OCHC. Respondents who receive health care outside of the OCHC are 9% more very satisfied than respondents who receive care at the OCHC (27%; 18%).

Next respondents were asked about their physical and mental health. 13% of respondents thought their physical health was excellent and 54% thought they were in good health. 32% of respondents rate their physical health as below average (fair 27%, poor 5%). 86% of respondents feel they are in excellent (34%) or good (52%) mental health. 13% of respondents feel their mental health is fair (12%) or poor (1%). There is an insignificant difference between on and off reservation responses for physical and mental health.

Finally, respondents were asked about the nutritional value of their diets. Overall, 67% rated their diets as excellent (11%) or good (56%). Off reservation respondents had a slightly higher positive percentage (70%), however, it is statistically insignificant.

The complete 2008 Quality of Life report is available on the Oneida Nation of Wisconsin website, www.oneidanation.org. If you have any questions/concerns about the Quality of Life survey, please contact the Statistics Office at (920) 869-4564 or via e-mail at stats@oneidanation.org

Passing On...

Bischoff, Stephen Carl

April 1, 1950 – July 9, 2009

Stephen Carl Bischoff, 59, stepped into the loving presence of God on July 9th after enduring two years of treatment for lung and brain cancer.

Stephen was born April 1, 1950, the first of twin sons to Wilbert G. and Lillian (Cornelius) Bischoff. He grew up, the son of a second-generation German farmer and businesswoman and beautician mother in the gentler 1950's. He experienced both the openness of country life and the connectedness of neighborhood life in Green Bay. Between Black Creek and Bond Street he became a man of diverse abilities with an independent spirit that preferred to do things his way.

He graduated from Seymour High School in 1968 and entered UW-Stevens Point as a Pharmacy major. He later earned his Barber's license and was a Doctor of Motors. He was an intelligent and creative man driven by perfectionism. The fine detail of his work went into everything from restoring cars and Harleys to hanging a picture. Over his lifetime he worked as an auto mechanic, antique dealer and taught himself to repair vintage pocket watches and clocks.

On January 10th, 1970 he got on his Harley and began a 10 day solo journey from Black Creek to Los Angeles, heading south not only looking for warmth but for the meandering roads that would take him through the deserts and mesas of the Southwest. It was an experience that forever made motorcycle riding a part of his spiritual life, a connection to the Divine.

On June 18th, 2009 Stephen married Katie Kralovetz, his love and best friend of 20 years. Rev. Dr. Robert Laubenstein of First United Church of Christ, Green Bay performed the ceremony.

Stephen was a member of the Iroquois Nation, Oneida Tribe, Turtle Clan. His respect for and pride in his Indian heritage matured throughout his life.

He is survived by his wife, Katie, twin brother David, sister Karen, son Sam Grochowski and his fiancée, Lisa Greely, grandson C o n n o r Grochowski and his beloved dogs Billy and Max.

He was preceded in death by his parents and his dogs, dearest Jack and Toby.

He loved antiquing and collecting military items related to World War II and Vietnam and Native American artifacts, BBQ, mild summer days, fall fishing in Bemidji, Minnesota, a hot cup of coffee and studying history. He loved Jesus, through all the twists and turns of his life.

He tended to be a quiet and serious man but was always more concerned about other people more than himself. He sought peace as the greatest of blessings but found it often elusive. He had a style of personal expression that others admired.

He was generous, persevering, helpful, quite charming and so witty. He extended friendliness indiscriminately, respected his country and service and honored the bond of family.

He was cared about by many and loved more deeply than he could ever understand. Those who had eyes to see deeply, saw him as all he was and loved him unconditionally. We look to the day when we will feel his hand take ours as we step into our eternal joy. He will embrace us in loving reunion and walk with us to meet our Lord and join the family of God.

A time of visitation was held from 4pm to 6pm Tuesday, July 14, 2009 at Ryan Funeral Home, 305 N. Tenth Street DePere. A memorial service was held at 6pm with Rev. Dr. Robert Laubenstein officiating. In lieu of flowers a memorial fund has been established. Please go to www.ryanfh.com to express online condolences to the family.

We wish to thank Dr. Winkler, Dr. Gemer, Dr. Coleman, the nurses of Green Bay Oncology especially Stephanie and Nancy, Connie Worzala Cancer Care Coordinator, Oneida Health Center especially the Pharmacy staff and Karen Adams, our co-workers, friends and brothers and sisters in Christ who prayed for Stephen all these long months.

Jordan, Melvin M. Jr.

passed away on July 9, 2009

Jordan, Melvin M. Jr. (St. Louis, MO.) died surrounded by the love of family and friends on July 9, 2009. Beloved husband of Shirley A. Jordan (nee Herrmann); loving father of Michael Jordan, Corinna (Salvador) Tomas, and Phillip (Sheila Gough) Jordan. Proud Pa Pa of Carmen Tomas and step-grandpa of 13; Dear son of Heleema and the late Melvin Jordan, Sr. Beloved brother, brother-in-law, uncle, cousin, and friend to many.

Melvin proudly served in the US Army, member of the Oneida Tribe and VFW Post 2593.

SERVICE: Funeral Friday, July 17, 2009 at 10:00 a.m. at JOHN L. ZIEGENHEIN and SONS (South County), 4830 Lemay Ferry Road, St. Louis, MO 63129. Interment Jefferson Barracks National Cemetery. Memorials to VFW Post 2593 are appreciated. VISITATION: Thursday, July 16, 2009 3:00 - 9:00 p.m.

Smits, Robert "Bob" G.

March 28, 1972 – July 3, 2009

Robert "Bob" G. Smits, 37, died unexpectedly Friday, July 3, 2009. Bob was born in Green Bay, WI a son of Gary and Judy (House) Smits. He was a graduate of West De Pere High School and worked for a local concrete company.

Bob enjoyed hunting, fishing, making others laugh, and he was a jack-of-all-trades. He was a high school wrestler and held a few records. Bob's greatest pleasure was his daughter Brooke and her soccer games or anything in which she was involved.

Bob is survived by his parents: Gary (Judy) Smits; daughter Brooke Smits; brother Joseph (Diane) Smits; fiancée Kim Johnston; stepchildren: Miranda and Brittany Kulow. He is further survived by his grandparents Lloyd (Jean) Smits; aunts and uncles: Judy (Mike) Rottier, Max (Colleen) Smits, Gloria (Mike) Vander Logt, Glen (Julie) Smits, Pete (Penny) Smits, George (Dar) House, Nancy (Tom) Rasmussen, Jerry (Sherry) House; Kim's family, and many nieces, nephews, cousins, and all friends.

Bob was preceded in death by his grandparents George (Ethel) House; and uncles Paul Smits and Richard House.

Visitation for Bob was held Tuesday, July 7, 2009 at RYAN FUNERAL HOME, 305 N. Tenth St, De Pere, from 4:00 to 8:00 PM. Oneida Singers at 6:30 PM and Prayer Service at 7:00 PM. Celebration of Mass of Christian Burial was held at 10:30 am Thursday at Holy Apostles Church, Freedom Road, Oneida with Mother Kristina Henning, Deacon Edmund Powless, and Deacon Deborah Heckel, officiating. Burial followed in the church cemetery. Please visit www.ryanfh.com to send online condolences to the Smits family.

Summers, Patricia "Pat"

Vandehei, Jean M.

November 16, 1922 – July 5, 2009

Jean M. Vandehei, 86, joined her beloved husband Richard in heaven on Sunday, July 5, 2009. She passed away surrounded by her family, leaving behind her legacy of love. Jean was born Nov. 16, 1922, to Ed and Mae (Fries) Mullen. She was very proud of her Irish heritage. She lived in Oneida and was a member of St. Joseph Parish her entire life. She and Richard were married April 12, 1944, and celebrated over 60 years of marriage before his death in 2005.

Jean's faith was a very important part of her life and St. Joseph's was home away from home. She was baptized there, graduated from the parish school, met and married Richard there and sent all 13 of their children to St. Joseph Grade School. She was a member of the Ladies Guard of Honor and frequently volunteered to serve funeral dinners, clean church and organize parish card parties. In her later years, she and Dad counted collections and ushered at Mass as long as she was physically able.

Jean loved to cook and bake. Her children grew up thinking that a choice of two or three desserts at every meal was the norm. The cookie jar, refrigerator and freezer were always fully stocked and she never had a problem putting together a meal for unexpected guests. She also enjoyed her garden and taking care of her house plants. Jean truly looked forward to meeting her YMCA friends three times a week for water aerobics class and joining her card playing group for some lively games of smear.

Jean is survived by six sons and six daughters; Randy (Nancy), Oneida; Gloria (Bob) Scheriff, Green Bay; Audrey (Tom) Mc Carey, Green Bay; Rod (Toni), Oneida; Nancy Skenandore and Jerry Blasczyk, Oneida; Mark (Terry), Grand Junction, Colorado; Joan, Oneida; Julayne (Mark) Vannieuwenhoven, Stevens Point; Scott (Debbie), Krakow; Vicky Vandehei and Pete Cariveau, Pulaski; Brian, Oneida; Richard Jr. and fiance' Holly Van Straten, Pulaski; 35 grandchildren and 40 great-grandchildren. She is further survived by her sister and brothers, L a R o s e VandenLangenberg and Emmet Mullen, Seymour, and Ken Mullen, Green Bay; sisters and brothers-in-law, Vernon Vandehei, Franklin, WI; Dottie Vandehei, Ted and Rosemary Prosser, Alyce Berken, Helen Lemmen, Carol Vandehei, Fay and Reuel Robertson, all of Oneida; and Anita Perock, De Pere. In addition to her husband Richard, Jean was preceded in death by her parents, Ed and Mae Mullen, mother and father-in-law, Frank and Josie Vandehei, her son, Rolly, son-in-law Z. Ron Skenandore; grandchildren John Demuth and Renee' Scheriff; sisters and brothers, Roman and Myrtle Mullen, Lucille Mullen, Eben and Gertrude Mullen, B e r n a r d VandenLangenberg and Elsie Mullen; sisters and brothers-in-law Violet Vandehei, Jim Vandehei, Jeanette and Charles Puyleart; Gerald Berken, Helen and Joe Lemmen, Michael Perock and Bill Vandehei.

Friends could have called St. Joseph Catholic Church in Oneida from 3 to 8pm Wednesday. A parish prayer service was held at 7 pm. Visitation continued after 9:30am Thursday at the church until the Mass of Christian Burial at 10:30am with Fr. David Duffeck officiating and Fr. George Lenzner, Fr. Willard VandeLoo, and Deacon Bobby Doxtator c o n c e l e b r a t i n g . Entombment took place at Nicolet Memorial Gardens and Mausoleum. Please go to www.ryanfh.com to send online condolences to the family. The RYAN FUNERAL HOME of De Pere assisted the family.

Our thanks to Dad's family who did so much for Mom, to the St. Joseph Parish family for all their prayers and support, and to all our family and friends who have been with us every step of the way. Special thanks, to our sister, Joan, for the loving care and companionship you gave Mom so she could live out her life in the home she loved.

And Mom, our deepest, heartfelt thanks for teaching us the joys of giving and caring for others and the rewards of unconditional love.

Oneida Tribal Judicial System:

Judicial Code of Conduct

By Janice L. McLester

Judicial Officer

In 1934, with the passage of the Indian Reorganization Act, tribes were encouraged by the federal government to establish their own laws and justice systems or formal court systems. In 1991, the Oneida Tribal Judicial System, or Appeals Commission was created. In the continued enhancement of our judiciary our goal is to ensure our judicial system inspires confidence in its abilities of dispute resolution.

Judicial Code Chapter Five: Judicial

Code of Conduct. The policy and purpose is to promote the highest ethical conduct in all of its elected Judicial Officers. This Code is intended to create a base from which all Judicial Officers are expected to strive toward improving the health, safety and welfare of the Oneida Nation, citizens of the Nation and persons living in an around the jurisdiction of the Oneida Nation in Wisconsin.

Presented here are listed a few excerpts from the Judicial Code of Conduct:

Article IV, § 4-1 An independent and honest judicial system is the mainstay of trust. This goal should be kept in mind at all times, especially if the Oneida Tribal Judicial System intends to earn the proper respect in the community...§ 4-2 ...all Judicial Officers must remain personally impartial and independent, and act to promote and protect the independence of the Oneida Tribal Judicial System.

Article V, § 5-3 A Judicial Officer shall not lobby or advocate any position before a legislative or executive branch for personal gain. § 5-4 Once elected to the Oneida Tribal Judicial System, Judicial Officers shall not serve as an Advocate for any party before any hearing body within the jurisdiction of the Oneida Tribe of Indians of Wisconsin.

Article VIII, § 8-1-(a)

Judicial Officers should not be swayed by partisan interests, public clamor, political pressure, or fear of criticism and should resist influences on the Oneida Tribal Judicial System by administrators or governmental officials or any others attempting to improperly influence the Judicial Officers in their decisions.

Our mission is to operate as an independent branch of government, entrusted to protect the self-government and sovereignty of the Oneida Nation and rights of its citizens.

See the Oneida Tribal Judicial System's home page to review the complete Judicial Code of Conduct, Chapter V.

A Sincere Yaw^ko

This is a very special thank you to all my family, friends, and the Oneida Community for the friendship and support that we received during the hard time of my son, Jerrald (Jerry) Smith a.k.a JuJu, passing. Very many of you have helped raise him. A special thank you to Claudia Skenandore, Sherwin Rice. We are very grateful.

In Loving Memory of...

Darwin C. John

I knew nothing the day God decided to call your name
And even though I love you the same in life and death,
Part of me went with you when you left because you broke my heart
I know I cannot see you,
But I know you're still by my side.
All I'm left with is our memories
And our family is torn apart.
Nothing seems the same, but one day when God calls our name
We'll be together again

BACKGROUND ON BUSINESS

Tribal Ink

Native American Tattoo Artist Specializing in Native Tattoos

By Steven J. Gandy
Kalihwisaks

A passion for drawing and art led Native American artist Tony Kitchenakow to pursue a career in the tattoo industry over 12 years ago. Since that time Kitchenakow has been licensed by the state and opened two tattoo shops in Wisconsin.

His most recent endeavor, a shop in Green Bay called Tribal Ink/Forbidden Tattoo World & Body Piercing, opened its doors on June 1.

Kitchenakow believes his are the only Native American owned tattoo shops in Wisconsin. He also owns a shop in Milwaukee that he is in the process of selling.

Tribal Ink offers all enrolled tribal members a 25% discount on all work over $100.00 and hopes to become the destination of choice for Native Americans as well as the first choice for law enforcement and military personnel by offering them a 20% discount as well.

The tattoo shop, which has areas that are still in the renovation phase, currently has two artists with plans to increase that number in the months to come.

"I'm looking for native artists or piercers because I want...a whole slew of professional native artists and piercers that can be employed here. That's my long-term goal," Kitchenakow said. "When it's all said and done I want to have a mini barber shop where you can come in and get your hair cut or hang out and play pool, video games etc. and if you want a tattoo, you can get a tattoo."

Kitchenakow began tattooing in Milwaukee and opened Tribal Ink (Milwaukee) over ten years ago. He recently decided he wanted to return to the Green Bay area to be closer to family and raise his children.

"I came up this way...because it's more family oriented. I got all my friends and family up here from when I was a kid and it was just a logical move," he said.

Upon returning to the area Kitchenakow began looking for a suitable location to begin a new tattoo parlor. When he came upon an old motorcycle repair shop on Green Bay's Main Street he knew he found a good location.

"Every city in America has a Main Street and I'm on it," he said.

One thing

Kitchenakow has learned over the years is that to succeed in this industry you need more than a good location.

"The secret to longevity in this business is to do good work. It's a really hard, dedicated thing. I've been doing this for over ten years and I'm still learning new techniques," he said. "You can't make a mistake."

Since Tribal Ink opened its doors last month it has seen a steady increase in the number of customers.

"It's slowly starting to pick up. It's just a matter of letting people know that I'm here. I'm starting to see more customers and the customers we do get love the work," Kitchenakow said.

Kitchenakow also has some advice for new customers thinking about getting their first tattoo.

"Go to a shop. It doesn't have to be my shop, but please go to a tattoo shop. It's better to have somebody that's professional that's been doing it for a while do your first tattoo before you end up with something done poorly. There are hundreds of people out there that tattoo out of their house or their basement and you have to ask yourself why are they doing it out of their homes? It's because they are just starting out and they're not good enough to be in a shop. Also, in a shop, you know you have state-of-the-art sterilization," Kitchenakow explained.

He also recommends that you don't get someone's name tattooed on yourself.

"Please, don't get someone's name put on you. It's an old adage in the tattoo industry, a superstition that if you put somebody's name on you, it might not be tomorrow, it might be a year down the road but your going to want to cover it up."

OBC meeting wrap for July 8, 2009

By Nate Wisneski

Kalihwisaks

The Oneida Business Committee (OBC) met for their regular meeting July 8 at the Norbert Hill Center.

Attendance: Rick Hill – Chairman, Tina Danforth – Treasurer, Ed Delgado – Councilmember, Trish King – Councilmember, Brandon Stevens – Councilmember, Tehassi Hill – Councilmember

Absent: Patty Hoeft – Secretary, Kathy Hughes – Vice-Chairperson, Melinda Danforth – Councilmember

The OBC approved minutes from the May 15 and June 24 OBC meetings and deferred the June 10 meeting minutes.

Follow Up Reports/BC

Directives from Previous Meetings

A resolution creating paid time off for selected color guard members who are tribal employees was deferred once again to the next OBC meeting, which is July 22. The original resolution request was first heard on February 25.

New Business

The Oneida Health Promotion Program requested support for a resolution that would allow the program to apply for a $300,000, three year Department of Health and Human Services, Indian Health Services Health Promotion and Disease Prevention grant. The non-matched grant will focus on weight management and diabetes prevention. The resolution was approved.

The OBC heard a request to direct the Chief Financial Officer (CFO) to compile a report listing the owners or part owners of the companies being sued by Seven Generation's Glory, LLC. The OBC recognized this might be the initial step to a sounder conflict of interest policy within the tribal structure. The request was passed.

The OBC passed a motion to direct the CFO to produce a report to determine if a finder's fee was paid to any individual in regards to the recent purchase of the new Oneida Administration building.

Appointments for the Oneida Nation Arts Board, Anna John Nursing Home Commission, SEOTS Board, and Oneida Personnel Commission were approved.

Travel Requests

"Women Empowering Women for Indian Nations" conference, July 31 – August 2, Fort McDowell, AZ, Tina Danforth. The travel request was approved.

National Indian Gaming Association (NIGA) mid-year session, September 15 – 16, Sante Fe, NM, Brandon Stevens and Melinda Danforth. The travel request was approved.

NIGA Legislative Summit, July 20 – 23, Washington D.C., Rick Hill. The travel request was approved.

Before the committee moved into executive session they approved C o m m u n i t y Development Planning Committee meeting minutes from June 4 and Finance Committee minutes from June 12.

The next OBC meeting will be July 22 at 9 a.m. at the Norbert Hill Center.

ate degree would be funded up to $20,000, the master's degree up to $25,000, and the doctorate degree up to $30,000. The recommendation also allows for an endowment to assist in funding future costs, and to develop a formula to calculate additional costs of attending college.

The report was accepted so a finalized resolution can be presented to the GTC during the 2010 budget meeting.

The remaining agenda including charter reporting requirements, executive session policy, report on the Oneida Housing Authority, 2010 U.S. Census, and reports from the OBC, Oneida Judiciary, Gaming General Manager, and Chief of Staff were tabled and moved to the newly created August 1 GTC meeting.

Rick Hill
Chairman

Sheku,

On Saturday, July 11, 2009, we had a historic meeting of more than 2000 tribal members who came together at General Tribal Council to address the proposed Chairman's Corner...

$10,000 per capita distribution. We came back to our values of working together and taking care of each other. In doing so, we found the right way to do the right thing for ourselves as Oneida people.

GTC acted to protect the future of our children, grandchildren and those generations to come who rely on us to make decisions on their behalf. In coming together as we did on July 11, we helped each other to make the right decision for the Tribe and its members.

General Tribal Council also acted to keep the Tribe in a position of strength so that we can continue to build our financial reserves again. With sufficient reserves, the Tribe will be able to maintain its current level of programs and services provided to the membership, and the means to expand its economic base.

Had the per capita distribution been approved, it would have set the Tribe back for year and years to come. With the size of our growing membership of more than 16,000 members, and these economic times, recovery to a position of financial stability would have been challenging. In every aspect it would have been difficult to recover and replenish what we have today.

We each have a responsibility to help ensure that we are all part of the growth and success of the Tribe. To know where we are and where we are headed as a Tribe and organization requires us to remember where we came from and the struggles we endured prior to the success of gaming. In the process, we learned that the Tribe finds its own wisdom. We as General Tribal Council did this on July 11.

I want to share my personal appreciation for the way General Tribal Council handled the per capita meeting. I believe it is important to continue to create a GTC atmosphere where a wide range of views can be heard and address the many important issues that face Oneida. When the GTC can work together, we can always achieve more.

Thank you to all the speakers who had the strength and courage to express their views on this very important matter of per capita. Let us all continue to create an environment where our members can listen to and learn from each other for the betterment of the Oneida Tribe and may the Creator Bless you.

Yaw^ko,
Rick Hill, Chairman

Treasurer's Report

By Cristina Danforth
Tribal Treasurer

Greetings: Swakweku:

It has been a busy month and I trust that everyone has had a great, fun, and relaxing holiday. On the government side, we have been actively preparing for two GTC meetings in one week and we are fortunate to have the staff's commitment and enthusiasm to get the meetings concluded. Thank you BC support staff!

Our meetings were held on July 6th and 11th at the Radisson with an attendance of approximately 1400 and 2000 participants respectively. These are record turnouts. The meeting on the 6th addressed everything on the agenda except the Semi-Annual reports, which were tabled to August 1. The July 11th meeting addressed the $10,000 per capita request and tabled the Election Law amendments and the Oneida Recreation Law petition to the August 1 GTC meeting as well.

Generally, I am pleased with the attendance, information, and participation of the GTC. Decisions were made with the future of our community in mind which lends for us to continue to provide employment, economic development, programs, services, acquisition of the land, and a sound governmental structure that has oversight on its enterprises and political atmosphere at the local, state, national and tribal level. On a separate note, I feel inclined to notice the Tribal citizens that we as a BC/government are encouraged by the responsible and ethical actions of the new administration at the Oneida Seven Generations Corporation (OSGC). As mentioned before, the OSGC is now managed by Kevin Cornelius and Chairman of the OSGC board of directors is Bill Cornelius. These individuals are to be commended for their efforts to begin the legal process to hold Nature's Way principals accountable for their back rent owed to the corporation.

The principals of Nature's Way are Ron Van Den Heuvel - the majority owner, and Artley Skenandore, Jr. - CEO. In addition, during the timeframe where the $4 million investment was lost, the OSGC manager/director was John Kroner and the Chair of OSGC was Brenda Mendolla-Buckley, both of whom also represented the Tribe's and OSGC's interest on the Nature's Way Board of directors. I bring this to your attention for two reasons:

1) because I feel they are ultimately responsible for the way decisions were made or dismissed during the startup of this investment; and

2) because my office has been receiving phone inquiries and personal contacts about who is responsible for the failure of Nature's Way. Some of these calls are also looking for assistance to recover their lost wages and vacation time owed by the Nature's Way Company. Apparently, Nature's Way absconded with funds that were owed to their employees, not just the Tribe. If I could say more I would, but legally and ethically I need to wait out the legal storm.

On a more positive note, I appreciate the opportunity to serve the great Nation that we call the Oneida Tribe of Indians. May you all be well and healthy.

Letters & Opinions...

Position with Hobart and Tribe?

In February 2008, I responded to a question posed on a listserv that asked what people thought of Hobart hiring Elaine Wilman as the Director of Development/Tribal Liaison. Within a few weeks of starting, she became Hobart's interim Administrator.

Frankly, things are on the brink of getting very bad for Oneida.

I hear nothing. In particular, I don't hear anything from Hobart. I don't expect to. It will be subtle at first, a quiet garnering of support from like-minded people who would prefer that "those Indians" would just get with the program, quit acting like they don't have to follow the rules and pay taxes like every one else.

The next step will be to create opportunities for more people to get on board. Half-truths, misinformation and lack of communication will only add to the fuel of that fire.

You would expect with all the information that is available, we wouldn't have the amount of misinformation that exists in our own backyard. But it does, and I don't see us doing anything to change it. The Tribal organization gives little spurts of information like that's supposed to fix something. What I don't see is people talking to people as people.

Can we make the conscious choice to start talking to our non-Native neighbors? We need to do something more effective than newspaper articles and presentations. It needs to be something meaningful to the people we are trying to talk to.

On the flip side:
Will you say what needs to be said: EMPLOYING THIS PERSON IS UNACCEPTABLE.

I look to the Oneidas who live within the Reservation boundaries that is considered Hobart to speak up LOUDLY to the Tribe's elected leaders, to their non-Native neighbors, and to the Hobart Board of Trustees to say "THIS IS UNACCEPTABLE." I also look to those of us who live elsewhere within the Reservation boundaries to also speak up and I expect the elected leaders to do the same. By remaining silent, we give the impression that we consent to a local government (whose boundaries lay totally within the Reservation) blatantly employing a mechanism to destroy us. Initially, the Press Gazette looked askance at Hobart's choice to hire this woman as unproductive at best. But I believe if We, as a Tribe, don't say anything to that effect, then everyone else will move on to something else, and in the silence, get comfortable with Hobart hiring an anti-Indian activist to "deal" with the Oneidas.

And if we don't do something soon, everyone is going to look at US askance and say "What are you talking about?"

She's just a sweet white-haired grandmother who wants to help make things "better." By getting rid of Oneida as a sovereign Nation. We shouldn't have jurisdiction within our boundaries, we shouldn't have self-determination. According to Wilman, we will "still have our culture" and that is all we should have as far as she's concerned.

Brenda John Stevens,
Tribal Member

Newly Adopted Laws

On June 24, 2009, the Oneida Business Committee adopted the following laws which were processed through the LOC:

Child Support Law

The adoption of this law allows Tribal members to obtain child support orders—and adjustments to existing orders—from the Oneida Appeals Commission. The need for a Tribal child support law came about through concerns raised by Tribal members about the lack of services provided by the State.

The guidelines for establishing child support are based on a percentage of gross income (i.e., 17% for one child, 25% for two children, 29% for three, etc...) These percentages change based on the number of children a person is responsible for in a household, and when there is more than one child support obligation, each obligation is paid in the order that it is incurred. Each custodial parent will be entitled to child support.

Under this Law, the Appeals Commission will approve child support orders and preside over hearings for the establishment of child support. The intent of following the same guidelines as the State of Wisconsin is to provide consistency and to protect the children’s interests from manipulation of the system by any party.

For further information on this law, please contact Child Support Director Lisa Schwartz at 920-490-3701.

Paternity Law

This law allows for the establishment of paternity of children who have at least one parent who is Oneida or an Indian living on the Oneida Reservation. This Law sets out the requirements for a hearing to be held to establish paternity, including the petition and summons requirements.

The Paternity law is intended to be read in conjunction with the Child Support and Child Custody laws, which were presented for adoption at the same time as the Paternity law. After paternity is established, legal custody and support orders would follow.

Child Custody, Visitation, and Placement Law

This law supplements the Tribe’s paternity and child support laws so that custody, visitation and placement may be determined in accordance with Tribal law.

The law includes the following:

- A definition for “best interest of the child”, which includes race, culture and heritage considerations.
- Peacemaking or mediation provisions for parties who agree to those services.
- The establishment of a guardian ad litem program to be administered by the Appeals Commission, with a preference provided for Tribal members who are certified as guardians ad litem.
- Guardian ad litem fees shall be split either equally amongst the parties or based on ability to pay.
- A grandparent, great-grandparent, stepparent, or person who has maintained a relationship similar to a grandparent-child or parent-child relationship with the child, may petition the Commission for reasonable visitation rights.

This Law will not apply to Indian Child Welfare cases or to those situations where the custody of a child needs to be determined because the child is being neglected, abused, or is otherwise in need of protection - those are different circumstances which require different procedures and standards for making custody determinations.

A draft children’s code is currently being developed by the Oneida Child Protective Board to address such matters.

Law Amendments

Amendments to the Hunting, Fishing and Trapping Law

Amendments to the Hunting, Fishing and Trapping Law were adopted so that the law could be updated in time for the 2009 hunting season. The Amendments are based on a joint request from the Oneida Conservation Department and the Environmental Resources Board.

Among other things, these amendments to the law:

- Replace all the various hunting, fishing and trapping licenses with a single sportsman license.
- Allow those with a sportsman license to be accompanied in the field by those who have not reached legal hunting age, although the requirements have not changed for those who are of age: it would still be illegal to be accompanied by anyone of age who did not have a license.

- Allow those who receive a Sustenance permit to do their own hunting. Previously, this law required that those who received a sustenance permit designate a hunter to do the hunting for them.
- Permit Tribal members to operate an unlimited number of traps and snares, and double the allowed amount of traps and snares operated by non-enrolled spouses and dependents to 150.

Funding made possible by a grant from the Wisconsin Arts Board, and Coca Cola.

ONAP Dollars for Arts grant deadline is July 24

The Dollars for Arts Program (DAP) is a re-granting program funded by the Wisconsin Arts Board and the Oneida Tribe of Indians of Wisconsin. DAP provides funds to support excellence, innovations and the development of the arts in Oneida. The arts include both traditional and contemporary styles in dance, literature, music, theatre, and visual arts. There are three funding areas in DAP:

Community Awards – are available to community groups or tribal programs for arts projects that are new and innovative or significantly enhance an existing program in the Oneida community.

Oneida Fellowship Awards – are a $500 cash award to individual artists for artistic excellence in the Oneida community. There is a maximum of two Fellowships available per fiscal year.

Artist Development Awards – are available to artists in the community who have identified a special project that will enhance their professional development and benefit the Oneida community.

The deadline for submitting grant applications is Friday, July 24, 2009, for activities occurring October 1, 2009, through September 30, 2010. The applications are available through the Oneida Nation Arts Program's website oneidanation-arts.org. If you have any questions or wish to receive a hard copy of the application, contact Christine Klimmek at 920-490-3831.

Robert's Rules of Odor

I thoroughly enjoyed the General Tribal Council (GTC) meeting held Saturday, July 11. No, really. Why go outside and enjoy the beautiful summer weather when I could be inside with 2000 plus of my family and friends sharing a laugh, a tear, and loading up on bananas and sweet rolls?

The meeting began under Robert's Rules of Order. That's what the rules are called, not what they result in.

To be fair to the original author of the rules General Henry M. Robert, I've been to meetings in other communities where the rules actually resulted orderly meetings that were finished in an hour or so, about the amount of time it takes to amend a GTC agenda.

Wisely, Oneida Business Committee (OBC) Chairman suspended order for ninety minutes to allow discussion from the floor. If he had not suspended order, anyone could call for a vote before a reasonable number of people had a chance at the microphone resulting in disorder.

The problem with Robert's Rules of Order is that some people aren't interested in the whole order part. They're interested in disrupting the proceedings, taking control of the meeting, and grabbing their shot at the bully pulpit to air the tribe's dirty laundry over and over and over again.

Conversely, there are other tribal members who were trained by ninjas when it comes to killing an agenda item. The question was called; we were to vote yes if we wanted to reject the $10,000 petition and no if we did not. The yea was mighty, the nay, not so much.

I was sitting near the back of the room where it seemed support of the petition was the strongest. I find it hard to believe that no one in that part of the room voted against rejecting the petition. I wonder if there are still some members who are making plans to spend their $10,000.

Procedures and head pain aside, I'm still annoyed that there isn't some way to reject a petition that violates our laws and endangers our tribe. The $10,000 petition violated our per capita ordinance and threatened jobs, land and services. Yet we sat in a room for over four hours all the while paying for staff, room rental, food and $100 per GTC member.

I could start a petition stating the OBC needs to tap dance while twirling plates on sticks throughout the meeting. If I got enough signatures, we would have to meet, talk for four hours, and take a chance that someone will table it so we can meet again.

I'm looking to the OBC for leadership in this area. There has to be something they can do to prevent this incredible drain on our resources. Then again, I really would like to see nine people hoofing it up while crashing plates.

What's News in Indian Country

Cayugas offer to settle NY cigarette tax dispute

AUBURN, N.Y. (AP) ~ The Cayuga Indian Nation is offering to permanently settle its cigarette tax dispute with two upstate New York counties.

On Friday, the Appellate Division in Rochester reversed a state judge who blocked the sales at the LakeSide Trading stores in Union Springs and Seneca Falls.

The Cayugas on Monday offered to pay Seneca and Cayuga counties more than $180,000 in legal bills tied to the case and said they would not sue the counties for millions of dollars in damages for lost revenues, legal costs and the value of cigarettes seized from their stores last November.

In exchange, the nation asked the counties not to challenge the Cayugas’ court win, which allowed them to resume selling tax-free cigarettes.

“The Cayuga Nation recognizes that ultimately it is the residents of the counties who will have to pay for this continued legal fight and the Cayuga Nation thinks it will prevail. Unfortunately for the residents of the counties, they will be stuck with the legal fees and ensuing awards that will come through the damage litigation,” said Daniel French, a Syracuse lawyer representing the Cayugas.

Lawmakers in both counties were scheduled to meet Tuesday to decide on whether to appeal the decision to the Court of Appeals, the state's highest court.

Cayuga County Legislator Raymond Lockwood told The Post-Standard of Syracuse that Cayugas' offer wasn't going to sway him.

“If we don't appeal then we're conceding it's a sovereign reservation, and that would give them the right to do anything they want on the land. They wouldn't be subject to any local laws and it would put gaming back on the table,” Lockwood said.

In late November, sheriff's deputies in the counties raided the Cayugas’ two LakeSide stores, seizing about 17,600 cartons of cigarettes. The Cayugas estimated the cigarettes were worth more than $500,000.

The counties claimed that because the Cayugas do not have an official reservation, they were violating state tax law. The Cayugas claim the stores lie within their former ancestral homeland.

Veterans and Friends take in Brewer Game in Milwaukee

Oneida Veterans, friends and family members joined the Oneida Veterans Department on a trip to Miller Park to see the Milwaukee Brewers take on the St. Louis Cardinals on Thursday July 9th. The trip is the sixth of its kind in recent history.

35 participants met at Parish Hall the morning of the game where they boarded two Oneida Transit shuttles for the trip to Milwaukee. A tailgate style cookout followed their arrival to the Miller Park parking area. Milwaukee lost to St. Louis 5-1.

• Who: Wade Fernandez with special guest Darren Thompson.

• When: Friday, August 14 • 7PM–10PM

• Where: Campanile Center for the Arts, 141 Milwaukee Street Minocqua, WI 54548

• Why: Northwoods NiiJii will use funds raised to support the Woodland Indian Arts and Culture Initiatives, a three-year project to build a Native cooperative art gallery and artist resource center in Lac du Flambeau. Funds will also support the Native Artist Entrepreneurial Program which provides professional practices consultation for Native artists.

Lac du Flambeau, WI – From Menominee Indian Reservation roots, Wade Fernandez knows how to both soothe and rock with versatility. He honors tradition while forging ahead in an ever expanding world of music. Wade is an award-winning vocalist, guitarist, songwriter, native flutist & drummer. In his own words, "Music is a very powerful gift to be returned and shared in a good way."

Among many of his many achievements is the 2006 "Best Male Artist of the Year" title from the Native American Music Awards. Wade performs both solo and with the Black Wolf Band. Notable performances include; The Honor The Earth Tour, Indian Summer Festival in Milwaukee, The Reebok Human Rights Awards, Ed McMahon's Next Big Star, Chicago's World Music Festival, Canada's Aboriginal People's Choice Awards, and Germany's Tollwood Festival. Wade has shared stages with many artists including Jackson Browne, Bonnie Raitt, and The Indigo Girls.

The evening will begin with a performance by Native American flutist Darren Thompson. Of Ojibwe & Tohono O'odham heritage, Lac du Flambeau Tribal member Darren Thompson has emerged as a standout among the new generation of Native American flute performers. As a musician, Darren is highly regarded as a performer that has "the power to take you to another place." He has been invited to just as many places for his musical talent as he has for tackling such issues as stereotypes, religion, politics, social structures, environmental issues, history and culture.

Ridgeview Open House - Another Success!

By Mary Adams

Judicial Officers

The departments located at the Ridgeview Plaza have been hosting an annual open house for past four years. Each department (Environmental, Compliance, Judicial System Tsyunhekw^ Retail) forms a planning committee that seeks sponsorship and funding for this community event. It was estimated that 80 people stopped at our department (Oneida Tribal Judicial System) and participated in our survey.

The Oneida Tribal Judicial System raffled three $40.00 gift baskets made by Tsyunhekw^ Retail. The raffle consisted of answering four out of six questions and a small survey. The questionnaire was to promote education about the Oneida Tribal Judicial System. The survey promoted community awareness concerning our potential revenues from traffic tickets.

The Village of Hobart retains revenue from tickets written while the Oneida Police Department does not. Did you know Oneida has twelve Police Officers with the Oneida Police Department? Did you also know that the Village of Hobart's police force consists of four Police Officers? Those numbers exclude the Chief of Police. Consider, while the Village of Hobart estimated revenue from law and ordinance violations in 2008 equaled $53,000.00, the Oneida Police Department estimated revenue from law and ordinance violations in 2008 equaled 00.00. The reason that the Village of Hobart is able to generate income from issuing law and ordinance citations is because they have traffic laws. One of the reasons Oneida does not generate revenue is mainly because we do not have a traffic law. All revenue collected from Oneida goes to Brown and Outagamie. Our survey simply asked if "Do you support the development of Oneida traffic codes/law?"

This year our vendors consisted of Vicki Matson – Food, Edi Grosskopf – Jafra, Emily

Community members got a first hand look at the tribal entities located in the Ridgeview Plaza during their open house on July 1.

Johnson – Christain Books, Wayne Snelius – Energy Drinks, Laura Cornelius – Massage, Vange Danforth & Sarah Phillips – Reiki.

One of our largest sponsors is the Oneida Community Integrated Food Systems.

The music was by Rick & Ted of the Blue Cats. Volunteers from our department consisted of Janice McLester, Mary Adams, Leland Wigg-Ninham, and Jennifer Webster, staff: Jackie Thomas and Anthony Vera (law intern).

Yukwane Kánus (Our Waters)

By Betsy Galbraith

Environmental, Health & Safety Division

From the slow, dark waters of Dutchman Creek to the fast, crystal clear waters of Thornberry Creek, the waters of the Oneida Reservation are precious and deserve our attention.

When the Oneida people arrived here in the 1830's fish were abundant and the waters pure. After 1900 when lands were allotted and sold off, the waters became polluted by forest removal, agricultural practices, industrial developments, and land use practices. Many of the streams were ditched and straightened allowing for the water to quickly leave the reservation. The water table was significantly affected because of the lack of tree roots to retain water. Many streams were nearly dry for most of the year, only running in the spring or after major rain events. This condition did not provide fish or other aquatic habitat on a year long basis in many of Oneida's streams and waterways.

Since the Oneida Tribe began buying back reservation lands they have implemented watershed restoration programs designed to decrease stormwater pollution and increase stream flows, water quality, and fish and wildlife habitat. In 1980 the Oneida Nation enacted The Shoreline Protection Ordinance to clean up and restore the health of Duck Creek.

We've recently celebrated some accomplishments/milestones involving Oneida's surface waters. The first was restocking brook trout after 10 years of work focusing on the health of the Trout Creek Watershed. The second was the 10th Annual Youth & Elder Fishing Event, which brought over 400 community members together to celebrate culture, community, and natural resources. These successes could not have occurred without many years of dedication, partnerships, and community involvement. I hope we can use these accomplishments as a springboard for future community involvement.

There are continuing challenges to managing water resources; including conflicting land use interests, climate change impacts, and funding. Without community involvement in developing a management plan, we may not get a full picture of what conflicting interests exist in the community, and how we can sustainably manage our precious, yet finite water resources while meeting growing community needs.

As we face the dual challenges of a faltering economy and climate change, we may find it easy to make short-term choices, but more difficult to make the right long-term decisions. With the support of the Oneida community, we will continue to make progress toward restoring the environment. We will also continue to educate the community on the needs and successes of Oneida's aquatic environments so they can be sustained and improved for the next seven generations. Oneida's waters are a vital part of Oneida's culture and resources, and "clearly worth preserving".

Wisconsin to Receive up to $5,400,000 for Rebate Program to Encourage Purchases of Energy Efficient Appliances

WASHINGTON, DC - U.S. Department of Energy Secretary Steven Chu today announced today that Wisconsin will receive up to $5,400,000 in funding from the American Recovery and Reinvestment Act for its state-run rebate program for consumer purchases of new ENERGY STAR qualified home appliances. The new program underscores the Obama Administration's commitment to make American homes more energy efficient, while helping to support the nation's economic recovery.

"Appliances consume a huge amount of our electricity, so there's enormous potential to both save energy and save families money every month," said Secretary Chu. "These rebates will help families make the transition to more efficient appliances, making purchases that will directly stimulate the economy and create jobs."

The new funding will be awarded to states and territories, through their energy offices, using a formula set forth in the Energy Policy Act of 2005. Each state or territory is required to submit a plan that specifies which ENERGY STAR appliance categories will be included in their rebate program, the rebate level for each product type, how the rebates will be processed, and their plan for recycling old appliances. States and territories must first file an initial application expressing their intent to participate by August 15, 2009, followed by a full application by October 15, 2009. Approximately 10-25 percent of each award will be spent on administrative costs.

States and territories will receive 10 percent of the funds after submitting the initial application with the balance awarded after their program plans are approved. DOE anticipates that a vast majority of funding will be awarded by November 30, 2009. The complete Funding Opportunity Announcement (FOA) number DE-FOA-0000119 can be viewed at grants.gov.

Eligible Appliances

States have the flexibility to select which residential ENERGY STAR qualified appliances to include in their programs and the individual rebate amount for each appliance. DOE recommends that states and territories focus their program efforts on heating and cooling equipment, appliances, and water heaters as these products offer the greatest energy savings potential. ENERGY STAR qualified appliance categories eligible for rebates include: central air conditioners, heat pumps (air source and geothermal), boilers, furnaces (oil and gas), room air conditioners, clothes washers, dishwashers, freezers, refrigerators, and water heaters.

The Recovery Act appropriated funds for the program to help achieve the national goals of spurring economic growth, creating jobs, saving energy and reducing greenhouse gas emissions. States and territories can use these funds to leverage the utility companies and energy efficiency program sponsors in their area.

For more information on these and other Recovery Act related funding opportunities, visit www.energy.gov/recovery

Art and Wellness Camp 2009

The Oneida Nation Arts Program just completed its week-long 4th annual Arts and Wellness Camp for kids between the ages of 7 and 12 years old. This year's theme was taken from the Peace Maker, Finding the Good in Each of Us. The kids created an original performance piece and art project about peace making. The kids also participated in martial arts, tree climbing, and games. Leading the camp this year was an outstanding staff of Oneida interns, Gabrielle Metoxen, Dominique Danforth, Jerah Doxtator, Yako Lor-Brooks, Jerrel Kurowski, Sunshine Neuness, and Mercy Metoxen. Artists assisting were Coleen Bins and Sheldon Hampton.

Above: Artist Coleen Bins Helps Trent Paider with his silk screen painting, that will be hung up for the public art piece.

A Path Well Walked

By John Pavak

Director of the Oneida Head Start Program

Recently Valerie Groleau appeared with the Oneida Business Committee to receive its congratulations for 25 years of service to the Oneida Head Start Program. In that period of time Valerie served as a Home Visitor, Teacher, Family Service Worker, Assistant Director and twice Acting Director. Her duties in 25 years were many and varied. It is believed that she had served in excess of 1500 children of the tribe. In her last years with the Oneida Head Start she saw the program honored for two perfect reviews from the federal government and the last review there was only one finding. Best of all she was able to hear the current leader of the American Indian/Alaska Native division of the National Head Start Program tell the leadership of the Oneida Head Start that our program was being considered for recognition as a "Model" Program for the United States. When you see Valerie, wish her well on her retirement and tell her "Job Well Done".

Austin Straubel gets $2.2 mil

Governor Jim Doyle today announced an American Recovery and Reinvestment Act (ARRA) award to make needed improvements at the Austin Straubel International Airport, in Green Bay. The $2,265,000 project will reconstruct outboard panels on Runway 18/36, rehabilitate Dutchman’s Creek culvert, and reconstruct connecting taxiways M3 and M4. The project is scheduled to begin in June 2009 and should be completed by October 2009.

Austin Straubel International Airport is located southwest of the city of Green Bay. It is a primary service air carrier airport, with two concrete runways, 7,700 feet and 8,200 feet in length. The airport has a modern terminal building providing passenger services to the traveling public. There are 115 aircraft based at the airport, and approximately 70,500 take-offs and landings occur each year.

Anti-tobacco summit coming to Madison

Oshkosh, WI – Early-bird registration for the 5th National Summit on Smokeless and Spit Tobacco is now open. The Summit is scheduled for Sept. 21–23, 2009, at the Monona Terrace in Madison, Wis., and is the only national conference for professionals and advocates in prevention and cessation of smokeless tobacco use.

With a focus on youth issues, there are more than 40 specialized breakout sessions scheduled to take place during the Summit. A youth activism event, fun run/walk and trolley tour of Madison will also take place during the second day of the Summit.

The theme for this year’s program New Products, New Challenges and a New Generation of Advocacy, will feature Jack Henningfield as keynote speaker. Henningfield is an adjunct professor at Johns Hopkins University School of Medicine’s Department of Psychiatry and Behavioral Sciences. Henningfield brings 16 years of public service at the National Institutes of Health’s National Institute on Drug Abuse (NIDA).

Many municipalities are going smoke-free and the tobacco industry is shifting strategies toward new and harmful smokeless tobacco products. New products, such as flavored dissolvable tobacco packets (“snus”), have recently been introduced into the market, constituting a new generation of nicotine delivery systems designed to appeal to a new generation of users.

The Summit is designed for local, state and federal tobacco prevention and control administrators, public health educators, health care professionals, school and youth-serving agencies, higher education staff, and students.

A preview of the full conference program is available to download at the website. To view the complete program or fee schedule or to register for the Summit, visit www.uwosh.edu/smokelless/registration

Bryce Hill (left),13, takes instruction from Thornberry Creek at Oneida’s golf pro Mark Becker (right) during the Junior Golf Program on Friday, July 10. The group meets on Fridays at Thornberry Creek at Oneida until July 31 for the six week program. Oneida youth work with golf professionals and Oneida tribal employees to learn the game of golf. The group takes part in instruction then takes to the course for nine holes of golf.

Yaw^ko from Oneida Powwow Committee

Thanks Oneida
The 37th Annual Oneida Powwow was recently completed. It was a huge success. I want to THANK all the individuals and tribal programs that helped make it a success. Powwow Committee members, DPW, Accounting, Security, OPD, Emergency Management, Tourism, Retail, Oneida Casino, NHC Custodial, NHC Maintenance, NHC Kitchen, Risk Management, Radisson, Coca Cola, K a l i h w i s a k s , Volunteers, OBC, Veterans, Veterans Services Office, and Garth Webster. Each year I miss an individual or program but this is truly a community run event and I want to thank everyone for their help. If you have any concerns or suggestions for improvement please contact me.

American Cancer Society Mission

The American Cancer Society is the nationwide, community based voluntary health organization dedicated to eliminating cancer as a major health problem by preventing cancer, saving lives and diminishing suffering from cancer through research, education advocacy, and service.

THERE IS NO FINISH LINE...UNTIL WE FIND A CURE!

Oneida Relay for Life honors cancer survivors

On July 24-25, 2009, the Oneida Relay for Life Committee will be celebrating its 13th year of raising funds on behalf of the American Cancer Society. Funds raised at this event go toward cancer research, educational programs, services for cancer patients and their families. This year more than 200 Oneida residents will volunteer or participate in the American Cancer Society 2009 Oneida Relay for Life.

Oneida's Relay for Life is a pledge-based event that allows participants to walk through a designated course along the Norbert Hill Center track while raising funds to help in the fight against cancer. This event begins with an opening ceremony on Friday evening at 6:00 p.m. behind the Norbert Hill Center.

The main highlight of the event is the Luminaria Ceremony which is dedicated to the survivors of cancer and to remember those who lost their battle with this disease. The track is surrounded by luminary bags with inspirational and personal messages to those who lost their battle and to those who are survivors. This is a very emotional and poignant portion of the event where survivors lead the first walk around the track with all the care givers and all participants following.

Are you interested in walking around the track during our "Survivor Lap?" If so, please contact any one of the following individuals listed below. Also, luminary bags can be purchased for a suggested donation of $10.00 to remember and send personal messages in or honor or in memory of a loved one. You can decorate them yourself or we can do that for you. Receive a match play for the 1st 200 people to purchase a luminary bag! Contact any one of the individuals for luminary bags or ways you can help.

Other highlights of the events include a Kidz Corner for children, food, campsite judging, movies, music, silent auctions, raffles and other activities. Another fundraising highlight event is the "Dude looks like a lady contest." This is where the men from each team dresses up in women's clothes and walks around the track with their purses. The "dude" who gets the most donations while walking the track is the reigning "Relay Queen." This is a fun event for all and a "must see it to believe it."

If you don't have a team but would like to help a team walk, please give us a call or email any one of the following individuals listed below. Volunteers are always welcomed as well.

Please join us as we help support those fighting cancer and provide support to families who have lost loved ones to cancer. Celebrate, Remember & Fight Back!!!
