Site I road maintenance called into question

By Nate Wisneski

Kalihiwisa

Drivers avoiding potholes is a familiar sight in Site I in Oneida.

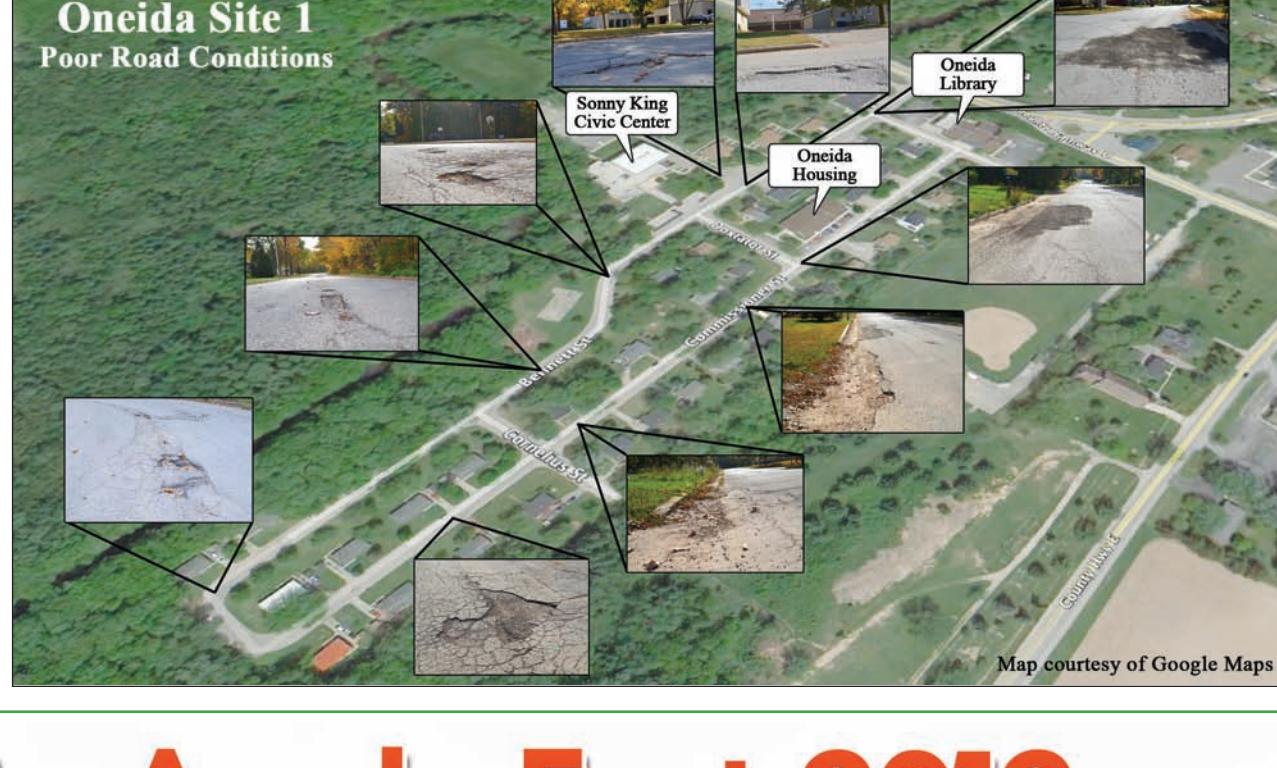

The roads within Site I fall under the jurisdiction of the Village of Hobart. They are also responsible for snow removal within the site.

The village uses a rating system that categorizes roads for repaving, reconstruction and maintenance. Due to the amount of traffic, roads inside Site I are considered lowest priority for the village.

"Examples of high priority roads are arterial roads such as North Overland Road, Trout Creek Road, South Overland Road, and Sunlite Drive due to the volume of traffic," said Allyn Dannhoff, the village's Director of Neighborhood Services. "Collector roads such as Hidden Trail, Florist Drive, and North Pine Tree Rd are classified as Medium Priority. Lesser

Kevin Washburn confirmed as Interior's Assistant Secretary for Indian Affairs

Deputy Assistant Secretary for Indian Affairs has ties in Oneida

By Dawn Walschinski

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Secretary of the Interior Ken Salazar today applauded the Senate's confirmation of Kevin K. Washburn, a member of the Chickasaw Nation of Oklahoma, to serve as Assistant Secretary for Indian Affairs at the Department of the Interior. The Senate confirmed Washburn's nomination, which President Obama announced in early August, by unanimous consent last night.

"As we continue to strengthen the integrity of the nation's government-to-government relationship with federally-recognized Indian tribes and empower Native American and Alaska Native communities, Kevin Washburn will be an outstanding addition to our leadership team and a vital asset for President Obama's initiatives in Indian Country," Salazar said.

Kevin Washburn

"Kevin's professional and academic achievements and his thorough knowledge of the critical issues facing the Nation's First Americans will help us to fulfill the President's commitment to empower tribal governments and advance their economic and social goals."

Washburn is Dean of the University of New Mexico School of Law, a position he has held since June 2009. Prior to that, he served as volume collector roads such as a West Adam Drive and Nathan Drive are classified as priority. Finally local residential roads that do not collect large volumes of traffic from other roads are classified as lowest priority."

Traffic volume again determines how road repairs are applied.

"The Village, similar to most communities, evaluates its roads using the PASER rating criteria. This rating method assists in categorizing roads that a community should begin planning for repaving, reconstruction," Dannhoff said. "Village staff then evaluates those roads rated lower on the scale for various failure characteristics to further prioritize roads for repaving, reconstruction. Roads exhibiting the most severe failure characteristics are considered for repaving, reconstruction based upon available budgetary dollars."

With the majority of residents in Site I being Oneida tribal citizens the tribe's Department of Public Works fields concerns about the roads.

"We often get complaints concerning the road conditions in Site I. However, it is difficult to address the complaints as Site I is not under tribal jurisdiction. This is an ongoing battle between the Tribe and the Village of Hobart," said Mike Finn, Transportation Planner for the tribe.

Dannhoff even states the tribe is responsible for some of the road conditions in Site I.

"It should also be pointed out that some of the potholes and deteriorated sections are the result of utility repair work performed in past years by the area water utility. It is the contractor and utility's responsibility to make these repairs. This Department has discussed this with the Oneida Tribe of Indian's Public Works Department. At this point, we have not been advised when the responsible utility or contractor will make these repairs," he said.

Shirley Hill has lived in Site I for 41 years and feels the roads have been neglected.

"Site I streets have never received the maintenance they require considering the amount of occupants and vehicles that are located at this Site," Hill said. "I recall one time that the roads were resurfaced and that was following the reconstruction of the water and sewer system. As for maintenance there is none that I know of or have witnessed. The only time the gutters are cleaned is when we get a drenching rain."

According to Hill, the problem isn't specific to potholes.

"They start plowing and dropping those heavy blades when there is two inches of snow and when there is two feet of snow you are lucky to see them until everyone else is plowed out," said Hill.

Some good news is on the horizon for those frustrated with the road conditions in Site I.

"We have identified some limited areas in Site I in need of repair, however, until the utility patch work and present DOT Highway 54 construction affecting Artley and Elm Streets are completed, we are delaying repair efforts to avoid repairs being displaced by these other efforts," said Dannhoff.

The Village does its best to address known potholes in a timely manner. Due to the physical land size of the Village, we do not and cannot patrol Village streets on a scheduled basis, so it is conceivable there may be potholes unknown to the Public Works Division. Therefore, we rely on and encourage residents to contact the Neighborhood Services Division at (920) 869-3809 or (920) 655-3719 to advise of any known potholes. The Village has addressed potholes and repairs in the past and will continue to with these efforts," he added.

Loretta Says... It's Always Fair Weather

Loretta Metoxen • Oneida Tribal Historian

Ongoing Kalihwisaks Column • Providing a connection to the past

Farmers in our area are totally dependent on the weather. Certainly they look for rain to regularly water their crops. They often pay attention to the Farmer's Almanac to give them guidance about when to plant for the best possible production.

Some springs are too wet. Last March was too warm, so that the fruit trees were fooled into blossoming early—and then came the frost. So, apple harvests are now less than optimum and the cherry harvest on Door Peninsula was a failure. Although there was a maple syrup harvest, it too suffered the variances of this spring.

It seems, that inadvertently, we planted our garden at just the right time this year. Everything grew with abundance—potatoes, early red and Yukon Gold, summer squash and various kinds of winter squash, pumpkins, all varieties of tomatoes, two varieties of sweet corn, carrots, beans, and Swiss chard.

I wanted to find out if sweet potatoes would grow in this climate, so I ordered twelve plants of a variety called Beauregard. The catalogue said they matured in 90 days. They not only matured, but grew to be about two pounds.

As children, we often had to harvest root vegetables from the garden when the ground was partially frozen and it would be quite cold. Beets, rutabagas, and carrots would have to be topped and put away for the winter in the root cellar. A light frost does not hurt these vegetables. In fact, it causes the vegetables to be sweeter. Potatoes cannot be treated this way though, because they, too, would tend to be sweet, which we would avoid by harvesting them earlier.

Violent weather came and went. John Rice's barn (now Bridgell's on Ranch Road) blew away in a tornado while he was bringing his herd of cows home from the pasture in the evening at milking time. That happened in the early '40s. When I was eleven, I was pulled through the upstairs dormer window by a tornado. I had been sleeping on the daybed near the window because I had not been feeling well.

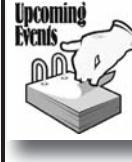

When I woke, I was half way through the window and both my fore arms were cut up. From the discussions that I heard immediately after about the incident, all the windows and doors of the house were blown open, but the house prevailed. Many years later, about 1967, I witnessed three tornadoes at once, high aloft in the sky, moving from west to east, again near Ranch Road. I called Herb Bomalaski at the Airport Weather Station to ask him if he put out a report on the radio. He said he would do so in five minutes and I told him the tornadoes would be right over his station by that time.

I attended Silvery Summit grade school for three years. It was two miles from our farm. Then I attended St. Joseph's School in Oneida. It was also two miles to walk there. There were times when we would be drenched to the skin when caught in a rain squall. It was with great difficulty that we children walked that distance in severely cold weather. Neighbors and friends were kind enough to take us in for a few minutes, get us warmed up and get us on our way again. Nala Baumgartner served me some plum dumplings one time when I stopped in at her house. Mason Wheelock and his daughter, Mary, gave us warm tea or cocoa, too.

I still had to walk two miles to catch the high school bus, whether I went to West De Pere or Seymour. On one winter occasion, I got off the bus at Hintz's farm on First Ridge and stumbled over the frozen furrows in the field, down to Duck Creek and up to Second Ridge and Tony Van Schyndel's farm. It was eleven below zero and the wind was blowing fiercely. Previously, there had been a thaw, so there was a significant amount of water on the thick layer of ice already on the Creek. Then the top layer froze with the drop in temperature, but didn't freeze hard enough. I broke through the ice, so I had that to contend with. When I arrived at Tony's house, they said I looked like I had been in a war, because I had a bloody nose that froze all over my face. My two index fingers also froze. That particular event will never be erased from my mind.

When I was an elementary school student, at Silvery Summit school, I learned two poems. I remember them still. The First Snowfall by James Russell Lowell: "The snow had begun in the gloaming; And busily all the night; Had been heaping field and highway; With a silence deep and white."

OBC approves $2.19K loan to HA Church at Sept. 26 meeting

By Dawn Walschinski

Kalihwiaks

The Oneida Business Committee (OBC) approved a $219,000 loan to Holy Apostles Church at the Wednesday, September 26 meeting.

Present: Chairman Ed Delgado, Vice Chairman Greg Matson, Treasurer Tina Danforth, Secretary Patty Hoeft, Councilmembers Paul Ninhama, Melinda Danforth, Vince DelaRosa, David Jordan and Brandon Stevens.

Oaths of Office

John Breuninger took the oath of office for the Oneida Nation Veterans Affairs Committee.

The OBC took a couple of additions early on in the meeting. The first was to approve a National Congress of American Indians (NCAI) resolution supporting the Tribal Child Support Programs to have direct access to the Federal Parent Locator

Service and Federal Income Tax Refund Offset Program.

The second addition was approval of a $219,000 loan to Holy Apostles Church for repairs. Wendell Lester presented some of the history of the first Episcopal Church built in the area, including land donations made by the church in the 1940's to create the ball fields and 1960's for the Site I housing area.

"We are in need, desperate need," he said.

The loan was approved.

An amendment was added to request from the Development Division Director a report that shows the long term maintenance plan for the bridge and that the report be sent to the Community Development Planning Committee.

The OBC tabled approval limited waiver of sovereign immunity for UBS Reality Investors to negotiate fees.

The annual and quarterly trade back for cash was referred to Chief Financial Officer (CFO) Larry Barton for a written recommendation.

Responsibilities of Leadership

Sovereignty lies within all of us as human beings, it is a God given right. As a Tribal nation, "we the people" come together to create a national sovereignty and within that national sovereignty is the right of the people to expect that their individual and common interests are both respected and protected. Unfortunately, most nations wind up neither respecting or protecting the people and instead abuse and diminish those rights (only this morning I watched on television, a woman being executed for adultery while the man who was party to the act bore no consequence). With our Tribe, the people have invested that responsibility of respecting and protecting the people to the General Tribal Council and the Oneida Business Committee (OBC).

Carrying out the directives of the General Tribal Council has been a Constitutional priority of my office since taking my Oath of Office in August of 2011. Over the years the Oneida people have guided and commanded that elected leaders carry out their Oaths. In accordance with that Oath, a Chairman must make decisions with great care and in accordance with Tribal law, while at the same time always being aware that those decisions have consequences upon the lives of our people, our resources, and often times, our very sovereignty as an Indian nation.

Early in this term, concerns were brought to my Office regarding possible misapplications of federal grant monies occurring at the Oneida Housing Authority. As a result, I directed that an audit be conducted. The audit findings determined that there were indeed serious problems of missing materials and misapplied funds amounting to tens of thousands of dollars. Note: All Tribal members have the right to view that audit by calling the Tribes Internal Audit Department at 920-869-4330. When the audit was completed, I requested an investigation by the Tribe's Internal Security Department. That investigation should be completed within the next few weeks. The process by which a Tribal investigation is conducted is determined by Tribal law and it is Tribal law that General Tribal Council elected me and my fellow OBC members to follow. In closing on this issue, none of this what I have said is earth-shaking or extraordinary action, its simply following Tribal rules and regulations to protect who the Oneida people are, what they want, and what they have directed Tribal leaders to carry out.

Community Meetings

For a time, I have been asking the OBC to support monthly community meetings. In August the Committee voted to schedule monthly community meetings on the first Saturday of every month at 10:00 A.M. to Noon at Ridgeview Plaza. A presentation at 10 a.m. and at 11 a.m., chili, fry bread and discussion is on the agenda. We anticipate that upcoming GTC petitions will be discussed, however, if the people wish to discuss other pertinent issues such as land claims and other things, those issues may also be part of the agenda for the meeting.

In the past, community meetings have been scheduled randomly, and this has not resulted in the opportunity for Tribal members to attend and participate in their government. Monthly meetings on the first Saturday of each month can provide a continuity and reliability in time and place. The Tribe needs the voice of Tribal members, the people, to give their presence, their thoughts and their opinions.

Thank you for Reading.

Sincerely,
Ed Delgado
Oneida Tribal Chairman

Treasurer's Report

By Cristina Danforth
Tribal Treasurer

Sheku,
The Permanent Executive Contingency Fund is a way for the Oneida Tribe to ensure cash is available should our revenue sources be interrupted for some unforeseen situation. This fund will allow the Tribe to cover cash needs until operations return to normal, without having to take out additional debt. Think of the Permanent Executive Contingency Fund as the Tribe's savings account.

The Permanent Executive Contingency account can only be used for the following items and no other funding source is available:

1. Debt payments for

- principal, interest, and services fees
- 2. Employee payroll and associated taxes
- 3. Payments to Gaming and Retail vendors
- 4. Payments to Governmental operations vendors
- 5. General Tribal Council mandates.

As of August 31, 2012 the Permanent Executive Contingency had a balance of approximately $12.4 million. Best practice indicates governments should have a contingency fund that at a minimum is equal to two months of governmental expenditures. This means the Oneida Tribe's contingency should be at a minimum approximately $35.6 million dollars. We are diligently building the Permanent Executive Contingency to an acceptable level by setting aside $2.5 million dollars in each fiscal year's budget. This practice will continue until the balance grows to a range of $35 to $40 million.

The Permanent Executive Contingency fund has played an important part in portraying the Oneida Tribe's commitment to a stable financial future to our creditors. The Tribe's commitment to creating a savings account, despite lack of growth in revenue sources, is evidence of the Tribe's ability to control spending. The financial world and our creditors value this commitment and view investing in the Tribe as less risky than some of our neighboring Tribes. The Tribe is able to benefit through lower interest and fee costs in the credit market.

Travel Reports

The OBC approved travel reports for the Republican National Convention, August 26-29 Tampa, FL.

Travel Requests

The OBC retro-approved travel to Indian Summerfest, BC Meet and Greet, September 7-9, Milwaukee, WI and for travel to Special Committee on State/Tribal Relations, Sept. 25, 2012, Red Cliff, WI. At the meeting, the tribes discussed state legislation that would allow tribal colleges to offer classes that are mandatory for Operating While Intoxicated (OWI) violations. The money for these services would follow the individual allowing tribes to get paid for classes and Alcohol and Other Drug Abuse (AODA) treatment. The tribes also supported legislation that would allow tribal conservation officers to enforce state law.

The OBC approved travel for Councilmember Stevens to the Haskell Board of Regents fall meeting, Oct. 2-5, Lawrence, KS.

Stevens' travel will be paid for by Haskell.

Additions

The OBC discussed the status of the Oneida Housing Authority (OHA) funding. According to Delgado OHA had been urged by The Eastern/Woodlands Office of Native American Programs Administrator Kevin Fitzgibbons in the Housing and Urban Development (HUD) office in Chicago to spend any unspent Native American Housing Assistance and Self Determination Act (NAHASDA) grant funds as soon as possible due to political uncertainty with the upcoming national elections.

Preliminary plans include ramping up planned building of elderly duplexes within 26 months. The discussion was delegated to the Community Development Planning Committee.

The OBC retro-approved a travel request to meet with Representative Vos, Sept. 18 in Madison, WI.

The OBC approved a resolution recognizing Columbus Day as Indigenous People's Day and forwarded a copy of the adopted resolution to Public Relations and Tourism, to come up with a public relations strategy working to get the word out.

After a lunch break, the OBC took up a Community Development follow up which resulted in moving forward with bringing on consultant Mr. Fred Bersch to work on community development and housing development issues and to have the contract terms worked on by the Community Development Planning Committee (CDPC) and to have the CDPC work with the Chief Financial Officer to complete the contract terms and to bring back to the Oneida Business Committee for final approval.

An amendment was made to the main motion by Tina Danforth to use planning and community development budget.

7. Health Board By-laws memo

Motion by David Jordan to defer to the Legislative Reference Office to work on as an advisory board, seconded by Patty Hoeft. Motion carried with two oppositions:

Opposed: Paul Ninhom, Brandon Stevens

For the record: Brandon Stevens stated I think the motion is too vague where we're going to come back for an understanding again about what we're doing and what our direction was today. I think we needed a more clear direction on what we're doing with the advisory board. If it's going to be pushed back to the visioning, the Comprehensive Health Division Strategic meetings, I would like that to happen, but we don't know if it's going to happen. That's why if the motion was a little clearer we'd have a little better direction on what our direction is going to be about the advisory board and if it's even needed after the strategic visioning meetings have taken place.

Open Session

1. Consider FY 2013 Budget revisions to address emerging Health Center MIS and Tribal MIS needs

Sponsor:

Ed Delgado

Motion by Melinda J. Danforth to allow an unbudgeted expenditure of $490,000 in FY12 to be included in the Technology Projects budget with the remaining 110,000 to come from M&I funds, seconded by Vince Delarosa. Motion carried unanimously

For the record: Vince DelaRosa stated I do support the motion. The consequences of not moving forward and running into a situation over the next 14 days, as it relates to penalties that we could enjoy or not enjoy at the health center are dramatic. So we have to get this project done for whatever the underlying reasons are, these issues have to be settled and we have to move forward because the financial implications are much worse than the actual cost of actually doing this project in this particular budget cycle so I support moving forward with this expenditure.

'Get out the Vote' Flash Mob invades downtown Broadway, Oneida Style

Members of the Oneida community gathered for a flash mob at the Farmer's Market on Broadway to promote citizens to vote in the upcoming election on Wednesday, September 26th.

Special to Kalihwisaks

Oneida, WI — A crowd of people mosey down the sidewalk of a lively street, music is being played from a nearby speaker; suddenly one person breaks out into dance. It isn't long until another anonymous person joins them, then another, until the street is full of dancing people. It's called a flash mob; a secret planned event where a random group of people meet in a public place for a brief activity and then disperse.

Oneida Nation Arts Program (ONAP) was contacted to put together an inclusive community event to promote voting in the upcoming presidential election this November. The objective was to orchestrate a flash mob in which Green Bay community members would unexpectedly break out into a choreographed dance routine in a public place.

With the help and dedication of many community members, the flash mob was ready to strike on Wednesday, Sept. 26th, at the Green Bay Farmer's Market on Broadway the flash mob performed for many unsuspecting market goers at 5:35pm.

This event is geared to encourage younger generations of voting age to get informed and make their voice heard in this year's presidential election, but even more importantly it is a wonderful excuse for a community to come together and do something positive and fun.

Voting will take place on Tuesday, November 6, 2012. Check with your local municipalities for locations.

Exercise your right to Vote! November 6, 2012

Brothertown Nation celebrates history, future

By Sharon Roznik

The Reporter, Fond du Lac

FOND DU LAC, Wis. (AP) ~ For close to a decade Loretta Metoxen, an Oneida Indian, struggled to gain back the tribal history of the Brothertown Nation.

And her work paid off. The collection, including dozens of letters written by tribal members who served in the Civil War, were on display Sept. 15 at the grand opening of the Brothertown Indian Nation's new community center in Fond du Lac.

The day was marked with reaction to a recent federal ruling that declines to acknowledge the Brothertown Nation as an Indian tribe under federal law.

"Every day I learn more about the people in my community. One of the great things about my Senate office is how it is becoming a living understanding of each of my Senate districts," said State Senator Jessica King, who attended the event.

Hundreds of tribal documents, including original court records, photographs and letters dating back to 1795 had been collected by a man named Otto Heller, a farmer, cheese maker and historian who lived in Stockbridge along the shores of Lake Winnebago.

As Loretta tells the story, when Otto Heller passed away the old farmstead along the lake went to his grandson and when his grandson passed away it was given to the grandson's best friend, a man named Jerry.

One day, Jerry was rummaging through the old house, by then neglected and rundown, and he came across a trunk on the enclosed porch filled with yellowed papers.

"He looked inside and there was the history of the Brothertown tribe," Loretta told The Reporter of Fond du Lac. "And he decided he wanted a million dollars for it."

She explains that although she is Oneida, and lives on the Oneida reservation serving as the tribal historian, its members are intertwined with the Brothertown and Stockbridge-Muncie nations - going back at least 200 years.

The Brothertown tribe descends from seven separate tribes that lived in the Northeast. They came to Wisconsin, traveling on foot and by boat, in the early 1800s.

"They always say life is a journey. From New England to New York to Wisconsin and beyond we look forward to our future together as a proud nation," said Richard Schadewald, chairman of the Brothertown Nation. He spoke to the large crowd gathered at the community center to celebrate the milestone event.

Loretta said about four years ago, after having all the items appraised, Jerry finally acquiesced and sold the historical collection for $75,000 to the Oneida Nation, because the Stockbridge Nation did not have the resources for such an acquisition.

Now the records are in safe keeping with the Oneidas and the Stockbridge tribe continues to make payments on the treasured collection that contains the original treaties between the U.S. Government and the "peace keepers" of the tribe. There is also a complete list of war veterans that dates from the Revolutionary War to World War II.

"We will be taking good care of it and putting it in a format that is accessible to researchers," Loretta said.

Jill Watson from the University of Wisconsin Foundation presented the Brothertown Nation with the Samson Occom Legacy Award for encouraging Native Americans to pursue careers in medicine. Occom was a Native American Presbyterian preacher who organized Christians among various Mohegan and Pequot bands in New England and eastern Long Island into the Brothertown Indians.

Tribal Council member Faith Ottery said the government's decision declining to acknowledge the Brothertown Indian Nation as an Indian tribe under federal law allows the tribe to finally move forward.

"This has been a 32-year process. Now our only course is to go through the political process and petition Congress, so that is where we are now," she said.

The city of Fond du Lac has a long-standing connection with the Brothertown people, Loretta said. They have worked here for generations and served as civic officers in their own counties and at the state level.

"We are all connected. We are here and we are happy," she said.

Milwaukee legislators want increased police training and new standards

MILWAUKEE (AP) ~ The death of a suspect who was in the custody of Milwaukee police has prompted a couple of state lawmakers to call for new training standards for officers.

Derek Williams died in July 2011 after struggling to breath in the back of a squad car. The Milwaukee County medical examiner recently changed the manner of Williams' death from natural to homicide following an investigation by the Milwaukee Journal Sentinel.

Democratic Sen. Lena Taylor, of Milwaukee, and Republican Rep. Garey Bies, of Sister Bay, plan to reintroduce bipartisan legislation that would mandate new training and education standards for police officers. Republican Rep. Dean Kaufert, of Neenah, says he supports additional training as well.

Officers would be required to be trained in "cultural differences, mental health and physical health conditions that can affect behavior and arrest and pursuit procedures." The bill was initially introduced in 2009.

Judge would narrow tribal claims in northern NY

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) ~ A federal magistrate has recommended dismissing Mohawk tribal land claims in northern New York except for the Hogansburg Triangle, approximately 2,000 acres by the St. Regis Reservation that extends along the Canadian border.

The ruling by Magistrate Judge Therese Wiley Dancks applies to three suits consolidated in 1991, claims by the St. Regis Mohawk Tribe, Mohawk Council of Akwesasne (og-wuh-SAHZ'-nee) and Mohawk Nation Council of Chiefs to more than 12,000 acres in Franklin and St. Lawrence counties and islands in the St. Lawrence River.

The suits claim the land was unlawfully transferred from original reservation land.

Dancks' notes the disagreement between the tribes and defendant state of New York over whether the triangle is mainly populated by Mohawks.

Her recommendations will be considered by U.S. District Judge Neal McCunn.

US tribe's lawsuit against beer stores dismissed

By Grant Schulte

Associated Press

LINCOLN, Nebraska (AP) ~ A federal judge dismissed an American Indian tribe's lawsuit Monday that blamed beer makers and nearby stores for chronic alcoholism on an impoverished South Dakota reservation, saying the case belonged in state court but gave a subtle nod to the tribe's claims.

The lawsuit was filed by the Oglala Sioux Tribe, which governs the Pine Ridge Indian Reservation, where alcohol is banned. Four beer stores named in the suit sold the equivalent of 4.3 million 12-ounce cans last year even though they're in Whiteclay, a Nebraska town with about a dozen residents on the reservation's border.

"There is, in fact, little question that alcohol sold in Whiteclay contributes significantly to tragic conditions on the reservation," U.S. District Judge John M. Gerrard wrote in his ruling. "And it may well be that the defendants could, or should, do more to try to improve those conditions for members of the tribe.

"But that is not the same as saying that a federal court has jurisdiction to order them to do so."

The judge dismissed the case without prejudice, meaning the tribe could take its claims to state court.

The tribe's attorney, Tom White of Omaha, said he had not yet discussed the ruling with his clients or decided how they would proceed, but added: "I would just point out that the judge had every opportunity, if he wanted to, to say this is a spurious case or it doesn't have legal merit. And he carefully did not. That is significant."

The Connecticut-sized reservation has struggled with alcoholism for generations, despite an alcohol ban in place since 1832. It also spans some of the most impoverished areas in the country.

The tribe filed the lawsuit in February against the four Whiteclay beer stores, as well as regional distributors and four manufacturers: Anheuser-Busch, Molson Coors Brewing Company, MillerCoors LLC and Pabst Brewing Company.

An attorney for Pabst declined to comment. Messages left with attorneys for the other companies and the four stores weren't immediately returned. Some of the stores' owners have previously said their insurers told them not to speak with the media.

The lawsuit alleges that the stores and beer makers allowed alcohol sales to Pine Ridge residents knowing they would smuggle it onto the reservation to drink or resell. The beer makers supplied the stores with "volumes of beer far in excess of an amount that could be sold in compliance with the laws of the state of Nebraska" and the tribe, the lawsuit alleged.

The vast majority of Whiteclay's beer store customers have no legal place to consume alcohol since it's banned on Pine Ridge, which is just north, and state law prohibits drinking outside the stores. The nearest town that allows alcohol is more than 20 miles south.

The reservation includes South Dakota's Shannon County, which U.S. census statistics place as the third-poorest in the nation. It has a median household income of $27,300 and nearly half of the population falls below federal poverty standards.

One in four children born on the reservation suffers from fetal alcohol syndrome or fetal alcohol spectrum disorder, and the average life expectancy is estimated between 45 and 52 years - the shortest in the Northern Hemisphere except for Haiti, according to a lawsuit. The average American life expectancy is 77.5 years.

Vic Clarke, a Whiteclay grocery store owner who serves as a town spokesman, said Monday that the lawsuit renewed media attention on the town and has triggered a wave of protests from outside groups.

But he said the same focus hasn't come to bars in other nearby towns - including Swett and Oelrichs, South Dakota, and Gordon, Nebraska, that also serve American Indians, noting that a protester last week threw a makeshift stink bomb at one of the town's beer stores. He also suggested that the tribe could legalize alcohol.

Pine Ridge legalized alcohol in 1970 but restored the ban two months later, and an attempt to allow it in 2004 died after a public outcry.

Tribe plans $26M casino in Michigan

MACKINAW CITY, Mich. (AP) ~ An American Indian tribe is planning a new $26 million casino in Michigan's northern Lower Peninsula.

The Petoskey News-Review reports the Little Traverse Bay Bands of Odawa Indians agreed to shift $970,000 to its capital project fund for pre-construction fees and consulting for a satellite casino in Mackinaw City. A draft of minutes for a Sunday meeting included the 6-2 vote.

The tribe operates the $140 million Odawa Casino Resort in Emmet County, south of Petoskey. An agreement with the state of Michigan allows the tribe to build a second casino in Emmet County.

Mackinaw City was originally considered for a casino before the Petoskey-area one was built.

The tribe says the new casino could include 550 slot machines. The Petoskey-area casino has 1,300 slot machines and other gambling.

Oneidas add Nat'l. Indian Museum multimedia show

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) ~ The Oneida Indian Nation says a multimedia presentation has been added to its display at the National Museum of the American Indian in Washington.

Oneida Nation Representative Ray Halbritter made the announcement last week while giving the museum $1 million, the eighth installment of $10 million the tribe has committed to the institution.

The display "Allies in War, Partners in Peace" features a bronze statue of Oneida Chief Skenandoah with Polly Cooper, an Oneida woman, and George Washington. The design is meant to mark the close relationship between the two nations.

The new 8-minute multimedia show includes stories about the Oneidas' role in U.S. history.

Gauthier takes top honors at Art Show

By Yvonne Kaquatosh
Kalihiwakas

It was local beading artist, Sandra Wescott-Gauthiers' first showing at the International Iroquois Beadwork Conference, which was held on September 21-23, 2012.

Wescott-Gauthier entered several pieces of her beadwork in the competition. For her efforts, the artist took 'Best in Division' honors and she also won the Kathy Mitchell Best of Show Award.

When asked what she hoped to accomplish with her art, Wescott-Gauthier said, "I view my talent as a gift from the Creator and one that is to be shared with family and community members."

In discovering Raised Beadwork – the Oneida style of beading, she added, "I have discovered an identity that I never knew existed in myself as an Oneida elder woman. She explained that raised beading has allowed her to express herself and what she sees on Mother Earth.

"I have grown to know what peace is in my life when I let myself get lost in my beading," said Wescott-Gauthier. "When I do raised beading and create beautiful things that I can give away as gifts or just look at them in my home, it is a good feeling," she added. She said she has learned to do something she loves and in turn, she has been sharing her knowledge with others as others have shared their knowledge with her.

She was first introduced to the art of raised beading by master beader Samuel Thomas of Niagara Falls, a member of the Lower Cayuga Band of the Iroquois Nation. Carol Bauman and Judy Jourdan are two ladies she praised, adding that they both have "helped her on the journey of a life-changing experience."

Through the years, she has made many treasured creations, which have been given as gifts to those close to her. She also managed to preserve a collection of her masterpieces on display at her home as a calming reminder of the inner peace that she gets from her creations.

Wescott-Gauthier has been the Director of Purchasing for the Oneida tribe since July 6, 1992.

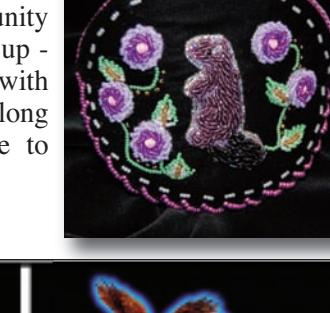

The conference was held at the Iroquois Indian Museum in Howes Cave, New York, and was sponsored by the Iroquois Studies Association, Inc., New York State Historical Association and the Fenimore Art Museum.

Her plans for the future are to work with Rosemary Hill in the spring of 2013 for two weeks – an opportunity that she cannot pass up – and to continue on with raised beading for as long as she's able to see to thread needles.

Box purses were used in the late 1800's and early 1900's. The box purse pattern (left) is from Carol Bauman, fellow Oneida tribal member, who shared the design with Sandra. The PCSD values relationship with Oneida Nation

On Thursday, September 20, the Pulaski Community School District (PCSD) held a dinner/discussion with Native American families at Hillcrest Elementary School. Traditional Oneida food was served, including corn soup, and the rich culture of the Oneida Nation was celebrated.

The PCSD serves approximately 120 Oneida Nation students, and, following the meal, Dr. Mel Lightner, PCSD Superintendent of Schools, led a discussion about ways the district can better serve both Oneida Nation students and their families.

According to Lightner, the district has already taken many important steps, including hiring Renee de la Cruz as a Native American/ Title I tutor at Hillcrest Elementary. In addition, the district is funding a half-time Native American Advocate/Liaison at Pulaski Community Middle School and Pulaski High School.

"We felt it was important that we continue to support our Native American children as they move through middle school and high school," Lightner said. "Several years ago, funding from the YES program dried up, and now the district has decided to fund that position on its own."

Attendees at the dinner also discussed the upcoming PCSD referendum, which has been criticized by many of the Village of Hobart's elected officials, including Village President Rich Heidel. During an August Village Board meeting, Heidel went as far as threatening to leave the PCSD should the referendum pass.

According to Lightner, however, many of the parents from the Oneida Nation are pleased with the education their students receive at PCSD schools, most notably Hillcrest Elementary, and are proud to proclaim the PCSD as their school district.

"We look forward to strengthening our relationship with Oneida families. We are proud and honored to be able to have Oneida families in our district."

For more information about the PCSD referendum, including videos of the facilities set to be improved by the proposal, visit www.pulaskischools.org/referendum

PCSD citizens approve budget

Citizens of the Pulaski Community School District overwhelmingly approved the district's 2012-2013 budget and tax levy at the annual meeting on Wednesday, September 19, with only two nay votes.

For the 2012-2013 school year, the district's tax levy will increase by 2.65 percent, a decrease from last year's levy, which increased by 3.65 percent.

In addition to the district's general operating budget, called Fund 10, which funds the day-to-day expenses of the district, the citizens also approved the district's Community Service Fund (called Fund 80) which funds various PCSD community education programs, such as PACE.

"I am very pleased that our residents have continued to support our community education program," PACE Director Mark Heck said. "These are very important programs built upon the Pulaski Community School District philosophy of educating all of our citizens- from cradle to grave."

Overall, Lightner believes the district's budget will allow its school to continue to be successful.

"We spend roughly $1,200 less than the state average for per-pupil spending," Superintendent Dr. Mel Lightner said. "Despite this, however, we still achieve high results, and we believe this budget will continue that tradition."

Dorothy Liska Retires

The week following Labor Day Dorothy Liska retired from the Oneida Community Education Center. She had been serving the Oneida Community as a teacher since August of 1993. She was one of the "original Career Center teachers" originally hired through the federal Workplace Literacy Grant. When that grant ran out Dorothy stayed on at the Career Center and helped to develop some of the unique programs offered at the CEC, including the Wisconsin PASS Program and the Competency based HSED (5.09) Program (the only program of its kind in this region). Her inspiration has reached out and touched thousands of students, children and adults alike. Dorothy taught, challenged, and motivated people throughout the past nineteen years. We wish her the best in tradition of excellent educational service to the Oneida Community.

It seems like it was yesterday when we learned to ride our bikes together, discovered that we both liked to dance and speak our language. It seems like we were never apart and everyone knew we were best friends. When we decided to go to school, we made sure we were going to be roommates. When you finally landed that first job after all your hard work, I was the first to say "congratulations." When you said you wanted to help the youth on the reservation, I said, "Let's do it together." Then came a time when you told me that you have a mental health problem, like depression and anxiety. Now I know that anyone can experience mental health problems, even Native People. We thought we knew everything, yet I really didn't understand what a difference my support can make in your recovery. Well, I am here for you. I will be here for you. And—as always—We will recover together.

Update on the Buffalo

By Michelle Doxtator

Retail Area Manager

Twenty-eight (28) buffalo died due to a lack of water over Labor Day weekend 2012. The dead include two (2) bulls, seventeen (17) cows, five (5) yearlings and two (2) calves. Prior to the deaths the Tribe had fifty-three (53) buffalo in the west pasture and seventy (70) in the east side pasture. The market value of the buffalo is over $60,000 and the farm is working with the Tribe's Risk Manager, Bob Keck to file a claim with our insurance carrier.

At some point Thursday August 27 or Friday August 28, 2012 someone turned off the water, and we may never know who is responsible. Should you have any information on the water source being turned off please call the Oneida Police Department at 920.869.2239.

The Farm employee responsible for feeding the cattle over the holiday weekend did not check on the buffalo over the weekend. Checking on the buffalo over the weekend had not been a regular practice for the past several years by many of the Farm employees. The buffalo had good grazing pastures and the source of water had not been an issue in the past.

The carcasses were removed by OJ Krull to prevent any diseases migrating to the remaining herd. The animals were examined by a veterinarian and the cause of death was determined to be dehydration. The carcasses were decomposed and the hides and skulls were not salvageable.

To prevent any future losses the Oneida Nation Farm has implemented the following;

A daily check list has been reinstated that includes checking on all of the livestock including the buffalo, the fencing and their water source daily. This will include driving into the pasture to check on the animals and the water basins daily.

A new sign will be placed in the overlook with information to call the Oneida Police Department if you see a problem with any of the buffalo. An updated call list was provided to the Oneida Police Department.

As reported in the September 6, 2012 edition of the Kalihwisaks, a lock has been placed on the lever that controls the water. The Farm is working with Oneida Plumbing for a long term fix on the water source.

At this point two of the bulls for the east pasture have been moved to the west pasture to breed with the cows. Hopefully we will have calves next summer.

Cohoes Falls Celebration

On October 6-7 an historical event will take place upon the ancestral territory of the Kanien'kehaka/Mohawk Nation in the New York State capitol region in the city of Cohoes, NY.

Many generations ago Skennenraha:wi, the Peacemaker, met the Mohawk people on the north shore of the Mohawk River at a place called Kahon:ios. There, on the high river bank above the waterfalls, he persuaded the Mohawk people to embrace the message of peace and unity thereby creating the world's oldest united nations. This area has been sacred to the Rotinonshon:ni (Haudenosaunee-Iroquois) since that time.

The Brookfield Renewable Energy Company has elected to return the land to the Iroquois. The transfer was made possible with the help of Dr. Gregg Schaaf and the late Mohawk Chief Jake Swamp with special assistance from John Kim Bell, Mohawk consultant to Brookfield.

On October 6-7 the Hiawatha Institute will celebrate the return of our sacred land. We will have an open public forum on October 6, a formal presentation to Brookfield, a tour of Kahon:ios property and a concert featuring Joanne Shenandoah on October 7. Kindly join us on this historic occasion.

The History of Division of Land Management

1821 - Oneida's movement to Wisconsin

- August 18, 1821 and September 23, 1822, the Oneidas and other emigrant New York tribes acquired an interest in some 7,480,000 acres of Wisconsin land from the Menominee and the Winnebago.

1831 - Treaty with the Menominee

- Menominee ceded 500,000 acres to the United States for the use of the New York Indians including the Oneidas.
- This treaty also contained a cession of other Menominee lands directly to the United States.

1838 - The Buffalo Creek Treaty

- The Oneida Tribe ceded most of the lands obtained from the Menominee, retaining approximately 100 acres per person, therefore reducing the once-vast Oneida lands in Wisconsin.
- Established the Oneida Reservation in Wisconsin
- Oneida Reservation was approximately 65,400 acres, all the land was held in trust for the Oneida Tribe of Wisconsin by the United States of America.

1887 - Dawes Allotment Act

- This act required the government to partition the tribal lands into individual tracts called allotments.
- There were approximately 1,530 allotments assigned to Oneida tribal members.
- The act also authorized the government to negotiate with Indian tribes for the sale of all tribal lands remaining after allotments were made to individual members; Oneida allotted all of its reservation.

1902 - Dead Indian Act

- Established a procedure where the adult heirs of a deceased allottee could sell the heir ship land with approval of the Secretary of the Interior
- Secretary of the Interior could issue fee patents to the heirs as a group or otherwise remove the restriction.
- The estate could be physically partitioned among the heirs and either trust or fee patents issued to them individually.
- The estate could be retained by the superintendent and leased for the benefit of the heirs.
- The estate could be sold under Government supervision and the proceeds distributed among the heirs.

1906 - Burke Act

- Allowed the Secretary of the Interior to determine competency and to issue fee patents, making land taxable for any Indian allottee that was found to be competent and capable of managing his or her affairs. This did not require the Indian allottee to approve, or have knowledge of the fee simple patent being issued.
- The secretary of the interior was authorized to determine the legal heirs of the deceased and issue patents in fee simple to the heirs for the land. Or, the secretary could sell the land and issue a patent to the purchasers and pay the net proceeds to the heirs.
- Act amends the general allotment act by granting citizenship to Indian allottees after a patent in fee simple was granted to them.

1917 - Trust Period Ends

- Conclusion of the 25 year trust period for the allotments.
- By this time the vast majority of the allotments had passed out of the Oneida Indians hands to the non-Indians.

1934 - Indian Reorganization Act (IRA)

- United States passed the IRA in an attempt to secure new rights for Native Americans on reservations.
- It allowed the Oneida people to reform its government under and IRA Constitution, this is still the present form of government.
- Oneida Executive Committee (later changed to the current Business Committee) was established as the legislative body of the Oneida Tribe.
- One incentive for being recognized as an I.R.A. Tribe was that the United States promised to purchase lost land back for the Tribal Government.
- United States purchased approximately 1,900 acres of land for the Oneidas within the Reservation.

1941 - Oneida Land Committee

- Executive Committee approved to form the Oneida Land Committee.

Being Strong

"Wake up grandson, wake up," my grandmother said. I rolled over on my bunk squinting to see her. "C'mon, get up grandson." I sat up wiping boogers from my eyes. "Grandma, what are you doing here? How did you get in?" I asked. "No walls can stop my love...my love travels everywhere, passes through all things." I shook my head agreeing. "Life's been a long road for me...sometimes it was good...sometimes it was bad. But the good outweighed the bad," she said standing there looking at me. I knew this was coming. My chest tightened and my throat constricted. I thought I was more prepared for this. Tears ran from my eyes. I felt the warmth of her hand when she stood over me wiping tears from my cheeks. "Don't cry for me...there's no more pain for me. I feel better, plus I got my leg back." She smiled and started jiggling. We both laughed.

Tákhethwanuhela·tú Shukwayo·tisú! "Grandma...you just spoke Oneida," I said surprised. "After not speaking it for so long I forgot how...but when my mother and daughter come get me...I remembered.

Tákhethwanuhela·tú Shukwayo·tisú, Thank the Creator...I can't wait to eat some strawberries." She smiled at me. I smiled back. "I hear they're big and juicy year round," she said. My heart sank again realizing this wasn't a dream.

"Grandma, I...don't know if I can do this without you...you've been my center for my whole life...I don't know if I have the strength to do this on my own." Tears fell again. Grandma grabbed my hand and sat next to me. "Grandson, your heart is good. You may have done some bad things in the past, but that doesn't make you a bad person. Others might not see it, but you've done a lot of good too, even when you didn't have to."

I could feel her draining some of my heart and pain, reducing the weight on my shoulders. "You've always been special to me. Before you could crawl I knew you were going to do something great for our people. I don't know what, but you know in your heart and in your mind." She leaned over and gave me a hug. I hugged back. When she let go she touched her hand to my heart. I felt my heart warming up as if it had been kissed by the sun. The ice around my heart was melting. "You think you don't have the strength to do this on your own...but the strength is there within you. You've had it the whole time, you've just been ignoring it." She let my heart go. "It's time," she said wiping the last of my tears away. "I'll always be with you grandson. Konaluakwa. Onaki-wah," she said. I blinked and she was gone. I heard her voice whisper "The strength is within you!"

S.O.S.

The Holy Apostles Church of Oneida, Wis. needs our financial help now. The Stone Church is part of our Oneida heritage. The Stone Church was built by the Oneida people and they gave one day a week to quarry the stone used to build the Holy Apostles Episcopal Church. It was also the third Episcopal Church built in Oneida and was consecrated in 1866 as Holy Apostle Episcopal Church.

Holy Apostle Church is the oldest Indian mission in the mid-west and of the Episcopal Church. The Oneida Mission was founded in New York in 1702. All enrolled Oneidas whose families came to Wisconsin with the Episcopal missionaries would all have ties to this mission church. Holy Apostles Church needs our help now to do serious repair and updating of the building which was built originally in 1866.

Think about this.

If you could donate something towards the Holy Apostle Church rebuilding work, bit or small, it will help toward preserving a part of our grandparents' heritage.

Please send your donation to: Holy Apostles Episcopal Church, C/O SOS Fund, 2937 Freedom Road, Oneida, WI, 54155.

Cultural Feast?

On 9-13-12, the Native American Group at Red Granite Correctional Institution had a feast, or at least what the state offered as a feast. Normally when you think of a feast you think of getting full and eating wild rice, corn soup, fry bread, berries, venison, or fish. Here at RGCI we were given chicken stir-fry or what's really soy stir-fry.

They also gave us pineapples, bread milk, an oatmeal raisin cookie, white rice, and a cucumber and onion mix. The rest of the prison was given the same meal and portions.

Granted we are incarcerated and have little control over what we get and feast can't be what they should be, but we don't see how any of the foods besides cucumber and onion mix are Native American related.

The Internal Management Procedures (IMP) states, "An approved celebratory meal will maintain its spiritual purpose." We don't see how these foods maintained a spiritual purpose.

In years prior they have given us hot dogs, or hamburgers, without any traditional foods. So we don't think the DOC understands the spiritual purpose of Native American feast. Some of us wrote the kitchen requesting fish, but we did not get it. Some people were not allowed to participate in the feast because the Chaplin failed to put them on the list to attend.

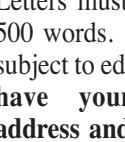

The IMP states, "If an inmate arrives at the institution within 30 days prior to a feast they can submit a request to the Chaplin and will be allowed to attend. Although some people were not allowed to attend and our foods pitiful we made the best out of it and enjoyed our meal together as a group with the little time we had a prayer was said in Oneida language for the food and we thank the uncle who did this for us. We don't know if this happens at feast in all prisons in Wisconsin, but if it does we encourage others to speak up.

We also ask the public to remember just because we are incarcerated does not mean we are bad people. We have made bad decisions that got us here, but we are still human beings that belong to various tribes.

It could be your sister or brother, mother or father, aunt or uncle, or even a grandparent sitting here dealing with the same problems. If the public wishes to speak up on this matter we encourage you to contact Chaplin Barwis or Warden Dittman here at RGCI. Maybe someone can enlighten them to our ways.

Sincerely
The Native American Group at Red Granite,

kalihwiaks

Oneida Community Integrated Food Systems

Oneida Food Distribution Program

The Oneida Food Distribution Program opened its doors in the old Oneida tribal bldg. on July 1, 1980. It operated under the umbrella of the Great Lakes Indian Tribal Council (GLITC) until Sept. 30, 1983.

It was at that time that the Food Distribution Program on Indian Reservations (FDPIR) was officially activated here in Oneida on Oct 1, 1983 to the present time.

The program is administered at the federal level by the Food & Nutrition Service (FNS), an agency of the U.S. Department of Agriculture, or USDA as we know it. FDPIR is managed locally by either Indian Tribal Organizations (ITO's) or an agency of a state government. Currently there are approximately 257 tribes receiving benefits under FDPIR through 98 ITO's and 5 state agencies.

The agreement to administer the FDPIR is between the state agency, in this case the Oneida Nation, and USDA.

Therefore, we are required to operate within the USDA guidelines as well as Oneida policies & procedures.

The USDA agreement or contract requires the ITO's to order, receive, warehouse, and distribute USDA commodities according to the USDA 501 handbook of regulations. Also to offer nutrition education with the help of state, federal, and Oneida nutritionists, as well as outreach to potentially eligible households with information of the services we provide, and finally, referral to other entities that can meet needs that we in the Food Distribution Program cannot satisfy.

Our service area is the rural areas of Brown and Outagamie counties as well as those of Door, Kewaunee, and Manitowoc. Inside the reservation boundaries any eligible household can receive our services. Outside the reservation only eligible Indian households can be serviced. We cannot service any city or town that has a population of over 10,000 with the exception of Green Bay that is based on a waiver agreement reached with USDA in 1992. This allows our program to service Indian households if they meet program eligibility criteria. The prevailing rule of eligibility maintains that low-income American Indians, and non-Indian households residing on a reservation, and those Indian households living in approved areas near a reservation, that contains at least one person, who is a member of a federally recognized tribe, are eligible to participate in the Food Distribution Program.

Those communities that we cannot service directly are Allouez, De Pere, Ashwaubenon, Appleton, Kaukauna, and Grand Chute.

Households are certified based on income and resource standards set up by the federal government, and must be re-certified as often as necessary, or at a minimum of every 12 months.

Households may not participate in the Food Distribution Program and the Food Stamp Program (SNAP) in the same month.

Each month, participating households receive a food package to help them maintain a nutritionally balanced diet. We offer a nutritious food package consisting of fresh fruits and vegetables as well as wholesome meat products of frozen ground beef, chicken, canned salmon, and roast beef, and when available, ground buffalo and regular hams during the fall season. We also have a full line of canned fruits and vegetables in addition to an assortment of fruit juices, cereals, and other wholesome products.

Our food package from the USDA is worth approximately $100 per person per month, and is well balanced in all food groups. Over the years our caseload has fluctuated between 400 to 1000 certified participants. The average caseload in 2011 was over 400 clients monthly. In order to be an effective program, the Food Distribution Program continually assesses the needs of its participants through various surveys and questionnaires, to make sure we are addressing all of our requirements.

The Oneida Food Distribution Program is actively involved in and an integral part of OCIFS (Oneida Community Integrated Food Systems) originally established in 1994. OCIFS was formed to develop a strong food infrastructure for the Oneida Nation. It includes tsyunhe'hkwā, Oneida Nation Farms, Apple Orchard, Oneida Health Promotions, and the Food Distribution program.

SEOTS Mission...

Our mission is to strengthen our cultural connection and provide services and programs that enhance the well being of Onayote'a'ka in southeastern Wisconsin.

Niedziejko finds Oneida heritage

My name is Gail Niedziejko and I am an Oneida Tribal member from the Hill family. I was given up at birth, and recently found my biological family. This discovery was a revelation to me. I was so welcomed by my Great-Auntie Elayne Fern Hall and my cousins. I am so thankful and feel so blessed to know my family.

I am happily married 31 years to Ron and have two children, Jeff and Michelle.

After learning my Oneida heritage, I came to Southeastern Oneida Tribal Services and took a loom beading class with Deb Ushakow. My life began to change after taking the beading class. I began beading at home daily; learning new patterns and found it was very soothing and therapeutic.

My beadwork reflected Oneida designs, and one of my favorite is the Hiawatha wampum belt design. The Oneida designs have been requested by tribal members in the community, so I have made the purple Hiawatha belt bracelet and other designs for them to enjoy and wear proudly.

This year I won a 1st place Blue Ribbon and also the Judges Favorite for my "Bumble Bee on Corn Flower" design at the Wisconsin State Fair. It was done on an Ojibwe loom with over 70 different colors in size 11 seed beads.

Yawle,
Gail
