(Oneida Reservation) - Crews from multiple emergency response agencies were on scene at the Oneida Nation Farm on County Highway C all day Saturday, April 16, after a morning fire destroyed two straw sheds. In addition to the sheds, approximately five hundred 700-pound bales of straw were lost.

The Oneida Police Department responded to the farm around 8:30 a.m. after receiving the initial fire report. There were no injuries and all animals are safe, according to Oneida Nation Farm Manager TJ Swiecichowski and Office Manager Marlene Westgor. Emergency response crews remained on scene until approximately 5:00 p.m. The cause of the fire remains under investigation.

The Oneida Nation Farm staff wishes to thank the following agencies and emergency response crews: Oneida Police Department, Oneida Fire Department, Seymour, Seymour Rural, Cicero-Nichols, Black Creek, Pulaski, Freedom, Town of Osborn and Hobart, Outagamie County Sheriff's Office, and neighbors.

More information will be released as it is received. The Oneida Nation Farm is open for business under its normal hours.

VFW Post 7784 Cmdr. Ninham retires

Oneida VFW Post 7784 Commander (Ret) Cletus Ninham presents his gavel to incoming Cmdr. Deke Suri. Suri takes charge of the post following 17 years of service from Ninham that saw numerous positive changes made to an already exceptional post.

By Christopher Johnson
Senior Reporter/Photographer

After 17 years of leading the Oneida Nation's Robert Cornelius Veterans of Foreign Wars (VFW) Post 7784, Commander Cletus Ninham has decided to call it a career. Ninham, who turned 78 years young April 16, announced his retirement during the April 5 VFW meeting, during which he and the other members of Post 7784 formally honored Oneida Warriors who served in the Korean War.

Across the years Ninham, a Vietnam Veteran, has become one of the most recognizable warriors from the Oneida Nation since he took the reigns as Post Commander in 2005. He immediately went to work implementing positive changes that are clearly visible today.

The original VFW building on East Service Road, which stood since the founding of Post 7784 in the 1940s, was in a state of extreme deterioration, and Ninham kickstarted the process of having a new facility built. "We began the push in 2008 to see if we could receive an upgraded building, and fortunately we received everything we needed financially to make the new facility happen," Ninham said. "Not only did we receive the new facility, Chairman Rick Hill was instrumental in our acquiring some of the adjacent property as well."

Formal Oneida Warrior recognition was another change Ninham brought about. The 2002 movie 'Windtalkers,' starring renowned Native actor Adam Beach, brought to light the unquestioned roles Native Americans played in the United States' victory over Japan in World War II. Indigenous warriors who fluently spoke their Native languages were recruited to use their tongues as Code Talkers, and the Japanese were never able to decipher their messages. Several Oneida Nation Warriors, virtually all of whom were too humble to ever talk about this piece of amazing history to their families, served as Code Talkers.

Ninham worked with Post 7784 Historian Chris Cornelius to uncover and honor these Oneida Warriors, and in 2013 a Congressional Gold Medal Code Talkers coin was produced by the United States Mint and presented to

Louis Clark

It happened in my first year of eligibility-for AARP. On my nine o'clock break my wife called to inquire "just how long has your back been hurting?"

She had been reading an article on back pain and when I casually said, "about two years" BAM! By one o'clock that afternoon I was in the hospital, they stole my clothes, and did torturous things done to my body. When all was said and done the Doctor stated, "Most people are more mature about these things than you are!"

Fortunately my prognosis was only arthritis in the lower back. Probably from all that time sitting on the benches of the various sports teams, Rangers, Phantoms, that I had been on in my youth. My goal now was to get strong so I joined the high school wrestling team, as a heavy weights coach, (re. Practice dummy.) After five years of being thrown around I was in pretty good shape. (Although very sore.)

I retired from road construction/maintenance when I turned 62 years of age. I thought that I was in pretty good shape even three years later until my nine year old grandson destroyed me at home plate. He looked like Pete Rose bowling over the catcher in the 1970 all-star game that basically ended the catcher's career. (I thought I heard him utter, 'Get him a body bag.') Still, I thought that I was in decent shape.

It all started in 1970 when I was the backup to the backup quarterback on the West De Pere freshman football team. Coach "D" asked me what I'd do in a certain situation. I told him that I'd stand on the bench to see what was happening out on the field.

I started to throw on my own everyday after that. I always held out the hope, the fantasy, that some emergency would happen and the Mighty Green Bay Packers would call. After 51 years of throwing almost everyday, my arm is still pretty good. Yet, when a nine year old takes you out I thought that I should let the Packers know that I wouldn't be available any longer.

President Mark Murphy wrote back to me expressing his disappointment for unbeknownst to me, I was the Packers secret plan if Mr. Rogers didn't sign up for another year. I was feeling pretty good.

Then I read an advertisement looking for volunteers to join a UW-Madison study on preventing strokes in our elder population. I jumped to sign up basically because every time that I had a physical the Doctor's always said that I was a little heavy but that I was solid. So we never worried about it.

I went in proud. Proud that is until they told me that I was fat and headed for a stroke within three years. My blood pressure was 184/111 and I weighed in at 223 pounds. They didn't actually say "fat and doomed" but that's what they meant. I had a choice, get in shape or start taking drugs-legal drugs. I grew up in the 1970's.

My wife, 5'3", who runs all summer and does exercises everyday since we started dating on Jan. 13, 1973, said that she would take charge. They eliminated the three foundations of my life, International Delight French Vanilla Cream, potato chips, and Coca-cola.

We started walking every morning and every evening. I can walk a 1 mile trek in 30 minutes. With my wife leading the way I now walk 1.7 miles in 30 minutes. I started drinking water. Who knew that it wasn't just a mixer? And I, she, cut down on my food intake substantially.

Salads, vegetables, and fruit aren't really that bad. Oatmeal or one egg for breakfast can be a treat. Supper is anything on the Mediterranean diet. Sicilian Linguini with roasted eggplant, tomatoes, and peppers, surprisingly good. Grilled salmon with shrimp and potatoes with a feta cheese sauce, quite tasty. We even went to a Lenten fish fry but I only ate half the plate.

I've truly begun to feel better. I walk up and down the steps like a normal person not like a three year old. I go to our gym 2-3 times a week, lift weights and throw. Then we walk. We even purchased a treadmill.

After 42 days my blood pressure is holding steady at 120/80, my weight is down to 207 pounds and I feel like a kid again. Oh, and I turned off the television.

I think that I better let President Murphy know that in an emergency, I'M BACK!

Exercise plus proper nutrition equals a healthy Elder.

Kyantowa:na. –Peach Pit Game

By Michelle Danforth

Marketing & Tourism Director

Tsyosha?ah? Delgado

Interim Manager Cultural Heritage

Peach Stone game is called the Creator's Game and is played during the year at Mid-winter and Harvest Ceremonies. The game is entertainment for the Creator and the Creator ultimately decides who will win. The game also provides enjoyment for the people and this makes the Creator happy. During seed ceremony, the game will determine who will be the planter of the seeds. The sides are women against the men, so if the women win, then the men have the responsibility to plant the seeds. During mid-winter and harvest, the teams are separated by clans; wolf clan against the bear & turtle clans.

During each of the ceremonies, a person is chosen from each clan to go and collect for each side. The selected persons match up similar items and those items are placed on a white sheet where the game will be played. Each person puts something up to bet on behalf of their clan. Items can't be solid red, solid black or shiny. Red represents anger and they don't want anyone to become angry during the game. Black represents death and they don't want any deaths during this time. Shiny items represent greed. The collection must be complete before for the opening of the selected peach stone day. This would be on 4th day during midwinter 4th day and the 3rd day of harvest.

There are also men chosen for who will be the counter of the beans, and the women who are the holders of the beans. The collector picks who the first player and this is normally the person who ended the last game. So, the last person at harvest would start the game at mid-winter and the same for harvest ceremony. If the last person can't be remembered, then it is the Faith keeper's responsibility to choose who will start the game.

What you need: 6 Peach pits that have been dried and 1 side burned black, 101 white beans and 2 white handkerchiefs and a wooden bowl. Hint: antique bowls can be found at your parents' house, secondhand stores, garage sales or antique shops. The wooden bowl needs to be sturdy.

How the game is played:

1. 2 benches facing each other and are positioned facing to the east and the west and there is a blanket in between. The bowl is flipped over in the middle.

2. 101 white beans are placed in a pile next to the bowl in the middle.

3. The bowl is flipped over and someone hollers.

4. The bean counter takes 6 beans from the center bean pile and gives each side 6 beans.

5. With all the peach stones in the wooden bowl, the first team's player can shake up the bowl and then with a little bit of force tap the bowl onto the floor to make the peach pits pop

6. If the pits turn up 5 black and 1 white or vice versa, then that person gets 1 bean then they take another turn each time they win.

7. If the pits turn up 5 black and 1 white or vice versa, then that person gets 1 bean then they take another turn each time they win.

8. If they turn up all black or all white, then the other person loses right away, and the other side gets 6 beans. So, if the person only has 3 beans left of the original 6, then they counter of the beans would pull out an additional 3 beans from the center. When all the beans from the center are disbursed to each of the teams, then when a new person comes to play, then they must take beans from their team's stash and it will only be 5 beans that they put out.

9. Any other combinations like the pits turn up 3 black and 3 white, then the turn is over and the person on the other side gets to take over the bowl. When one of the players loses all 6 beans then the next person from their clan steps to the blanket and the other player continues to play until they lose.

10. Teams continue to play until they have all 101 beans. This could be a few hours or a few days.

11. The participants of the game shouldn't be upset if they lose what they bet because they will get it all back in the Sky World.

The Safe Care Pathway to Prevent Suicide

Joy Salzwedel

By Joy Salzwedel
Oneida Behavioral Health

Suicide does not discriminate. It's the 10th leading cause of death in the United States with more than 47,500 lives lost in 2019. For Natives Americans / Alaska Natives, suicide is the second leading cause of death for those ages 35-44.

Those statistics alone are reason for concern. The fact that most of us know someone who has taken their own life, or attempted suicide, drives the situation home.

At Oneida Behavioral Health (OBH), suicide prevention is a key focus which often goes together with treatment services for addiction and mental health issues. The stigma surrounding addiction or mental health can make a person feel worthless, helpless, hopeless and hesitant to reach out for help, which can lead to suicidal thoughts.

That is why we offer the Safe Care Pathway program at OBH. The program works to identify individuals who may be at risk for suicide and creates a personalized safety plan to help the individual move away from harmful thoughts.

An initial key aspect of the safety plan involves taking steps to limit access to weapons and other harmful or lethal items. This is not meant as a punishment, rather by limiting access to weapons it limits the opportunity for someone to harm themselves when they are most vulnerable.

The program's safety plan also typically includes peer support. We cannot overstate the importance of peer support. Having the proper support is crucial for anyone struggling with addiction or mental health issues or at risk for suicide. Having a peer support group provides an important avenue for individuals to discuss their situation and to understand that they are not alone in what they are dealing with.

Others have been in their shoes and have come to understand that suicide is never the answer to their problems.

As part of the Safe Care Pathway program, we also have frequent contact with the individual through face-to-face, phone or virtual contacts. We look to reach out every three days to be sure the individual remains on track with his or her safety plan.

Finally, we hope individuals and the community understand that there is no shame in reaching out when you experience unbearable pain and despair. Suicide is a hidden risk of addiction and mental health. Depression, PTSD, and other trauma-related disorders can also lead to suicidal thoughts, which is amplified with the use of drugs or alcohol.

It is up to all of us to help prevent suicide. Talking about mental health and addiction issues is crucial, along with seeking out support services, reducing access to means of self-harm and following up with loved ones are important steps. Safe Care Pathway is there to help.

As always, if you think you or a loved one needs help, don't hesitate to call Oneida Behavioral Health at (920) 490-3790.

TORNADO SAFETY: DO'S AND DON'T'S

DO

- Make sure you have a portable radio, preferably a NOAA Weather Radio, for weather alerts and updates.
- Seek shelter in the lowest level of your home, such as a basement or storm cellar. If you don't have a basement, go to an inner hallway, a smaller inner room, or a closet.
- Keep away from all windows and glass doorways.
- Stay inside until you're certain the storm has passed, as multiple tornadoes can emerge from the same storm.

DON'T

- Do not use elevators because the power may fail, leaving you trapped.
- Do not completely cover yourself with a mattress.
- Don't waste time moving mattresses around.
- Do not leave a building to attempt to "escape" a tornado.
- Do not remain in a mobile home during a tornado. Even mobile homes equipped with tie-down systems cannot withstand the force of a tornado's winds.

these veterans in recognition of their dedication and valor. The Oneida Nation followed up by proclaiming the Friday before each Memorial Day as Oneida Code Talkers' Day, now an annual tribal holiday. "My uncle Lloyd Schuyler was a Code Talker and he was told to never reveal any information about what they did, so he never talked about it. He kept it quiet," Ninham said.

As Ninham also worked to increase membership in the VFW, involvement in community youth activities like the annual Boo Bash, Breakfast with Santa, and other fundraisers became normal occurrences. Requests for military Color Guard details from the post have increased dramatically, and military bearing at all VFW functions and meetings bring credit to the organization. "When our men and women wear our VFW uniforms, they are representatives of the Oneida Nation and our post," Ninham said. "Our members know how to conduct themselves in a professional manner. We're recognized as one of the best posts out there."

Memorial Day 2022 Color Guard details will present at nine cemeteries, the Anna John Resident Centered Care Community, the Oneida Veterans Wall, and this year Fleet Farm West has asked to become a location as well.

Oneida VFW meetings are held the first Tuesday of every month and new members are always welcome to join. Anybody who has served in a military conflict as a member of the United States military, tribal or non-tribal, are encouraged to contact the post at (920) 869-7784 if interested in joining the organization. "We do need younger members to join, because many of us older guards are getting too old to continue doing all the fundraisers and activities we are tasked with," Ninham said.

Oneida VFW Post 7784 is one of the few VFWs in the area that is 100 percent alcohol free, and Ninham is proud of this fact. "We all have veterans that are suffering from PTSD and other ailments, and they're on all kinds of medications to combat those issues," Ninham said. "Then if we turn around and add alcohol to that mix, that's just looking for trouble. So that's how we looked at that issue, and in trying to set a good example to our youth we want to convey the message that drugs and alcohol don't mix. There's so much more in life that can be accomplished if they stay away from that stuff."

Although he is stepping aside as commander of the post, Ninham will still be visible at meetings. Being a part of something for many years is hard to walk away from, and there are many things he will miss, one thing in particular. "There are so many things with this that I've enjoyed," Ninham said. "But above all else, it's the meeting of people that I've really enjoyed. Over the last few years I've really needed somebody else to step up, because what more can I do. I feel I've done just about all I can do."

Ninham leaves Post 7784 in good, energetic hands. Deke Suri, a veteran of Iraqi Freedom and multiple combat deployments to the Middle East, takes over as Commander of the Oneida Nation VFW Post 7784. Suri will be the focus of a Kalihwisaks feature story in the near future.

Sir;

As you directed in your letter to me on the 23rd inst. (short for instructions), I investigated the complaint of Mrs. Margaret Schuyler against Eli Scanandore; - the facts are as follows, Niz (?) Scanandore claims he loaned Mrs. Schuyler's husband $5 about the time he went to Canada, and the debt, with interest at a rate of 72 per cent interest annum (annually), now amounts towards about the value of the horse, and therefore, by permission of a man claiming to be Counselor of the tribe, he cause it to be taken away from the woman and thereby broke up her team on which she depends her own and her children's support: The conduct of Scanandore appears unlawfully and unjust, a little better than stealing, especially as I understand that he has no witness to a bargain of that kind with Schuyler - Upon a careful view of the whole matter I found that I could do no other way than to restore the horse to its owner, Mrs. Schuyler. I would suggest that Eli Scanandore be punished in the same way, so that he and others may not in future undertake to rob the poor.

Sexual violence can happen to anyone. In Indigenous communities in the United States, more than half of American Indian and Alaska Native women (56.1 percent) have experienced sexual violence in their lives and the vast majority (96 percent) are victimized by a non-Native perpetrator. Additionally, more than one in four Native men (27.5 percent) have experienced sexual violence.

Meet at: Oneida Museum Parking
lot. W892 County Rd E,
Debere, WI. 54155

Please consider volunteering for the fifth annual Garlic Mustard Pull in Oneida! Garlic Mustard is an invasive plant that's taking over our woodlands. It crowds out our beautiful native wildflowers and endangers forests by preventing tree seedlings from growing. And, none of our North American insects or wildlife eat it. Help the Oneida Invasive Species Program remove this invader from the Oneida Museum Trail and keep our natural areas healthy. Our goal is to remove 1,000 pounds of Garlic Mustard!

Event Notes: Please dress for the weather and the work! Where garlic mustard grows, we may also run into poison ivy and mosquitoes. Close-toed shoes, long pants and long-sleeved shirts are highly recommended. Bug repellent, garbage bags, and gloves will be provided.
