The Oneida community gathered Tuesday, August 3, 2022 for a story-telling event in honor of Brian Doxtator at the Amelia Cornelius Culture Park. Although Brian was not able to attend, his energy and inspiration filled everyone’s heart with joy with an evening of food, friends, song & dance, and yes, you guessed it, more stories. It was a very warm and muggy evening. Nevertheless, as Brian would say, the event was ‘Swearword awesome’ and one that will surely help everyone add to their own story.
Bicentennial Committee Continues to work on plans

By Michelle Danforth Anderson, Marketing & Tourism Director

The Bicentennial Committee is gearing up for the upcoming 200th anniversary of the signing of the 1822 Treaty, which included Oneida, Menominee, Ho-Chunk and the Stockbridge-Munsee Nations. The September 23, 1822 treaty-signing established our land base in the Michigan territory, which later became Wisconsin. At this point, our Oneida families from the east began to travel from New York to the newly established territory in the summer of 1823. To acknowledge this significant event, plans are being finalized to stage a historic photo at Heritage Hill on Friday, September 23, 2022, with tribal leaders and a blend of figures from the past. The photo, and the program that follows, will kick off Oneida’s 200 yearlong commemoration, along with more events to be formally announced.

The Committee is also excited to inform the community of a special bicentennial piece that will be coveted by all, a 200 Year Oneida blanket, featuring custom artwork by nationally renowned artist, Dawn Dark Mountain. This coming year is going to be great. Stay tuned for more details as the Bicentennial Team strives to honor Oneida’s past, present, and future.

The True Medicine of the game of Lacrosse

By Terrellyn Fearn

I was asked to find someone to make the regalia for the Mens U21 Lacrosse Team, which was heading to the World Lacrosse games in Ireland August 10-20, 2022. I reached out to Wanda Anton, who made Aidan College’s Mens Lacrosse shirts in the past. Despite the short lead time, Anton worked her magic to make 30 shirts in 2 weeks, with a little help, of course.

Anton, a life-long regalia and clothing maker, teacher and mentor to young people in the creative process, teamed-up with Peril Huff and two young Oneida lacrosse players from their group and who happen to be brothers, Hudson and Josef Cornelius. With all their good energy, they worked evenings and weekends to complete the ribbon shirts. When they called to say they completed the shirts, tears welled up in my eyes as I tried to express my deep gratitude. They are, indeed, beautiful human beings.

Ceremonial regalia is important to our way of life and I know they understand the importance of their generosity and selflessness in what they have accomplished. Lacrosse is called the medicine game and this shows what we can accomplish when we selflessly put our minds and hearts together.
The Revered Life of Emerson Metoxen

As the headline denotes, Emerson Metoxen was an extremely accomplished man. Before getting to this, though, per Metoxen's granddaughters Karen Brockman and Leslie Greenfield, we wanted to clarify the details of a donation received by the Oneida Nation School (ONHS) from Metoxen's old school, Radnor High School (RHS) in Pennsylvania, which was referred to in both the Jan. 12, 2022 and Nov. 17, 2021 issues.

These articles tell of a $1,500 donation, from sales proceeds of athletic wear showing the RHS mascot, from RHS to ONHS, in recognition for Metoxen's services at RHS. Later, however, it was discovered that the donation did not come from RHS, but rather, from a group that had an ulterior motive to keep in place RHS' derogatory Indian mascot. This group's plan was to garner what would appear to be support of RHS, per the acceptance of the donation, from an Indigenous School in ONHS. Fortunately, their plan failed and action was taken by the National Congress of Indians to officially retire the mascot. Action was also taken on behalf of Metoxen by his granddaughters Karen Brockman and Leslie Greenfield, and their families, to denounce any association or donations from this group. Later, Metoxen's family also offered to replace the donation. This comes as no surprise as they were raised by an outstanding man in Emerson Metoxen.

Emerson Metoxen was born on the Oneida reservation in 1899 to Louise & Nelson Metoxen. According to a newspaper article by Lynn Pyne (source & date unknown), He learned early how to count and to respect his elders. First came respect for grandmothers and grandfathers, then respect for mothers and fathers. Emerson was related to Irene Metoxen, first woman chief (most likely meaning Chairwoman) of the Oneidas. “Women were bosses,” he said with a smile. “My grandmother carried a big stick, but she was good to us. She was very strict, and we respected her.

Emerson went to several boarding schools; Oneida 1908-1911, Tomah 1911-1914, and then Carlisle Indian School, PA in 1914 at the age of 13. Emerson played basketball, football and lacrosse which would later play a role in his life. The school was military in its daily operations. Metoxen recalled, “You were AWOL if you left.” He also remembered how... it was difficult for all the children to adjust and it was the beginning of a separation from Indian culture. Emerson was very involved in sports and when the school closed in 1918, he joined the Navy and eventually received a scholarship to Mercersburg Academy, then went on to Lebanon Valley College. He finished with a bachelor’s degree in education (science) and then earned his master’s degree in education at Harvard. He used his degree to become a teacher and coach.

During his first job in 1927 at York Collegiate Institute, the basketball team he coached won 28 straight games before they lost by one point, than won another 19 games before their next lost. After a short return to Lebanon Valley College, he began his 22-year extensive coaching career at Radnor school. In those days, it was a different time and thus, when he was called by his nickname “Chief,” a term considered inappropriate, was actually appropriate to Metoxen’s status. According to research published by Susan Daniels in the Chronology of events: Research on Oneidas in Wisconsin 1634-2000, Emerson was a candidate for Chief of the Turtle Clan, as noted in a Green Bay Press Gazette article from October 9, 1925. His daughter Karen, recalls that he could have been a possible sub-chief because he once quoted in an article as “Vice Chief.”

Emerson’s commitment to giving back didn’t stop at coaching. He oversaw the Valley Forge Military Indian Village, a summer camp where children from all over would come and learn about a variety of crafts, beadwork, and stories. He staged a Native performance every Sunday night and gave talks about the history of Native Americans and their challenges. It is interesting to know that even though Metoxen did not live on the Oneida reservation, he used Native background that he was separated from in boarding school to teach others.

Emerson was married to Kathy Metoxen and had three children, one stepson, 6 grandchildren, and 10 great grandchildren. He passed away in 1989.

Naleyah Bork, Oneida Member and senior pitcher for Freedom Varsity Softball, began the 2022 season as part of a team that hasn’t appeared in the state tournament since 1987. This all changed when the Freedom Irish defeated top-seeded Jefferson 5-4 at Goodman Diamond in Madison on July 11, 2022. Naleyah’s parents, Nate Bork and Cindy John, along with grandparents Sue Doxtator and David Charles, and finally, great grandparents Arlie Doxtater and Art & Leona Charles, were filled with pride with Naleyah’s accomplishment. Naleyah, in an interview with the Freedom Pursuit Newspaper’s editor, Angie Griepentrog, described the emotional victory, “I remember the final out when Rachel Koss caught the ball; it was probably the best feeling I have experienced, and I wish I could relive it over and over. Knowing that we accomplished our biggest goal and made history was truly the coolest thing ever.” Their championship was made even sweeter when the team was honored on-field at American Family Field in Milwaukee on July 24. Congratulations to Naleyah and the Freedom Irish.

Emma Cunningham won the 3rd Annual Native American Youth Championship in Santa Ana Pueblo in New Mexico on July 25-26, 2022. The tournament was open to all Native youth ages 8-18. Emma’s age division was 12-13 years old. Emma won both days with a remarkable score of 73 and 78. Hayden Dan shot a 80 & 84 for second place and Olivia Long an 88 and 91 for third place.

With the championship in hand it qualified Cunningham to participate in the Notah Begay III Jr. Golf National Championship in Kinder, Louisiana on November 3-5, 2022. We will be keeping an eye on this youngster during the event, which will be aired on the Golf Channel in December. Emma is the daughter of Cameron & Amanda Cunningham and granddaughter of Donna Powless.

Aaron King
Angling His Way to Success

Aaron King, Oneida member, son of Phillip L. King, Jr., and high school senior at Aitkin High School, is becoming quite the fisherman. Says his father, “Ever since he could hold a rod and reel, he just can’t get enough of being on the water looking for that next trophy bass.” Recently, King, and his fishing partner, Elliot Maufort, competed as part of the Waupaca Jr. Bass Busters team on July 11, 2022 in the Wisconsin State Championship held on the Chain of Lakes, Waupaca. In this tournament, sanctioned by the student-age Major League Fishing organization, King and Maufort took 3rd place out of 16 boats. Their next competition will be on the Mississippi River near Lacrosse. Next year, King will be attending UW Stevens Point in hopes of fishing at the college level and hopefully, someday professionally. Good luck, Aaron!

Redhail is quickly becoming quite the athlete since he began competing in the Special Olympics five years ago. On July 29-31, 2022 during the 50th Year of the Special Olympics, he competed and captured two 2nd place wins. The first win was for in the 100-meter run and the second was for softball throw. Chaske’s mother describes her son’s competitive skills and sportsmanship, “He likes to be super-fast and has a good arm for throwing. Winning made him feel very happy and proud for him and his teammates.” This winter, he will be competing in bowling and basketball. Congratulations Chaske!

Thomas Reed
Excelling at Flinggolf

Competitors from 17 different states, including our very own Dr. Thomas James "TJ" Reed, Lukwe’i’yó (He is a good man), took 20th place out of 41 competitors who battled it out during the World League Flinggolf’s New Swarm Cup this past May 21 & 22, 2022 at American Classic Golf Club in Lewes, DE. Competitors also vied to win the coveted LFC Belt (Longest Fling Contest). Reed has been playing golf since he was 8 but always dreamed of playing a sport where he could combine his lacrosse skills. Thus, the past two years, Reed has been playing flinggolf with the best of the best. Reed explains his spiritual connection to the sport, “Playing a version of the Creator’s Game on Mother Earth is always a deep spiritual blessing, and I give thanks to the Creator for the ability to do so.” Reed went on to recognize the sport’s founder, Alexander Van Alen for his vision in creating this sport. Unfortunately, we had to go to press before being able to publicize that ESPN2 aired national television coverage of the New Swarm Cup on August 5th, 7th, and 8th, 2022. In the meantime, Reed is training at his home in Rancho Cucamonga, CA, to hopefully play in another World League Flinggolf championship in Virginia in October. Stay tuned.
On July 21-22, 2022, Oneida 4H Club took home 8 Ribbons at the Outagamie County Fair in Seymour, WI. The categories were rabbits, poultry and “wild” category. Autumn & Tamara Cooper decided to show “Breezy”, a snowflake quail who took reserve Champion, which means there was a tie for 1st place but only one can take home the trophy. Coming up later this month at the Brown County Fair in De Pere, WI, they will be showing beef cattle, holsteins and alpacas. Congratulations ladies on your successful showing and good luck!
In a time of ongoing turbulence between the Village of Hobart and The Oneida Nation, former tribal attorney Becky Webster aims to shed light on the many legal disputes and historical events leading up to them. In her upcoming publication In Defense of Sovereignty, Webster walks through the complex political environment and declining intergovernmental relations between the Oneida Nation and the Village of Hobart.

Since 2003 six disputes stem from a claim that the Oneida Nation government sits as nothing more than a common landowner and subject to village authority. Webster writes to share the experiences of the ones who served and fought on behalf of the Nation at a time when other media outlets controlled the narrative. Historians, attorneys, and a retired Nation employee share writings in select chapters as well. Following each chapter, she also discusses the impact and importance each case is to the Oneida Nation and future generations.

Webster has served as an attorney for the tribe on the negotiation team for thirteen years. She served with many influential people and through non-stop litigation, she looked for different ways to fight for tribal sovereignty. In 2014, she obtained her PhD and in 2016, left the law office for an Assistant Professor position at the University of Minnesota, Duluth.

In Defense of Sovereignty is Webster’s second book published by UW Press and releases in the spring of 2023. It follows her previous work The Administration Handbook dealing with human resources, government to government relations, law, and strategic planning. Webster’s primary reason for authoring her latest book was to inform people about maintaining sovereignty but she also hopes it will serve as a learning tool for Oneida people and the many other tribes facing similar issues at the state and federal level.
More about Paul Wheelock and His Family

By Submitted by Cara Artman

In last month’s July 19 cover story, Oneida Children Come home from Carlisle, Paul Wheelock’s reinterment was covered, along with Wheelock’s 3rd cousin, Cara Artman, about her experience during Wheelock’s disinterment ceremony. In this issue, Artman goes deeper into the lives of Wheelock and his parents, Dennison Paull & Louise LaChapelle Wheelock.

Dennison Paull Wheelock, better known as Paul Wheelock, was a beloved baby who only spent 10 months on this earth. Born in Carlisle, PA in July 1899, he passed away on May 14, 1900. The Carlisle Indian Industrial School paper, The Indian Helper, described his death, “He was a healthy and charming child, but a few weeks since took a severe cold which settled in his throat and lungs, from which he slowly pined away.”

The children wrote the school paper and it is probable to think these children knew Paul. His parents loomed large on the campus and it is not hard to imagine Paul was a favorite baby. The students playing with him, babysitting and dancing with him in time to the music that his father was conducting.

Signs of that love from 122 years ago was obvious in 2022 when Paul was disinterred. The remains of his casket included broken glass which is thought to have been a viewing window and two metal decorations saying “our babe” and “our darling.” The Indian Helper, described it as white and “surrounded with a profusion of the most delicate flowers” and Paul was given a funeral at the local Y.M.C.A.

Paul’s parents, Dennison and Louise LaChapelle Wheelock, were both Carlisle School graduates. Dennison thrived at Carlisle, studying music and was asked to be the school’s bandmaster. Dennison and the band were internationally renowned and performed for presidential inaugurations, national celebrations and at Carnegie Hall, Dennison unveiled his original three-part symphony “Aboriginal Suite.” In May of 1900, Dennison and the band were scheduled for an international tour when Paul died. Heavy with grief, the tour was cancelled and Dennison and Louise left Carlisle.

The couple moved throughout the United States and Dennison held a variety of positions. In 1910, Dennison became a lawyer and founding member of the “Society of American Indians.” A few years later, he presented a petition to President Wilson asking for an Indian citizenship commission and an expansion of U.S. Court of Claims jurisdiction. Dennison established a successful law practice in De Pere, WI before moving to Washington, D.C. where he argued cases on behalf of tribes before the U.S. Supreme Court and U.S. Court of Claims. Dennison never gave up his musical aspirations. He was a bandmaster in Carlisle, Haskell Indian School and Green Bay. Dennison brought his talents to Oneida where he was the general manager and bandmaster of the “Oneida Indian Centennial Celebration” in 1921. Today, there is the Wheelock Bandstand on the Carlisle Barracks campus, in honor of Dennison.

Dennison and Louise had three children in addition to Paul. While living in D.C., Dennison died in 1927. Louise lived until 1931 and both are buried in Woodlawn Cemetery in Green Bay, WI. Though he only knew Carlisle, PA, Paul was Oneida by blood. Today, Paul lies in rest in Holy Apostles Cemetery. He is not back with his parents but he is surrounded by the love of the Oneida community just like the love he received from the Carlisle community during his 10 months of life.

Oneida Basket Guild held a one-night workshop on making a corn washing basket on July 27, 2022. The key to the corn washing basket is the open weave design. 25th National Night Out Event A Great Success!

By Garth Webster
Reporter-Senior Photographer

Communities across the country come together every year on the first Tuesday in August to promote togetherness and police-community partnerships. Oneida, through the tireless efforts of Isabel Parker, Community Involvement Coordinator, and her team, had their own Night Out event at Three Sisters Park on August 2, 2022, from 4pm-7pm. The event, sponsored by the Comprehensive Housing Division, had another great turnout featuring great food, live music by the Rock'n Daddy’s, free raffles, and even a jigging contest. Parker explained how this event has and continues to prove how valuable it is, “Participants describe to me the long-range impacts, including building community, reducing crime, and improving quality of life. I enjoy putting this event together, and it makes me feel good to see the community involved.” Parker went on to acknowledge the team as well, “Everyone went above and beyond to make this year extra special, and it’s great to see so many new communities involved.”

In addition to the NNO event, Parker’s colleague, Lora Danforth, will be holding a Kickball Tournament at the Oneida Site 1 Ball Diamonds on Saturday, August 20, 2022. Make sure to visit the concession stand, ran by the Tribal Action Plan, to have some great food, help raise funds, and to learn how you can help “Kick Out Drugs” from our community. For more information, contact Lora at 920.869.6669 or email her at ldanfor4@oneidanation.org.

Dawn Dark Mountain Wins Best of Show

By Garth Webster
Reporter-Senior Photographer

This piece, entitled, “The Only Good Indian Is an Assimilated Indian,” by artist, Dawn Dark Mountain, won Best of Show at the Eiteljorg Indian Market in Indianapolis. It also won first place and Best of Division in Painting, second place in painting at the Autry Museum Indian Market in L.A. and a Judge's Choice award at the Heard Museum Indian Market this year.

Dark Mountain describes her work: Original sculptural watercolor and Iroquois raised beadwork using Czech glass beads 2021.

Based on a photograph of my Grandmother weaving a basket in the 1930's, this piece honors her and all the other survivors of the Indian boarding schools. Carlisle Indian School is shown surrounded by the waves of the culture that attempted to annihilate our own and assimilate us as our tears wash down over the shadows of the girls made to look the same and sent on "outings" as domestic servants. Some managed to retain their culture (represented by the figures in traditional dress). The raised beadwork and basketry show that the culture survived and the graveyard is a reminder of those who did not come home.

BRIAN A. DOXTATOR
TEYOLUYAHTHE (BRIGHT SKY)
JUNE 29, 1966 - AUGUST 6, 2022

Brian A. Doxtator Teyolu’yahthe (Bright Sky)

Peacefully was freed from cancer on August 6, 2022 at his home in Oneida, Wi.

Brian was born on June 29th, 1966 to Don Doxtator and Christine (Babe) Doxtator

Everyone’s Relative Brian!

Titles Brian held while traveling through life: Son, Brother, Grandson, Uncle, Friend, and Kyase – Relative!

Our relative Brian carried titles of responsibility, reciprocity and relationship within the community and for the Oneida Nation: Teacher, Councilman, Businessman, Gardener, Community Servant – sharing Thanksgiving meals in the community, Advocate, and Listener.

Our relative Brian carried a good mind and a good word each day and reminded us through story how important it is that we listen to the family stories of our elders and celebrate those teachings every day and always to share how important it is to keep learning our Oneida language and identity.

Most important, our relative Brian lived and shared encouragement, compassion and spirit. He was a Storyteller, and we know through all the stories shared that the relatives will always celebrate the teachings; A Good Mind, Good Heart and A Strong Fire, keeping the memory of the storyteller forever bright! Spoken by Artley Skenandore

Brian carries the spirit of his grandmothers and elders in his heart and that spirit drives him to gift the community with his relentless energy to be civic and charity minded. He went to live with his Grandmother Margaret and so she welcomed him and passed on her wisdom and traditions to him. She would share her stories and her passion for helping and community development in the most traditional sense.

He should be well remembered for his ability to put his prayers into song. While holding his hand drum he could belt out a prayer that would truly bring blessings to those around him.

He’s a modest baker and his bread and corn soup are always a sell out success. He has the most voracious laugh ever, he’s a gardener and raises his own corn beans and squash and always leaves some on his picnic table for who ever is in need or want.

His education and employment history: Brian has worked in the Oneida Library, as a teacher and began his own tax business which has been a success, through his tax preparations he has been able to assist in returning millions of dollars to our economy.

Dancing is another accolade we can attribute to Brian as a well renown “Oneida” Jigger and also traditional dancer at Pow Wows.

Much more can be said of Brian, but most importantly it’s the spirit and drive for community that he is best known for. The core values of the Oneida people which are to embrace a good mind, encourage the best in one another, have compassion for one another and find joy in who you are, these are the values reflected by the life and times of Brian Doxtator. — feeling peaceful. Spoken by Bobby Webster.

Brian was very proud to have sung the “Te deum” at such a young age.

Brian is survived by his mother Christine Doxtator (Babe), his brothers Bruce Doxtator Sr. (his children: Christine Victoria, Afraid Of Hawk and Jake Anton Doxtator).

His sister Carla (Don) Lilly, her children: Adrianna Marie Skenadore, Rhea Christine Doxtator and her children: Nilianna Babe Dessart, Draven Daniel Trepanier-Doxtator, Jeffery Wayne Doxtator.

Further survived by his favorite Aunties, Gloria Doxtator, Ruth Miller, Marilyn Danforth.

Also survived by dedicated friend Karen Smith, Gerald Doxtator, Don (Laurie) McLester and many more.

Preceded in death by, father Don Doxtator, nephew Bruce Doxtator Jr., and Grandma Margaret Skenandore.

Special thank you to the Oneida Health Center, St. Mary’s Oncology, Froedtert Hospital.
