The Oneida Nation of Wisconsin continues to stand in solidarity with all other First Nations across Turtle Island in their ongoing quest to protect Mother Earth. In 2021 alone, the Oneida Nation Business Committee (OBC) released proclamations endorsing the Rights of Nature as well as denouncing the continued operation of Enbridge Inc.’s Pipelines 3 and 5.

Similar to the concept of human rights, the Rights of Nature adheres to the same basic tenants that ecosystems and species hold the same inherent rights to existence without being owned, used, or degraded for the purpose of man’s greed. As of 2021, Rights of Nature laws exist in no less than 17 countries, including dozens of cities and counties across Turtle Island.

The OBC brought this proclamation forward because our guiding principles, found in the Great Law and the Thanksgiving Address, instruct us to honor, respect, protect, nurture, and caretake the very thing that sustains us as humans within the delicate balance of nature. We are instructed to defend and speak for those things that can’t speak for themselves, and if we do not fulfill this responsibility we will cease to exist in the future. In helping create a sustainable environment we are holding ourselves accountable to our children, their children, and generations to come.

The proclamation quotes Chief Dan George. “If you talk to the animals, they will talk with you and you will know each other,” Chief George said. “If you do not talk to them, you will not know them and what you do not know you will fear. What one fears, one destroys.”

Meanwhile, numerous First Nations on lands to the north continue to battle Enbridge Inc. in the courts to try and prevent the company’s continuously increasing scope of operations. The Canadian-based Enbridge has touted itself to be an environmentally safe company, but their years of well-documented safety failures shows the exact opposite.

In September 2021, Enbridge announced that construction on an upgrade to its Line 3 pipeline was complete and almost immediately began pumping 760,000 barrels of oil daily from Alberta’s tar sands across Minnesota to its terminal in Superior, Wisconsin. Thus far, environmental opponents of the pipelines have been unsuccessful in litigation against Enbridge but the battles continue.

According to Harvard University’s Environmental & Energy Law Program, the Line 3 upgrade will result in 193 million additional tons of carbon dioxide emissions per year, more than the entire state of Minnesota’s current emissions. The largest inland oil spill in United States history occurred on Line 3 when 1.7 million gallons were spilled near Grand Rapids, Minnesota, on March 3, 1991. At nearly the same time as Enbridge’s announcement regarding its Line 3 “upgrades,” Minnesota’s Department of Natural Resources fined Enbridge more than $3 million after the company breached an aquifer and illegally obtained millions of gallons of groundwater.

Immediately after President Joe Biden took office, he canceled permits for the hotly debated Keystone XL Pipeline and canceled all domestic oil and natural gas production, but he’s since backed off campaign promises to stop pipeline projects similar to these. More than 900 opponents of the lines have been ticketed or arrested since December 2020 during protests.

Late last year, Michigan Democratic Gov. Gretchen Whitmer withdrew a federal lawsuit against Enbridge’s Line 5 Pipeline saying she still plans to pursue its closure through state courts. Whitmer cites oil spill concerns as her primary motivator. Line 5 now pumps more than 540,000 barrels of crude oil daily from Sarnia, Ontario, through the Straits of Mackinac to refineries in Toledo, Ohio. Although Enbridge says the pipes under the straights have never leaked, numerous spills have occurred across Michigan from other Enbridge pipelines.

In 1999, a major Line 5 spill occurred near Crystal Falls in the Upper Peninsula when 220,000 gallons of oil and natural gas were leaked. When Enbridge officials ignited the resulting vapor cloud to prevent it from spreading, a raging 36-hour fire was the result. Five hundred residents were forced to evacuate. Line 5 has experienced 33 separate spills since 1968, resulting in 1.1 million gallons of oil being dumped into the surrounding environments.

According to CleanWaterAction.org, in 2019 an Enbridge regional gas pipeline exploded in Kentucky, killing one and sending five others to the hospital with serious injuries. That same year the Bad River Band of Lake Superior Chippewa filed a federal lawsuit against Enbridge to remove Line 5 from tribal property. The tribe’s easement allowing Enbridge to operate Line 5 ended in 2013, but to this day the company continues to operate the line unabated and without permission.

Enbridge’s Line 6 ruptured near Marshall, Michigan, in July 2010 dumping 1.2 million gallons of oil into the Kalamazoo River. This rupture went unreported for almost 17 hours because employees misinterpreted the sounding alarms, indicating pressure loss, to be a bubble in the line. The company’s response to such an occurrence is to actually increase oil pressure and flow in the line. For 17 hours employees repeatedly increased the oil flow until a local utility company notified Enbridge that Line 6 had experienced a major rupture. A mere ten days before this incident, Enbridge had testified before Congress that they could detect a leak “almost instantaneously.”

Enbridge is now attempting to construct a tunnel under the Straits of Mackinac in the hopes of rerouting the portion of Line 5 that currently runs through the waters and into this tunnel. This attempt is being met with stiff opposition from concerned environmentalists, particularly Michigan’s Bay Mills Indian Community. Bay Mills is represented by Earthjustice and the Native American Rights Fund.

Sheku Swakweku,

The Oneida Business Committee would like to express our pride and appreciation for all the work done in our community to keep one another safe and healthy. As we continue to work on a healthy community, we also continue to be met with significant challenges in getting vaccinated.

We started January 2022 off with an increase in cases of COVID and it is impacting our ability to provide services, keep our schools open, and businesses. Our testing supplies and services are also greatly impacted by COVID and the variants, Delta and Omicron.

Many of us on the Oneida Business Committee have also experienced COVID ourselves or within our families and we know first-hand the toll it takes on an entire family. Like all of you, we are tired and frustrated with the continuance of necessary health and safety protocols. We remain vigilant and confident and we’ll do what is necessary to return to a safe environment.

We encourage our community and workforce to continue their diligence in respecting our health and safety protocols during this global pandemic. We will continue to monitor our cases and keep receiving updates from our public health professionals so that we may make decisions on our continued state of Public Health Emergency.

Please join us and continue to mask up, social distance and sanitize at every opportunity. We encourage vaccination and living a safe and healthy lifestyle.

Our nation is going through many difficult issues that impact our employment and services we provide. We encourage understanding and patience as we all continue to do the best we can. With a good mind, a good heart and a strong fire, the Oneida Nation will benefit from working together to be better.

in legal proceedings before the Michigan Public Service Commission.

Richard Kuprewicz, a chemical engineer with nearly 50 years of in-depth experience in the oil and gas industry, gave damning testimony before the commission in December 2021 on behalf of Bay Mills. Kuprewicz warned the commission of the chances of a catastrophic explosion which in turn would lead to a high-pressure event inside the tunnel followed by multiple fires and more explosions. A blast of this magnitude would shatter concrete, compromising the structural integrity of the tunnel’s containment system. Once this system fails, oil will almost certainly be released into the Straits of Mackinac.

While Enbridge attempts to convey the tunnel effort as a way to prevent accidents in the straits, the inherent risk of an underground explosion while handling both propane and crude oil is greatly enhanced within the confined space of an underground tunnel. As of this writing, Enbridge Inc. is attempting to strike Kuprewicz’s expert testimony from the Michigan Public Service Commission’s hearing record.

As these highly contentious battles will continue to be fought into the foreseeable future, the Oneida Nation is steadfast in its unwavering support for the Rights of Nature. The Nation also remains committed to engaging with other tribes, organizations, and state and federal governments in its opposition to Enbridge Inc.’s continued high-risk construction of Pipelines 3 and 5.

Oneida artist receives Arts Program grant

Local artist Kiona McDaniel was a recent recipient of a generous Oneida Arts Program and Wisconsin Arts Board grant. The assistance, which helped McDaniel upgrade her carving tools, has enabled her to complete projects and place some of them on display at the Radisson Hotel and Conference Center.

A stone carver, McDaniel honed her craft from Master Stone Carver Charlotte Darling-Diehl, an Oneida Arts Program instructor. “I am so grateful to the Oneida Arts Program and the Wisconsin Arts Board for this amazing opportunity,” McDaniel said. “This grant has given me the ability to produce these fine works of art and I’m really looking forward to producing many more sculptures in the near future.”

The Woodland Indian Arts accepted her submissions for show, leading to the opportunity to display some of her work at the Radisson. Her art has been on display at the hotel since the beginning of December and will continue through the end of January 2022.

Emerson Metoxen Story Demands Greater Attention

By Denis Gullickson, Thunderhawk Times Advisor

There is often more to a picture than meets the eye. That is certainly the case with an article that appeared recently in our pages regarding Mr. Emerson Metoxen.

That article was about Radnor High School in Pennsylvania apparently honoring Mr. Metoxen — a long-time, popular faculty member there — and a supposed gift from Radnor High School to Oneida Nation High School in Mr. Metoxen’s honor.

However, some of the information allegedly sent by RHS to ONHS deserves a deeper dive including the motivation for and the source of the gift itself.

Mr. Metoxen’s family and others — while rightfully proud of Mr. Metoxen — have potential concerns about this entire matter.

So, we are retracting the previous story for the time being, working diligently to get all of the facts straight, and planning an in-depth future article — including fascinating source material from Mr. Metoxen’s family.

Please stay tuned.

Oneida Nation High School Project Learning Days

By Thunderhawk Times Staff

The school calendar had regularly scheduled days off for Mid-Winter Ceremonies on Friday and Monday, January 7 and 10. The first semester ended on Thursday, January 13 and a Staff Inservice was set for Friday, January 14.

On Monday, January 10, a call went out to the Oneida School System learning family announcing that “due to the challenge of Covid19 impacting our staff,” Tuesday, January 11 through Thursday, January 13 would be “K-12 At Home Project Learning Days.”

Project Learning Days have been held previously during the school year, while district staff participated in in-services and online learning activities.

Since chromebooks assigned to students had been left at school on Thursday, January 6, the school system let parents and guardians know that technology was not required to complete Project Learning activities. Siblings were allowed to work together on projects and 30 minutes of reading and journaling were “required each day.”

In line with the time of year and Mid-Winter Ceremonies, Project Learning activities revolved around parts of Mid-Winter and the Thanksgiving Opening. Projects could be done through art and through writing including reflection of students’ favorite Oneida words from the Opening or Mid-Winter Ceremonies.

Student attendance was taken during the Project Learning Days via parent or guardian contact with students’ homeroom teachers regarding what project students in their family was working on.

The Oneida School School Administration with the guidance by the Oneida Nation Public Health Department determined that the Project Learning days were the best way to “prevent any further staff coming down with the virus.”
Oneida Civics Reservation Tour

By Thunderhawk Times Staff
Part Two of a Two-Part Series

It was several steps back in time for Oneida Civics students on their recent tour of historic locations on the Oneida Reservation.

The group of mostly ONHS seniors accompanied by Civics Teacher Jeanne Lillich and Owastileh Coordinator Denis Gullickson visited 24 significant sites, beginning and ending at Norbert Hill Center.

Each student’s task for the trip was to take photos of the various sites visited and learn about their significance as a part of Oneida History and Culture and, where it applied, Tribal Government.

At each stop, Jeanne and Denis shared additional information with the students.

The first destination for the group was the Cultural Heritage Site off Mason Street. There, the group visited the longhouse, Salt Pork Avenue, and the 3 Sisters Statues.

Next, the group visited the Health Center paying particular attention to the story of Dr. Minoeka Hill.

Next up was the library, Trust Department, Civic Center and Iron Bridge in the area of Site One. Jeanne mentioned that the Civic Center was where tribal bingo began.

From there, the group visited the area around the Episcopal Stone Church, Parish Hall, cemetery, and the Oneida Ballfields. Here, the group learned of the former location of the Oneida Hospital.

Down Freedom Road, the group stopped at the Methodist Church where they learned of the Oneida Fairs that took place across the road from the present church where the former church was also located. Denis told the students about historic football games that took place during the Oneida Fairs.

Next, was the Oneida Museum. Then, Chicago Corners where the General Store was located and the location of Oneida Government at one time.

The group passed the Department of Public Works and visited the park near Site Two. There, they looked at the park building built by the Works Progress Administration. Jeanne shared that further information could be on YouTube as “Loretta Metoxen and the WPA.”

Then, it was a visit to the Buffalo Overlook. After that, the Oneida longhouse. Then, Thornberry Creek and Tsyunhekwa.

Nearly back at the high school, the group toured the Service Road area including the former site of St. Joseph Church and other related buildings as well as the commercial area that included “Downtown Oneida’s” thriving business district and the Oneida Train Station.

The group returned to ONHS just before the end of the school day with a lot of new information and a better sense of Oneida history, culture, and government.

The Gift

By Shoshonee Adams
Thunderhawk Times

One gift that I got from someone was a gold chain from my grandma on my fourteenth golden birthday.

The chain was special to me because my dad told me never to take it off. It was also special to me because my grandma used to wear it all the time.

I still have it to this day. It is very special to me because everyone has one in my family they were little.

Coming Up ...

In our next issues, we will take a look at the start of the second semester, our winter sports teams, the look ahead for 2021-2022 school year and more. We will also feature pieces on new ONHS staff members and how students and staff are forging ahead as the pandemic continues to impact schoolings across the United States, the world, and in Oneida.

BUDGET MANAGEMENT AND CONTROL LAW AMENDMENTS

The purpose of this law is to set forth the requirements to be followed by the Oneida Business Committee and Oneida fund units when preparing the budget to be presented to the General Tribal Council for approval, and to establish other financial policies and procedures for the Nation.

The proposed amendments to the Budget Management and Control law will:

1. Expand the purpose and policy of this Law to address other financial policies and procedures for the Nation beyond just the budget process;

2. Eliminate the strategic planning provisions from this Law, instead providing simply that the Oneida Business Committee should develop and adopt a strategic plan, broad goals, or priorities for the Nation that the budget shall reflect;

3. Clarify the authority and responsibilities of those individuals who play a part in the Nation’s budget process;

4. Simplify the budget process and procedure contained in the Law in an effort to improve the Nation’s compliance with the Law and provide more flexibility to adjust the budget development and adoption procedure to meet the Nation’s current circumstances; and

5. Include new provisions which address unbudgeted expenditures, obligated future expenditures, capital contributions, grants, debt, employment and labor allocations, and unbudgeted positions.

For more information on the proposed amendments to the Budget Management and Control law please review the public comment packet at oneida-nsn.gov/government/register/public meetings.

PUBLIC COMMENT PERIOD CLOSES WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 2, 2022

The Nation’s COVID-19 Team issued a declaration on March 27, 2020, titled “Suspension of Public Meetings under the Legislative Procedures Act.” This declaration provides that the Legislative Procedures Act’s requirement to hold a public meeting during the public comment period is suspended due to the COVID-19 public health emergency. Oneida Business Committee resolution BC-12-08-21-B, Updating Public Gathering Guidelines During Public Health State of Emergency - COVID-19, prohibits indoor public meetings from occurring when COVID-19 Case Activity rates are above low in Brown and Outagamie Counties, COVID-19 Percent Positive rates are above low in Brown and Outagamie Counties, and when COVID-19 Community Transmission Rates by ZIP Code Tabulation Area are above low in the designated ZIP Codes or the ZIP Code in which the activity is being held, as identified on the Wisconsin Department of Health Services website for the most recent period. The Nation has not yet met these thresholds for holding an indoor public meeting. Although there will be no in person public meeting, the public comment period will still occur, and individuals can participate in the legislative process by submitting written comments, questions, or other input via e-mail to LOC@oneidanation.org.
FOOD SAFETY:
As with power outages in any season, keep the refrigerator and freezer doors closed as much as possible. A refrigerator will keep food cold for about 4 hours if the door is kept closed. A full freezer will hold its temperature for about 48 hours. Even with snow and ice, outside temperatures can vary, causing chilled food to enter the danger zone. However, winter conditions can be helpful in one way. Refrigerators and freezers that lack power can still function as an old-fashioned iceboxes that use ice instead of electricity. Source: FoodSafety.gov

As with summer power outages, once power is restored, people should evaluate food and dispose of anything that may be unsafe. When in doubt throw it out!

CONSERVE HEAT:
- Some gas-fueled heaters, such as vent-less gas fireplaces, require some ventilation. Otherwise, if you don’t need extra ventilation, keep as much heat as possible inside your home.
- Avoid unnecessarily opening doors or windows.
- Close off unneeded rooms.
- Stuff towels or rags in cracks under doors.
- Close draperies or cover windows with blankets at night.
- Go to safe shelter when extremely cold

AFTER A POWER OUTAGE:
- Be extra cautious if you go outside to inspect for damage after a storm. Downed or hanging electrical wires can be hidden by snowdrifts, trees, or debris, and could be live. Never attempt to touch or move downed lines. Keep children and pets away from them. Always stay 25 feet away from downed power lines.
- Check on neighbors, especially senior citizens, and individuals with functional needs.
- Do not touch anything power lines are touching, such as tree branches or fences. Always assume a downed line is a live line. Call your utility company to report any outage-related problem.
- Never call 9-1-1 to ask about a power outage. (Source: Michigan.gov)

KEEP A WATER SUPPLY:
Extreme cold can cause water pipes in your home to freeze and sometimes rupture or break.
- Leave all water taps slightly open so they drip continuously.
- If your pipes do freeze, do not thaw them with a torch. Thaw the pipes slowly with warm air from an electric hair dryer.

HEAT YOUR HOME SAFELY:
- If you plan to use a wood stove, fireplace, or space heater, be extremely careful.
- Use fireplaces, wood stoves, or other combustion heaters only if they are properly vented to the outside and do not leak gas from the flue or exhaust into the indoor air.
- Do not burn paper in a fireplace.
- Make sure you have proper ventilation if you must use a kerosene heater.
- Use only the type of fuel your heater is designed to use—don’t substitute.
Staying warm when the power is out

- Close blinds or curtains to keep in some heat.
- Close off rooms to avoid wasting heat.
- Wear layers of loose-fitting, lightweight warm clothes.
- Eat and drink. Food provides energy to warm the body.
- Avoid caffeine and alcohol.

Stuff towels or rags in cracks under doors.

Using an unsafe heating device indoors can cause carbon monoxide poisoning

- Portable gasoline heater
- Propane heater
- Natural gas heater
- Charcoal heater

After the Winter Storm: Power Outage

Be careful with heat sources
Candles and space heaters are a fire risk. Also stay warm by bundling up and keeping doors closed, placing towels in cracks.

Practice portable generator safety
Use outdoors, at least 20 feet away from doors/windows/garages to avoid carbon monoxide poisoning. Follow instructions on proper use.

Check on neighbors
Once your family is safe, check on your neighbors and the vulnerable to make sure they are OK.
Our family’s decision? Stepping up her safety.

→ Because COVID-19 can be serious for kids, too.

Getting COVID-19 can have real consequences for a child’s health, from a hospital stay to living with “long COVID” symptoms. Taking simple steps as a family—like wearing a mask in class or getting kids the free COVID-19 vaccine for ages 5 and up—can help kids stay safe and in school.
