WISCONSIN STATE BUDGET Actions on Oneida Nation Priorities

"I wish to extend our appreciation to the Wisconsin State Legislature's Joint Committee on Finance for approving a number of funding priorities of the Oneida Nation," stated Oneida Nation Chairman Tehassi Hill. "A huge thank you to Senator Rob Cowles (R-Green Bay), Representative Joy Goeben (R-Hobart) and Representative John Macco (R-Green Bay), for authoring and advocating on budget motions that represent Oneida Nation priorities. And, a special thank you to Senator Eric Wimberger (R-Green Bay) who, as a committee member, helped support and shepherd the proposals through the budget committee process."

The Oneida Nation has a proud tradition of partnering with area stakeholders on programs and initiatives that benefit the Oneida Nation and the region. On Thursday, June 8, 2023, the State Legislature's Joint Committee on Finance approved four initiatives funded with tribal gaming revenues that included partnerships amongst the Oneida Nation, area local governments, UW-Green Bay and the Northeast Audubon Society.

- Healing to Wellness Court Program. $259,100 annually for grants to the Oneida Nation to support a voluntary post-conviction program for adults that will provide various court, substance abuse treatment and community-based supports. The program represents a collaborative effort of criminal justice stakeholders working together to break the cycle of substance abuse, recidivism, and the negative effects it has on the individual, their families and the general community.
- Oneida Nation, UW-Green Bay and Northeastern Audubon Society Collaboration. $175,000 annually for grants to Oneida Nation providing or a robust volunteer recruitment and coordination program to carry out the bird monitoring effort on recently restored Oneida Nation grasslands, marshes, and forests to evaluate the success of this restoration. It will also include a public education and outreach program on the cultural and conservation aspects of the program which have improved water quality within the project's watershed.

- National Estuarine Research Reserve System (NERR). $110,100 annually to the Oneida Nation for grants to support coordination between the National Estuarine Research Reserve System (NERR) under the federal Office for Coastal management, the Great Lakes Intertribal Council and UW-Green Bay.

KING Continues Work on Replica Longhouse

By Sarah Madden Contributing Writer

The October 2022 edition chronicled Carter King, Oneida member and current Yale University Theatre and Performance student, regarding his work to create authentic wardrobes worn by local Oneida's during the Anniversary Treaty Signing in September 2022. At the same time, he was also enhancing the replica longhouse at the Amelia Cornelius Culture Park with more exhibits. This year, together with his team, comprised of UW-Stevens Point student Mark Wozinski and UW-Oshkosh student Megan Kitzman, are continuing this effort. "We are all theatre kids that grew up around scene-shops and power tools. I like to work with local people that I know & trust and has a stake in the community."

Utilizing their extensive research and diverse theatre skills, King, Wozinkski, and Kitzman got to work upgrading the 60 ft long bench/ sleeping areas with cedar posts that were cut, sanded, and meticulously fitted down the length of the longhouse. King explained how every space was utilized, "Storage under the sleeping areas were for food and personal objects or for broken pottery to go back to the earth [biodegrade]. At each end of the longhouse, there were also areas for more storage and trade goods." King went on to explain more details about trade goods, "Trade boxes in the storage area were stamped with emblems to represent the trading companies from that period." Other trade goods include kettles, forged chains, ladles, beads, fabric, and blankets. When it comes to the interior of the longhouse, King described that Oneida dwellings were mistakenly perceived as only being beige and shades of brown, but he emphasized this wasn't true and that Oneida loved trading for blue and red fabrics and thus, King adorned the interior with garments and blankets to represent this.

Previous features that King created are on the exterior which include a drying shed for firewood, corn and meat drying, a tanning rack for small deer and beaver hide, and a tripod which was typically used for long term boiling and smoking.

Found throughout the team's research, Woznicki states "The one consistent factor was the sheer amount of food always available and in storage in any given long house." Therefore, next on King's list of projects is to create replicas of two Oneida staples, Atlantic Salmon and White Corn. Attempts have been made to do so however, current 3D printer technology was not up to the task. Now, King says they are going to try a molded cast method. Finally, King will also be adding more trade boxes. In the end, King is passionate about his teams work and Oneida's aptitude for creating community relations, "It's important to know that we have always been and always will be people who are invested in our community and in our neighbors and thus, trade goods are incorporated into our culture."

MEDICINE KITCHEN-New Food Stand Blazing a Trail

By Sarah Madden

Contributing Writer

Medicine Kitchen, co-owned by Oneida Members Miya Goodeagle and Mikiya Alloway, is an up-and-coming food vendor on the Pow Wow trail. In the summer of 2022, inspired by their love of cooking and wanting to provide healthier food options for the community, They started a food business to accomplish this.

Goodeagle shared how she and a relative of Alloway were able to significantly improve their health by changing the foods they eat, explaining that "Food is Medicine." With this premise, the aptly named Medicine Kitchen was created and in so doing, is the way Goodeagle and Mikiya distinguished their business.

All of Medicine Kitchen's food is gluten, dairy, and egg free with no refined sugars, and mostly organic. They don't use nuts. Rather, seeds like sunflower and pumpkin are utilized. If a dish needs sweetening, maple syrup is their go-to sweetener. Medicine Kitchen's menu includes buffalo Bowls, boricua Bowls, wild rice & berries bowl, smoothies, mint tea, strawberry drink, various soups such as ground turkey chili and three sisters' soup, and fruit cups sweetened with maple syrup.

In addition to having a food stand on the Pow Wow trail, Medicine Kitchen is also expanding into the catering realm. Recently, they were invited several times by the faculties of Lawrence University in Appleton, WI and UW-Green Bay to test-market each campuses students for Medicine Kitchen's healthy food options. They are also scheduled for events through this October. Goodeagle also has a business with husband, Ronnie, called Goodeagle Gourmet, LLC., in which they prepare healthy foods as well, but due so exclusively as a catering style. In fact, Goodeagle Gourmet, LLC is now on the Oneida vendor list.

Goodeagle knows that there is a need in the pow wow community for healthier options, stating "I care about people's health. Change is hard. It's hard being sick and it's hard changing to a healthier lifestyle, we must choose our hard." Goodeagle hopes to be invited to different types of events in the future such as schools and businesses to advocate for healthier eating but will always stay committed to the pow wow community.

Roxanne Counard, a 77 years young Oneida Member, works as a welder for KI, a 7.5 Million dollar company based in Green Bay that manufactures commercial furniture.

From chairs to tables and so much more, Counard, as of Monday, October 3, 2022, has reported to work every day for 50 years! On this special day, Counard's boss, John Kersten, had special t-shirts made proclaiming 50 years of awesomeness in honor of Roxanne Counard Day at KI.

The Kalihwisaks was made aware of Roxanne earlier this year and had the pleasure of visiting her this past June 2022. Initially, she informed us that her career at KI began in the upholstery area. However, after being attracted through her passion to make things, she moved to the welding sector and never looked back. Counard takes great pride in her work, ensuring quality with every weld. She provided a tour of her workspace and explained how many times, she has to build devices called Jigs, before she can fabricate the actual project(s) she's working on. Through the years, like many businesses, robots and automation made their impact. Counard accepted this new technology with enthusiasm. However, she expressed how she still prefers the old-fashioned manual welding.

After visiting Roxanne, Kersten provided us a tour of the rest of the plant. It was very apparent how KI uses a streamlined manufacturing strategy to achieve the success they have. More importantly, though, it's through employees like Roxanne that make their company shine. Keep on keeping on Roxanne! You're representing Oneida in a good way with a strong fire.

NEW PRO ELEVATES TCO EXPERIENCE

After gaining experience at various courses around the country, Cody Franke began become Head Golf Pro at TCO in February 2023.

By Garth Webster

Kalihwisaks/Creative Services

Cody Franke, a 7 Year PGA Professional, became the newest head golf pro for Thornberry Creek at Oneida (TCO) in February 2022.

Cody comes from a golfing family. Surprisingly, he explained that it was not his parents that got him interested in golf but rather, his grandparents, who are about 83 now and as Franke says, "Still shoot their age when playing. Franke and his brother, Craig, who is also a club pro, grew up in northern Illinois near Gurnee. In high school, Cody played with great success in the Illinois State Championship Series and since then, has been even more successful as he began his post-high school golfing career.

He attended Ferris State University in Big Rapids, MI. After graduating, he did several internships, starting with the Deer Path Golf Course in Lake Forrest, Illinois, then moved on to a golf resort in Jackson Hole, Wyoming. Most recently, via the Kemper Sports organization, he was gaining experience at Desert Willow Golf Resort, which is near Palm Springs, California. After all the traveling, Franke was happy to accept his current TCO position to be closer to home and family.

When asked about a typical day is like as the PGA Pro at TCO is like, he explained, "Well, we only have about 180 days of season so my days start about 6am and I usually finish about 6 or 7pm." While working these extended hours, Franke is department-head for everything related to golf, except for groundskeeping, where he says he works in tandem with his co-worker, Steve. Other than this, Franke manages the weekly golf leagues, golf outings, the pro shop, and manages to find time to provide lessons to anyone willing to learn. Franke said the lessons are either a ½ hour or 1 hour in which you'll receive great instruction accompanied with a video narrated by himself and full of on-screen reference lines to show you personalized do's and don'ts for your swing. In fact, one way Frank makes a big impact on those learning the game is with local youth.

Historically, TCO has been a First-Tee venue but this year, they moved to a program called the PGA Junior Golf League whereby two junior level players team up to compete in local scramble-format tournaments. Franke said these junior players also get to play on prestigious and private local venues like Oneida Golf & Riding and the Green Bay Country Club. As Franke says, "We have to find ways to sustain the game." The PGA Junior Golf League accomplishes this along with two other events Franke facilitates at TCO, the Northeast Junior Golf Association happening this August as well as the Notah Begay Charity Golf Tournament for juniors. Franke says these events help our youth beyond the game of golf, "It teaches them the mental capacities of teamwork, integrity, honesty, and trustworthiness. What other game do you play were you call a penalty on yourself?" Beyond the youth, Franke ensures the adults who play at TCO also have a great experience.

As mentioned, Franke takes great pride to ensure the level of service the players experience is matched by the quality of the course and facilities. "People spend at least four hours playing so we make sure that they have a great time," says Franke. Along with players on golf events, including the well-known Charles Woodson outing, which draws about 216 players each year. As Franke points out, "We are the official golf course of the Green Bay Packers so having the former Packer Charles Woodson's event here is an honor and great integration."

The here and now at TCO is exceptional and as Franke describes, the future is also exciting with plans to ramp-up the golf-simulator experience this offseason. Franke also wants to implement corporate and/or large-group golf clinic packages whereby participants will receive lessons along with food and beverage service. Finally, TCO and the entire Green Bay area is highly anticipating the NFL Draft being hosted by Lambeau Field in 2025. Make sure to visit GolfThornberry.com to schedule your experience at TCO.

COMMUNITY ENSURES PACKETS GO OUT

By Garth Webster

Kalihwisaks/Creative Services

Unbeknownst to most, for every General Tribal Council Meeting, roughly 7,000 GTC Packets are individually hand-stuffed into envelopes at Big Bear Media.

Further complicating these last packets (for the July 24 meeting), which are normally sent via the Post Office, had to be sent by UPS. For this run, there were hangups to make and apply the mailing labels, which led to more hand work.

Big Bear Media is giving a shoutout to the 18 volunteers who tirelessly applied labels to each packet on Monday, July 10, 2023 so the packets could be delivered to comply with the 10-day meeting notice. A huge thank you also to all the Oneida Community members who sacrificed their free time during evenings, and weekends, to stuff the packets. Without them, the community would never receive their information.

By Garth Webster

Kalihwisaks/Creative Services

Margaret King, Outreach Specialist for the Wisconsin Alzheimer's Disease Research Center (WADRC), is hosting the Oneida Cars and Guitars event Saturday, September 23, 2023.

King's goal with the event is to build awareness about Alzheimer's research and testing at the University of Wisconsin-Madison. King says that much of WADRC's work begins with education and thus, their initial goal is to have an open house where people can feel comfortable, enjoy themselves and hear this very important message.

Via the title and theme of the event, King is pursuing local bands and car clubs to increase the attendance. Food will also be provided to about the first 150 people. "This will be a great event, we are hoping to reach out to everyone who may be experiencing memory loss or signs of Alzheimer's. We want to educate and refer them for possible testing and other programs they have."

King also wants to integrate other community services such as filling resource tables to provide health information. If you'd like to help, contact Margaret at 920.246.9177 or email making@medicine.wisc.edu or Sacheen Lawrence at 608.262.6505 or slawrence@ medicine.wisc.edu. Stay tuned for more details.

Friends, congregation members of the Holy Apostles Church in Oneida, as well as fellow clergy members, gathered for a retirement get-together and feast Sunday, June 24, 2023 at the Parish Hall for Father Roger Patience, who is retiring early due to health reasons.

BEHAVIORAL HEALTH

FOCUS ON SELF-CARE, REDUCING STRESS AND HEALTHY CHOICES DURING NATIONAL WELLNESS MONTH

Mari Kriescher By Mari Kriescher Oneida Behavioral Health

August is a month of transition. Changes in the weather begin to signal the coming transition from summer to fall and our children prepare for a return to school classes and activities. The slow pace of early August offers a wonderful opportunity to reintroduce healthy habits and routines that can relight our fire and make us feel more balanced and whole.

In fact, August is National Wellness Month, which is why Oneida Behavioral Health encourages everyone to make time for self-care, stress reducing activities and reintroducing healthy routines. Making time for yourself doesn't have to be expensive or take a lot of time. Here are some simple ideas that will have a positive impact on your health and wellbeing.

- Get Outdoors whether you prefer sunny days or the smell of rain after a thunderstorm, reintroduce yourself to nature. Get outside, in a lawn chair or on a walk, and take in the sounds, smells and feel of the outdoors.
- Grab a Piece of Fruit is it the color, smell, taste or texture that makes a fresh, ripe piece of fruit so appealing during a warm summer month? Take the time to grab a fresh piece of fruit (or a vegetable) and eat it with no distraction. It's good for both your physical and mental health.
- Breathe Deeply a seemingly simple thing, because we're breathing all the time anyway, deep breathing helps oxygenate your blood and provides a host of benefits. Deep breathing can calm your nerves, reduce stress and anxiety, improve your attention span and lower pain levels.
- Stretch and Move whether you prefer yoga, walking, bicycling or something more active, stretching and movement can increase blood flow to your muscles, improve your ability to perform daily activities and help you decompress.

• Connect with Others – having a healthy support system you can share your experiences with can help you better manage stressors that inevitably arise. Make a habit of connecting with supportive family and friends on a regular basis. If you're looking for a larger group to connect with, consider attending our weekly Kunhi-Yo events where you can meet new people and learn more about Indigenous history and healing. And make note that our larger, annual Kunhi-Yo gathering takes place on Thursday, August 31.

If you're looking for a smaller, more private group to share your experiences with, join us at a weekly Wellness Support Group, Monday through Friday from 1-2:30pm for discussions about coping, relationships, emotions and community. The group is open to all Tribal eligible adults over 18 years of age and no referral is needed. We meet at 2640 West Point Road.

As always, if you are facing challenges that are affecting your mental health, please reach out to us at (920) 490-3790.

KHLOE ELICE ABDELBAQI-GRAVES July 17, 2017 - July 6, 2023

Khloe Elice Abdelbaqi-Graves, better known as "Peaches", age 5, was born July 17, 2017, in Green Bay, WI, passed away peacefully with her family by her side.

Peaches fought a long hard battle with cancer, but even on the darkest days she remained strong and brave and reminded us all to do the same.

From the moment she was born, she was the light of our lives. Her personality was so beautiful, it only took one encounter with her, and you would remember her for always. Peaches was the toughest, sweetest, most helpful, beautiful little girl in the whole world. She loved doing hair and make up for her family and even for her nurses and doctors. When her sign for "Peaches Salon" hung on her hospital door, her nurses knew they would be sporting a "Peaches original" hair do that day.

Peaches was very lucky that she had a best friend waiting for her at birth. Her older brother Kahlead was her most fierce protector and her partner in crime. He is the best big brother anyone could ask for. It is his job now to teach baby sister Amani all about what a gem Peaches was.

Peaches enjoyed making the world a more beautiful place. Her favorite colors are rainbows and glitter, and I believe those are the colors of her soul.

It is impossible to put into words how loved this child is, from family to strangers alike. A piece of our heart is gone just out of reach until we are together again.

Peaches is survived by her mom Hayley DeGrave, dad Kahlead Abdelbaqi-Graves, big brother Kahlead, baby sister Amani, grandparents Jesse and Janel LaRock, Damon Litkey (Ashley Wriedt), Erica and Jeffrey Jones. She is further survived by her uncle Clearwater (Leah Kuchta) Fish, cousins Ares and DeAngelo, uncle Jerimiah, uncle Brandon, uncle Jeffrey, great uncle Cody, great great uncle Jeff, aunt Naomi "Homer" LaRock, aunt Ariana, aunt Briah, aunt Jaquia, aunt Shakia, great great aunt Tracy, and great great aunt Dixie, and many many other aunts, uncles, cousins, and loved ones.

She is preceded in death by her great grandma Melody, great grandpa Mike, great great grandma Lou, and her puppies Koonz and Wuzzi.

Family and friends may gather at The Oneida Sacred Burial Grounds at 11am on Thursday July 13, 2023, for a graveside service with a celebration of life to follow at Pamperin Park in Green Bay.

The family would like to extend a special thank you to their community that has been so supportive in their journey, hospice, 10th floor at St. Vincent Hospital, and to the Children's Oncology Clinic for taking such care of Peaches through this journey.

DAWN STURDEVANT BAUM July 3, 1976 - June 10, 2023

Dawn is sunshine, a bright light in the clouds. Dawn Sturdevant Baum, 46, passed away June 10th, 2023 from complications of metastatic breast cancer. She passed peacefully surrounded by family. Dawn's light continues to shine to many. Dawn was born to Mary Kay Baum and Michael Sturdevant in Pleasant Springs, WI during the sunrise of July 3rd, 1976. Fittingly, weeks before her birth, Grandmother Nellie Sturdevant had suggested to Mary Kay the name Meep, meaning Dawn.

Dawn came to experience life with some of her Menominee relatives. These include her half-sister Michelle Sturdevant who at age 10 lived with Mary Kay for a year. Dawn guided many including Tara Sturdevant, Craig Sturdevant, and Marisa Soto. In addition to having Menominee relations, Dawn was proud to be enrolled in the Sokaogon Chippewa Community – Mole Lake Band of Ojibwe.

In 1988 Dawn's mother Mary Kay married George Swamp. They welcomed Dawn's brother, Jake Swamp in 1989. George officially adopted Dawn as his daughter on Feb 1, 2019, after serving in that role for many important years.

Though she was taken far too soon from us, she leaves behind her family and a vast network of friends and colleagues who will honor her memory, carry on her work, and remember and celebrate the singularly wonderful individual she was. How rare to shine so brightly for so many. Dawn is preceded in death by her biological father Michael Sturdevant, grandmother Nellie Sturdevant, grandparents Buelah M. and Vincent J. Baum, step-grandmother Patricia Calnin Baum, grandparents Grace and George N. Swamp, and aunt Beverly Baum.

Dawn is survived by her parents Mary Kay Baum and George Swamp, and her brother Jake Swamp.

Also dearly missed by aunts and uncles: Sheri (Marlin) Mousseau, Sue (Ed) McDay, John Baum, Christine (Wade) Van Ryzin, Richard (Anna Threlfall) Baum, Edward (Mary) Baum, Kenneth (Jeanne) Baum, Charles (Sharie) Baum, Rosann (Douglas) Baum Milius and Rodger (Anna) Baum.

Dawn is also missed by many more members of her Baum, Swamp and Sturdevant families and countless friends.

The Family is also especially grateful to Aunt Rosann for all the extra support she provides.

The immediate family had a private burial for Dawn at St. Joseph's Cemetery in Appleton on the solstice. Family, friends, and all wishing to celebrate Dawn's life are invited to the Oneida Radisson Conference Center, Green Bay, WI between 3-8pm on Saturday July 15, 2023, with a Celebration of Life program from 4-6pm. This will be the first of what will be a series of celebrations of Dawn's life we are working on organizing. Other locations we intend to eventually hold celebrations of her life include Klamath, CA; Madison or Beloit, WI; and Washington, DC. We will of course be unofficially celebrating her life everywhere we go.

Dawn was a highly accomplished academic and activist. Read Dawn's full obituary here by scanning or clicking the QR Code.

In lieu of flowers, donations can be made to National Indian Education Association, National Breast Cancer Foundation, Inc. or Wise Women Gathering Place in Dawn's name. If you insist on flowers know that Dawn had a strong preference for uncut or potted flowers, she felt we should find ways to enjoy their beauty without killing them when possible.

JUNE M. BEGAY 1929 - July 13 2023

June M. Begay, 94, Oneida, WI, died peacefully in her sleep on July 13th, 2023. She will be missed greatly by her loving children, grandchildren, and great-grandchildren. June has joined her beloved husband, James C. Begay, who she was married to for 65 years. The reunion will be celebrated by all who loved them.

June was born in Milwaukee, WI during the depression era. A few years after her birth, her father moved his family to Oneida and built a home on June's grandmother's land. Her parents moved a few more times until finally settling on County H near Ranch Road. After June graduated from East High School, Green Bay in 1948, she attended Haskell Institute in Kansas. She earned her secretarial certification and found a iob in Fort Defiance, AZ. There is where she met the man who would become her husband, James Begay. They had 6 children and since James was in the military, it was not unusual for the young family to relocate. They lived in Oklahoma, and various locations in California. After James retired from the military in 1965, the Begay family moved to Northern California. During her lifetime she worked for various companies as a clerical support personnel. She best remembered her position at the U.S. Postal Service from which she retired after 25 years. Upon retirement, June and her husband left the state of California to move to Oneida, WI. There they had a home built, which they enjoyed throughout their retirement years. June loved to receive visits from her family and friends and enjoyed playing card games and laugh. She loved to sew clothing, quilts and craft dolls, work on puzzles, and take trips with her husband. She was a member of The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints and she enjoyed the visits from her visiting teachers.

June is survived by her children Candace (John) Walton-Litchfield Park, AZ; Susan Wilson-Oneida, WI; Carla (Todd) Di Salvo-San Jose, CA; Joseph Begay-Anchorage, AK; and many grandchildren and great-grandchildren. She is preceded in death by her two eldest sons, James R. Begay Jr. and Dennis S. Begay; her daughter-in-law Donna Conrad (Joseph Begay) and her father Raymond Ira Cornelius, her mother Lydia Cornelius; her brother Ira Cornelius (Buddy); her sister Donna Lake and brother-in-law, Jim Lake.

The family would like to thank the Oneida Health Clinic and staff for their support in her medical care. She felt much compassion and care in the staff's attention to her needs. The family would also like to thank the Oneida Police Department who came to assist when needed and Unity Hospice for their help in providing her comfort and compassion.

Honoring our Past, Present, and our Future, the Journey Home.

Dawn Dark Mountain's work measures roughly 29" wide by 41" tall, her largest ever piece. The title, Honoring our Past, Present, and our Future, the Journey Home, is described by Dark Mountain, "Encircled by the shell of the Great Turtle, our ancestors journey to their new home on Duck Creek. They pass the ducks, the trillium and all the new land has to offer.

Enclosing the circle are the Maple Trees, their roots represent our ancestors, the trunk, the present generation and the seeds and leaves turning into stars, the future generations. As we came from the stars, we return to the stars following the strawberry path to the next world.

Along with the Turtle, our other two clans, the Wolf and Bear are honored; they appear along the Oneida Tribal Belt. Each square represents the territories of each of the Six Nations; the diamonds are the council fires. The end squares are open as the Six Nations are open for other Nations to join us in the Great Peace. There are twenty-two wampum beads sewn into the painting, representing the year 1822 when we first came to Duck Creek.

The top of the piece has seven sky domes with celestrial trees representing the Seven Generations, as the sacred tobacco burns, giving thanks to Creation.
