Council Members Jameson Wilson, Kirby Metoxen, Jennifer Webster, Jonas Hill, and Marlon Skenandore facilitated the quarterly Legislative Operating Committee (LOC) Community Meeting held in the Norbert Hill Center Cafeteria Wednesday evening, December 6, 2023 for the approximately 57 attendees who came to listen to and offer their recommendations on important legislation happening in Oneida.

The meeting began with an overview of the legislative process, followed by LOC's guiding principles, as well as an explanation of the purpose of the meeting(s), which is to collect comments, suggestions, and concerns to be considered and utilized in the development of new laws.

As the meeting progressed, participants enjoyed a free meal while discussing the Elder Protection Law, Oneida Language Law, and finally, the Oneida Higher Education Law. Councilman Wilson was quite pleased how the meeting turned out, stating, "The LOC is dedicated to hosting these types of events to engage Oneida Nation citizens in the legislative process. We truly appreciate the comments and feedback we received and thus, we feel this first community meeting was a resounding success."

The next LOC Community meeting will be held Tuesday, March 6, 2024. Together, the LOC and the Oneida Community can make Oneida's laws more effective.

BUSINESS COMMITTEE FORUM

By Larry Barton
OBC Treasurer

Holiday greetings to the membership. I would like to acknowledge our students at all levels as the fall semester concludes. As noted in Chairman Hill and Vice Chairman Brandon Steven's Forum, the Oneida Business Committee (OBC) formulated Strategic Planning using the Native Nations Institute framework developed by the Univ. of Arizona. According to this framework, our next steps will be implementing and execution of the strategies. Before finalization, though, it is critical for members to actively provide input regarding these strategies to validate the strategic planning process. We look forward to the views and input from the members to prioritize direction into the future.

Recently, focus has been placed on expansion of the General Welfare Assistance (GWA) Safe Harbor provisions. The US Treasury will be providing guidance soon to guide the Legislative Operating Committee toward effective application of the GWA, which is vitally important in exercising Sovereignty & Self-Governance to develop Policy which serves the economic interests of the members while determining rules for guidance of the GWA. The Tribal Taxation Advisory Committee, made up of Tribal Leaders throughout the Country, is also in consultation with US Treasury to finalize guidance for Tribes. We're excited that this information will help the Oneida Nation Legislative Operating Committee (LOC) optimize GWA benefit applicability of Federal taxation. Areas of consideration to allocate GWA Funding are:

- Educational Assistance
- Elder & Disabled Assistance
- Self-Determined Qualifying Assistance
- Cultural & Religious Programs

The Oneida Nation Treasury continues to maintain focus to providing required reporting of both the Coronavirus Aid Relief and Economic Security Act (CARES) from 2020 & American Rescue Plan Act (ARPA) from 2021. These reports are planned for the January 15, 2024 General Tribal Council (GTC) meeting.

My duty as Treasurer includes serving as Chair of the bi-monthly Finance Committee meetings. Lastly, development of the 2025 Budget has commenced, attempting to align with the Nation Building & Strategy. During formation of the budget, input from the membership, as well consideration of finite resources, will help to prioritize funding allocations.

Recently, the LOC has formulated draft legislation regarding the Elder Protection Law. I will address protecting our Elders & Disabled to safely exit GTC Meetings. Central to the proposed legislation is our core cultural teachings which value displayed respect for Elders.

In the age of climate change, a forum to guide resource protection and environmental ethics is not only urgent but essential. It is imperative to protect and manage the natural resources we are blessed with. Policy formation to activate the Oneida Environmental Resource Board has been initiated with several of my OBC colleagues and we welcome involvement from the community in the effort to activate the Environmental Resource Board.

Lastly, I would like to respectfully acknowledge the former Chairwoman & Treasurer, Ms. Cristina Danforth, who devoted her professional career to provide leadership toward the betterment of our Oneida Community & Indian Country. Sincerest gratitude for all the effort over the years.

With the arrival of the winter solstice, we can look forward to longer daylight with optimism that spring is on the way. I would also like to convey optimism of our future for our community, and especially our Oneida youth in their journey.

PROPOSED ONEIDA RECREATION CENTER

By Oneida Family Fitness Team

The Oneida Recreation Civic Center building was built fifty years ago in 1973. The building has served many programs, including Business Committee, Library, Accounting, Bingo, and currently Oneida Recreation. The facility has undergone many updates and repairs, with many additional repairs needed. Currently, the building is over ten years past its projected lifespan.

The current Oneida Family Fitness building was purchased by the Nation in 1994 to serve as the fitness center for the Oneida Community. This section of the building was constructed in 1962, with numerous updates to accommodate services. Even with updates, this building falls short of meeting the community's needs in several ways; pool is nonfunctional, the building space is not suitable for youth and elders, ropes course no longer meets industry standards, and limited space restricts additional services.

To address these issues, the proposed joined Recreation/Fitness Complex would provide direct wellness to the Community of all ages. It would be located in Central Oneida near Oneida schools, housing, transit and the future growth in the community. Although the School project and Recreation projects are separate, they will be located on the same property. This complex will also have expanded hours and services including; daycare, after-school programming, learning center, art room, social recreation room, sports and fitness, a teen center, sport leagues, martial arts, fitness, gymnasiums, track, team building, ropes course, and possibly, an aquatic center. The two options are:

- Option 1 – $87,685,000 Includes Aquatic Center (lap pool, therapy pool, recreational)
- Option 2 – $64,117,000 No Aquatic Center

Community feedback is welcome at the January 11, 2024 GM Community Meeting. More information available at: Oneida-NSN.Gov/Project-Status-Reports.

This information will be presented at the Oneida General Tribal Council meeting in March 2024.

ONEIDA NATION HIGH SCHOOL PROJECT

By Artley Skenandore

Oneida Nation High School Principal

First, I want to clarify that although this project will share the property with the Oneida Recreation Project, this Oneida Nation High School project is a separate project.

The Oneida Nation High School is proposing a project to construct a new High School as part of a campus approach for education. The $82,056,000 project, which is proposed to be funded in CIP budgets through fiscal year 2026, would mirror current surrounding community trends to create facilities to support youth programming infrastructure and create the ability to share access to building functions and exterior amenities including playgrounds, ball fields, parking, etc. It is proposed that a new school would provide the opportunity for improved educational programs that would attract a larger student body and expand the learning experience. The new facility is estimated to be 111,000 square feet to accommodate a projected enrollment of 250 students and should continue to satisfy the needs of the Nation for the next 20 years. Site analysis has determined the campus project will need 50-60 acres. Three potential sites have been identified. The 75 +/- acre parcel shown below is considered the most viable for development and shares proximity to the Turtle school.

One of our Nation's goals is to provide a safe, functional learning environment that serves as the foundation for a quality educational experience for all students, families, and the Oneida Community. The new facility will address several concerns regarding the existing location:

- Safety and security concerns
- Limited space for teaching and learning
- Compliance with modern building codes

The new Oneida High School concept design may originate from the creativity of a student, much like the design for the Turtle school that was created from a concept drawing made by a former student.

Video supporting a new facility will be shared at the upcoming General Tribal Council meeting. A Community meeting will also be held Wed., Jan. 10, 2024, 5:30-6:30pm at the Norbert Hill Center. ONEIDA STUDENTS Help Light Up the Holidays at Austin Straubel Airport

By Justine Braun

Green Bay Area Public School District Communications Specialist

Over the first two weeks in December 2023, students from Green Bay West High, Handmade Papermakers of Green Bay, Aldo Leopold Community School, and several Oneida 4th Grade King Elementary students participated a Christmas Tree decorating contest.

Each school crafted exquisite tree themes that will be displayed for holiday travelers. “Watching the students and faculty of each school come together to bring their designs to life has been truly amazing,” said Marty Piette, Austin Straubel Airport Director. “Their stories and vision will bring smiles to our travelers, and they’ll learn something along the way.”

The King Elementary students brought the stories, history, and culture of the Oneida Nation to their ten-foot tree. Beadwork, language, custom ornaments, and more tell the story of what it means to be Oneida Nation members.

The trees were officially unveiled in a Lighting Ceremony Wednesday, December 6, 2023. For security reasons, this tree can be seen by travelers going through concourse A, post-security.

Delilah McKinney, Certified Peer Specialist for Ex-Incarcerated People Organizing (EXPO) with Kevin Florek, CEO of Tellurian Behavioral Health.

By Garth Webster

Kalihwisaks/Creative Services

Delilah McKinney, Oneida Member, has been a Certified Peer Specialist for the last year for the Wisconsin chapter of Ex-Incarcerated People Organizing (EXPO), whose mission is to use their collective truth to bring about change within all systems that support mass incarceration and excessive supervision through their dedication to creating just systems with policies that build healthy and safe communities.

McKinney, who grew up in Oneida, unfortunately found herself on a troubled path. As a result, she served eight years of a 10 year sentence, followed by 10 years of supervision for a drug charge. Before her sentence, she was an Oneida Nation Clerk working out of the Oneida Nation Secretary's office. McKinney explained, with difficulty, how her life took a turn for the worse, "With me, I don't even know how it happened, or why. And I see so many people, and young people, doing the same thing." This is reaffirmed with the data presented in April 2023 from the MacArthur Foundation revealing that proportionately, Indigenous people are incarcerated at a rate of 7 to 1 as compared to the mainstream population. Two of McKinney's partners, attorney Kelli Thompson and Kevin Florek, accompanied McKinney to her interview meeting here at the Kalihwisaks, spoke more about this discouraging dynamic.

Florek, CEO of Tellurian Behavioral Health, is an organization that provides a number of services, many times to formerly incarcerated individuals, to help them overcome an array of psychological behavioral obstacles, including treatment for substance abuse. He explained how recently, there's been an uptick in Indigenous people reaching out to his organization, "Over the last 5 years, less than 10% of the people seeking our service were Indigenous. Now, this has risen to about 40%." Thus, Tellurian is adapting to transform their service-delivery so it's done so in a culturally sensitive manner. Thompson added that individuals like McKinney play a key role in this, "We can talk and talk but until you have someone who has walked that walk, not just experience but with the educational piece, is where we can really make a difference. Their motivation is get clean and stay clean. However, when you go back to real life and you still don't have stable housing for yourself and children who do you turn to—the people who have that experience and training." Coupled with the realities and/or lack of re-entry services like Tellurian, McKinney adds that Indigenous individuals also must find ways to overcome sometimes an even greater barrier to success, multi-generational trauma.

As McKinney showed me a picture of her daughter, she firmly explains, "It's really imperative that we bring awareness to the multi-generational trauma happening in our community. When I was in prison, I lost eight years of my daughter's life. And then, while I was still in prison, my daughter went down the same troubled path I did." McKinney continued by describing that when she was young, her mother wasn't reunited with her mom (McKinney's grandma) until she was 17, which in turn caused McKinney herself to be in and out of foster care as a child, "That's generational trauma! So many of us have these gaps and we deal with them in unhealthy ways." The silver lining for McKinney, though, was that she was eventually placed with her great grandparents here in Oneida, where she was able to attend school and in turn, reconnect with traditional ways to help cope and heal from her trauma. However, in this regard, not all are this fortunate, especially for those who are still currently incarcerated and even more so, when released.

Currently, there are three major campaigns EXPO and McKinney are working on. First, Unlock the Vote is their effort to restore voting rights to individuals after being

MAN CLAN REACHES OUT TO WOMEN

By Garth Webster
Kalihwisaks/Creative Services

About 30 individuals came together Saturday, December 2, 2023 at the Oneida Longhouse for Gathering IV of the Oneida Man Clan (OMC).

The OMC, which began in October 2022, is a grass-roots effort led by a group of local Oneida Men, John Powless III, Daniel Guzman-King, Jameson Wilson, Dan Doyen, Jeff Young, Greg Matson, Paul Ninham, Sid White, Marlon Skenandore, and Garth Webster to reestablish community by supporting and challenging the Men of the community to strengthen their Yukwatsi'stayá (breath and spirit within each of us). Through these gatherings, a safe place continues to be available for men to share their story without fear or judgment. Sharing is healing. Since the OMC began, it's been an activity for men. Recently, however, the OMC planning team made the decision to reach out to some of women of our community, and beyond, to gain insights into how the men of the community can best fulfill their responsibilities.

Alice Skenandore of Wise Women Gathering Place, Raeann Skenandore of Oneida, and Jonel Beauvais from the Mohawk Nation of Awkwesasne graced the participants of OMC Gathering IV with their presence and wisdom. Jonel began the session by passionately explaining her commitment to provide support for those re-entering back into their families and the community through her organization, Welcome Home Circle, which encompasses the knowledge and wisdom of the Medicine Wheel, offering mental, physical, emotional, and spiritual guidance. Jonel has led the charge with many Welcome Home

Circle initiatives, including her “Tiny Homes” project that provides housing for formerly incarcerated Indigenous people. Raeann followed by providing her vision for the young parents of the community and their responsibilities to their families. Raeann ended her session by providing a yoga activity to the group enabling the participants to feel the mind, body, and soul’s connection to Mother Earth. Finally, Alice eloquently expressed her journey as a midwife, eventually leading to the creation of Wise Women Gathering Place, a non-profit organization that provides Indigenous culturally-specific services to any person harmed by violence. Alice also conducted a group activity focused on how to truly communicate with the people in your life as she explains, “Most times, people listen to respond.” Her exercise, along with Jonel and Raeann’s, uplifted everyone’s spirit during the morning session of OMC Gathering IV.

After a breaking for lunch, the afternoon session brought more from two brotherhood from Akwesasne, both of which work closely with Beauvais and Welcome Home Circle. Harvey Herne shared his knowledge with his work with the Seven Dancers Coalition to bring harmony back to Indigenous communities. Snipe Clan member, Raun “Monjabi” Mitchell, also made the long journey to Oneida to share how he is healing from his trauma and his outreach work with Seven Dancers Coalition to bring awareness regarding sexual assault, domestic violence, and substance abuse to diligently empower the men in his community to become the best version of themselves.

It was a long day at OMC Gathering IV but in the end, it’s safe to say all the participants left the Oneida Longhouse with a feeling of inspiration to continue practicing Kahletsyalu’sla (heartfelt encouragement of the best in each of us). Follow the Oneida Man Clan on Facebook or email OneidaManClan@gmail.com. Stay tuned for some great events coming from the OMC!

Section 184 loans increase homeownership opportunities
Submitted by Bay Bank

Oneida Nation members have an extra tool at their disposal when looking to buy a home — the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) Section 184 Indian Housing Loan Program, which Congress established in 1992 to eliminate some of the barriers between Native Americans and home ownership.

The Section 184 loan is a 15 or 30-year fixed-rate mortgage with regular monthly payments including escrow, which is money collected throughout the year that homeowners use to pay their property taxes and homeowners’ insurance. The loan features a low down payment with flexible underwriting and no mortgage insurance requirement.

Oneida Nation members, as well as members from other nations, may be eligible for the Section 184 loans, which can be used for:

- Buying an existing home
- Home improvements
- New construction
- Refinancing

While Section 184 loans provide a great opportunity for potential homeowners, it is still important to make sure your finances are in the best condition possible when you meet with a lender. Start with the following steps:

- Begin saving for a down payment
- Stay current with existing payments
- Avoid taking on additional debt
- Get a free copy of your credit report at annualcreditreport.com to clear up any issues

Mid Winter Ceremony: a Time for Renewal

By Dawn Thomas
Kalihwisaks

In the middle of the winter, five days after the new moon, the Iroquois begin the Mid Winter Ceremony, a time of renewal and of giving thanks to the Creator.

In Oneida, Mid Winter takes place in the long house and lasts about a week. It is one of the original ceremonies taught to the People at the beginning of Creation.

Three Feather Dances are done on the first day. The first dance is to give thanks for the title holders; chiefs, clan mothers, and faith keepers. "They give their thanks that they are still upholding their responsibilities," said Bob Brown, Oneida culture teacher. "The second dance is for the people, young, old, and those arriving." The third dance is for the Creator.

The singers use rattles made from the shell of a turtle, representing earth or "Turtle Island." "When they're doing the feather dance, they're shaking up the earth, waking it up for next year," said Maxine Thomas, Oneida Culture teacher.

A line of men and a line of women dance around the singers. "You do the feather dance to show you're happy, in good health," said Thomas.

"(The men) do a lot of yelling because the plants and animals like to hear the songs. They come closer to the long house to hear the songs," said Brown.

The second day is stirring the ashes. Paddles of different types of trees are handed out to people in the Long house. Everyone takes a turn walking from one end of the long house to the other to stir the ashes on both ends. "The reason being is to renew all life forms on Earth, turning over the earth for the new year," Brown explained.

The third day starts off with a tobacco burning. "It's to give thanks to everything, to all the great forces, the thunders, sun, and moon, that all of these things continue their responsibilities," said Brown.

Next is the naming ceremony, where people get their Oneida names and have it announced to the People and to the Creator.

Finally, the drum dance takes place. One man sings with a water drum while another gives a thanksgiving. The People dance and drink blackberry juice as a medicine.

The fourth day is the peach stone game. The bear and turtle clan play against the wolf clan. Everyone puts in something like a traditional outfit, a lacrosse stick, or an eagle feather. The objects are matched up and the winning clan gets to keep the objects they were matched with. However, people who lose their things will get them back in the Creator's land.

There are six peach stones, one side is burned darker than the other. One person from each clan plays by tossing the peach stones in a bowl. If the peach stones come up five of one color and one of the other, the player wins one bean and another turn. If the peach stones come up all of one color, the player automatically wins five beans, dismissing his/her opponent and winning another turn. The game goes on until one clan wins all the beans. The wolf clan won this year. A game can last a few hours or several days.

"Through all the three days of seriousness, the peach stone is to entertain the Creator," said Brown.

After the peach stone game is completed, a feather dance, a women's dance, and a bean dance is done.

"The women's dance is to give thanks for the women. The men are honoring them for all the hard work they do. The bean dance gives thanks for the beans, for when the men and women work together to raise food," said Thomas.

ONEIDA HEALING TO WELLNESS COURT

By Simone Ninham

Wellness Court Judiciary Admin

The Oneida Healing to Wellness Court (OHWC) provides support and resources necessary for participants to begin living sober lives and reconnecting with their families, community, culture, and Tsi[?] Niyukwalihó•ta (Our Ways). As an alternative to incarceration, eligible participants agree to engage in an intensely supervised court ordered program, which provides support and accountability for those living with a substance use disorder.

The OHWC is an established division within the Oneida Judiciary's Trial Court. The program is a voluntary post-conviction Adult Healing to Wellness Court that is a minimum of seventeen (17) months and consists of five phases. The program represents a collaborative effort of criminal justice stakeholders serving Oneida Nation members living within Brown County. The partners in this effort are committed to a non-adversarial approach while providing culturally responsive and community-based support. Providing cultural options and responses into this program is what distinguishes a difference from similar specialty courts. Participants must meet all eligibility requirements to be accepted and then be sentenced to complete the Healing to Wellness Court by a Brown County Circuit Court Judge.

The OHWC Standing Team consists of representatives from Oneida Judiciary, Oneida Behavioral Health, Oneida Cultural Heritage, Oneida Police Department, Brown County District Attorney's Office, Wisconsin State Public Defender's Office, and the Wisconsin Department of Corrections. The Standing Team has continued to meet every Thursday at the Oneida Judiciary for training and orientation purposes. In November 2023, as part of the team's education efforts, Oneida community members who have experienced substance use, recovery, and incarceration were invited to speak to the team to share their journeys. This collaboration with community members highlighted individual success stories and provided insight into what type of support and resources would be most beneficial for those individuals who are integrating back into the community post-incarceration and starting their recovery journeys.

Each agency and department on the OHWC Standing Team is required to sign a Memorandum of Understanding (MOU), which is an agreement that identifies clear communication and a thorough description of each area's role and responsibilities. In recent developments, the OHWC Standing Team changed the sentencing structure to provide for more accessible and efficient referral and sanctioning processes. The opening date for applications is anticipated to be in January 2024 and the first status hearing will be dependent on the first accepted participants' sentencing timeline.

For more information, contact Oneida Judiciary at 920.496.7200 or judicial_system@oneidanation.org.

Turtle Island Gifts, Creating Connections

By Garth Webster

Kalihwisaks/Creative Services

Ten years ago, give or take, Darleen Denny began setting up shop at pow wows and events near and far selling an array of Indigenous products from makers all over Turtle Island, which happens to be the inspiration behind the name, Turtle Island Gifts (TIG). Despite her success traveling the circuit, the reality is that there simply weren't enough events, especially during the cold weather months, to create enough profit to sustain the business. She needed to find a unique way to continue her even more unique business philosophy.

Introspectively, Denny described that if she was experiencing the problem of not having enough events to sustain her business, it was a sure thing that many others had the same dilemma, "It was more than just my problem, it was creating a solution that would serve the whole community." Based on this approach, TIG began the brick & mortar chapter of its operation whereby vendors pay a very affordable three month lease for space and a very affordable percentage of their sales to the shop.

Currently, about 40 vendors showcase their work at TIG. Denny mentions that a few of her vendors have remained loyal the entire ten years since she opened the doors, which is a result of the concept Denny practices to create connections with the community rather than just trying to make money. In fact, it was this same connection-driven economic solution that drove Denny's ambition to expand her operations.

Just three weeks before the pandemic, the space next to TIG became available and Denny took advantage of the opportunity to open the doors to Inward Bound (IB), which provides another group of artisans, who like the vendors selling products in TIG, needed a space that had the ambiance to deliver their services, such as Yoga, Meditation, Chakra Clearings, etc. Denny expressed how she enhanced the environment by adorning the walls of IB with wall-hung creations, "What a beautiful way to be inspired to look on the walls and see inspirational artwork." Like TIG, the name, Inward Bound, also has symbolism in regard to how individuals first seek answers within themselves as they make their spiritual journey through life.

Denny's business philosophy to create these kind of connections with the community is and will continue to be a key success factor, which she mentions will advance IB even further in 2024. As not to quell the anticipation, Denny divulges that she plans to continue the traditional pathway classes she's had but in a new, innovative way, whereby IB will be a venue for community gatherings where people can exchange their wisdom and knowledge in a more informal, social, and fun way. When you visit TIG or IB, Denny says, "You'll be seen. You will be heard. You will feel a part of something." Denny invites you to create your connection. ONEIDA FARMER'S MARKET

100% FRESH

MOVED TO NEW LOCATION N7284 CTH J., ONEIDA, WI

Due to construction at our usual site, the 2024 Oneida Farmers Market will move to N7284 County Road J (across the road from the Hwy 54 One Stop, where Grandma's Diner use to be). This location change will be for the entire 2024 season and may extend into the 2025 season, pending the construction completion at the original site.

To address parking limitations, the gravel parking lot on both ends of that area will be expanded using compacted crushed limestone to allow for much more parking. Customer friendly compacted crushed limestone walking paths will also be created between the vendors to make it easier to move around, and be sure the site meets customer accessibility needs.

It is our intention to also relocate the brat booth and the picnic area to this temporary new location so we will be able to continue serving prepared foods to our wonderful customers. It will still be on Thursdays from Noon-6pm, beginning June 13, 2024.

If you're interested in getting on Santa's Oneida Farmers Market list for 2024, you can keep updated on what's happening at the Oneida Farmers Market by signing up online at <https://rb.gy/3hsir>, or, scan the QR code below. YEAR AFTER YEAR, GIVING TREE CONTINUES

by Garth Webster

Creative Services/Kalihwisaks

Once again, the community is answered the call of the Giving Tree (GT) program, led by Oneida Human Services Division Executive Assistant, Racquel (Rocky) Hill, to provide gifts for the less fortunate in and around the Oneida area during the 2023 Holiday season.

From what Hill gathers, the GT program was started around 2006 or 2007 in the ICW. Since then, it has expanded beyond ICW to help other clientele within the Oneida programs and departments and then out to the community at large. Hill, who has been in charge of the GT since 2020, describes the gratification she receives by ensuring she sees as many smiley faces as possible, "Every year is memorable because it restores my hope in humanity, seeing how the community comes together to help those less fortunate." She goes on to express the fulfillment of continuing her mother's legacy, "I have been doing this in honor of my Mom, Shirley Hill, ever since I began managing this program and when Mom was still with us. One of the things my mother was most proud of was when she founded the Amerindian Center in the mid 1970's to help Native Americans in need in addition to the two homeless shelters she ran. Now that she's passed on, helping with the GT actually means even more to me. Feeling her presence is the best present for me!"

This year, the gifts were distributed via drive-through over two days, December 14 & 15, 2023 behind the Kánikuhliyo Family Center at 2640 Westpoint Rd. After distribution, Rocky says, "It was a lot of work but it certainly paid off knowing there were so many happy children on Christmas day. I couldn't see all their smiling faces but I can imagine them, just as I opened presents on Christmas morning as a child."

Raquel Hill, (center, red sweater) receives Oneida Bingo's toy donation to the Giving Tree. Oneida Nation employees, along with Oneida Bingo customers, combined to make the generous contribution, which was worth an impressive $2,765.

Since 2020, 1,681 children benefited from the Giving Tree

- 2023 – 455

(2020-2022 includes clients from Family Services. 2023 does not because Toys for Tots purchased gifts for each child valued up to $35)

NFL Weekly Pick Em

By Thunderhawk Times Staff

What's due by Thursday and prompts some good-natured teasing and major bragging rights between ONHS staff and student ?

It's the ONHS NFL Weekly Pick Em run by ONHS staff member Anthony Cornelius.

Each week about forty staff and students fill out Pick Sheets by choosing the winners of all upcoming NFL games. They also put down what they think the total points for the Monday Night contest will be as a possible tie breaker.

Overall, participation is pretty evenly split between staff and students but staff have done better than the students overall. Oh, except for ONHS junior Madalyn King who has held the top spot a few different weeks. (Rumor has it that she has an expert consultant in her corner.)

Fashion Design

By Seagram Stevens

As a senior about to finish up by semester and graduate next June, I am looking forward to starting my career in fashion design.

Now this may seem a bit unusual for a guy from Oneida, WI, but I don't think so.

I've always had a fascination for fashion because it expresses how you feel, and I do have big plans.

As for schooling, I intend to go to college to get my business degree.

After that, I want to open a store.

A few ideas I have for fashion include shoes, hoodies, and beanies.

Thomas' Art Classes are Hands-On

By Ava Danforth

This writer wanted to look at just some of the activities that art students in Cindy Thomas' classes participate in.

Thomas teaches a total of 6 different classes each semester. They include Advanced Drawing, Painting, Reading, Art 1 and 2, Ceramics, and Arts and Crafts.

In Advanced Drawing, first of all, students do "a lot of drawing" using different types of drawing methods.

Likewise, in Painting, students try a lot of different painting techniques

In Art 1 and 2, students do a wide variety of art projects that "touch on different art methods.

In Ceramics, students work on a variety of pottery techniques and are currently making Haudenosaunee pottery.

In Arts and Crafts, pupils do a variety of indigenous art projects. Examples are beading, sewing, and also Haudenosaunee pottery.

As you can see, art students are very hands-on in Thomas' classes and learning from a successful artist herself.

Journalism Class Learns the Stock Market

By Thunderhawk Times Staff

Fridays in journalism class are set aside for learning the ins and outs of investing.

Taught by Jeff Martens, even lead teacher Denis Gullickson becomes a student on Fridays.

This is all in preparation for our national competition in the Capital Hill Challenge that ONHS first participated in during the 2022-2023 School Year.

When asked why he felt knowledge of the stock market was important, Jeff told the students, "Investing young is the key to setting yourself up for financial security later in life."

To start things off, Jeff gave each class member $250,000 in pretend money. They then started with four stocks from a list of about 25 different companies.

They are also working on a pie chart representing how their $250,000 is invested into different categories like stocks, bonds, utilities, technology, and so on.

The class is awaiting word on when the Capital Hill Challenge will start. Meanwhile, we are getting a head start with the idea that we will win the national competition.

Watch for updates in future issues of Thunderhawk Times.

Hello everyone, my name is Kahteli-yó, which translates to good root. My English name is Kaylee Schuyler. I am Bear Clan, and the People of the Standing Stone is the land or earth I come from or Duck Creek, the place of the big ducks.

These past months have been significant to me because I have had the opportunity to gain experience and grow as a leader while representing the Oneida Nation. My royalty sisters and I have been remarkably busy attending various events while meeting new people and sharing our roles and responsibilities. Incredibly, we even had the opportunity to be featured on Fox 11 news to promote the Fall Family Festival.

Among the numerous events, I was able to represent our Nation at the 2nd Annual Tuscarora Nation Powwow and Hunting Moon Powwow. There, I excitingly placed in the Women's Smoke Dance Special in Tuscarora Nation. If you know me, you know dancing and singing are what I enjoy most. The Powwows gave me the chance to visit, sing, and dance with friends and relatives from across Indian Country. It strengthens my fire seeing relatives from different communities reunite .

One of my favorite events that my royalty sisters and I attended recently was the Gambler's game. We were invited to drop the opening puck together. The girls and I had a wonderful time spending time together and it will be a moment I will never forget. Another memorable event was participating in the annual Tsyunhehkwa Husking Bee. We spent the entire day picking and husking corn and making corn husk dolls. I am so grateful to have Junior and Lil Miss by my side as I look to them as my younger sisters. I love being able to represent and attend events while having them by my side. We continuously teach each other while also fulfilling our responsibilities.

I also enjoyed attending the 5th Annual Iron 5 Basketball Tournament at the Oneida Nation Elementary school. At the tournament, they also hosted the Iron Man and Iron Woman Smoke Dance Contest where I humbly won while being simply happy to just be a part of it. I show my love and gratitude for everything through dance, and I am so thankful I could be there dancing for my friends, family, and community.

Most recently, we attended the Green Bay Holiday Parade and I wanted to give a big Yawáko to the Stevens' family for assisting us with the vehicle. It was so wonderful to see all the children and families waving back at us.

Lastly, I just loved the wonderful experience of attending the Fall 2023 Sing at Onondaga Nation that brings all Haudenosaunee Nations together to sing our traditional earth songs.

Overall, I am honored to be representing the Oneida Nation and I am continuously putting my best efforts towards our community. I want to express my gratefulness and gratitude towards my friends and family for helping and guiding me. I also want to express my thankfulness to the community for always supporting and encouraging me. I cannot say it enough, but I am beyond grateful to be a part of such a great village.

Hoyan!

I hope everyone had a great holiday season! These past 6 months as Jr. Miss Oneida have been exciting and full of adventures! During this time, I have gone to numerous events where I made new friends and experienced memories to last a lifetime! I have traveled to the homelands a couple of times and attended many events including the National Tribal Child Support Conference, JMIO Bicentennial Walk, Bicentennial Week, Great Law Recital, Kroc Center International Fest, Green Bay Holiday Parade, Hunting Moon Pow Wow, Indigenous People's Day, Green Bay Botanical Garden Fall Festival, and Oneida Orchard Family Day. I also attended the Gathering of Native Americans, Child Support Community Resource Fair, and Packer Family Night, Annual Blanket Making event with OPD, Wisconsin Child Support Association Conference in Appleton, Green Bay Holiday Parade, Green Bay gamblers hockey game for Native American Heritage Night, and Bell Ringing for the Salvation Army. One of my favorite events I attended was the George Greendeer Dedication as he was a family friend that I cherished and miss very much!

Recently, I was featured as Jr. Miss Oneida on the Howard-Suamico and Bay Port High School websites where I was able to share my culture and role as an Oneida ambassador. Educating our community about our people is very important and I believe we should take every opportunity to share who we are and what we represent.

In my free time, my favorite things to do include spending time with friends, competing on my high school dance team, and playing the violin. I would like to thank the community for the continuous support.

Shekóli swakwekú,

It has been quite a busy year for us so far and I have loved everything we have been able to experience. Some events I have attended include the Oneida Apple Orchard Family Day, Fall Family Festival at Botanical Gardens, Husking Bee at Tsyunhehkwa, Indigenous Peoples Day at Norbert Hill, First Nations Heritage Night at the Gambler game, and the Green Bay Holiday Parade.

Prior to my reign I had two knee surgeries, and since then I have worked to relearn many movements. By becoming Lil Miss, I have been given the opportunity to learn how to smoke dance by my royalty sister and become comfortable dancing again.

My favorite experience so far has been attending the First Nations Heritage Night at the Gamblers game where we were able to drop the puck out on the ice and be featured on the jumbotron.

released from prison. The second and third initiatives are Locked Up on the Outside: Prison Without Walls and Expo Safe Home, which addresses Wisconsin’s long supervision and providing housing to formerly incarcerated people, respectively. Wisconsin has the 6th longest supervision-after-release policy, which according to EXPO research, many times lead to violations. In fact, EXPO’s research reveals that 40% of new prison admissions come from simple rules violations during supervision rather than new crimes committed. The same research also shows the cost to Wisconsin taxpayers to incarcerate people is $147.5 million dollars. EXPO recommends a portion of this expenditure be reallocated to increase housing availability as a re-entry service, which will go a long way to create stability for folks trying to atone. In addition to these campaigns, McKinney points out another very important opportunity to advocate for Indigenous people who are currently incarcerated.

Within men’s institutions, the access to spiritual services for Indigenous inmates is improving. However, for women, according to McKinney, it definitely needs work. Specifically, she is calling for volunteers to provide sweat lodge services. Aside from psychologically uplifting the spirits of currently incarcerated individuals, it’s a way for them to gain knowledge of their traditional ways. It’s the first proactive step that could prove to prepare their minds for when they eventually begin their re-entry journey. Learn more by contacting Delilah McKinney by emailing delilah@expowisconsin.org or call 608.467.2495 or to go ExpoWisconsin.org. As McKinney says, “You have the right not to remain silent.”

NACHP Celebrates 10 Years

By Garth Webster

Kalihwisaks/Creative Services

The Native American Center for Health Professions (NACHP aka Nay-Chip), located in the UW School of Medicine and Public Health created by former director Erik Brodt, MD, an Ojibwe Family Medicine Physician, celebrated its tenth year of operation in pursuit of its mission-to enhance the recruitment, retention, and graduation rates of Native American health professional students and to promote health education, research, and community-academic partnerships with Native communities.

As of 2018, the Association of American Medical College's report, Reshaping the Journey, finds that roughly just a half-of-a-percent of physicians or medical school faculty identify as American Indian (AI) or Alaska Native (AN) descent and 41% of newly enrolled AI/AN medical students plan to participate in underserved communities. These are the numbers NACHP strives to change and is doing so with a variety of methods.

Through cultural programming on the UW-Madison campus that provides outreach and support to pre-college students, undergraduate and health professional students (MD, PA, PT, MPH, Pharmacy, Vet Med) more and more awareness is being raised to promote and forward NACHP's mission. On a larger scale, NACHP also partners with many Wisconsin Nations, including Oneida, to create opportunities for aspiring Native Health Professionals to engage with tribal communities. With the Oneida partnership, Melissa Metoxen, who serves as its assistant director, began working for NACHP in 2013 and since 2015, through formal partnership with the Oneida Community Health Center, began operating NACHP's Tribal Engagement Office. The office supports AI students across Wisconsin tribal communities who are interested in pursuing a health career. Metoxen oversees tribal clinic rotations which take place at most of the tribal clinics in the state. Students meet program requirements by learning alongside providers, like Dr. Jay Kennard. Dr. Kennard was the first provider to work with Melissa in 2015 to offer a rotation to Native American health professional students. Since then, there have been over 45 students who have completed rotations at tribal clinics. Says Metoxen of her work at NACHP, "I am grateful to get to work with students from our communities and want to encourage anyone who might be interested in a health career to reach out to me." In addition to Metoxen, NACHP has 2 other Oneida staff and 10 Oneida health professionals on its advisory council. Recently, John Breuninger, longtime advisory council member, was recognized for his service to mentoring students. Breuninger describes the gratification he receives from his duties on the Advisory Council, "Having been in the medical field for the past 60 years, I feel that it's one of my charges in life, especially being a member of the Bear Clan (Medicinal Clan) of the Oneida Nation."

Since forming, NACHP proudly reports a 100% graduation and residency placement for their students, now has 91 health professions graduates, and UW-Madison is now in the top-10 among medical schools for graduating AI and AN students. Learn more by contacting Melissa Metoxen at 920.869.4990 or email mfmtoxen@wisc.edu.

Rose Malinik Creates Book to Honor Her Mentors

By Garth Webster

Kalihwisaks/Creative Services

Rose Malinik (Powless), who has always been interested in the arts, grew up in Chicago and attended Wright College where she would earn an Associate of Arts degree. It was also at Wright College where she became involved in photography and eventually, even became an employee of Wright College as a photographer. It was also during this time that Malinik wanted to learn more about Oneida culture and the language.

Her resource to learn the culture and language was her grandmother. Unfortunately, Malinik's grandmother did not teach her these ways out of fear from the trauma created by the boarding schools. Nevertheless, Malinik always still felt her ancestral connection to Oneida, as she describes, "Whenever I was back in Oneida, I always felt so at home there...like my roots were there. There's a comfort there for me." Then, as fate would have it, an opportunity came to Malinik to participate in a raised beadwork class from a legendary Oneida teacher.

"I was thrilled," says Malinik, that Loretta Webster was giving classes, "Loretta was so warm and welcoming and I considered her a mentor." In fact, Malinik is debuting a book coming out in early 2024, Iroquois Designs for Beadwork, which Malinik is dedicating to the memory of Loretta Webster.

The book will briefly discuss how the art of raised beadwork began but will mostly focus on beadwork examples and design patterns that she learned from Webster, Rosemary Hill, and her cousins, Sandra Gauthier & Judith Jourdan. "I want to honor my teachers and inspire those interested in raised beadwork to keep this art form going," say Malinik. Also interesting is that the publication of the book is being made possible by Malinik's prior church, St. John's of Chicago.

The Rev. Kara Sherer of St. John's explains that her church has established an anti-racism program dedicated to identifying, disrupting, and dismantling systems of oppression to honor all people, including Indigenous People. For example, recently St. John's unveiled a brass plaque at their entrance as a Land Acknowledgment to First Nations, including the Oneida. As Sherer says, "It was another great opportunity to honor Malinik and her efforts to keep the Native American (Oneida) Cultural ways moving forward." Sherer says when the books are printed in early 2024, they will be shipped to Malinik where people can contact her direct to purchase a book. All the proceeds of Iroquois Designs for Beadwork will benefit the Oneida Nation Arts Program.

A notice will be posted in the February 2023 edition regarding contact information for Malinik to purchase a book.
